M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XVIII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal Act XVI of 1852 in those parts of British India in which the Indian Penal Code is in force, and to re-enact some of the provisions thereof with amendments, and further to improve the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, in consequence of the passing of the Indian Penal Code, many of the provisions of Act XVI of 1852 (for further improving the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Courts of Justice in the territories of the East India Company) have become inapplicable and others require amendment, and it is expedient to repeal the said Act and, pending the preparation of a Code of Criminal Procedure for Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, to re-enact some of the provisions of the said Act, and to make further provision for the administration of Criminal Justice in such Courts; It is enacted as follows :—

Court may amend certain variances not material to the merits of the case and by which the defendant cannot be prejudiced in his defence and may either proceed with or postpone the trial to be had before the same or another Jury.

I. Whenever, on the trial of an indictment for an offence, there shall appear to be a variance between any statement in such indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall be lawful for the Court before which the trial shall be had, if it shall consider that by the amendment of the indictment the person indicted will not be prejudiced in his defence on the merits, to order such indictment to be amended, according to the proof, by some Officer of the Court or other person, both in that part of the indictment where such variance occurs, and in every other part of the indictment which it may become necessary to amend, on such terms as to postponing the trial if the person indicted apply for a postponement, and ordering the same to be had before the same or another Jury, as such Court shall think reasonable; and after any such amendment the trial shall proceed, whenever the same shall be proceeded with, in the same manner in all respects and with the same consequences both with respect to the liability of witnesses to be indicted for giving false evidence and otherwise, as if no such variance had occurred. Provided that in any such case where the trial shall be so postponed as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court to respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses, and of the person indicted and his surety or sureties, (if any), in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence respectively, and the person indicted shall be bound to attend to be tried at the time and place to which such trial shall be postponed, without entering into any fresh recognizances for that purpose, in such and the same manner as if they were originally bound by their recognizances to appear and prosecute, or give evidence at the time and place to which such trial shall be so postponed. Provided also, that where any such trial shall be ordered to be had before another Jury, the Crown and the person indicted shall respectively be entitled to the same challenges as they were respectively entitled to before the first Jury was sworn.

On trial for criminal breach of trust and other offences, if the offence be theft, the Court may order indictment to be amended.

II. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the Indian Penal Code, or the offence of cheating and thereby dishonestly inducing the person deceived to deliver property under Section 420 of the said Code, or of criminal breach of trust as a carrier, wharfinger, or ware-house-keeper under Section 407 of the said Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person took the property in question in any such manner as to amount to the offence of theft under Section 378 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of Criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant.

III. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant under Section 408 of the Indian Penal Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person took the property in question in any such manner as to amount to the offence of theft under Section 378 of the said Code, or the offence of theft as a clerk or servant of property in possession of his master under Section 381 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of theft or of theft in a building, tent, or vessel.

IV. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of theft under Section 378 of the Indian Penal Code, or the offence of theft in a building, tent, or vessel under Section 380 of the said Code, evidence shall be given to prove that, in respect of the property stated in the indictment, such person was guilty of the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property under Section 403 of the said Code, or the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of theft as a clerk or seroant.

V. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of theft as a clerk or servant of property in the possession of his master under Section 381 of the Indian Penal Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person was guilty of the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property under Section 403 of the said Code, or the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property possessed by a deceased person at the time of his death under Section 404 of the said Code, or of such dishonest misappropriation under the said Section 404, the offender being at the time of the person's decease employed by him as a clerk or servant, or the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the said Code, or the offence of criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant under Section 408 of the said Code, in respect of the property stated in the indictment, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Verdicts and judgments valid after amendments.

VI. Every verdict and judgment which shall be given after the making of any amendment under the provisions of this Act, shall be of the same force and effect in all respects as if the indictment had originally been in the form in which it is after such amendment shall have been made.

Records to be drawn up in amended form without noticing the amendments.

VII. If it shall become necessary at any time, for any purpose whatsoever, to draw up a formal record in any case where any amendment shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, such record shall be drawn up in the form in which the indictment is, after such amendment shall have been made, without taking any notice of the fact of such amendment having been made.

Form of indictment in cases of theft.

VIII. In an indictment for theft the person indicted may be charged with having dishonestly taken the property stated in the indictment out of the possession of the person mentioned therein without that person's consent, and in support of such allegation it shall be sufficient to prove that the person indicted, intending to take dishonestly such property out of the possession of the person mentioned in the indictment, without that person's consent moved that property in order to such taking.

The means by which the injury was inflicted need not be specified in indictments for murder and culpable homicide.

IX. In an indictment for murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, or for abetting murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, or for attempting to commit murder which shall be preferred after this Act shall come into operation, it shall not be necessary to set forth the manner in which, or the means by which, the death of the deceased was caused or attempted to be caused.

Form of indictment in cases of murder.

X. In an indictment for murder it shall be sufficient to state that the person charged with the offence did murder the deceased by doing an act with the intention of causing the death of a human being, or, as the case may be, by doing an act with the intention of causing such bodily injury to the deceased as the offender knew to be likely to cause the death of the deceased, or by doing an act with the intention of causing bodily injury to some person, and that the bodily injury intended to be inflicted was sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death, or by doing an act knowing it to be so imminently dangerous that it must in all probability cause the death of a human being, or such bodily injury as was likely to cause the death of a human being, and committing such act without any excuse for incurring the risk of causing death or such injury as aforesaid, and in any indictment for abetting murder or for attempting to commit murder, it shall be sufficient to state that the person charged with the offence abetted the murder of the deceased, or attempted to murder the deceased, as the case may be.

Upon indictment for murder, Jury may find the accused guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

XI. Upon an indictment for murder the Jury may find the person charged with the offence not guilty of murder, but guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

Upon indictment for murder, Jury may find the accused guilty of concealing, or endeavoring to conceal, the birth of a child.

XII. Upon an indictment for the murder of a child the Jury may find the person indicted not guilty of murder, but guilty of intentionally concealing or endeavoring to conceal the birth of such child under Section 318 of the Indian Penal Code, and the person so found guilty shall be liable to be punished under the said Section of the said Code.

Not necessary to specify the particular kind of grievous hurt.

XIII. It shall not be necessary in an indictment for voluntarily causing grievous hurt to specify the particular kind of grievous hurt.

Provision for cases of trial for causing grievous hurt and other similar offences.

XIV. Upon an indictment for voluntarily causing grievous hurt, or for voluntarily causing hurt to any person, or for an offence under Section 336, 337, or 338 of the Indian Penal Code, the person indicted shall not be entitled to be acquitted upon the ground that the hurt caused the death of the person injured or that the person indicted was guilty of culpable homicide.

Form of indictment in cases of forgery and uttering, stealing, and embezzling, or obtaining by false pretences.

XV. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to mention any instrument or document, or to make an averment or allegation respecting any instrument or document, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument or document by any name or designation by which the same is usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile thereof, or otherwise describing the same, or the value thereof.

Intent to defraud particular person need not be alleged or proved.

XVI. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to allege an intent to defraud, it shall not be necessary to allege or prove an intent to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to allege and prove an intent to defraud.

A party indicted for felony or misdemeanor may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and shall be liable to the same consequences as if charged with and convicted of the attempt only. No person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

XVII. If, on the trial of any person charged with any offence, it shall appear to the Jury upon the evidence that the person charged did not complete the offence charged, but was guilty of an offence within the meaning of Section 511 of the Indian Penal Code by attempting to commit such offence, or to cause such offence to be committed, and in such attempt doing an act towards the commission of such offence, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the Jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the person accused is not guilty of the offence charged, but is guilty of an attempt to commit the same within the meaning of Section 511 of the Indian Penal Code, and the offender so found guilty shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment framed under the said Section for attempting to commit the particular offence charged in the indictment, and no person so tried as herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the offence for which he was so tried

If person indicted for criminal misappropriation be proved guilty of theft.

XVIII. If, upon the trial of any person indicted for criminal misappropriation of property, it shall be proved that he was guilty of committing theft of such property, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of the offence charged against him.

Upon an indictment for jointly receiving, persons guilty of separately receiving may be convicted.

XIX. If, upon the trial of two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving stolen property, it shall be proved that one or more of such persons separately received any part of such property, it shall be lawful for the Jury to convict upon such indictment such of the said persons as shall be proved to have received any part of such property.

Abettor of an offence may be indicted and punished in the absence of the principal.

XX. A person may be indicted and punished for abetting an offence which has been committed in consequence of the abetment, notwithstanding the person who committed the offence shall not have been indicted or found guilty, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice, and every abettor of an offence may be indicted, tried, and punished for the abetment as a substantive offence, and may be tried either jointly with the principal offender or separately, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature which would have power to try the principal offender, or which would have power to try the abettor if he had committed the offence himself, either in the place in which he is guilty of the abetment, or in the place in which any act shall have been committed in pursuance of the abetment.

Receiver of stolen property may be indicted and punished in the absence of the principal.

XXI. A person may be indicted and punished for dishonestly receiving or retaining stolen property, notwithstanding the person by whose offence the possession of such property shall have been transferred, or who shall have criminally misappropriated such property or committed criminal breach of trust in respect thereof, shall not have been found guilty of such offence, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice.

Insertion of several counts in the same indictment against the same person.

XXII. It shall be lawful to insert several counts in the same indictment against the same person for different offences. But the Judge, before whom the person indicted shall be tried, may direct that any one or more of the counts shall be treated as a distinct indictment or indictments, and that the person indicted shall be tried thereupon in the same manner as if such count or counts had been in separate and distinct indictments.

If the property alleged in an indictment for theft appear to have been taken at different times, prosecutor need not elect, unless where more than three takings, or more than six months between the first and last taking.

XXIII. If, upon the trial of an indictment for theft, it shall appear that the property alleged in the indictment was taken or moved at different times, the prosecutor shall not by reason thereof be required to elect upon which taking or moving he will proceed, unless it shall appear that there were more than three takings or movings, or that more than the space of six calendar months elapsed between the first and the last of such takings or movings, and in either of such last mentioned cases the prosecutor shall be required to elect to proceed for such number of takings or movings not exceeding three as shall appear to have taken place within the period of six calendar months from the first to the last of such takings or movings.

Form of indictment for giving or fabricating false evidence, &c.

XXIV. In an indictment for giving or fabricating false evidence, or for using or attempting to use false or fabricated evidence, or for any offence which by the Indian Penal Code is declared to be punishable in the same manner as the offence of intentionally giving false evidence, or for abetting or attempting to commit any of the offences aforesaid, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged, without setting out any part of any proceeding either in law or in equity and without setting forth the commission or authority of the Court of person before whom such offence was committed.

Coin and Bank or Government Notes may be described simply as money.

XXV. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to make any averment as to any money or any note of any Bank, or any note of Government payable on demand, or which by any law is or shall be declared to be a legal tender, it shall be sufficient to describe such money or note simply as money without specifying any particular coin or Bank or other note, and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of any such note as aforesaid, although the particular species of coin, of which such amount was composed, or the amount, number, or other particulars of the note, shall not be proved, and in cases of obtaining money or any such note or notes as aforesaid by cheating by proof that the offender obtained any piece or pieces of coin, or any such note or notes, or any portion thereof, or of the value thereof by cheating, although such piece or pieces of coin or note or notes may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same or to any other person or persons, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

Absence of general exceptions under the Penal Code to be assumed.

XXVI. It shall not be necessary to allege in an indictment any circumstances for the purpose of shewing that the case does not come, nor shall it be necessary to allege that the case does not come within any of the general exceptions contained in Chapter IV of the Indian Penal Code, or within the exceptions contained in Section 136, Section 300, Section 323, Section 324, Section 325, Section 326, Section 375, or Section 499 of the said Code, but every charge shall be understood to assume the absence of all such circumstances, and it shall not be necessary on the part of the prosecutor to prove at the trial the absence of such circumstances in the first instance; but the person indicted shall be entitled to give evidence of the existence of any such circumstances, and evidence in disproof thereof may then be given on the part of the prosecutor.

Evidence as to general exception.

Good faith to be presumed in certain cases.

XXVII. In proving the existence of circumstances as a defence under the 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, or 10th exception to Section 499 of the Indian Penal Code, good faith shall be presumed unless the contrary appear.

Words in indictments to be taken in the sense of the Penal Code.

XXVIII. In every indictment, words used in describing an offence shall be deemed to have been used in the sense attached to them by the Indian Penal Code.

Trials for murder or culpable homicide if the act which caused or the death took place within the jurisdiction.

XXIX. Any person accused of murder or of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the act which shall have caused the death shall have been committed wholly or partly within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if the death shall have taken place within such local limits in the same manner as if both the act had been committed, and the death had taken place within such local limits.

Supreme Court may deal with offence either commenced or completed within local jurisdiction.

XXX. Any person accused of an offence may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the offence shall have been either commenced or completed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court in the same manner as if the offence had been wholly and entirely committed within such local limits.

Offence may be dealt with if either the act was done or the consequence ensued within the jurisdiction.

XXXI. Whenever the offence of which any person shall be accused shall consist of any thing which has been done and of any consequence which has ensued therefrom, the person accused may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if either the act shall have been done or the consequence shall have ensued within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court in the same manner as if both the act had been done and the consequence had ensued within such local limits.

Cases under Section 411, 412, 413, or 414 of the Penal Code when part only of the offence be committed within the jurisdiction.

XXXII. Whenever a person shall be accused of any offence punishable under Section 411, 412, 413, or 414 of the Indian Penal Code in respect to the receiving or retaining of stolen property, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the offence by which the possession of the property shall have been transferred shall have been committed either wholly or in part within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if any of the stolen property shall have been received or retained by the person accused within such local limits.

Similar provision as to cases under Section 424 of the Penal Code.

XXXIIII. If any person shall be accused of any offence under Section 424 of the Indian Penal Code of dishonestly or fraudulently concealing or removing any property of himself, or of any other person, or of dishonestly or fraudulently assisting in the concealment or removal thereof, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the property shall have been concealed or removed in any place within the local limits of such Court or shall have been removed from any place within such local limits.

Provision for cases on the boundaries or near the boundaries of local jurisdiction.

XXXIV. If any act shall have been committed or the consequence of any act shall have ensued on the boundaries of the local jurisdiction of such Court or so near to such boundaries as to render it doubtful whether such act was committed or such consequence ensued within such local limits or not, such act or consequence may for all purposes be stated, deemed, and taken to have been committed or to have ensued within such local limits.

Provision for the case of offences committed on a journey or voyage.

XXXV. If any person shall be accused of any offence alleged to have been committed on a journey or on any voyage in British India, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if any part of the journey or voyage shall have been performed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court.

Escape from lawful custody under sentence.

XXXVI. If any person shall escape from any custody in which he is lawfully detained in pursuance of a sentence of a Court of Justice or by virtue of a commutation of such sentence, or shall be charged with any offence declared to be punishable under Section 227 of the Indian Penal Code or under Section XII of Act XXIV of 1855 (relating to Penal servitude), the person accused may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, if such person shall be apprehended and retaken within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if he was formerly tried by such Court, or in the case of an escape from custody if he shall have escaped from custody in any place within such local limits.

Justices of Peace may deal with such offences.

XXXVII. Every Justice of the Peace shall have power to deal with any person charged with an offence, for which he is liable under this Act to be tried by one of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, in the same manner as if such offence had been wholly and entirely committed within the local limits of such Court.

A former conviction or acquittal before a competent Court to be a bar to subsequent trial or conviction.

XXXVIII. A former conviction or acquittal before a Court of competent jurisdiction of any offence hereby made punishable by Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, shall be a bar to any subsequent trial or conviction for the same offence.

Certain provisions of 9th Geo. 4, c. 74, shall be deemed to apply to and include offences punishable under Penal Code.

XXXIX. The provisions of Sections 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, and 23 of the 9th Geo. 4, c. 74, intituled "An Act for improving the administration of Criminal Justice in the East Indies," shall be deemed to apply to and to include any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code. Section 5 of the said Act shall be deemed to include murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and the words felony or misdemeanor in Section 110 of the said Act shall be deemed to extend to and include any offence declared to be punishable under the Indian Penal Code by means of or in consequence of which the possession of property shall have been transferred.

No indictment to be held insufficient for immaterial errors.

XL. No indictment for any offence shall be held insufficient for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute" instead of "against the form of the statutes" or vice versâ, nor because any person mentioned in the indictment is designated by a name of Office or other description or appellation instead of his proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment or on an impossible day or on a day that never happened, nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, nor for want of a proper or formal conclusion, nor for want of or imperfection in the addition of any defendant, nor for want of the statement of the value or price of any matter or thing, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil in any case where the value or price or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil is not of the essence of the offence.

Formal objections to indictments shall be taken before Jury are sworn. Court may amend any formal defect

XLI. Every objection to an indictment for uncertainty or for any formal defect apparent on the face thereof shall be taken by demurrer or motion to quash such indictment before the Jury shall be sworn, and not afterwards, and every Court before which any objection shall be taken by demurrer or motion to quash for any formal defect, may, if it be thought necessary, cause the indictment to be forthwith amended in such particulars by some Officer of the Court or other person, and thereupon the trial shall proceed as if no such defect had appeared.

No traverse allowed, but the Court may postpone trial.

XLII. No person prosecuted shall be entitled to traverse or postpone the trial of any indictment found against him at any Session of Oyer and Terminer or Session of Gaol delivery; provided always that if the Court, upon the application of the person so indicted, or otherwise, shall be of opinion that he ought to be allowed a further time either to prepare for defence or otherwise, such Court may adjourn the Sessions to any subsequent day, and may adjourn the trial of such person to such day or to the next subsequent Session, upon such terms as to bail or otherwise as to such Court shall seem meet, and may respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence at such subsequent day or Session without entering into any fresh recognizance for that purpose.

Provision as to plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit.

XLIII. In any plea of Autrefois convict or Autrefois acquit, it shall be sufficient for the person accused to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted (as the case may be) of the offence charged in the indictment.

Prosecution for adultery not to be instituted except by the husband.

XLIV. A charge of an offence under Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code shall not be instituted except by the husband of the woman.

Prosecution for enticing away a married woman not to be instituted except by husband or person in charge of the woman.

XLV. A charge of an offence under Section 498 of the Indian Penal Code shall not be instituted except by the husband of the woman, or by the person having care of such woman on behalf of her husband.

On trial of offence under last two Sections, proof necessary of husband or person in charge of woman having instituted the charge.

XLVI. Upon the trial of an indictment for either of the offences mentioned in the last two preceding Sections, it shall be necessary to prove that the charge was instituted by the husband of the woman if the charge be made under Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code, or by the husband of the woman, or by the person having care of such woman on behalf of her husband; if the charge be made under Section 498 of the said Code, and in either case that the indictment is prosecuted by such husband, or other person as the case may be, and on failure of such proof the indictment shall be quashed and the person accused shall be discharged.

Persons sentenced to rigorous confinement may be imprisoned in House of Correction.

XLVII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor, or to solitary confinement, he shall be imprisoned in the House of Correction, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not.

Persons sentenced to transportation or Penal servitude may be kept in the House of Correction.

XLVIII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature to transportation or penal servitude, such person shall be kept in the House of Correction as the place of intermediate custody, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not.

If the Sheriff be not the keeper of the House of Correction, how he shall proceed.

XLIX. If the Sheriff be not the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, he shall cause any person sentenced as mentioned in either of the last two preceding Sections to be delivered to the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested or to the keeper of such House of Correction, together with a warrant to be signed by a Judge of the said Supreme Court authorizing the detention of such person. Such Officer or keeper shall be bound to receive the person so delivered over to his custody, and they both shall be responsible for the safe custody of such person.

All Constables, &c., bound to assist.

L. All Constables and Police Officers are hereby empowered to aid and assist the Sheriff in carrying to the House of Correction any person sentenced as aforesaid.

Sheriff absolved from responsibility.

LI. If the Sheriff be not the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, he shall be absolved from all responsibility in respect of the custody of any person sentenced as aforesaid from the time such person shall be delivered to the custody of the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, or to the keeper of such House of Correction.

Person sentenced by Justice of Peace to rigorous imprisonment or hard labor may be committed to the House of Correction.

LII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by a Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor, for any offence committed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, the person so sentenced shall be committed to the custody of the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not, or of the keeper of such House of Correction, and such Officer and keeper shall be responsible for the safe custody of such person.

LIII. From and after the passing of this Act all persons who are confined at the date of the passing of this Act in the House of Correction, whether under the sentence of any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, or of any Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate, shall be considered to be and shall remain in the custody of the Officer in whom the control of such House of Correction is vested, whether such Officer be the Sheriff or not, or of the keeper of such House of Correction, and such Officer and keeper shall be responsible for the safe custody of all such persons.

Provision for persons now in the House of Correction.

LIV. This Act shall commence and take effect in Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or in any Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of that Court shall be transferred, from the time of the passing of the Act, and shall, so far as the same is applicable, extend to all indictments and proceedings in respect of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code, which have been or shall be presented or commenced in the said Court or in any other Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of such Court shall be transferred.

Commencement of Act at Fort William in Bengal.

LV. This Act shall commence and take effect in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature at Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, or in any Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of those Courts respectively shall be transferred, from the time at which it shall be notified in the Official Gazette by an order of the Governor in Council of Fort St George and Bombay respectively, that the Act is to take effect in such Courts; and from such time the provisions of the Act shall, so far as the same is applicable, extend to all indictments and proceedings in respect of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code which have been or shall be presented or commenced in the said Courts or in any other Courts to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of such Courts shall be transferred.

Commencement of Act at Madras and Bombay.

LVI. From the time at which this Act shall take effect in any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature as provided in the last two preceding Sections, Act XVI of 1852 is repealed so far as it relates to indictments and proceedings in such Court, except as to offences not punishable under the Indian Penal Code.

Act XVI of 1852 how far repealed.

LVII. In the construction of this Act, unless where a contrary intention appears from the context, the word "Indictment" shall be understood to include "information," "inquisition," or "presentment," as well as "indictment," and also "any plea," "replication," or other pleading; and the term "finding of the indictment" shall be understood to include "the taking of an inquisition, the exhibiting of an information" and the making of a presentment; and words importing the singular number or masculine gender shall include several persons and parties, as well as one person or party, and females as well as males, and bodies corporate as well as individuals, and several matters and things as well as one matter and thing. Words which refer to acts done shall include illegal omissions. The words "British India" shall denote the territories that are or shall become vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic, c. 106, entitled "An Act for the better Government of India," except the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca; and the word "property" shall be understood to include goods, chattels, money, valuable securities, and every other matter or thing, whether real or personal, upon or with respect to which any offence may be committed.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XIX OF 1862.

An Act to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Acts XIV of 1843 and XXXVI of 1855 relating to the manufacture of contraband Salt, and to amend the last-named Act.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Act XIV of 1843 (for regulating the levy of Customs Duties and the manufacture of Salt in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal) and of Act XXXVI of 1855 (to empower Officers of Customs and Land Revenue to search houses and other enclosed places for contraband Salt in the North-Western Provinces), and to amend the last-named Act; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. So much of the said Act XIV of 1843 as relates to the manufacture of alimentary Salt, and the prevention and punishment of the illicit manufacture and importation of such Salt, and the said Act XXXVI of 1855 as hereinafter amended, shall be held to have been and are hereby extended to the Province of Oude from the date on which Act XXXI of 1861 (to regulate the manufacture of Saltpetre and the sale of Salt educed in the refinement thereof) was extended to the said Province in the manner provided in Section XVIII of the said Act.

Certain provisions of Act XIV of 1843 and Act XXXVI of 1855 extended to Oude.

II. Section IV of Act XXXVI of 1855 is hereby repealed, and the following Section is enacted in lieu thereof, and shall be read and construed in the same manner as if it formed part of the said Act, namely,—

Forcible entry into zenanahs.

"If the place to be searched is a zenanah or apartment in the actual occupancy of a woman who, according to the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the Officer making the search shall give notice to such woman in such zenanah or apartment that she is at liberty to withdraw, and after giving such notice and allowing a reasonable time for the woman to withdraw, and affording her every reasonable facility for withdrawing, such Officer may enter such zenanah or apartment for the purpose of completing the search, using at the same time every precaution consistent with these provisions for preventing the clandestine removal of any Salt. Provided that the responsibility for the act, and the determination whether to force an entry or not, shall rest with the Officer of Customs or Land Revenue only."

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations on the 26th April 1862, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 30th May next :—

A Bill to promote the construction of Lines of communication as feeders to Railways, High Roads, Navigable Rivers, and Canals.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make adequate provision for the construction, by Companies and by private persons, of Lines of communication to serve as feeders to Railways, High Roads, Navigable Rivers, and Canals, and to enable such Companies or private persons to take land required for the same, as well as to provide for the due regulation of such Lines of communication when constructed; It is enacted as follows :—

Mode of application for land required for line, &c.

I. Any person or Company who may desire, at his or their expense, to construct under this Act, through lands belonging to other persons, a line of communication to serve as a feeder to a Railway, High Road, Navigable River, or Canal, may, by an application in writing addressed to the Government, request that the land required for such line may be taken as for a public purpose under the provisions of Act VI of 1857. Every such application shall contain a statement of the advantages to be derived from making such line of communication, the extent and general direction of the line, the proposed place of approach to, or of junction with, any Public Railway, High Road, Navigable River, or Canal, the Terminus or place from which the proposed line is to proceed, the estimated cost of its construction, and the mode in which the promoters intend to provide the funds for constructing and working it.

Government may grant provisional certificate authorizing entry on land, or may appoint an Offic r to make the provisional survey.

II. If the Government shall be satisfied as to the expediency of assisting the promoters in the construction of the proposed line, and as to their means for constructing and working the same, and keeping it in efficient repair, it shall furnish the promoters with a provisional certificate, authorizing them in their own persons, and in those of their Servants or Agents approved of by Government, to enter on the land for the purpose of surveying and of taking levels. It shall be lawful for the promoters, and their Servants and Agents approved as aforesaid, in virtue of the said provisional certificate, to survey the land required, and to indicate the intended line by recognizable land-marks; but it shall not be lawful for them to enter any house or enclosed premises, or to cut down or injure any trees, growing wood, or crops, or otherwise to injure or destroy any property, without the assent of the owner thereof. The survey under the provisional certificate may, if the Government shall so direct, be made by an Officer of the Government appointed by the Government for that purpose; and in every such case the expense of the survey, as estimated by Government, shall be paid or deposited by the promoters of the line at such time and in such place as the Government may direct; and so long as default shall be made in paying or depositing it as directed, the provisional certificate shall be of no force or effect whatever.

Appointment of Commissioners.

III. So soon as any survey made under a provisional certificate granted in accordance with the provisions of the last preceding Section shall have been completed, the promoters shall submit to Government detailed drawings, maps, and plans, showing the results of such survey and the detailed particulars of the works which it is proposed to undertake, accompanied by estimates of the expenses of constructing such works. If, after receiving such drawings, maps, plans, and estimates the Government shall be satisfied of the expediency of carrying out the works intended in the manner proposed, and also of the sufficiency of the means of the promoters, it shall appoint one or more Commissioners to report finally on the proposal, and on any objections or suggestions which may be made by parties who have rights or interests in the land required, or who are in any way affected by the works proposed. The expenses required for the deputation of such Commissioners shall be estimated by Government, and shall, if demanded by Government, be paid or deposited by the promoters of the line before such Commissioners shall begin to act.

Notification for the benefit of parties interested in the lands required.

IV. The Commissioners appointed as aforesaid shall publish a notification in the Government Gazette, embodying the description of the proposed line as given in the original application of the promoters, setting forth the names of the promoters, intimating their purpose to inspect and report upon the proposed line, and requiring all persons who may have any rights or interests in the lands to be taken, or whose interests are affected, directly or indirectly, by the construction of the line, to make any objections which they may have to make thereto within sixty days from the publication of the notification. A copy of the notification shall be stuck up in the principal Civil Court of every District through which any portion of the proposed line is intended to pass, and also at every Magistrate's Court, and at every Head Police Station, within the limits of the jurisdiction of which any portion of the proposed line is situated: and a copy of such notification shall also be stuck up in a conspicuous place in each Bazar or Haut through or in the immediate vicinity of which it is proposed that the line shall run.

V. If any person shall appear and desire to make any objection to the construction of the proposed line, the Commissioners shall, in the first instance, decide whether such person has a right to be heard. If the Commissioners shall decide that he has such right, then such person shall state in writing to the Commissioners within the time fixed as aforesaid, any objections which such person may entertain to the construction of the proposed line, and shall make such representations as he may think fit as to varying the direction of the line or otherwise. If it be proposed to vary the direction of the line, the objector shall be bound to describe the particular direction of the variation proposed: and the Commissioners may thereupon, if they shall think fit, notify, as in Section IV of this Act, the variation proposed to all parties having rights or interest in the land affected by such variation, and empower the promoters to indicate the line included in the proposed variation by recognizable land-marks, and to survey the land required for such variation in like manner as a survey may be made under a provisional certificate granted under Section II of this Act.

Objections how to be preferred to the construction of the proposed line, &c.

VI. Any person hindering or obstructing any person lawfully engaged in making a survey or in indicating or marking out a line under the provisions of this Act shall be cautioned to desist, and if the hinderance or obstruction be continued, the obstructor shall be liable to a fine of one hundred Rupees for each offence in addition to any other punishment to which he may by law be liable.

Penalty for obstructing a survey.

VII. On the expiration of a period of not less than sixty days from the publication of the notification mentioned in Section IV in the manner prescribed in that Section, the Commissioners shall proceed to inspect the proposed line as well as the proposed variations, or any other line which may appear to the said Commissioners to be more advantageous to the public. And the Commissioners, after making such enquiries as may appear necessary, shall submit to the Government a report on the whole subject.

Inspection and final report by Commissioner.

VIII. If the proposed line of communication be a feeder to a Public Railway, the Government shall furnish a copy of the original application made by the promoters, to the Public Railway Company of which it is intended to be a feeder; and such Railway Company shall have access to all surveys and plans and to all reports of the Commissioners, prepared in accordance with the provisions of this Act. The said Railway Company may state any objections they may entertain to making the necessary sidings, wharves, or godowns for the reception of the traffic to be brought to their Railway by the new line. And if the new line be a Branch Railway or Tramway and if it is proposed that it shall be of a gauge the same as that of the Public line of Railway, and that it shall form a junction with it, the Public Railway Company may state any objections they may entertain to the plan or proposed mode of execution of the branch line, and may propose conditions for the subsequent working of the same, so that the communication with the main line may be effected with safety to the public, and without injury to the Public Railway, or detriment to the traffic thereon.

Objections or proposals by Public Railway Company.

IX. On consideration of the whole project of the promoters, of the report of the Commissioners, and of any objections or proposals made by any person or Company interested, it shall be lawful for the Government to declare the undertaking to be a public work, and to direct that the land required for the same be taken under the provisions of Act VI of 1857, and to require the Collector of the District, or some other Officer specially appointed in that behalf, to take order for the acquistion of such land, in such manner as is provided in that Act. Provided that no such declaration or requisition shall be made by Government until the promoters of the line have in such manner as Government shall direct deposited, or given sufficient security to pay, when required, such sums as may be awarded under the provisions of the said Act VI of 1857 or of this Act, to the Government or to any persons having rights or interests in the land so taken.

Issue of final certificate by Government, authorizing construction of the work &c.

X. The Collector or other Officer aforesaid who has been required to take order for the acquisition of land under this Act shall proceed to do so in the manner provided for by Act VI of 1857: and all proceedings connected with such acquisition and all questions arising therefrom shall be regulated and dealt with according to the provisions of that Act. All payments made by the Collector or other Officer aforesaid by way of compensation under the said Act shall be paid out of funds to be provided for the purpose by the promoters of the line.

Collector to take order for acquisition of the land.

XI. Any land taken under this Act may, in addition to the land required for the actual line, include land required for Railway Stations or any necessary buildings, or for the accommodation of Passengers or Goods, or for any work or purpose immediately connected with the undertaking.

Land taken may include land for Stations and other necessary buildings.

XII. Every line of communication for the construction of which land shall be taken under this Act, shall be available to the Public for the conveyance of passengers and goods by such engines, carriages, boats, or other means of transport as are ordinarily employed on the line, or are not inconsistent with its scope and object. And if the said line be a Railway or Tramroad, the owners or lessees of the same shall be bound to supply and use such means of locomotion, as, regard being had to the purposes for which the line was formed, may be adequate to the public wants: and such owners or lessees may demand from the public, fares not exceeding such rates as shall be laid down by such owners or lessees with the sanction of Government.

Line to be available to the public.

XIII. With the sanction or under the direction of the Government every line of communication under this Act may also be made available to persons other than the owners or lessees, for the conveyance of goods along the line by the engines, carriages, boats, or other means of transport, of such other persons, Line may also be made available to other than owners or lessees for conveyance of goods by the carriages and engines of such other persons.

upon payment of tolls to be fixed from time to time by such owners or lessees, with the approval of the Government. Provided that such engines, carriages, boats, or other means of transport shall be suitably and properly constructed and be in serviceable condition, and that the employment thereof shall be subject to such rules as such owners or lessees, with the approval of the Government, may frame. In the event of the line being a Branch Railway or Tramroad of the same guage as, or forming a junction with a Public Railway, the employment of such engines or carriages as aforesaid shall also be subject to such rules as by this Act apply to engines and carraiges of the private Company communicating with the main Railway and the traffic carried on therewith.

Penalty for levying unauthorized tolls.

XIV. If the owners or lessees of any such line of communication, or any persons entitled to convey Passengers or Goods thereon, shall levy or attempt to levy for the conveyance of Passengers or Goods, or for the passage of engines, carriages, boats, or other means of transport, any rates of toll or other charges higher or other than those sanctioned by the Government, such owners, lessees, or other persons so offending shall, for each offence, be liable to a penalty of fifty Rupees for each engine, carriage, boat, or other means of transport so employed. If such owners or lessees or other persons aforesaid shall not supply suitable means of transport for the conveyance of Passengers and Goods in such manner, and within such time as may be directed by the Government, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees a day, for each day's default.

And for not supplying suitable means of transport.

Construction of Bridges, Tunnels, &c.

XV. The Government may, at any time during the construction of a line of communication under this Act, direct the promoters to construct along the line such culverts, bridges, tunnels, drains, or other works as may be considered by Government to be necessary to continue to the public any roads, or rights of way, or easements, or the use of any water theretofore available, and to make due provision for the irrigation and drainage of the country, so as to prevent the same from being impeded or unnecesarily altered by the construction of the said line of communication. If default be made in complying with any directions given under the provisions of this Section, the Government may sto[illegible] moter[illegible] such line of communication. [illegible] p the works on [illegible]

When Government may order junction between the main and branch line.

XVI. If, in any case, [illegible] Company a Public Railway [illegible] effect t[illegible] shall not agree to [illegible] their lin[illegible]e junction between [illegible] Branch [illegible] of Railway and a [illegible] line of Railway proposed by promoters under [illegible] this Act to be of the same guage as the mai[illegible] Railway, the Government, on the application [illegible] of such promoters, and on being satisfied that t[illegible]e junction may be made [illegible] safety to the public [illegible] and without injury to the main Railway or detriment to the traffic thereon, may direct the Public Railway Company to form the junction, and to do all such acts and to lay down such additional lines of side rails, points, and crossings as may be necessary for effecting the junction applied for. Provided that the expense of forming such junction and of doing such acta nd of laying down such additional lines of rails, points, or crossings, and of keeping in repair and renewing the same, shall be defrayed by the promoters of the Branch Railway, who shall pay or give security for paying the sums that may be required for the purposes aforesaid, when and as directed by the Government. Provided further that no such Branch Railway shall run parallel to the Public Railway, and that it shall be lawful to the Government at any time to suspend or withdraw a direction given for effecting a junction between a Public Railway and a Branch line, if it appears to the Government that such junction is likely to prove dangerous to the public or injurious to the Public Railway or detrimental to the traffic thereon.

Appointment of Inspector.

XVII. The Government may appoint an Inspector to inspect any line of communication constructed under this Act, and to inspect any engines, carriages, boats, or other means o transport used thereon for conveyance of passengers or goods. The owners and lessees of such line and any persons entitled to convey passengers or goods thereon and their servants and agents respectively, shall be bound to afford to every Inspector all reasonable facility for the inspection, and all such information as may be reasonably required by him. Whoever shall obstruct any such Inspector in the execution of his duty, or shall neglect to give him such information as he may reasonably require from him, shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees, in addition to any other punishment to which he may be liable by law.

Penalty for obstructing Inspector.

Government may, on report of Inspector, order the traffic along the branch line to be discontinued.

XVIII. If it appears to the Government upon the report of an Inspector upon any line of communication constructed under this Act, that traffic cannot be carried on without danger to the public, or that rules adequate to the protection of the public, under the provisions of this Act, have not been framed and put in force, the Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, order that all traffic be discontinued upon that line. Any person or Company who, after such notice, shall use any engine, carriage, boat, or other means of transport for the purpose of traffic on that line, shall be liable to a penalty of two hundred Rupees for every day during which such engine, carriage, boat, or other means of transport shall be used.

Act XVIII of 1854.

XIX. [illegible] The provisions of Act XVIII of 1854 shall apply to all lines of communication constructed under this Act, so far as such provisions may be applicable to each case.

Saving of right to mines in land taken under this Act or under Act VI of 1857.

XX. Whenever, either before or after the passing of this Act, land shall have been or shall be taken under Act VI of 1857, and whenever land shall be taken under the provisions of this Act for the construction of any line of communication, the taking thereof shall not (unless compensation for the same shall have been expressly allowed in the award made in favor of the persons interested in the land) be held to convey or include the right to any mines of coal, or other minerals lying under such land, except only such parts thereof as shall be necessary to be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works.

XXI. If the owner, lessee, or occupier of any mines of coal or of any other mineral lying immediately under any Railway, Tramway, Road, or Canal, or within forty yards therefrom, shall work the same, it shall be competent to the Government, on the application of the proprietor or lessee, or other person entitled to the use of such Railway, Tramway, Road, or Canal, to require such person so working the mine to work the same so as not to endamage the Railway, Tramway, Road, or Canal aforesaid, and to construct the works necessary to make them safe. Provided that compensation shall be awarded to such owner, lessee, or occupier, in the manner provided for in Act VI of 1857, for any loss sustained by him from being compelled to abandon or alter his mode of working the mine, and also for any necessary works constructed by him (when so required as aforesaid) in order to prevent damage to such Railway, Tramway, Road, or Canal.

Working of mines included in the land taken for the Railway.

XXII. In the construction of this Act, unless when a contrary intention appears from the context, words in the singular number shall include the plural, and words in the plural shall include the singular, and the expression "line of communication" shall include any Railway, Tramroad, Common Road, or Canal.

* No. 4.

long as there are seconded Officers of that rank borne upon the Rolls of the Corps. In your communication to the Commander-in-Chief, dated 4th January, you express an opinion that it is not intended to retain the five Supernumerary Lieutenant-Colonels since the seconding of Colonels and Lieutenant-Colonels has been discontinued.

2. I presume that the number of Supernumerary Officers alluded to refers to the Field Officers, that is, both to Colonels and Lieutenant-Colonels.

3. I am informed that the Supernumerary Lieutenant-Colonels in the Royal Artillery are to be absorbed into the Regiment as vacancies occur. This is to be done in accordance with the principle laid down for the reduction of the Supernumerary General Officers in the Royal Warrant of 6th October 1854, Clause 4, viz., by making only one promotion for every three vacancies.

4. A similar Rule must be established with regard to the Indian Artillery.

5. Promotions may be made in succession to Lieutenant-Colonel Sir R. Shakespear. The two next vacancies among the Lieutenant-Colonels will lapse, should there be that number of seconded Officers of the same grade at the time of their occurrence.

6. This arrangement should be notified for general information.

No. 495 of 1862.—Lieutenant Robert Dougal, of the late 53rd Regiment Native Infantry, is allowed leave of absence, from the 15th March 1862 to the 30th ultimo, to visit Bombay on private affairs, with permission to resign the Service from the date of sailing from that Port of the second Steamer in April 1862, subject to Her Majesty's approval.

No. 496 of 1862.—The undermentioned Officers have reported their return from England :—

XI. Dates are optional, but if given are charged for word by word.	XI. The day, hour, and minute of receipt of a Message into a Telegraph Office for transmission, is in every instance added by the Department, forming the concluding words of the text of the Message, and is telegraphed free of charge. Senders may, however, date their Messages if they think fit, but the Sender's date, if inserted, will be charged for, and in view to avoid confusion will, if given at the end, be transferred to the beginning of the text of the Message.
XXI. When a Message is delivered in an unintelligible state, a refund of the cost will be made to the Sender, if application be made within two months from the date of dispatch, provided the Message has been paid for at repetition price.	XXI. When a Message is delivered in an unintelligible state, a refund of the cost of the portion rendered unintelligible will be made to the Sender, if application be made within three months of the date of despatch, provided the Message has not been transmitted beyond the limits of India, its Dependencies, or Ceylon; and within six months, in the case of Messages for Countries beyond India, as Egypt and Europe. Such refunds will be made irrespective of whether the Message has been paid for at repetition price or not, but no refund will be given for any error in an unrepeated Message arising from wrong figures being given, unless the precaution advised in Section XVI. of these Rules shall have been adopted.

Notice of the Municipal Commissioners.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta have this day attached their signatures to the Assessment Books for the year 1862, in accordance with the provisions of Section X. of Act XXV. of 1856.

By Order of the Board,

ROBERT TURNBULL,
Secy. to the Municipal Commrs.

OFFICE OF THE MU. COMMRS.,
1, Chowringhee Road,
Calcutta, 30th April 1862.

Notice to Mariners.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a Light-house has been erected at Allepey, in Travancore, and stands Lat. 9° 29′ 48″ N. and Long. 5*h*. 5*m*. 25*s*. E. of Greenwich, the Light of which will be exhibited on the night of the 28th of March 1862, and every night thereafter from sunset to sunrise.

The Allepey Light will be known to Mariners as a revolving Light producing a bright flash once every minute.

The Lantern is elevated 131 feet above the level of the Sea. In clear weather the flashes of the Light will be seen at the distance of six leagues, and at lesser distances according to the state of the atmosphere, and to a near observer, in favorable circumstances, the Light will not wholly disappear between the flashes.

The anchorage in the roads is with the Light bearing from N. E. to E. N. E. in four to four and a half fathoms soft mud where the water is perfectly smooth.

HUGH CRAWFORD,
Master Attendant.

Government of India.

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Governor-General of India, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations under the provisions of the Act of Parliament 24 and 25 Vic., C. 67.

THE Council met at Government House on Wednesday, the 30th April 1862.

PRESENT :

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.
Major-General the Hon'ble Sir R. Napier, K. C. B.
The Hon'ble S. Laing.
The Hon'ble H. B. Harington.
The Hon'ble W. Grey.
The Hon'ble H. Forbes.
The Hon'ble C. J. Erskine.
The Hon'ble W. S. Fitzwilliam.
The Hon'ble D. Cowie.

His Honor the LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure be taken into consideration, and that the Bill, as settled by the Select Committee, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. LAING moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to limit in certain cases the amount of assessment to the Duties chargeable after the 31st day of July 1862 under Act XXXII of 1860 (for imposing Duties on Profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices), and Act XXXIX of 1860 (to amend Act XXXII of 1860), and otherwise to modify the said Acts, be taken into consideration, and that the Bill, as settled by the Select Committee, with the amendment of which notice had been given, be passed. He said that the amendment which he had proposed was merely designed to meet the case of those who had returned no profits in the first year, and therefore had not been assessed in the second, but who subsequently had made profits which, it was the manifest intention of the Bill, should be assessed to the Duties under the Income Tax Act. A Memorial had been received from the British Indian Association, stating that they saw no provision in the Bill for repealing the 2 per cent. Duty. But the 14th Section, which they appeared to have overlooked, provided for that object. The Memorial also commented on the power given by the Bill to re-open assessments. But the amendment of the Select Committee had guarded that provision, and limited the power to cases in which the returns were obviously inadequate. If the revenue only were concerned, it might not be worth while to make any special provision on the subject. But justice to other tax-payers required that in such cases the parties liable to the Duties should not wholly escape. The power of re-assessing was limited to Commissioners and Collectors, and the intention was that it should be exercised with great discretion, and only when neglect of it would operate as a grievance on others.

The Motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill as settled by the Committee, with the following amendment, was passed accordingly :—

Section VII, line 19. After the word "jurisdiction" the introduction of the words "or to any person to whom such special notice shall have been issued, but who shall not have been assessed to the said Duties for the said year by reason of the amount of his profits or income not rendering him liable to the said Duties or for any other cause."

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to repeal certain Regulations and Acts relating to Criminal Law and Procedure be taken into consideration, and that the amendments proposed by the Committee be adopted.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ERSKINE then moved the following amendments of which he had given notice:—

Section III, lines 16 and 17. The omission of the words "in the manner provided in Section 445 of the said Code."

The addition of the following Section after Section VI:—

"Nothing in this Act shall affect any sentence or order passed, or any proceeding held, or any act done previously to the passing of this Act and in accordance with any Act or Regulation repealed by this Act."

In the Schedule, the omission of the words "Act XXXV of 1837. The whole Act," and the substitution of the words "Act XXXVII of 1837. The whole Act."

The omission of the words "Act IV of 1838. The whole Act."

In the third column opposite Act XXX of 1841, the omission of the words "in so far as it relates to Courts of Justice," and the substitution of the words "Section I."

In that portion of the Schedule which relates to the Bombay Regulations:—

In the third column opposite Regulation XII 1827, the insertion after the words "Clause 2 of Sections XXVII" of the words "Section XXX."

In the same entry the omission of the words "Section XXXVII" and the substitution of the words "Sections XXXVII and XL."

In the third column opposite Regulation XIII 1827, the insertion after the words "Clauses 1 and 2, Section XXXI" of the words "Clause 3 of Section XXXIII."

In the same entry the omission of the words "and Clause 9 of the same Section" and the substitution of the words "and except Clause 9 of the same Section, Clause 2 of Section XXXVI, and Clauses 1 and 2 of Section XLIII."

After the entry relating to Regulation XIV 1827 the insertion of a new entry as follows:—

"Regulation XV. 1827.—A Regulation containing rules under which landholders may be invested with Police authority within their respective lands, or other convenient limits, and deprived of the same: and declaring the mode of procedure to be followed in regard to them in Criminal matters. The whole Regulation."

In the third column opposite Regulation XXIII 1827, the omission of the words "Section V" and the substitution of the words "The whole Regulation."

He said that these amendments were prepared chiefly in accordance with a despatch which had been received from the Bombay Government within the last few days. They did not in any respect infringe the principle of the Bill, and as they were recommended by the Sudder Court and related almost exclusively to details of Criminal Procedure, and the Bombay Government had not stated any objection to them, he felt it to be unnecessary to enter into any detailed explanations of them.

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON, with the permission of the President, moved the following two further amendments: 1*st.*—That in the 3rd column opposite to Regulation XV 1806 of the Bengal Code, the words "The whole Regulation" be substituted for the words "Sections II, III, IV, and V;" Section I of that Regulation being merely a Preamble, and the only other Section of that Regulation having been already repealed. 2*nd.*—That the entry relating to Regulation XXII 1816 of the same Code be omitted, the whole of that Regulation having been already repealed

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON then moved that the Bill, with the amendments proposed, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to repeal Act XVI of 1852 in those parts of British India in which the Indian Penal Code is in force, and to re enact some of the provisions thereof with amendments, and further to improve the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature; and applied to His Excellency the President to suspend Rule 23 for the conduct of business.

His Excellency the PRESIDENT declared the Rule in question suspended.

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON then said that the amendments proposed by the Select Committee, though numerous, were chiefly verbal; the Chief Justice had seen them and had assented to them. The suggestion of the Lieutenant-Governor, that the operation of the Bill should be limited to a certain time, had been considered by the Select Committee, who were of opinion that the words which they had introduced into the Preamble would sufficiently mark the temporary character of the Bill. The preparation of a Code of Criminal Procedure for the Supreme Courts would be the duty of this Council, from whatever source the materials might come; and although it would be quite proper to submit any such Code for the approval of the learned Judges before it was passed into law, still the responsibility and duty of passing any Code that might be so prepared, must rest with the Council; and unless they wished to throw the Supreme Court back on the state of things which this Act was intended to remedy, this Act must remain in force, subject to any modifications that might be found necessary, until such a Code was brought into operation

His Honor the LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR said that the addition to the Preamble sufficiently fulfilled the object he had in view.

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON, with the permission of the President, then moved the following additional amendments:—

Section XLVI, the insertion of the words "in either case" after the word "and" and before the word "that" in line 13.

Section XLIX to strike out the word "aforesaid" in line 5, and to insert the following words in the place thereof; "mentioned in either of the last two preceding Sections;" to insert the words "they both" at the end of line 13.

Section LII, to strike out the word "to" in line 14, and to insert the word "of" in lieu thereof; to strike out the word "or" in line 15, and to insert the word "and" in lieu thereof.

Section LIII, to strike out the word "or" in line 14, and to insert the word "and" in lieu thereof.

Section LIV, to strike out the word "thereof" in line 8, and to insert the words "of the Act" in lieu thereof.

Sections LVI and LVII,—to transpose these Sections.

The Motion was then put that the Bill, with the proposed amendments, be passed, and was agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Acts XIV of 1843 and XXXVI of 1855, relating to the manufacture of contraband Salt, and to amend the last-named Act; and applied to His Excellency the President to suspend Rule 23 for the conduct of business.

His Excellency the PRESIDENT declared the Rule in question suspended.

The Hon'ble MR. HARINGTON then moved that the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration, and that the Bill be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

His Excellency the PRESIDENT said that, in now adjourning the Council, he did not propose to adjourn it in the usual manner to the following Wednesday, and it might be convenient to the Members that he should state that he did not propose to call them together again until some time in November next. The Members were aware that, under the Act of Parliament, the Governor-General was empowered to summon the Council to assemble whenever and wherever he thought necessary, and he did not intend, by any declaration he now made, to divest himself of the power with which he had been entrusted for the public good. Subject to that reservation, it would be convenient to the Members, who had other interests and avocations, to be informed by him of the period when they were likely to meet again. At present he would adjourn the Council without naming the time and place for its next Meeting.

The Council then adjourned.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XV OF 1862.

An Act to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure in regard to the extension thereof to any parts of the Territories not subject to the General Regulations; It is enacted as follows :—

With what restrictions, &c., Code of Criminal Procedure may be extended to a Non-Regulation Province.

I. When, under the provisions of Section 445 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the said Code has been or shall be extended to any part of the Territories not subject to the General Regulations of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, it shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council, or for the local Government of such Territory, to vest the Chief Officer charged with the Executive administration of a District in Criminal matters, by whatever designation such Officer is called, with power to try all offences not punishable with death, and under the provisions of the said Code to pass sentence of imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding seven years, including such solitary confinement as is authorized by law, or fine, or both.

When Sudder Court consists of one Judge.

II. When the Sudder Court in any part of the Territories to which the said Code of Criminal Procedure has been or shall be extended as aforesaid, shall consist of a single Judge, such Judge shall have all the powers of two or more Judges of the Sudder Court under Sections 398, 401, and 420 of the said Code.

Construction.

III. This Act shall be taken and read as part of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVI OF 1862.

An Act to limit in certain cases the amount of assessment to the Duties chargeable after the 31st day of July 1862 under Act XXXII of 1860 (for imposing duties on profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices) and Act XXXIX of 1860 (to amend Act XXXII of 1860), and otherwise to modify the said Acts.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, by Act XXI of 1861, power is given to limit in certain cases for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1861, the amount of assessment to the Duties chargeable under Act XXXII of 1860 (for imposing Duties on profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices) and Act XXXIX of 1860 (to amend Act XXXII of 1860); and whereas it is expedient to give similar powers in respect of the said assessment for the whole or any of the remaining three years during which the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860 are to continue in force, to raise the limit of exemption contained in Section CXVII of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and otherwise to modify the said

Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860; It is enacted as follows:—

Issue of general notice regarding the rate and amount of assessment of Duties under Schedules 1 and 2 for the year commencing 31st July 1862.

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council, by an order to be published in the Government Gazette, to direct that within the Territories or any part of the Territories subject to the local Government of any Presidency or place, the general or special notices required by Sections XXXVII and XXXVIII of the said Act XXXII of 1860 shall not be issued for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 in respect to the Duties contained in Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act, and that in such Territories or part of such Territories the Returns of profits or income chargeable with Duties under the said Schedules, as prescribed by Section XXXIX of the said Act for the year commencing as above, shall not be required; but that in the place of such notices a general notice shall be issued in such Territories or part of such Territories to the effect that, except as hereinafter provided, the assessment of the Duties contained in the said Schedules for the year commencing as above upon the several persons liable thereto either on their own behalf or on behalf of any other person, shall be at the same rate and on the same amount at and on which such persons were or shall be assessed for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1862.

Form and publication of general notice.

II. The general notice to be issued under the last preceding Section shall be in the form appended to this Act or to the like effect, and shall fix a period of two months after which the assessments under this Act shall be made. Such notice shall be published in the Official Gazette of the Presidency or place within which it is issued, and in such other manner as the local Government shall direct, and copies of such notice shall be affixed at the several places within such Territories or part of such Territories as are mentioned in Section XXXVII of the said Act XXXII of 1860.

Assessments to be made and recovered without requiring Returns of profits or income.

III. After the expiration of the period specified in such notice, the Officers within such Territories or part of such Territories whose duty it is to make assessments under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860, shall proceed, except as hereinafter provided, without requiring the Returns prescribed by Section XXXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 in respect to the Duties contained in Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act, to assess the several persons in their respective jurisdictions liable to the said Duties, either on their own behalf or on behalf of any other person, for the year commencing as above, at the same rate and on the same amount [illegible] such persons were or shall be assessed [illegible] the year ending on the date above mentioned, and shall proceed to collect and recover the amount of such assessments for the year in which the same are payable under the provisions contained in the said Act XXXII of 1860 which are hereby declared applicable to the assessments so made.

Payment of Duties.

IV. The assessment ordered to be the assessment for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862, under the last preceding Section, shall, in the case of every person as aforesaid, who shall not claim in any such year to be assessed for such year under Act XXXII of 1860 as hereinafter provided, be the assessment on every such person under Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the year commencing as above, and the Duties imposed by the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860 under such Schedules shall be payable on such assessment in the same manner as if it had been made on a fresh Return made under Section XXXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860; and all the provisions of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the collection and enforcement of payment of Duties assessed and payable under the said Act shall be applicable to the collection and enforcement of payment of the Duties under the assessments herein provided for.

Claims to be assessed under Act XXXII of 1860.

V. If any person within such Territories or part of such Territories chargeable with the Duties contained in Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act XXXII of 1860 or either of them, for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862, shall object to the assessment provided by this Act, and shall claim to be assessed under the said Act XXXII of 1860, he shall apply to the Commissioners, Collector, or Assessor within whose jurisdiction he resides, for forms of Returns of profits or income chargeable under the said Schedules or either of them, and such person shall, within the period mentioned in such general notice, deliver the Return for the year commencing as above, filled up in the manner and containing the declaration prescribed by the said Act XXXII of 1860, at the Office of such Assessor, Commissioners, or Collector, and claim to be assessed thereon in the same manner as if this Act had not passed. No such claim to be assessed under the said Act XXXII of 1860, shall be received unless made within the period aforesaid.

Mode of assessment in such cases.

VI. When any claim shall be made under the provisions of the last preceding Section within the time therein allowed, it shall be the duty of the Assessor, Commissioners, Special Commissioner, or Collector, as the case may be, to whom such claim is made, to assess the person making it on his profits or income chargeable under the said Schedules for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 in accordance with the provisions of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and all the provisions of the said Act shall be applicable to the Return and Declaration made by such person and to the assessment made upon him.

Saving of issue of special notice to a person who has made no Return for the year ending 31st July 1862, &c.

VII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to debar the Commissioners of any Presidency Town or any Collector, from issuing or causing the issue of a special notice according to the form and in the manner provided by Section XXXVIII of the said Act XXXII of 1860, to any person residing within the jurisdiction of such Commissioners or Collector whom they or he shall consider liable to the Duties chargeable under the said Schedules 1 and 2, or either of them, for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862, but to whom a special notice requiring such person to make a Return of his profits or income under the said Schedules for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1861 shall not have been issued within such jurisdiction; or to any person to whom such special notice shall have been issued, but who shall not have been assessed to the said Duties for the said year by reason of the amount of his profits or income not rendering him liable to the said Duties or for any other cause; or to any person who, such Commissioners or Collector shall have reason to believe, made a fraudulent or obviously inadequate Return of his profits or income under the said Schedules or either of them for the said year, or for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1862, and who shall not have been surcharged upon such Return; or to any person who shall have been assessed to the Duties under the said Schedules or either of them on a Return of profits or income calculated upon any period less than a whole year. Provided that no notice shall be issued under this Section after the expiration of three months from the date of the general notice mentioned in Section I of this Act.

Procedure on special notice.

VIII. When a special notice shall be issued to any person under the provisions of the last preceding Section, all the provisions of the said Act XXXII of 1860 as to special notices shall apply thereto and to any Return and Declaration made by such person and to the assessment of such person.

Case of transfer of immoveable property.

IX. When any transfer of any immoveable property, which shall have been or shall be assessed to the Duties contained in the said Schedule 1 of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the year ending upon the 31st day of July 1862, shall have taken place subsequently to the date at which such assessment shall have been or shall be made, the person in the enjoyment of the profits or income arising from such property, at the time that the assessment of Duties thereupon for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 is made, shall be liable to be assessed on the profits of such property under the rules contained in the said Act XXXII of 1860 in the same manner as if this Act had not passed.

Act not to apply to Duties under Schedules and 3 and 4.

X. This Act shall not apply to the Duties contained in Schedules 3 and 4 of the said Act XXXII of 1860, or to the assessment, collection, and recovery of such duties.

Governor-General in Council may extend this Act to the year commencing 31st July 1863, or the year commencing 31st July 1864, or both.

XI. The Governor-General of India in Council may extend the provisions of this Act to the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1863, or the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1864, or to both of those years, and on such extension the several provisions of this Act shall mutatis mutandis apply to such year or years in the same manner as they apply to the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862.

Composition for the whole period of three years from 31st July 1862.

XII. If any person shall be desirous of compounding for the Duties mentioned in Schedules 1 and 2 or either of the said Schedules of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the entire period of three years from the 31st day of July 1862, and shall be willing to pay the whole amount of the Duties payable under the said Schedule or Schedules for such three years at one time, he may make an application to that effect, and it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of any Presidency Town, or any Collector beyond the limits of any such Town with the sanction of the Commissioner of Land Revenue or other Revenue Authority to whom such Collector is immediately subordinate, to assess such person under the said Schedule or Schedules (as the case may be) for each of the three years aforesaid at the rate and amount assessed on him under the said Schedule or Schedules (as the case may be) for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1861, or if such person shall have been assessed on a fresh Return made for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1861 then at the rate and on the amount assessed on him in the said Schedule or Schedules for such year without any such addition as is provided in Section LXIX or LXX of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and the payment by such person of the aggregate amount chargeable on him for the said three years on such assessment under the said Schedule or Schedules shall be received and taken by the said Commissioners or Collector in full satisfaction and discharge of the liability of such person to assessment under the said Schedule or Schedules during the said three years, and shall have the effect of a final settlement by such person with the Government of India in respect of all claims whatsoever in respect of such assessment. Provided that such payment be made on or before a date to be fixed by such Commissioners or Collector, and provided also that all the provisions of Section LXXV of the said Act relating to fraud shall apply to a composition under this Section.

Repeal of Sections CXVI to CXIX of Act XXXII of 1860.

XIII. From and after the 31st day of July 1862, Sections CXVI, CXVII, CXVIII, and CXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860 shall cease to have effect, except in respect of any Duty chargeable upon any person under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860 for either of the years commencing from the 31st July 1860, and the 31st July 1861, or for both of such years, or in respect of any assessment made under the said Acts upon any person for either or both of the said years.

The two following Sections to be in lieu of the Sections above repealed.

XIV. From the 31st July 1862, with the exception contained in the last preceding Section, the two following Sections shall stand in the place of the said Sections CXVI, CXVII, CXVIII, and CXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and shall be read and construed as if they formed part of the said Act, namely :—

Exemption of persons whose annual profits or income do not amount to 500 Rupees

(1.) No person shall be chargeable to any Duty under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860, whose annual profits or income, from whatever source derived, estimated as in the said Act XXXII of 1860, do not amount to 500 Rupees.

Procedure in the case of persons claiming exemption under preceding Section.

(2.) Every person assessed under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860, for the year commencing from the 1st August 1862 on an income or profits amounting to 500 Rupees, who shall claim to be exempted from payment of Duty on the ground that his income and profits do not amount to 500 Rupees, shall, within the time limited by the said Act XXXII of 1860 for delivering in the Returns and Declarations required by the said Act or within such further time as the Collector or Commissioners respectively shall, for special cause assigned allow, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Assessor of the place where such claimant shall reside, a notice of his claim to such exemption, together with a declaration signed by such claimant and in such form as shall be prescribed as aforesaid, declaring and setting forth therein all the particular sources from whence the income of such claimant shall arise, and the particular amount arising from each source, and also every sum of annual interest or other annual payment reserved or charged thereon, whereby the income shall or may be diminished, and also every sum which such claimant may have charged, or may be entitled to charge against any other person, on account of the Duties made payable by this Act, or which he may have deducted or may be entitled to deduct under the authority of this Act, from any payment to which he may be liable.

Repeal of Sections CXCI to CXCIV of Act XXXII of 1860.

XV. Sections CXCI, CXCII, CXCIII, and CXCIV of the said Act XXXII of 1860 which provide that separate accounts shall be kept of the one per cent. Duty under Section III of the said Act, and that the amount thereof shall be appropriated in the manner therein directed, are hereby repealed.

Proviso.

Provided that a sum being not less than 20 per cent of the gross sum collected on account of the Duties of 3 and 1 per cent prescribed by Sections I and III of the said Act shall be appropriated to each Presidency, Lieutenant-Governorship, and Province under a Chief Commissioner, in the proportion which shall be determined by the Governor-General in Council having regard to the proportion in which every such Presidency or Lieutenant-Governorship or Province under a Chief Commissioner shall contribute to the whole amount of the Duty raised under the said Act XXXII of 1860, and shall be expended by the local Governments and Chief Commissioners thereof in Roads, Canals, and other reproductive public works which have been duly sanctioned, in the various Districts under them as they may think fit, having regard to the respective contribution of such Districts.

Governor-General in Council to prescribe forms.

XVI. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council, in the exercise of the powers specified in Section CCXLVI of the said Act XXXII of 1860, from time to time to prescribe particular forms of Returns of profits and income for any part or parts of the British Territories in India. The forms so prescribed shall be published at least three times in the Government Gazette of such part or parts of such Territories, and when so published and until they shall be altered, varied, or annulled by any subsequent order of the Governor-General of India in Council, such forms shall be observed by all persons in such part or parts of such Territories who, by the said Act, are required to do the matters referred to in such forms, and all Notices given and Returns or Declarations made, and all oaths and affirmations taken or made, and all proceedings had according to such forms respectively by such person shall, if otherwise valid, be deemed valid and effectual.

Notice.

INCOME TAX ACT, SCHEDULES 1 AND 2.

UNDER the orders of the Governor-General of India in Council, Notice is hereby given that, except in the case of any person or persons to whom a special notice is issued, the assessment for the Income Tax for the year commencing from the 31st July 1862, under Schedules 1 and 2, Act XXXII of 1860 (Income Tax Act), will be the same as for the year ending on the said 31st day of July 1862; provided that if any person object to such assessment, he may apply to the Commissioners, Collector of his District, or to the Assessor of his Division for forms of Returns of profits or income under the said Schedules, and send in his Return thereof within two months from the 31st July in that year, and he will then be assessed on such Return under the said Act XXXII of 1860.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT. No. XVII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal certain Regulations and Acts relating to Criminal Law and Procedure.

Preamble.

WHEREAS by Act XLV of 1860 a Penal Code has been prescribed for British India, and the said Code came into operation on the 1st day of January 1862; and whereas by Act XXV of 1861 a Code of Procedure is provided for the Courts of Criminal Judicature not established by Royal Charter, and the said Code likewise came into operation on the 1st day of January 1862 in the Presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and was at the same time, or has since been, or hereafter may be extended to other parts of British India; and whereas it is expedient to repeal, in the manner hereinafter provided, certain Regulations and Acts relating to Criminal Law and Procedure; It is enacted as follows :—

Repeal of Regulations and Acts providing for the punishment of offences.

I. The several Regulations and Acts set forth in the Schedule hereunto annexed, so far as they provide for the punishment of offences, shall be held to have been and are hereby repealed from the 1st day of January 1862 in the Presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and in the other parts of British India in which such Regulations and Acts or any of them were in force on the said 1st day of January 1862, except in so far as they repeal the whole or any part of any other Regulation or Act, and except as to any offence committed before the said 1st day of January 1862.

Exception.

Repeal of Regulations and Acts not repealed by last Section, in places where Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation on 1st January 1862.

II. To the extent expressed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, the Regulations and Acts set forth therein, which are not repealed by the last preceding Section, shall, except in so far as they repeal the whole or any part of any other Regulation or Act, and except as to any offence committed before the said 1st day of January 1862, be held to have been and are hereby repealed from the said date in the Presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and in the other parts of British India in which such Regulations and Acts or any of them were in force on the said 1st day of January 1862, and in which the said Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation on such date.

Repeal of the same Regulations and Acts in places where the Code of Criminal Procedure did not come into operation on 1st January 1862.

III. To the extent expressed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, the Regulations and Acts set forth therein, which are not repealed by Section I of this Act, and which were in force on the said 1st day of January 1862 in any part of British India in which the said Code of Criminal Procedure did not come into operation on the said 1st day of January 1862, shall, except in so far as they repeal the whole or any part of any other Regulation or Act and except as to any offence committed before the date on which the said Code shall have been or shall hereafter be extended to such part of British India, be held to have been or shall be repealed in such part of British India from the date on which the said Code shall have been or shall be so extended thereto.

Procedure and powers in the investigation and trial of offences committed before 1st January 1862.

IV. In the investigation and trial of offences committed before the said 1st day of January 1862, the Criminal Courts of the several grades and the Officers of Police shall, after the passing of this Act, be guided by the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, so far as the same can be applied, wherever the said Code shall be in operation at the time of such investigation or trial; and for the trial and punishment of such offences such Courts shall exercise the jurisdiction and powers vested in them under the said Code of Criminal Procedure, provided that no person convicted of any such offence shall be liable to any other punishment than that to which he would have been liable had he been convicted of such offence before the said 1st day of January 1862, and that no such person, who shall claim the same, shall be deprived of any right of appeal or reference to a Sudder Court which he would have enjoyed had the trial been held under any of the Regulations or Acts hereby repealed.

Procedure in the investigation and trial, in places to which the Code of Criminal Procedure is extended after passing of this Act, of offences committed before date of extension.

V. In any part of British India to which the Code of Criminal Procedure shall be extended after the passing of this Act, the said Code shall, subject to the provisions of the last preceding Section, be followed in the investigation and trial of any offences committed before the date of such extension.

Saving of certain sentences passed for offences, committed before Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation, by reason only of the procedure of that Code having been followed.

VI. No sentence passed before the passing of this Act for any offence which shall have been committed before the 1st day of January 1862, (or whenever the said Code of Criminal Procedure shall not have been extended to any place in British India on the said 1st day of January 1862, then before the date on which the said Code shall have been extended to such place), shall be liable to be quashed or set aside by reason only of the procedure in the investigation or trial of any such offence having been wholly or in part the procedure provided by the said Code of Criminal Procedure. Provided that, if in any such case it shall appear that the accused party has been deprived of any right of appeal or reference to a Sudder Court, which he would have enjoyed had the trial been held under any of the Regulations or Acts hereby repealed, the Sudder Court or the highest Court of Criminal Jurisdiction may call for the proceedings in the case and pass such order thereon as it may deem just and proper.

Proviso.

Saving of certain sentences passed, &c., before passing of this Act.

VII. Nothing in this Act shall affect any sentence or order passed or any proceeding held or any act done previously to the passing of this Act and in accordance with any Act or Regulation repealed by this Act.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVIII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal Act XVI of 1852 in those parts of British India in which the Indian Penal Code is in force, and to re-enact some of the provisions thereof with amendments, and further to improve the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, in consequence of the passing of the Indian Penal Code, many of the provisions of Act XVI of 1852 (for further improving the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Courts of Justice in the territories of the East India Company) have become in applicable and others require amendment, and it is expedient to repeal the said Act and, pending the preparation of a Code of Criminal Procedure for Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, to re-enact some of the provisions of the said Act, and to make further provision for the administration of Criminal

Justice in such Courts; It is enacted as follows :—

Court may amend certain variances not material to the merits of the case and by which the defendant cannot be prejudiced in his defence and may either proceed with or postpone the trial to be had before the same or another Jury.

I. Whenever, on the trial of an indictment for an offence, there shall appear to be a variance between any statement in such indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall be lawful for the Court before which the trial shall be had, if it shall consider that by the amendment of the indictment the person indicted will not be prejudiced in his defence on the merits, to order such indictment to be amended, according to the proof, by some Officer of the Court or other person, both in that part of the indictment where such variance occurs, and in every other part of the indictment which it may become necessary to amend, on such terms as to postponing the trial if the person indicted apply for a postponement, and ordering the same to be had before the same or another Jury, as such Court shall think reasonable; and after any such amendment the trial shall proceed, whenever the same shall be proceeded with, in the same manner in all respects and with the same consequences both with respect to the liability of witnesses to be indicted for giving false evidence and otherwise, as if no such variance had occurred. Provided that in any such case where the trial shall be so postponed as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court to respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses, and of the person indicted and his surety or sureties, (if any), in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence respectively, and the person indicted shall be bound to attend to be tried at the time and place to which such trial shall be postponed, without entering into any fresh recognizances for that purpose, in such and the same manner as if they were originally bound by their recognizances to appear and prosecute, or give evidence at the time and place to which such trial shall be so postponed. Provided also, that where any such trial shall be ordered to be had before another Jury, the Crown and the person indicted shall respectively be entitled to the same challenges as they were respectively entitled to before the first Jury was sworn.

On trial for criminal breach of trust and other offences, if the offence be theft, the Court may order indictment to be amended.

II. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the Indian Penal Code, or the offence of cheating and thereby dishonestly inducing the person deceived to deliver property under Section 420 of the said Code, or of criminal breach of trust as a carrier, wharfinger, or ware-house-keeper under Section 407 of the said Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person took the property in question in any such manner as to amount to the offence of theft under Section 378 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of Criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant.

III. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant under Section 408 of he Indian Penal Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person took the property in question in any such manner as to amount to the offence of theft under Section 378 of the said Code, or the offence of theft as a clerk or servant of property in possession of his master under Section 381 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of theft or of theft in a building, tent, or vessel.

IV. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of theft under Section 378 of the Indian Penal Code, or the offence of theft in a building, tent, or vessel under Section 380 of the said Code, evidence shall be given to prove that, in respect of the property stated in the indictment, such person was guilty of the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property under Section 403 of the said Code, or the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of theft as a clerk or servant.

V. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of theft as a clerk or servant of property in the possession of his master under Section 381 of the Indian Penal Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person was guilty of the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property under Section 403 of the said Code, or the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property possessed by a deceased person at the time of his death under Section 404 of the said Code, or of such dishonest misappropriation under the said Section 404, the offender being at the time of the person's decease employed by him as a clerk or servant, or the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the said Code, or the offence of criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant under Section 408 of the said Code, in respect of the property stated in the indictment, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Verdicts and judgments valid after amendments.

VI. Every verdict and judgment which shall be given after the making of any amendment under the provisions of this Act, shall be of the same force and effect in all respects as if the indictment had originally been in the form in which it is after such amendment shall have been made.

Records to be drawn up in amended form without noticing the amendments.

VII. If it shall become necessary at any time, for any purpose whatsoever, to draw up a formal record in any case where any amendment shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, such record shall be drawn up in the form in which the indictment is, after such amendment shall have been made, without taking any notice of the fact of such amendment having been made.

Form of indictment in cases of theft.

VIII. In an indictment for theft the person indicted may be charged with having dishonestly taken the property stated in the indictment out of the possession of the person mentioned therein without that person's consent, and in support of such allegation it shall be sufficient to prove that the person indicted, intending to take dishonestly such property out of the possession of the person mentioned in the indictment, without that person's consent moved that property in order to such taking.

The means by which the injury was inflicted need not be specified in indictments for murder and culpable homicide.

IX. In an indictment for murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, or for abetting murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, or for attempting to commit murder which shall be preferred after this Act shall come into operation, it shall not be necessary to set forth the manner in which, or the means by which, the death of the deceased was caused or attempted to be caused.

Form of indictment in cases of murder.

X. In an indictment for murder it shall be sufficient to state that the person charged with the offence did murder the deceased by doing an act with the intention of causing the death of a human being, or, as the case may be, by doing an act with the intention of causing such bodily injury to the deceased as the offender knew to be likely to cause the death of the deceased, or by doing an act with the intention of causing bodily injury to some person, and that the bodily injury intended to be inflicted was sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death, or by doing an act knowing it to be so imminently dangerous that it must in all probability cause the death of a human being, or such bodily injury as was likely to cause the death of a human being, and committing such act without any excuse for incurring the risk of causing death or such injury as aforesaid, and in any indictment for abetting murder or for attempting to commit murder, it shall be sufficient to state that the person charged with the offence abetted the murder of the deceased, or attempted to murder the deceased, as the case may be.

Upon indictment for murder, Jury may find the accused guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

XI. Upon an indictment for murder the Jury may find the person charged with the offence not guilty of murder, but guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

Upon indictment for murder, Jury may find the accused guilty of concealing, or endeavoring to conceal, the birth of a child.

XII. Upon an indictment for the murder of a child the Jury may find the person indicted not guilty of murder, but guilty of intentionally concealing or endeavoring to conceal the birth of such child under Section 318 of the Indian Penal Code, and the person so found guilty shall be liable to be punished under the said Section of the said Code.

Not necessary to specify the particular kind of grievous hurt.

XIII. It shall not be necessary in an indictment for voluntarily causing grievous hurt to specify the particular kind of grievous hurt.

Provision for cases of trial for causing grievous hurt and other similar offences.

XIV. Upon an indictment for voluntarily causing grievous hurt, or for voluntarily causing hurt to any person, or for an offence under Section 336, 337, or 338 of the Indian Penal Code, the person indicted shall not be entitled to be acquitted upon the ground that the hurt caused the death of the person injured or that the person indicted was guilty of culpable homicide.

Form of indictment in cases respecting instruments or documents.

XV. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to mention any instrument or document, or to make an averment or allegation respecting any instrument or document, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument or document by any name or designation by which the same is usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile thereof, or otherwise describing the same, or the value thereof.

Intent to defraud particular person need not be alleged or proved.

XVI. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to allege an intent to defraud, it shall not be necessary to allege or prove an intent to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to allege and prove an intent to defraud.

A party indicted for an offence may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and shall be liable to the same consequences as if charged with and convicted of the attempt only. No person sotried to be after wards prosecuted for the same.

XVII. If, on the trial of any person charged with any offence, it shall appear to the Jury upon the evidence that the person charged did not complete the offence charged, but was guilty of an offence within the meaning of Section 511 of the Indian Penal Code by attempting to commit such offence, or to cause such offence to be committed, and in such attempt doing an act towards the commission of such offence, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the Jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the person accused is not guilty of the offence charged, but is guilty of an attempt to commit the same within the meaning of Section 511 of the Indian Penal Code, and the offender so found guilty shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment framed under the said Section for attempting to commit the particular offence charged in the indictment, and no person so tried as herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the offence for which he was so tried

If person indicted for criminal misappropriation be proved guilty of theft.

XVIII. If, upon the trial of any person indicted for criminal misappropriation of property, it shall be proved that he was guilty of committing theft of such property, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of the offence charged against him.

Upon an indictment for jointly receiving, persons guilty of separately receiving may be convicted.

XIX. If, upon the trial of two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving stolen property, it shall be proved that one or more of such persons separately received any part of such property, it shall be lawful for the Jury to convict upon such indictment such of the said persons as shall be proved to have received any part of such property.

Abettor of an offence may be indicted and punished in the absence of the principal.

XX. A person may be indicted and punished for abetting an offence which has been committed in consequence of the abetment, notwithstanding the person who committed the offence shall not have been indicted or found guilty, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice, and every abettor of an offence may be indicted, tried, and punished for the abetment as a substantive offence, and may be tried either jointly with the principal offender or separately, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature which would have power to try the principal offender, or which would have power to try the abettor if he had committed the offence himself, either in the place in which he is guilty of the abetment, or in the place in which any act shall have been committed in pursuance of the abetment.

Receiver of stolen property may be indicted and punished in the absence of the principal.

XXI. A person may be indicted and punished for dishonestly receiving or retaining stolen property, notwithstanding the person by whose offence the possession of such property shall have been transferred, or who shall have criminally misappropriated such property or committed criminal breach of trust in respect thereof, shall not have been found guilty of such offence, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice.

Insertion of several counts in the same indictment against the same person.

XXII. It shall be lawful to insert several counts in the same indictment against the same person for different offences. But the Judge, before whom the person indicted shall be tried, may direct that any one or more of the counts shall be treated as a distinct indictment or indictments, and that the person indicted shall be tried thereupon in the same manner as if such count or counts had been in separate and distinct indictments.

If the property alleged in an indictment for theft appear to have been taken at different times, prosecutor need not elect, unless where more than three takings, or more than six months between the first and last taking.

XXIII. If, upon the trial of an indictment for theft, it shall appear that the property alleged in the indictment was taken or moved at different times, the prosecutor shall not by reason thereof be required to elect upon which taking or moving he will proceed, unless it shall appear that there were more than three takings or movings, or that more than the space of six calendar months elapsed between the first and the last of such takings or movings, and in either of such last mentioned cases the prosecutor shall be required to elect to proceed for such number of takings or movings not exceeding three as shall appear to have taken place within the period of six calendar months from the first to the last of such takings or movings.

Form of indictment for giving or fabricating false evidence, &c.

XXIV. In an indictment for giving or fabricating false evidence, or for using or attempting to use false or fabricated evidence, or for any offence which by the Indian Penal Code is declared to be punishable in the same manner as the offence of intentionally giving false evidence, or for abetting or attempting to commit any of the offences aforesaid, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged, without setting out any part of any proceeding either in law or in equity and without setting forth the commission or authority of the Court or person before whom such offence was committed.

Coin and Bank or Government Notes may be described simply as money.

XXV. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to make any averment as to any money or any note of any Bank, or any note of Government payable on demand, or which by any law is or shall be declared to be a legal tender, it shall be sufficient to describe such money or note simply as money without specifying any particular coin or Bank or other note, and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of any such note as aforesaid, although the particular species of coin, of which such amount was composed, or the amount, number, or other particulars of the note, shall not be proved, and in cases of obtaining money or any such note or notes as aforesaid by cheating by proof that the offender obtained any piece or pieces of coin, or any such note or notes, or any portion thereof, or of the value thereof by cheating, although such piece or pieces of coin or note or notes may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same or to any other person or persons, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

Absence of general exceptions under the Penal Code to be assumed.

XXVI. It shall not be necessary to allege in an indictment any circumstances for the purpose of shewing that the case does not come, nor shall it be necessary to allege that the case does not come within any of the general exceptions contained in Chapter IV of the Indian Penal Code, or within the exceptions contained in Section 136, Section 300, Section 323, Section 324, Section 325, Section 326, Section 375, or Section 499 of the said Code, but every charge shall be understood to assume the absence of all such circumstances, and it shall not be necessary on the part of the prosecutor to prove at the trial the absence of such circumstances in the first instance; but the person indicted shall be entitled to give evidence of the existence of any such circumstances, and evidence in disproof thereof may then be given on the part of the prosecutor.

Evidence as to general exception.

Good faith to be presumed in certain cases.

XXVII. In proving the existence of circumstances as a defence under the 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, or 10th exception to Section 499 of the Indian Penal Code, good faith shall be presumed unless the contrary appear.

Words in indictments to be taken in the sense of the Penal Code.

XXVIII. In every indictment, words used in describing an offence shall be deemed to have been used in the sense attached to them by the Indian Penal Code.

Trials for murder or culpable homicide if the act which caused or the death took place within the jurisdiction.

XXIX. Any person accused of murder or of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the act which shall have caused the death shall have been committed wholly or partly within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if the death shall have taken place within such local limits in the same manner as if both the act had been committed, and the death had taken place within such local limits.

Supreme Court may deal with offence either commenced or completed within local jurisdiction.

XXX. Any person accused of an offence may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the offence shall have been either commenced or completed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court in the same manner as if the offence had been wholly and entirely committed within such local limits.

Offence may be dealt with if either the act was done or the consequence ensued within the jurisdiction.

XXXI. Whenever the offence of which any person shall be accused shall consist of any thing which has been done and of any consequence which has ensued therefrom, the person accused may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if either the act shall have been done or the consequence shall have ensued within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court in the same manner as if both the act had been done and the consequence had ensued within such local limits.

Receiving stolen property, when part only of the offence is committed within the jurisdiction.

XXXII. Whenever a person shall be accused of any offence punishable under Section 411, 412, 413, or 414 of the Indian Penal Code in respect to the receiving or retaining of stolen property, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the offence by which the possession of the property shall have been transferred shall have been committed either wholly or in part within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if any of the stolen property shall have been received or retained by the person accused within such local limits.

Similar provision as to dishonest removal or concealment of property.

XXXIIII. If any person shall be accused of any offence under Section 424 of the Indian Penal Code of dishonestly or fraudulently concealing or removing any property of himself, or of any other person, or of dishonestly or fraudulently assisting in the concealment or removal thereof, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the property shall have been concealed or removed in any place within the local limits of such Court or shall have been removed from any place within such local limits.

Provision for cases on the boundaries or near the boundaries of local jurisdiction.

XXXIV. If any act shall have been committed or the consequence of any act shall have ensued on the boundaries of the local jurisdiction of such Court or so near to such boundaries as to render it doubtful whether such act was committed or such consequence ensued within such local limits or not, such act or consequence may for all purposes be stated, deemed, and taken to have been committed or to have ensued within such local limits.

Provision for the case of offences committed on a journey or voyage.

XXXV. If any person shall be accused of any offence alleged to have been committed on a journey or on any voyage in British India, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if any part of the journey or voyage shall have been performed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court.

Escape from lawful custody under sentence.

XXXVI. If any person shall escape from any custody in which he is lawfully detained in pursuance of a sentence of a Court of Justice or by virtue of a commutation of such sentence, or shall be charged with any offence declared to be punishable under Section 227 of the Indian Penal Code or under Section XII of Act XXIV of 1855 (relating to Penal servitude), the person accused may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, if such person shall be apprehended and retaken within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if he was formerly tried by such Court, or in the case of an escape from custody if he shall have escaped from custody in any place within such local limits.

Justices of Peace may deal with such offences.

XXXVII. Every Justice of the Peace shall have power to deal with any person charged with an offence, for which he is liable under this Act to be tried by one of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, in the same manner as if such offence had been wholly and entirely committed within the local limits of such Court.

A former conviction or acquittal before a competent Court to be a bar to subsequent trial or conviction.

XXXVIII. A former conviction or acquittal before a Court of competent jurisdiction of any offence hereby made punishable by Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, shall be a bar to any subsequent trial or conviction for the same offence.

Certain provisions of 9th Geo. 4, c. 74, shall be deemed to apply to and include offences punishable under Penal Code.

XXXIX. The provisions of Sections 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, and 23 of the 9th Geo. 4, c. 74, intituled "An Act for improving the administration of Criminal Justice in the East Indies," shall be deemed to apply to and to include any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code. Section 5 of the said Act shall be deemed to include murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and the words felony or misdemeanor in Section 110 of the said Act shall be deemed to extend to and include any offence declared to be punishable under the Indian Penal Code by means of or in consequence of which the possession of property shall have been transferred.

No indictment to be held insufficient for immaterial errors.

XL. No indictment for any offence shall be held insufficient for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute" instead of "against the form of the statutes" or vice versâ, nor because any person mentioned in the indictment is designated by a name of Office or other description or appellation instead of his proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment or on an impossible day or on a day that never happened, nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, nor for want of a proper or formal conclusion, nor for want of or imperfection in the addition of any defendant, nor for want of the statement of the value or price of any matter or thing, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil in any case where the value or price or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil is not of the essence of the offence.

Formal objections to indictments shall be taken before Jury are sworn. Court may amend any formal defect

XLI. Every objection to an indictment for uncertainty or for any formal defect apparent on the face thereof shall be taken by demurrer or motion to quash such indictment before the Jury shall be sworn, and not afterwards, and every Court before which any objection shall be taken by demurrer or motion to quash for any formal defect, may, if it be thought necessary, cause the indictment to be forthwith amended in such particulars by some Officer of the Court or other person, and thereupon the trial shall proceed as if no such defect had appeared.

No traverse allowed, but the Court may postpone trial.

XLII. No person prosecuted shall be entitled to traverse or postpone the trial of any indictment found against him at any Session of Oyer and Terminer or Session of Gaol delivery; provided always that if the Court, upon the application of the person so indicted, or otherwise, shall be of opinion that he ought to be allowed a further time either to prepare for defence or otherwise, such Court may adjourn the Sessions to any subsequent day, and may adjourn the trial of such person to such day or to the next subsequent Session, upon such terms as to bail or otherwise as to such Court shall seem meet, and may respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence at such subsequent day or Session without entering into any fresh recognizance for that purpose.

Provision as to plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit.

XLIII. In any plea of Autrefois convict or Autrefois acquit, it shall be sufficient for the person accused to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted (as the case may be) of the offence charged in the indictment.

Prosecution for adultery not to be instituted except by the husband.

XLIV. A charge of an offence under Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code shall not be instituted except by the husband of the woman.

Prosecution for enticing away a married woman not to be instituted except by husband or person in charge of the woman.

XLV. A charge of an offence under Section 498 of the Indian Penal Code shall not be instituted except by the husband of the woman, or by the person having care of such woman on behalf of her husband.

On trial of offence under last two Sections, proof necessary of husband or person in charge of woman having instituted the charge.

XLVI. Upon the trial of an indictment for either of the offences mentioned in the last two preceding Sections, it shall be necessary to prove that the charge was instituted by the husband of the woman if the charge be made under Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code, or by the husband of the woman, or by the person having care of such woman on behalf of her husband, if the charge be made under Section 498 of the said Code, and in either case that the indictment is prosecuted by such husband, or other person as the case may be, and on failure of such proof the indictment shall be quashed and the person accused shall be discharged.

Persons sentenced to rigorous confinement may be imprisoned in House of Correction.

XLVII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor, or to solitary confinement, he shall be imprisoned in the House of Correction, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not.

Persons sentenced to transportation or Penal servitude may be kept in the House of Correction.

XLVIII Whenever any person shall be sentenced by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature to transportation or penal servitude, such person shall be kept in the House of Correction as the place of intermediate custody, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not.

If the Sheriff be not the keeper of the House of Correction, how he shall proceed.

XLIX. If the Sheriff be not the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, he shall cause any person sentenced as mentioned in either of the last two preceding Sections to be delivered to the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested or to the keeper of such House of Correction, together with a warrant to be signed by a Judge of the said Supreme Court authorizing the detention of such person. Such Officer or keeper shall be bound to receive the person so delivered over to his custody, and they both shall be responsible for the safe custody of such person.

All Constables, &c., bound to assist.

L. All Constables and Police Officers are hereby empowered to aid and assist the Sheriff in carrying to the House of Correction any person sentenced as aforesaid.

Sheriff absolved from responsibility.

LI. If the Sheriff be not the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, he shall be absolved from all responsibility in respect of the custody of any person sentenced as aforesaid from the time such person shall be delivered to the custody of the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, or to the keeper of such House of Correction.

Person sentenced by Justice of Peace to rigorous imprisonment or hard labor may be committed to the House of Correction.

LII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by a Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor, for any offence committed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, the person so sentenced shall be committed to the custody of the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not, or of the keeper of such House of Correction, and such Officer and keeper shall be responsible for the safe custody of such person.

LIII. From and after the passing of this Act all persons who are confined at the date of the passing of this Act in the House of Correction, whether under the sentence of any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, or of any Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate, shall be considered to be and shall remain in the custody of the Officer in whom the control of such House of Correction is vested, whether such Officer be the Sheriff or not, or of the keeper of such House of Correction, and such Officer and keeper shall be responsible for the safe custody of all such persons.

Provision for persons now in the House of Correction.

LIV. This Act shall commence and take effect in Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or in any Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of that Court shall be transferred, from the time of the passing of the Act, and shall, so far as the same is applicable, extend to all indictments and proceedings in respect of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code, which have been or shall be presented or commenced in the said Court or in any other Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of such Court shall be transferred.

Commencement of Act at Fort William in Bengal.

LV. This Act shall commence and take effect in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature at Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, or in any Courts to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of those Courts respectively shall be transferred, from the time at which it shall be notified in the Official Gazette by an order of the Governor in Council of Fort St George and Bombay respectively, that the Act is to take effect in such Courts; and from such time the provisions of the Act shall, so far as the same is applicable, extend to all indictments and proceedings in respect of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code which have been or shall be presented or commenced in the said Courts or in any other Courts to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of such Courts shall be transferred.

Commencement of Act at Madras and Bombay.

LVI. From the time at which this Act shall take effect in any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature as provided in the last two preceding Sections, Act XVI of 1852 is repealed so far as it relates to indictments and proceedings in such Court, except as to offences not punishable under the Indian Penal Code.

Act XVI of 1852 how far repealed.

LVII. In the construction of this Act, unless where a contrary intention appears from the context, the word "Indictment" shall be understood to include information, inquisition, or presentment, as well as indictment, and also any plea, replication, or other pleading; and the term "finding of the indictment" shall be understood to include the taking of an inquisition, the exhibiting of an information, and the making of a presentment; and words importing the singular number or masculine gender shall include several persons and parties, as well as one person or party, and females as well as males, and bodies corporate as well as individuals, and several matters and things as well as one matter and thing.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XIX OF 1862.

An Act to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Acts XIV of 1843 and XXXVI of 1855 relating to the manufacture of contraband Salt, and to amend the last-named Act.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Act XIV of 1843 (for regulating the levy of Customs Duties and the manufacture of Salt in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal) and of Act XXXVI of 1855 (to empower Officers of Customs and Land Revenue to search houses and other enclosed places for contraband Salt in the North-Western Provinces), and to amend the last-named Act; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. So much of the said Act XIV of 1843 as relates to the manufacture of alimentary Salt, and the prevention and punishment of the illicit manufacture and importation of such Salt, and the said Act XXXVI of 1855 as hereinafter amended, shall be held to have been and are hereby extended to the Province of Oude from the date on which Act XXXI of 1861 (to regulate the manufacture of saltpetre and the sale of Salt educed in the refinement thereof) was extended to the said Province in the manner provided in Section XVIII of the said Act.

Certain provisions of Act XIV of 1843 and Act XXXVI of 1855 extended to Oude.

II. Section IV of Act XXXVI of 1855 is hereby repealed, and the following Section is enacted in lieu thereof, and shall be read and construed in the same manner as if it formed part of the said Act, namely,—

Forcible entry into zenanahs.

"If the place to be searched is a zenanah or apartment in the actual occupancy of a woman who, according to the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the Officer making the search shall give notice to such woman in such zenanah or apartment that she is at liberty to withdraw, and after giving such notice and allowing a reasonable time for the woman to withdraw, and affording her every reasonable facility for withdrawing, such Officer may enter such zenanah or apartment for the purpose of completing the search, using at the same time every precaution consistent with these provisions for preventing the clandestine removal of any Salt. Provided that the responsibility for the act, and the determination whether to force an entry or not, shall rest with the Officer of Customs or Land Revenue only."

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. IV OF 1862.

An Act for the better enforcement of discipline in the Great Jail at Calcutta.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the better enforcement of discipline and order amongst the criminal prisoners confined in the Great Jail of Calcutta, as well as for the more effectual superintendence over, and control of such prisoners; It is enacted as follows:—

Authority over House of Correction vested in Commissioner of Police or such other Officer as Government may appoint.

I. The authority hitherto exercised by the Sheriff of Calcutta over that part of the Great Jail which is termed the House of Correction, shall henceforth cease and determine; and the whole authority over the House of Correction and the prisoners confined therein, is hereby vested in the Commissioner of Police for Calcutta, or in such other Officer as the Government may from time to time appoint.

Officer in whom control of House of Correction is vested empowered to take cognizance of breaches of discipline and to punish prisoners for certain offences.

II. The Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, is hereby empowered to take cognizance of all breaches of prison discipline, and to punish prisoners guilty of mutinous or violent conduct or of insolent language, or of contumacious refusal or wilful neglect to perform the work or wilful mismanagement of the work allotted to them, by placing them in solitary confinement, which shall not extend beyond three days, or in separate confinement for not more than seven days, or by confining them in irons for periods not exceeding four days.

Proviso.

Provided that no person shall be detained in prison under the provisions of this Act beyond the term of his original sentence.

Register of persons punished shall be kept.

A Register of all persons punished in the House of Correction under this Act shall be regularly kept by the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, and shall be forwarded to Government once a month.

Powers specified in Section II vested in the Sheriff, or the Jailor, as regards Criminal prisoners in the Great Jail.

III. The powers entrusted by the preceding Section of this Act to the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, are hereby extended to the Sheriff of Calcutta for the time being as regards criminal prisoners in that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff. In the case of mutinous or violent conduct, or where it may be necessary in order to prevent an outbreak, the Jailor shall exercise, within that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff, the powers laid down in the preceding Section of this Act. Provided that the Jailor shall, within twenty-four hours of the exercise thereof, report every instance in which he shall exercise such powers, to the Sheriff, and the Sheriff shall have power to annul or alter the order as he may think fit. The Sheriff shall be bound to keep up a Register similar to that mentioned in the preceding Section of this Act.

Certain prisoners may be ironed during removal to place of embarkation.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Jailor, or for the Keeper of the House of Correction, to cause any prisoner sentenced to transportation or penal servitude to be put in irons when it may be necessary to do so for the safe removal of such prisoner from the Jail to the place of embarkation.

Government may frame Rules for proper discipline &c., of prisoners.

V. The Government is hereby authorized from time to time to frame Rules for the proper discipline of prisoners in the House of Correction, and of criminal prisoners within that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff, with regard to their food, dress, hours of recreation and work, labor, classification, instruction, and all points in any way concerning the regularity and order of the said House of Correction and of such criminal prisoners as aforesaid.

Rules to apply to all persons confined in the House of Correction or Great Jail under criminal sentence, and also to persons awaiting trial.

VI. These Rules shall be applicable to all persons confined in any part of the said Great Jail or House of Correction under any judicial criminal sentence, whether such persons be confined there for the whole or for a part of their term of imprisonment, or be merely placed temporarily there pending their removal elsewhere, and also to persons awaiting their trial.

Saving of power of Sheriff to remove prisoners sentenced to death to the Great Jail, &c.

VII. Should any person under sentence of death be at any time confined in the House of Correction, the power of the Sheriff to remove the prisoner to that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the custody of the Sheriff or to such other place as may from time to time be fixed on as the place of execution, and to execute that sentence of death shall not in any wise be affected by this Act.

Visiting Magistrates to be appointed:

VIII. The Magistrates of Police for the Town of Calcutta for the time being appointed under Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca) shall, on the 1st day of June next after the passing of this Act, and on the 1st day of June in every subsequent year, meet at the Calcutta Police Court for the purpose of nominating, and shall then and there nominate, two or more of their number, who shall consent thereto, to be Visitors of the said Great Jail and House of Correction. One or more of such Visiting Magistrates so nominated shall personally visit and inspect the said Great Jail and House of Correction at least three times in each quarter of a year and oftener if occasion shall require, and shall examine into the state of the buildings so as to form a judgment as to any alterations or additions which may appear necessary, and into the behaviour and conduct of the Officers of the said Great Jail and House of Correction, and the treatment, behaviour, and condition of the criminal prisoners confined therein.

and to visit the Great Jail and House of Correction three times in each Quarter.

IX. The Visiting Magistrates for the time being shall once in every quarter of a year make a report in writing to the Government, through the Sheriff and the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested respectively, of the state of the said Great Jail and House of Correction, of what additions or alterations are required or shall have been made therein, of any abuses which have come to their knowledge in the management of the criminal prisoners, and of the general state of such prisoners as to discipline, employment, instruction, hard labor, and observance of rules.

Visiting Magistrates to make Quarterly Reports to Government.

X. In case any criminal prisoner within the said Great Jail or House of Correction shall be guilty of any repeated offence under Section II of this Act or against the rules to be passed under this Act, or of any greater offence than is punishable under the said Section II of this Act, the Sheriff or Officer for the time being having the control of the House of Correction, as the case may be, may notify the same to the Visiting Magistrates for the time being. Such Visiting Magistrates shall thereupon have power and are required to attend at the Great Jail or House of Correction, as the case may be, and enquire upon oath and determine concerning the matter so reported, and to order the offender to be punished by separate confinement for any term not exceeding one calendar month, of which six days may be ordered to be solitary confinement in periods of not more than three days each.

Visiting Magistrates to investigate and punish certain offences.

XI. Whoever without due permission takes or attempts to take or throws or attempts to throw into any part of the said Great Jail any food or other article prohibited by the rules to be passed under this Act, shall be liable to be apprehended and brought before any Police Magistrate for the Town of Calcutta, and on conviction shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding two months.

Punishment for taking or attempting to take prohibited articles into the Great Jail.

A. G. MACPHERSON,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,

Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. V OF 1862.

An Act to provide for the Periodical Survey of Steam Vessels in the Port of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is desirable to provide for the survey, by competent Surveyors, of Steam Vessels in the Port of Calcutta, with a view to the due security of the lives of passengers, and of property shipped on board such Steam Vessels; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Every Steam Vessel plying on the river Hooghly or on any of the rivers or waters of Bengal, and every British Steam Vessel plying between Calcutta and any Indian Port or Ports, shall be liable to be surveyed twice in every year, in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

Certain Steam Vessels liable to be surveyed twice a year.

II. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to appoint a fit and proper person, or fit and proper persons, to be a Surveyor or Surveyors for the purposes of this Act.

Government to appoint one or more Surveyors.

III. It shall be lawful for the said Surveyors in the execution of their duties to go on board any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, as soon as reasonably may be after the arrival of such Steam Vessel in the Port of Calcutta, and not so as unnecessarily to hinder the loading or unloading of such Steam Vessel, or to detain or delay her from proceeding on any voyage or service, and to inspect such Steam Vessel or any part thereof, and any of the machinery, equipments, or articles on board thereof: and the Owner, Master, and Officers serving on board of such Vessel shall be bound to afford to the Surveyors all reasonable facility for such inspection or survey, and to afford them all such information respecting such Vessel and her machinery and equipments, or any part thereof respectively, as may be reasonably required by the Surveyors; and any person who shall refuse access to the Surveyors, or shall otherwise hinder them in the performance of their duty, or shall refuse or neglect to give any information which may reasonably be required of them, and which they have it in their power to give, shall be liable for each offence to a penalty of five hundred Rupees, or to one month's imprisonment.

Authority to Surveyors to go on board Steamers for the purpose of surveying.

Penalty for hindering them in making the survey or withholding required information.

IV. When any survey is made under this Act, the Surveyors making such survey shall forthwith, if satisfied that they can with propriety do so, and on payment by the Owner or Master of the fees hereinafter mentioned, give to the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel surveyed a Certificate and Declaration signed by them and framed as nearly as the circumstances of each case will admit in the Form set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed.

Surveyors to grant Certificate and Declaration when they can with propriety do so.

V. No Officer of Customs shall grant a clearance, nor shall any Pilot be assigned to any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, which shall not have been duly furnished with a Certificate and Declaration under the provisions of this Act applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed; and if any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, shall leave or attempt to leave the Port of Calcutta without such Certificate and Declaration applicable to the voyage on which

No clearance to be given to a Steamer for a voyage for which she has not got a Certificate from the Surveyors.

she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, the Owner or Master of such Steam Vessel shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand Rupees for each offence; and if there be any Officer of Customs or any Pilot on board of such Steam Vessel, he may detain her until she is duly furnished with such Certificate and Declaration.

Master or Officer who is a licensed Pilot attempting to take his ship out of Calcutta, without a proper Certificate, liable to lose his license.

VI. If the Commander or any other Officer of a Tug Steamer or of any other Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, is a licensed Pilot, and shall leave or attempt to leave the Port of Calcutta in such Tug Steamer or Steam Vessel without such Tug Steamer or Steam Vessel being duly furnished with a Certificate and Declaration under the provisions of this Act, applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, such Commander or other Officer shall be liable to have his license as a Pilot taken away from him entirely or suspended for any period by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, as the Lieutenant-Governor may see fit to order.

Special survey may be ordered by Government on any British Steamer in the Port of Calcutta.

VII. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to give special directions to the Surveyors under this Act for the survey by them of any British Steamer lying in the Port of Calcutta and plying between Calcutta and any Port or Ports whatever, and the provisions of this Act shall apply (so far as the same are in any way applicable) to every Vessel so specially directed to be surveyed, and the Owner, Master, and Officers thereof.

Government may make Rules as to mode and time of conducting survey.

VIII. The Lieutenant Governor of Bengal is hereby empowered to frame Rules as to the manner in which the surveys shall be made, and the times and places of such surveys, and the duties of the Surveyors. Provided that such Rules shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Penalty for Surveyor who receives fees, &c., for making a survey.

IX. Any Surveyor demanding or receiving directly or indirectly from the Owner, Master, or Officer, of any Ship surveyed by him under the provisions of this Act, any fee or remuneration otherwise than as provided by this Act, shall be liable to dismissal, in addition to any other penalty to which he may by law be liable.

Fees to be paid for every survey made.

X. For every survey made under this Act the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel surveyed shall pay to the Surveyors making the same a fee calculated on the Tonnage of the Vessel according to the rates in Schedule B. hereto annexed.

Certificates to be always hung up in conspicuous part of Vessel.

XI. Each Certificate and Declaration granted by Surveyors under this Act shall be hung up, and remain at all times suspended, in some conspicuous part of the Vessel for which the same is granted, where the same may be easily read; and in default of compliance with this provision, every Owner or Master shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence, such fine to be leviable by distraint or sale of personal property.

Certificate to be in force only six months; and to be delivered up when expired or revoked.

XII. No Certificate or Declaration shall be held to be in force for the purposes of this Act after the expiration of six Calendar months from the date thereof.

Proviso in case of Vessels absent from Port when Certificate expires.

Provided that, if any Steam Vessel is absent from the Port of Calcutta, when her Certificate and Declaration expire, no penalty shall be incurred for the want of a Certificate and Declaration, until she first begins to ply or is about to ply after her next subsequent return to the Port of Calcutta. And the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, or any Officer appointed by him for that purpose, may require any Certificate and Declaration which has expired or has been revoked or cancelled to be delivered up as may be directed; and any Owner or Master or other person who, without reasonable cause, neglects or refuses to comply with such requirement, shall incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence.

Certificate and Declaration may be cancelled by Government.

XIII. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, or any Officer appointed or authorized by him for that purpose, may revoke and cancel any Certificate and Declaration granted under this Act in any case in which he has reason to believe---

(1) That the Certificate and Declaration of the sufficiency and good condition of the hull, equipments, and machinery of any Steam Vessel, or either of them, have been fraudulently or erroneously given or made: or

(2) That such Certificate and Declaration have otherwise been issued upon false or erroneous information: or

(3.) That since the giving and making of such Certificate and Declaration the hull, equipments, or machinery of such Ship have sustained any injury or are otherwise insufficient.

And in every such case the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal or such Officer as last aforesaid may, if he thinks fit, require the Owner or Master to have such Steam Vessel again surveyed as herein provided.

If the correctness of a survey is doubted, Government may order a second survey by other Surveyors.

XIV. If any Steam Vessel shall be surveyed under the provisions of this Act, and if the Surveyors shall decline to give any Certificate or Declaration, or shall give a Certificate or Declaration with which the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel shall be dissatisfied, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, on the application of such Owner or Master, appoint two other competent Surveyors to survey the said Steam Vessel. The Surveyors so appointed shall forthwith survey the said Steam Vessel, and shall either decline to give any Certificate and Declaration, or shall give such Certificate and Declaration as under the circumstances may seem to them proper. Every survey made under this Section shall be made subject to all the provisions and rules both as to the payment of fees and otherwise which are applicable to surveys made in ordinary cases under this Act. If the Surveyors appointed under this Section unanimously refuse to give any Certificate and Declaration, or agree as to the terms of their Certificate and Declaration, such refusal or such Certificate and Declaration shall be final and conclusive; but if they do not agree, the refusal originally made or the Certificate and Declaration originally granted by the Surveyers who surveyed the said Steam Vessel in the first instance, shall remain and be of full force and effect.

Offences under this Act by whom to be tried.

XV. Any case arising out of this Act may be tried by any Officer having the full powers of a Magistrate, within whose jurisdiction the offence may have been committed, or by any Police Magistrate of the Town of Calcutta. The provisions of Section LV of Act XXII of 1855 (for the regulation of Ports and Port-dues) are hereby extended to all penalties imposed under this Act, and all fees due under Section X of this Act shall be recoverable in like manner as penalties are recoverable.

Surveyor acting alone included in term "Surveyors."

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VI OF 1862.

To amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the law relating to the recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act X of 1859, so far as the same relates to the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal; It is enacted as follows :—

Repeals Sections 26, 40, 74, 79, 86, 150, and 162 of Act X of 1859.

I. Sections XXVI. XL, LXXIV, LXXIX, LXXXVI, CL, and CLXII of Act X of 1859 are hereby repealed, except as regards suits under the said Act X of 1859 instituted prior to the passing of this Act.

The Court may in certain cases award to the plaintiff additional damages not exceeding 25 per cent.

II. In any suit hereafter to be brought for rent under Act X of 1859, if it shall appear to the Court that the defendant has without reasonable or probable cause neglected or refused to pay the amount due by him, and that he has not before the institution of the suit tendered such amount to the plaintiff or his duly authorized Agent, or, in case of refusal of the plaintiff or such Agent to receive the amount tendered, has not deposited such amount with the Collector before the institution of the suit in manner hereinafter mentioned, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to the plaintiff, in addition to the amount decreed for rent and costs, such damages, not exceeding twenty-five per cent on the amount of rent decreed, as the Court may think fit. These damages, if awarded, as well as the amount of rent and costs decreed in the suit, shall carry interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of decree until payment thereof, and shall be recoverable from the defendant in like manner as sums decreed to be paid by defendants under Act X of 1859 are recoverable.

The Court may award compensation, not exceeding 25 per cent. on the amount sued for, to a defendant improperly sued.

III. In any suit hereafter to be brought for rent under Act X of 1859, if it shall appear to the Court that the plaintiff has instituted the suit against the defendant without reasonable or probable cause, or that the defendant before the institution of the suit duly deposited with the Collector in the manner hereinafter mentioned, the full amount which the Court shall find to have been due to the plaintiff at the date of such deposit, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to the defendant by way of compensation such sum, not exceeding twenty-five per cent on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff, as the Court may think fit, and such sum, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, until payment thereof, shall be recoverable from the plaintiff in like manner as sums decreed to be paid by defendants under Act X of 1859 are recoverable.

Under-tenant or ryot may, after tender, &c., pay into Court, without any action being brought against him, what he admits to be due to his Zemindar, &c.

IV. If any under-tenant or ryot shall, at the Mal Kutcherry for the receipt of rents or other place where the rents of the land held or cultivated by him are usually payable, tender payment of what he shall consider to be the full amount of rent due from him at the date of the tender to the Zemindar or other person in receipt of the rent of such land, and if the amount so tendered shall not be accepted, and a receipt in full forthwith granted, it shall be lawful for the under-tenant or ryot, without any suit having been instituted against him, to deposit such amount in the Collector's Court, to the credit of the Zemindar or other person aforesaid, and such deposit shall, so far as the under-tenant or ryot and all persons claiming through or under him are concerned, in all respects operate as and have the full effect of a payment then made by the under-tenant or ryot of the amount deposited to such Zemindar or other person.

Payment into Court to have effect of payment to Zemindar or other person entitled.

V. The Collector shall receive such deposit on the application of the under-tenant or ryot, or his agent, made in writing upon paper bearing a stamp of such value as would be necessary on the institution of a suit for arrears of rent under Section XXXVII of Act X of 1859 for an amount equal to that which it is intended to deposit, and on the under-tenant or ryot, or his agent, making a declaration in the form, or as nearly as circumstances will admit in the form, set forth in the Schedule (A) hereto annexed, and the Collector shall give a receipt for the same. If the declaration shall contain any averment which the person making the declaration shall know or believe to be false or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence. Upon receiving the money so deposited, the Collector shall issue a notice to the person to whose credit it has been deposited, in the form set forth in the Schedule (B) hereto annexed, and such notice shall be served by the Collector, without the payment of any fee, either upon the person to whom it is addressed or upon his Naib, Gomastah, or other Agent, and in the absence of any such Agent it shall be served by sticking up a copy of the same in the Office of the Collector, and another copy at the Mal Kutcherry for the receipt of rents, or other place where the rents are usually paid for the land in respect of which the money has been deposited. If the person to whom such notice is issued, or his duly authorized Agent, shall appear and apply that the money in deposit be paid to him, it shall be immediately made over to him.

Proceedings on making a payment into Court and the drawing out the money.

VI. Whenever a deposit shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, no suit shall be brought against the person making the deposit or his representatives on account of any rent which accrued due prior to the date of the deposit, unless such suit is instituted within six months from the date of the service of the notice in the fifth Section of this Act mentioned.

Suit for further balance to be instituted within six months of service of notice of deposit.

VII. The defendant in any suit under this Act or under Act X of 1859, instituted after the passing of this Act, may, if he have duly tendered the same to the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, pay into Court such sum of money as he shall consider to be due to the plaintiff, without paying in any costs incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall be immediately paid out of Court to the plaintiff. If after such payment the plaintiff elects to proceed in the suit and ultimately recovers no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the plaintiff shall be charged with the whole costs of the suit incurred by the defendant; but if the plaintiff ultimately recovers a further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the defendant shall be charged with the whole costs of the suit.

After action brought defendant may pay into Court, without costs, money tendered before action brought.

Costs if plaintiff goes on and recovers no more.

VIII. The defendant in any suit under this Act or under Act X of 1859 instituted after the passing of this Act may, without having made any tender before action brought, pay into Court such sum of money as he shall consider to be due to the plaintiff, together with the costs (to be fixed by the Court if necessary, as of a suit originally instituted for the amount so paid into Court) incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall immediately be paid out of Court to the plaintiff. If after such payment the plaintiff elects to proceed in the suit and ultimately recovers no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, he shall be charged with all costs incurred by the defendant subsequently to such payment; but if the plaintiff ultimately recovers a further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the defendant shall (including the sum paid into Court by him in the first instance on account of costs) be charged with costs as upon a suit originally instituted for the whole amount for which the plaintiff ultimately obtains a decree.

If no previous tender has been made, defendant may pay into Court what he admits to be due with costs on that sum.

Costs if plaintiff goes on with the suit.

IX. Every proprietor of an estate or tenure, or other person in receipt of the rents of an estate or tenure, has a right of making a general survey and measurement of the lands comprised in such estate or tenure or any part thereof, unless restrained from doing so by express engagement with the occupants of the lands. If any person intending to measure any land which he has a right to measure, is opposed in making such measurement by the occupant of the land, or if any under-tenant or ryot, having received notice of the intended measurement of land held or cultivated by him which is liable to such measurement, refuses to attend and point out such land, such person may make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under Act X of 1859, and shall pass a decision either allowing or disallowing the measurement, and, if the case so require, enjoining or excusing the attendance of any such under-tenant or ryot. If any under-tenant or ryot, after the issue of an order enjoining his attendance, neglects to attend and to point out the land, it shall not be competent to him to contest the correctness of the measurement made or any of the proceedings held in his absence.

Survey and measurement of lands.

X. If the proprietor of an estate or tenure, or other person entitled to receive the rents of an estate or tenure, is unable to measure the lands comprised in such estate or tenure or any part thereof, by reason that he cannot ascertain who are the persons liable to pay rent in respect of the lands or any part of the lands comprised therein, such proprietor or other person may petition the Collector in respect of the lands which he cannot measure as aforesaid, and the Collector thereupon and on the necessary costs being deposited with him by the applicant, shall proceed to measure the land and to ascertain and record the names of the persons in occupation of the same, or on the special application of the proprietor or other person aforesaid, but not otherwise, shall proceed to ascertain, determine, and record the tenures and under-tenures, the rates of rent payable in respect of such lands, and the persons by whom respectively the rents are payable. The provisions of Section LXVII of Act X of 1859 shall apply to any proceeding of the Collector instituted under this Section. If after due enquiry the Collector shall be unable to measure the land, or to ascertain or record the names of the persons in occupation of the same, or if he shall (in any case in which such special application shall have been made as aforesaid) be unable to ascertain who are the persons having tenures or under-tenures in such lands or any part thereof, then and in any such case he may declare the same to have lapsed to the party on whose petition he has made the enquiry. If any person, within fifteen days after the Collector shall have recorded the name of such person as being in occupation of such land, or any part thereof, or shall have declared a tenure to have lapsed, shall appear and show good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance, and shall satisfy the Collector that there has been a failure of justice, the Collector may, upon such terms or conditions as he may think proper, alter or rescind his declaration according to the justice of the case. Save as aforesaid, the decision of the Collector on all matters enquired into and determined by him under this or the last preceding Section, shall be final unless the same shall be reversed on appeal therefrom to the Civil Court. Such appeals shall lie to the Zillah Judge or to the Sudder Court subject to the provisions and conditions contained in Section CLX and CLXI of Act X of 1859.

Measurement of lands, where it cannot be ascertained who are the persons liable to pay rent.

Measurements to be made by the Pergunnah Pole.

XI. All measurements made under this Act shall be made by the Standard pole of measurement of the Pergunnah in which the land is situated.

Form of plaint in suits for arrears of rent.

XII. In any suit hereafter to be brought for the recovery of an arrear of rent the statement shall specify the name of the village and estate and of the Pergunnah or other local division in which the land is situate, the yearly rent of the land, the amount (if any) received on account of the year for which the claim is made, the amount in arrear, and the time in respect of which it is alleged to be due. If the arrear is alleged to be due from any ryot, the statement shall further specify the quantity of land, and where fields have been numbered in a Government Survey the number (if it be possible to give it) of each field.

Order under Section 58 of Act X of 1859 to set aside judgment shall be final, but rejection of application to set it aside shall be appealable.

XIII. In all cases in which the Collector shall pass an order under Section LVIII of Act X of 1859 for setting aside a judgment, the order shall be final; but in all appealable cases in which the Collector shall reject the application, an appeal shall lie from the order of rejection to the tribunal to which the final decision in the suit would be appealable; provided that the appeal be preferred within the time allowed for an appeal from such final decision, and be written upon Stamp Paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Court to which the appeal lies where a Stamp is required for petitions.

Fees to Agents and Mooktears.

XIV. So much of Section LXXI of Act X of 1859 as directs that no fee for any Agent shall be charged as part of the costs of suit in any case under the Act, is hereby repealed. In awarding costs to either party in any suit hereafter to be brought under the said Act or under this Act, it shall be competent for the Collector to award to such party, on account of the fees of any Agent or Mooktear employed by him, such a sum, not exceeding the rate of fee chargeable under the provisions of Section VII of Act I of 1846 for Pleaders in the Civil Courts, as the Collector may direct.

Language in which the Collector is to write his judgment.

XV. The Collector shall pronounce jndgment in all cases tried under this Act or under Act X of 1859 in open Court. The judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Collector, and shall contain the reasons for the same, and shall be dated and signed by the Collector at the time when it is pronounced. Provided that if the vernacular language of the Collector be not English, and the Collector be sufficiently conversant with the English language to be able to write a clear and intelligible decision in that language, and prefer to write his judgment in it, the judgment may be written in English.

XVI. The provisions relating to attachment before judgment contained in Sections LXXXI to XC, both inclusive, of Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) are hereby extended to all suits hereafter to be brought under this Act or Act X of 1859.

Execution to issue at time of decree on oral application: afterwards on application in writing.

XVII. Process of execution in any suit hereafter to be instituted under this Act or under Act X of 1859 may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment debtor, but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. It may be issued on the oral application of the judgment creditor, his Agent, or Mooktear, made at the time the judgment is pronounced, or thereafter upon the written application of the judgment creditor, his Agent, or Mooktear, presented to the Court by which the judgment was given. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in the Form (E) or the Form (F) contained in the Schedule to Act X of 1859, or in a form as nearly resembling those forms as the circumstances of the case may admit.

If person is arrested under Section 145 of Act X of 1859, case to be disposed of at once.

XVIII. If any person shall after the date of the passing of this Act be arrested under Section CXLV of the said Act X of 1859, he shall be brought before the Collector with all convenient speed, and the Collector shall proceed forthwith to try the case. If the case cannot be at once heard and determined, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the person arrested to give security for his appearance whenever the same is required. In default of such security the person arrested shall be committed to the Civil Jail till the case is heard.

Deputy Collector's powers.

XIX. All the powers vested in the Collector by any of the Sections of this Act or of Act X of 1859, may be exercised by any Deputy Collector in cases referred to him by a Collector, and in all cases without such reference by any Deputy Collector placed in charge of any Sub-Division of a District, or who is specially authorized by Government to receive such cases; and all applications and reports allowed or required by the said Act X of 1859 or by this Act to be made to the Collector, may be made to any Deputy Collector having such local jurisdiction or such special authority as aforesaid.

In what Court suits are to be instituted.

XX. Suits under this Act or under Act X of 1859 shall be preferred in the Revenue Office of the District, or when a Sub-Division of a District has been placed under the jurisdiction of a Deputy Collector, in the Revenue Office of the Sub-Division in which the cause of action shall have arisen, or when the cause of action shall have arisen within the limits of the local jurisdiction of any Deputy Collector not in charge of a Sub-Division but who has been specially authorized by Government to receive such suits, then in the Office of such last mentioned Deputy Collector. Provided always that the Collector may withdraw any suit from any Deputy Collector, and try it himself, or refer it to another Deputy Collector. If the lands comprised in any talook, farm, or other tenure, or any lands held under one lease or engagement, or at one entire rent, in respect of which arrears of rent may be due, are situated in more than one District or Sub-Division, or within the local limits of the jurisdiction of more than one Deputy Collector so specially authorized as aforesaid, the District or Sub-Division, or local limits in which the greater part of such lands is situate, shall be held to be the District, or Sub-Division, or local limits in which the cause of action has arisen, and if any question shall be raised respecting the District, or Sub-Division, or local limits within which the greater part of the lands is situate, the Board of Revenue, or if all the lands be situate in one District, the Collector of the District shall decide the question, and such decision shall be conclusive on the point of jurisdiction.

XXI. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of Act X of 1859, except as regards suits instituted thereunder before the passing of this Act.

This Act to be read with Act X of 1859.

SCHEDULE A *

I, A. B. of &c., do solemnly declare that I did personally (or by my Agent C. D.) on the day of tender payment to E. F. at his Mal-Kutchery (or at) the place where the rent of the lands at held or cultivated by me under or from the said E. F., are usually payable, of the sum of Company's Rupees as and for the whole amount due from me in respect of the rent of the said lands from the month of to the month of both inclusive. I further declare that the said E. F. refused to accept the said sum so tendered (or to give me a receipt in full forthwith for the same.) And I do declare that to the best of my belief the sum of Company's so tendered and which I now desire to pay into Court, is the full amount which I owe the said E. F. on account of the rent of the said lands from the month of to the month of both inclusive, and that I owe the said E. F. no further sum on account of the rent of the said lands.

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to the Govt. Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT NO. VII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 (for modifying the provisions contained in the existing Regulations regarding the resumption of the revenue of lands held free of assessment under illegal or invalid tenures, and for defining the right of Government to the revenue of lands not included within the limits of estates for which a settlement has been made).

WHEREAS by Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819, it is enacted that certain suits preferred in a Court of Judicature regarding lands held, or claimed to be held, free of assessment, shall be referred for investigation to the Collector, and that similar suits may be preferred in the first instance to the Collector; and whereas such reference of suits is unnecessary and causes inconvenience and delay in their decision, and it is advisable that such suits should be preferred and disposed of exclusively in the ordinary Courts of Civil Judicature; it is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Within the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 is hereby repealed, except as regards such suits decided by Collectors under the provisions of that Section as may be open to appeal at the date of the passing of this Act.

Sec. 30 of Reg. II. 1819 repealed.

II. All suits preferred by proprietors, farmers, or talookdars, to resume the revenue of any land held free of assessment, as well as all suits preferred by individuals claiming to hold land exempt from the payment of revenue, shall be instituted, heard, and determined in and by the Courts of Civil Judicature, like ordinary civil suits, and under the rules and subject to all the provisions contained in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) and not otherwise.

Suits for resumption of land held free of assessment to be tried in the ordinary Civil Courts; so also claims to hold land free of assessment.

III. This Act shall apply to all suits commenced under Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 and pending decision under that Section in any Court (other than a Court to which such suit has come by way of appeal) or before any Collector at the time of the passing of this Act. All Collectors shall forthwith transfer to the ordinary Courts of Civil Judicature all such suits whether originally instituted before them, or referred to them by the Civil Courts, as may be pending before them at the time of the passing of this Act; and all suits so transferred shall be heard and determined as provided for by this Act, and not otherwise.

Act to apply to all pending suits commenced under Section 30 of Reg. II. 1819.

Collectors shall transfer all suits pending before them to the Civil Courts.

IV. This Act shall not in any way invalidate or alter the effect of any thing which shall have been done in any suit prior to the passing of this Act; and all proceedings which, prior to the transfer of any suit, shall have been held, or shall have taken place under, or in accordance with, the provisions of Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819, shall be taken, and shall have effect, so far as circumstances will permit, as if the same had been held or had taken place in due course in the Court to which the suit shall be transferred.

Act not to invalidate proceedings, &c., under Section 30 of Reg. II. 1819, and transfer of suit to Civil Court not to alter effect of proceedings previously had.

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

* If this Declaration is made by an Agent, it must be altered accordingly.

† This is to be by indorsement on a copy of the Declaration under Schedule A made by the person paying the money into Court.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations on the 3rd May 1862, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 7th June next:—

A Bill for appointing Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta, and for levying rates and taxes in that Town.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the appointment of Commissioners for the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town of Calcutta, and for assessing and levying rates and taxes for Municipal purposes in the said Town: and whereas it is also expedient to provide additional funds for improving the drainage, lighting, and supply of water, in the said Town; It is enacted as follows:—

Repeal of Act XXVIII of 1856.

I. Act XXVIII of 1856, so far as it relates to the Town of Calcutta, is hereby repealed.

Calcutta to be divided into six Divisions.

II. For the purposes of this Act the Town of Calcutta shall be considered to be divided into six Divisions as follows:—

The First Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which lies to the North of the South side of Nimtollah Street, Doorgachurn Mitter's Street, and Hogoolcooria Lane respectively.

The Second Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the South side of Nimtollah Street, Doorgachurn Mitter's Street, and Hogoolcooria Lane respectively; and on the South by the South side of Cotton Street and Machooa Bazar respectively.

The Third Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the South side of Nimtollah Street; on the South by the North side of Fairlie Place, Tank Square, and Lall Bazar respectively; on the East by the West side of the Chitpore Road; and on the West by the River Hooghly.

The Fourth Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the South side of Machooa Bazar Road; on the South by the North side of Bow Bazar and Boitackhannah Road respectively; on the West by the West side of the Chitpore Road; and on the East by the Circular Road.

The Fifth Division shall comprise that portion of the Town which is bounded on the North by the North side of Fairlie Place, and the North side of Tank Square, Lall Bazar, Bow Bazar, and Boitackhannah respectively; on the South by Esplanade Row, and the North side of Jaun Bazar; on the West by the East side of Tank Square, Old Court House Street, and Chowringhee Road respectively; and on the East by the Circular Road.

The sixth Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the North side of Jaun Bazar Street; on the South and East by the Circular Road South; and on the West by Chowringhee Road.

Six Commissioners to be appointed for each Division: and they shall each be a body corporate.

III. For each of the said six Divisions of the Town of Calcutta there shall be appointed six Commissioners who shall be styled Divisional Commissioners for the Division to which they are appointed, and who shall by such name be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and by such name shall sue and be sued.

Divisional Commissioners to be selected from residents in the Division: one to be President of the Board.

IV. The Divisional Commissioners shall be selected from among the residents in the Division of which they are appointed Commissioners respectively: and in each Division one of the six Commissioners of that Division shall be appointed the President of the Commissioners for that Division.

Six Central Commissioners to be appointed.

V. There shall be six Commissioners appointed for the Town of Calcutta who shall be styled Central Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta, and who shall by such name be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and by such name shall sue and be sued.

Central Commissioners to be selected from residents of the Town generally.

VI. The Central Commissioners shall be selected from among the residents of the Town of Calcuttae Provided always that no Divisional Commissioner shall b- also at one and the same time a Central Commissioner. One of the Central Commissioners shall be appointed the President of the Central Commissioners.

One to be President.

All Commissioners and Presidents to be appointed and to be removeable by Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

VII. All Commissioners and Presidents appointed under this Act shall be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and shall be removeable at his pleasure.

Proviso in case six Commissioners cannot be found for any Division.

VIII. If in any Division six residents shall not be found able and willing to undertake the duties of Divisional Commissioners, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may place the Conservancy and Improvement of that Division under the exclusive control and management of the President of the Central Commissioners; and all functions which might have been performed by the Divisional Commissioners, may be performed by such President of the Central Commissioners. The provisions of this Act and of any other Act which now is or hereafter shall be in force, applicable to the Divisional Commissioners in their collective capacity, shall be applicable to the President of the Central Commissioners vested with control under this Section.

Central Commissioners may receive certain allowances.

IX. The Central Commissioners may receive such allowances out of the funds to be raised under this Act as shall be from time to time fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. Provided that the allowance for any Commissioner shall not exceed the rate of twelve thousand Rupees a year if the Commissioner holds no other appointment or occupation, or the rate of six thousand Rupees a year if he holds any other appointment or occupation.

X. The Central Commissioners and each of the several Boards of Divisional Commissioners shall respectively meet once at least in every fortnight. The attendance of three shall be necessary to constitute a meeting. If the Commissioners at any meeting are equally divided in opinion, if the President be one of them he shall have a casting vote; otherwise the question shall be reserved for the decision of a future meeting.

Central and Divisional Boards to meet at least once a fortnight.

XI. In addition to the meetings of the Divisional Commissioners under the last preceding Section, one of the Divisional Commissioners of each Division shall sit daily (except on such holidays as are allowed by Government) within his Division for the transaction of business connected with that Division; and every Commissioner so sitting alone may exercise all the powers possessed by the Divisional Commissioners of the Division to which he is appointed. Provided always that no Commissioner sitting alone shall dispose of or issue orders on any business other than the current business of the Division, such as the daily reports of Overseers and other Subordinates, applications as to nuisances, and the like.

One Divisional Commissioner to sit daily within each Division for the transaction of current business

XII. The Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, shall, on or after the 1st day of May, the 1st day of August, the 1st day of November, and the 1st day of February in each and every year, out of the Funds in their hands applicable to the purposes of this Act, set apart such sum as may be available for the purposes of the Conservancy and Improvement (so far as they are strictly local) of the six Divisions of the Town during the then next ensuing quarter.

Central Commissioners to set apart the sums available for the Divisional Boards quarterly.

XIII. Once in every quarter the Central Commissioners shall hold a meeting at which the Presidents of the several Boards of Divisional Commissioners shall attend as Assessors, and shall have a right to vote and take part in the procedings in like manner and with the same powers in all respects as if they were Central Commissioners. The attendance of five, of whom two at least must be Central Commissioners, shall be necessary to constitute a meeting under this Section; and if the Commissioners and Assessors present at a meeting are equally divided in opinion on any subject raised for discussion, if the President of the Central Commissioners be one of them he shall have a casting vote; otherwise the question shall be reserved for the decision of a future meeting to be held under this Section.

Once a quarter the Central Commisioners and Assessors shall meet.

XIV. The Central Commissioners, in accordance with the resolutions adopted at meetings held under the last preceding Section, shall allot between and among the several Divisional Boards such monies as the Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, shall have set apart for the purposes of the Conservancy and Improvement, so far as they are local, of the six Divisions of the Town, and shall decide upon all questions of raising money by loan for Municipal or Conservancy purposes, and of undertaking, by any of the Divisional Commissioners, new works or repairs in any part of the Town requiring an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees. Except with the sanction of the Central Commissioners and Assessors obtained at such meetings as last aforesaid, no money shall be raised by way of loan for Municipal or Conservancy purposes: and except with such sanction no new works or repairs requiring an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees, shall be undertaken in any part of the Town by any of the Divisional Commissioners.

Objects and powers of such meetings.

XV. No business shall be transacted at any meeting held under Section XIII of this Act except that which relates to the allotment, among the several Boards, of the monies set apart under Section XII for the purposes of the Conservancy and Improvement of the six Divisions, or to the raising of money by way of loan, or to the undertaking, by any of the Divisional Commissioners, of new works or repairs involving an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees.

No business to be done at such meetings except that mentioned in the last Section.

XVI. The monies to be allotted to the Commissioners of any Division at any meeting held under Section XIII of this Act, shall be applied to purposes of local Conservancy and to the Improvement of that Division. Provided that all arrangements and works of the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town which form part of a general system extending or operating throughout the said Town, or in more than one Division, shall remain under the exclusive management and control of the Central Commissioners, and that no allotment of funds in respect thereof shall be made to any of the Divisional Commissioners, nor shall any control over such general works be ever vested in the Divisional Commissioners. The Central Commissioners at their quarterly meetings under Section XIII shall decide what works are local and what are general.

How Funds allotted to Divisional Boards are to be applied.

Central Commissioners to have control of all general works, &c.

XVII. The monies allotted to the Commissioners of any Division under the provisions of this Act, shall not be actually paid over to the Commissioners of that Division, but shall be placed by the Central Commissioners to the credit of the account of such Commissioners. The Central Commissioners shall keep regular books of account with the Commissioners of each Division, and shall make payments in respect of each Division, to the extent of the amount for the time being standing to the credit of the Commissioners of that Division. All payments made by the Central Commissioners on account of any of the Divisional Commissioners, shall be made on production of an order for payment signed by one of the Divisional Commissioners on whose account the payment is to be made, accompanied by a certificate from a Commissioner of that Division certifying the particulars in respect of which the payment is made and the amount due.

Payments by Divisional Boards, how to be made.

XVIII. The Commissioners of each Division shall, on or before the first day of February in every year, prepare a detailed Statement showing the nature and amount of the receipts and disbursements on account of their Division during the year ending on the 31st December then last past, and also a Report of their proceedings during that year. The Divisional Commissioners respectively shall forthwith forward such Statements and Reports to the Central Commissioners, by whom they shall be submitted before the first day of April then next ensuing, to the Government of Bengal, accompanied by such observations thereupon as the said Central Commissioners may make. The Central Commissioners shall before the first day of April in each year submit to Government a similar detailed Statement of their receipts and disbursements for the year ending the 31st of December then last past, and a similar Report of their proceedings during that year. The accounts of the Central Commissioners and of the Divisional Commissioners respectively may be audited annually by such persons as the Government shall appoint.

Divisional Commissioners to make annual report and statement.

XIX. The Central Commissioners may, from time to time, appoint Officers to assist in the execution of this Act, and may from time to time remove any of such Officers and appoint others in their places, and may, with the sanction of the Government, pay such salaries and allowances to the said Officers respectively as the said Commissioners shall think reasonable. Provided that no person shall be appointed to or removed from any office, the monthly salary of which exceeds two hundred Rupees, without the sanction of the Government.

Appointment of Officers.

XX. An annual rate of seven and a half per cent of their annual value shall be imposed upon houses, buildings, and lands, in the said Town, and shall be payable by the owners thereof by quarterly instalments. Provided that if the annual value shall in any case exceed the amount of rent payable by the lessee or tenant to the owner, the owner may in such case recover from the lessee or tenant the difference between the sum assessed upon him and the sum at which he would have been assessed had he been rated only upon the amount of rent actually payable to him: and such difference shall be added to the rent payable by such lessee or tenant and shall be recoverable by the owner from him by such means and in like manner in all respects as such rent is recoverable.

Rate on houses, buildings, and lands.

XXI. Houses, buildings, and lands situate in Fort William, on the Esplanade of the Fort, and in Cooley Bazar, and buildings used exclusively as places of public worship, shall not be liable to the rate.

Exemption of Fort William and of certain public buildings.

XXII. The Central Commissioners may exempt from assessment any house, building, or land, the annual value whereof is less than twelve Rupees, if the same be the sole ratable property of the owner.

Power to exempt small holdings.

XXIII. When any house shall have been vacant for sixty consecutive days during any year, the Central Commissioners shall remit so much of the rate for that year as may be proportionate to the number of days the said house may have remained unoccupied: provided that the owner of such house, or his Agent, shall have given notice in writing of the vacancy thereof to the said Commissioners, and that the amount of rate to be remitted shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice.

Remission on account of vacant houses.

XXIV. A tax shall be imposed upon all carriages, horses, ponies, and mules, kept within the said Town, at the rates specified in the annexed Schedule, and shall be payable quarterly by the owners or persons having charge of the same. The said tax shall be due and payable on and from the thirty-first day after the commencement of each quarter, unless in any particular case the Central Commissioners shall declare that, as regards any person or persons specified, it has become due and payable after the thirty-first day of the quarter.

Tax on vehicles and animals.

XXV. Provided that the several vehicles and animals hereinafter mentioned shall be exempt from the Tax, namely: —

Exemption of certain vehicles and animals.

Gun Carriages, and Ordnance Carts and Waggons.

Cavalry Horses, and Horses of the Mounted Police.

Horses belonging to Officers doing Regimental duty at the Presidency, at the rate of one horse for each Officer.

Conservancy Carts, Horses, Ponies, and Mules belonging to the Commissioners.

Vehicles and animals kept for sale and not used for any other purpose if kept by bonâ fide dealers in such vehicles and animals.

XXVI. Every person, who may have owned or had charge of any vehicle or animal kept within the said Town for a period exceeding thirty days in any quarter, shall be liable to the whole tax for that quarter. If the period do not exceed thirty days, no tax shall be chargeable for that quarter. Provided that, when any person owning or having charge of any vehicle or animal shall transfer the same to another person, he shall give notice thereof to the Central Commissioners within one week of the date of such transfer, and if he fail to give such notice, he shall be liable to the whole tax for that quarter, although the period during which he may have owned or had charge of such vehicle or animal shall not have exceeded thirty days.

What will constitute liability to the tax for a whole quarter.

Transfer of ownership.

XXVII. When a carriage shall have been under repair at a carriage-maker's for more than thirty days in any quarter, the Central Commissioners shall remit so much of the tax for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days the said carriage may have been under repair.

Remission of tax on carriages under repair.

XXVIII. The Central Commissioners, at their discretion, may compound, for any period not exceeding one year, with livery stable-keepers and other persons keeping carriages and horses for hire, for a certain sum to be paid for the carriages and horses so kept by such persons, in lieu of the taxes specified in the Schedule.

Commissioners may compound with livery stable-keepers and others.

XXIX. Every Cart and Hackery kept and used within the said Town, and every Cart and Hackery plying for hire within the said Town or let for hire and used within the said Town and kept at any place beyond the limits thereof, shall be registered in the Office of the Central Commissioners with the name and residence of the owner, and shall bear, in such manner as the said Commissioners shall direct, the number of such registration. Provided that this Section shall not apply to or include Ordance or Commissariat or other Government Carts or Hackeries, or Conservancy Carts or Hackeries belonging to the Central Commissioners or to any of the Divisional Commissioners.

Registry and numbering of Hackeries.

XXX. The registration of carts and hackeries under the last preceding Section shall be made and the numbers assigned annually upon such day in each year as the said Commissioners shall appoint, and a fee of six Rupees shall be paid for each registration. Any person becoming possessed within the year of any such cart or hackery which has not been registered, may obtain registration on application to the Central Commissioners at their Office and on payment of the said fee of six Rupees. When any registered cart or hackery is transferred within the year, it shall be registered anew in the name of the person to whom it has been transferred: and a fee of four annas shall be paid for every such last mentioned registration.

Fee for registration.

XXXI. Whoever keeps any cart or hackery required to be registered by the provisions of the last preceding Section, without being so registered, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, and the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners or any Officer duly authorized by any of them may seize or cause to be seized any such cart or hackery, (provided the same be not employed at the time of seizure in the conveyance of any passengers or goods,) together with the horses, bullocks, or other animals drawing the same, and may deliver them over to the Police; and all Police Officers are hereby required, on the application of the Central or Divisional Commissioners or their Officers as aforesaid, to seize and detain the same. If the vehicle seized be not claimed, or if the fine be not paid within ten days, such vehicle, together with the animals seized with it (if any), may be sold by auction by order of the Magistrate, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the fine, and to the costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), if not claimed by the owner within a further period of twenty days, shall be paid to the Central Commissioners.

Penalty for not registering a cart or hackery.

XXXII. The Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, may contract with the owners of any Gas-works for lighting with Gas such of the public streets of the said Town as the said Commissioners, with the like sanction, shall from time to time determine.

Gas contracts.

XXXIII. To provide for the lighting of the public streets of the said Town, an annual Lighting-rate of two per cent of their annual value shall be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town, the estimated monthly rent of which is not less than ten Rupees: and such rate shall be payable in quarterly instalments by the occupiers of such houses, buildings, and lands. The sum applicable annually to the current expenses of lighting the said streets, shall be the gross proceeds of the said Lighting-rate and no more; but the Central Commissioners may expend out of the funds at their disposal such further sums as may from time to time be requisite for the purchase, setting up, and maintaining of lamps, lamp-posts, pipes, and other necessary apparatus.

Lighting-rate.

XXXIV. The Central Commissioners shall carry out such a complete system for the supplying of fresh water within the Town as shall be directed by the Government of Bengal with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, subject to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered by the said Government with such sanction.

Water-supply.

XXXV. In order to provide for the better supply of water under the last preceding Section, an annual Water-rate not exceeding two and a half per cent of their annual value shall be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town, the estimated monthly rent of which is not less than ten Rupees, and such rate shall be payable in quarterly assessments by the occupiers of such houses, buildings, and lands. The Government of Bengal shall, from time to time, by notification in the Government Gazette, declare at what rate within the above limit the tax to be levied under this Section shall be assessed.

Water-rate.

XXXVI. Every occupier shall be liable to the Lighting-rate and to the Water-rate for the time of his occupation; and when any person shall have been an occupier for a part only of any quarter, the Central Commissioners shall charge him with only so much of the rate for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days during which he continued to be an occupier. No such rate shall be chargeable to any person on account of any unoccupied house for the time during which it may remain unoccupied. Provided always that when any person ceases to be the occupier of any premises liable to the rate, he shall give the Central Commissioners notice thereof or, if he fail to give such notice, he shall be liable to the rate assessed on the said premises for the whole quarter, although they may have been occupied for a part only of such quarter.

Occupier liable to the rate for time of occupation only.

Proviso.

XXXVII. When any house or building or any land is let by the owner in apartments, flats, or portions, the owner shall be liable to pay the Lighting-rate and the Water-rate instead of the occupier or occupiers.

Owner when liable.

XXXVIII. When any person, who rents from the owner any house or building or any land, sublets the same in apartments or portions, such person, for the purposes of the Lighting-rate and of the Water-rate, shall be held to be the occupier.

Occupiers sub-letting.

XXXIX. If during the course of any quarter the Central Commissioners shall have reason to believe that any person, who, if the current quarter had come to an end, would be liable to pay the House-rate, the Lighting-rate, or the Water-rate for that quarter, is about to remove from the Town of Calcutta forthwith, it shall be lawful for the said Central Commissioners to declare such person liable to the immediate payment of the said rates or any one of them from the commencement of that quarter up to the date of such declaration, and the amount of such rate for such time due from such person shall be leviable forthwith in like manner and in all respects as the said rates are in ordinary cases leviable.

Person liable to rate and leaving Calcutta during a quarter may be made at once to pay the rate up to date.

XL. The Central Commissioners shall carry out such a complete system of sewerage and drainage within the said Town as has been or shall be directed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, subject to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered by the said Lieutenant Governor with such sanction; and until such system of sewerage and drainage has been completed, and all the expenses thereof defrayed, and all monies borrowed for the payment of such expenses on the security of the rates and interest thereon have been repaid, the said Commissioners shall set apart for the purposes above mentioned an annual sum of not less than one hundred and fifty thousand Rupees, out of the proceeds of the rate provided by Section XX of this Act.

Drainage.

XLI. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may determine what portions, if any, of the environs of the said Town shall be included in the said system of sewerage and drainage, and may declare the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazette. An annual rate to be fixed from time to time by the said Lieutenant-Governor, not exceeding two and a half per cent of their annual value, may be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands situated within the boundaries so notified, and the same shall be payable by the owners thereof in quarterly instalments. For the purposes of the said rate, the houses, buildings, and lands situated within such boundaries as aforesaid, shall be held to be a part of the said Town; and all the provisions of this Act which relate to the assessment and collection of rates payable by owners, shall have effect in respect to such rates.

Drainage rate on houses in the environs of Town.

XLII. The Divisional Commissioners, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners and of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, shall, in addition to any general system for the supply of water under Section XXXIV of this Act, cause to be made and constructed such tanks, reservoirs, or other works, as shall be necessary to provide in convenient parts of the said Town, for the use of inhabitants thereof, a proper supply of good and wholesome water for drinking and domestic purposes; and until such tanks, reservoirs, or other works, shall have been constructed, and all the expenses thereof defrayed, and all monies borrowed for the payment of such expenses on the security of the rates, and interest thereon, shall have been repaid, the Central Commissioners shall set apart, for the purpose above mentioned, an annual sum of not less than thirty thousand Rupees, out of the proceeds of the rate provided by Section XX of this Act.

Construction of Tanks, &c., in the Town.

XLIII. For every notice of demand under Section XXI of Act XXV of 1856 which the Central Commissioners shall cause to be served upon any person, a fee of one Rupee shall be paid by such person, which fee shall be added to the amount of the rate or tax in respect of which the notice is given, and if not duly paid shall be levied in the same manner as such rate or tax may be leviable.

Fee to levied on every notice of demand issued by the Commissioners.

XLIV. All monies received by the Central Commissioners by virtue of this Act or of any other Act, and all monies which may be assigned by Government for purposes of Conservancy and Improvement in the said Town, shall constitute a fund, which shall be called the Municipal Fund of Calcutta, and shall be under the direction, management, and control of the Central Commissioners in the manner hereinbefore provided, and shall be applied to the purposes of this Act and of Act XXV of 1856, and of any other Act which now is or hereafter may be in force for the Conservancy or the Improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Municipal Fund.

XLV. All fines and penalties levied under this Act or under Act XXV of 1856 shall be paid to the Municipal Fund.

Certain fines to be paid to the Municipal Fund.

XLVI. The said Act XXV of 1856, so far as it relates to or has effect in the Town of Calcutta, is incorporated with this Act: and in construing the said Act as incorporated with this Act, the expression "the Special Act" shall mean this Act, the expressions "the Commissioners" and "the Municipal Commissioners" respectively, wherever they occur in the said Act or in any of the Schedules thereto, shall mean the Central Commissioners constituted by this Act, and the expression "the local Government" shall mean the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Interpretation of Act XXV of 1856.

XLVII. This Act shall commence and take effect on and from the first day of January 1863.

Operation of Act.

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations on the 3rd May 1862, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon after the 7th June next:—

A Bill for the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town of Calcutta, and to invest the Commissioners for the said Town with the powers hereinafter mentioned; It is enacted as follows:—

Act XIV of 1856 repealed.

I. Act XIV of 1856 is hereby repealed, so far as it relates to the Town of Calcutta, and except so far as it repeals the whole or any part of any other Act or Regulation, and except as to any act or offence which shall have been done or committed, or to any money which shall have become due, or to any fine or penalty which shall have been incurred, or to any proceedings which shall have been commenced, before this Act shall come into operation.

Interpretation.

II. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, (that is to say)—

"Town"

The word "Town" shall include all places within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta.

"Central Commissioners." "Divisional Commissioners."

The expressions "Central Commissioners" and "Divisional Commissioners" shall respectively mean the persons for the time being constituted by Law to be or to act as "Central Commissioners" or "Divisional Commissioners" (as the case may be) for the Town of Calcutta.

"Street."

The word "Street" shall mean any road, street, square, court, alley, or passage, whether a thoroughfare or not, over which the public have a right of way, and also the roadway over any public bridge or causeway, within the said Town.

"Land."

The word "Land" shall include messuages, buildings, tenements, and hereditaments, of any tenure.

Number.

Words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number.

Gender.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

"Person."

The word "person" shall include a corporation.

"Month."

The word "month" shall mean calendar month.

"Oath."

The word "oath" shall include any affirmation or declaration lawfully substituted for an oath.

"Magistrate."

The word "Magistrate" shall mean any Magistrate of Police for the Town of Calcutta.

"Owner.

The word "Owner" shall mean the person for the time being receiving the rent of the land or premises in connexion with which the word is used, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, or who would so receive the same if such land or premises were let to a tenant. Provided that no person receiving the rent of land or premises as agent for another person, shall be liable to do any thing by this Act required to be done by the owner of such land or premises, unless he have sufficient funds of the owner to pay for the same; nor shall he be subject to any penalty for omitting to do such act, if he can prove that the default was occasioned by reason of his not having funds of the owner sufficient to defray the expense of doing the act required.

Commissioners to appoint Officers.

III. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners may respectively, from time to time, appoint all such officers as they shall think necessary and proper to assist in the execution of this Act; and may respectively, from time to time, remove any of such officers and appoint others in their place; and out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act, the Central Commissioners with the sanction of the Government, and the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commisioners and of the Government, may pay such salaries to the said Officers as the said Commissioners respectively shall think reasonable. Provided that no person shall be appointed to, or removed from, any office the monthly salary of which exceeds two hundred Rupees, without the sanction of the Government.

Property vested in Commissioners.

IV. All property, moveable or immoveable, purchased or otherwise acquired before the passing of this Act by the Municipal Commissioners or other persons, however designated, heretofore lawfully administering the funds applicable to the Conservancy and Improvement of the said Town, and now vested in them or in any persons in trust for them for any such purposes, shall, after the passing of this Act, be vested in the Central Commissioners as trustees for the purposes of this Act.

Streets and roads vested in the Commissioners.

V. All public streets and roads (not being the property, and kept under the control of the Government), existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall afterwards be made, and the pavements, stones, and other materials thereof, and also all erections, materials, implements, and other things provided for such streets and roads, shall be vested in and belong to the Central Commissioners.

Power to make and improve streets and roads.

VI. The Divisional Commissioners, with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, may within the limits of their Divisions respectively, lay out and make new streets and roads, and may build and construct bridges and tunnels; and may turn, divert, discontinue, or stop up, any public street or road; and may widen, open, enlarge, or otherwise improve, any such street or road; making due compensation to the owners and occupiers of any land, houses, or buildings which may be required for any such purposes.

Power to take land adjoining new streets for building purposes.

VII. In laying out new streets, in addition to the land required for the carriage-ways and foot-ways thereof, the Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, may purchase also the land necessary for the houses and buildings to form the said streets, and may sell and dispose of the same with such stipulations and conditions as to the class and description of houses or buildings to be erected thereon as they shall think fit. Provided that, if any land be taken under the provisions of this Act, compensation shall be made by the Central Commissioners to the owners for any damage which may be done thereby to any adjoining land or buildings of such owner.

Compensation for damage to adjoining land.

Power to agree for purchase of land for improving streets or roads.

VIII. The Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners may agree with the owners of any land, within the limits of their Division respectively, for the absolute purchase thereof for the purpose of laying out and making new streets and roads, or of widening, enlarging, or otherwise improving any of the public streets or roads.

Maintenance and repair of streets and roads.

IX. The Divisional Commissioners shall within the limits of their Divisions respectively, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, from time to time cause the public streets and roads to be maintained and repaired; and from time to time may cause the same to be paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, sewered, or otherwise improved, and the surface thereof to be raised, lowered, or altered, as they may think fit; and may also make and keep in repair any footways for the use of passengers in any such street or road, and also from time to time place on the sides of such footways or otherwise such fences and posts as may be needed for the protection of foot-passengers. Provided that no repairs of streets or roads or alterations in the direction, or in the channels or sewers or canals thereof, entailing an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees, shall be undertaken without the sanction of the Central Commissioners having been first obtained thereto at a meeting held under Section XIII of Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council.

Footways.

Cleansing Street.

X. The Divisional Commissioners shall, within the limits of their Divisions respectively, cause the streets, including the footways thereof, to be regularly swept and cleansed; and the dust, dirt, ashes, rubbish, and filth of every sort found thereon, to be collected and removed.

Dust boxes in streets.

XI. The Divisional Commissioners may, within the limits of their Divisions respectively, cause any number of moveable or fixed dust boxes or other convenient receptacles, wherein dust, dirt, ashes, and rubbish may be temporarily deposited, until removed and carried away, to be provided and placed in proper and convenient situations, and may require the occupiers of houses in streets to cause all such matter as aforesaid to be deposited daily or ortherwise periodically in the said receptacles. Every person who, after such receptacles have been provided, and after such requisition as above mentioned, shall deposit, or cause or permit to be deposited, any such matter in any street, except in such receptacles, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Depositing dirt on streets, &c.

XII. Whoever deposits, or permits his servants to deposit, any dust, dirt, dung, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or filth of any kind, or any animal matter, or any broken glass or earthen-ware, or other rubbish, in any street or on any public quay, jetty, ghaut, or landing-place, or on any part of a river-bank whether above or below high-water mark, except in such places and in such manner and at such hours as shall be fixed by the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which such deposit is made, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Allowing sewerage to flow on streets.

XIII. Whoever causes or allows the water of any sink or sewer, or any other offensive liquid matter belonging to him or being on his land, to run, drain, or be thrown or put upon any street, or causes or allows any offensive matter from any sewer or privy to run, drain, or be thrown into a surface drain in any street, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Removal of night-soil.

XIV. The Divisional Commissioners from time to time may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, fix the hours within which only it shall be lawful to remove any night-soil or other such offensive matter from within the limits of their Divisions respectively. When the Divisional Commissioners have, with such sanction as aforesaid, fixed such hours and given public notice thereof, whoever removes or causes to be removed along any street any such offensive matter at any time, except within the hours so fixed, and also whoever, at any time, whether such hours have been fixed by the Commissioners or not, uses for any such purpose any cart, carriage, or other receptacle or vessel not having a covering proper for preventing the escape of the contents thereof or of the stench therefrom, or who slops or spills any such offensive matter in the removal thereof, or who does not carefully sweep and clean every place in which any such offensive matter has been slopped or spilled, or who places or sets down in any public place any vessel containing such offensive matter, or who drives or takes or causes to be driven or taken any cart, carriage, receptacle, or vessel used for any such purpose as aforesaid, through any street or by any route other than such as shall from time to time be by public notice appointed for that purpose by the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees for each offence.

Places of deposit for filth.

XV. The Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, from time to time, shall appoint or provide places convenient for the deposit of the night soil, dung, and other filth, and the dust, dirt, ashes, and rubbish collected and removed from their Divisions respectively under the authority of this Act; and for keeping all cattle, carts, implements, and other things required for the above or any of the purposes of this Act, and for any of such purposes the Divisional Commissioners, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, may purchase or take on lease any land or buildings by them considered necessary, or may with such sanction cause any new building to be made upon any land to be purchased or hired by them.

All rubbish &c., collected to be the property of the Commissioners.

XVI. All dirt, dust, ashes, rubbish, sewerage, soil, dung, and filth. collected from the streets, houses, privies, sewers, and cess-pools, shall be the property of the Divisional Commissioners, who shall have power to sell or dispose of the same as they may think proper. and the money arising from the sale thereof, shall be applied to the purposes of this Act.

Watering streets.

XVII. The Divisional Commissioners, so for as the funds at their disposal will admit, and so far as they may deem requisite for the public convenience, shall cause the public streets and roads within their respective Divisions, to be watered; and for that purpose may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, provide such works and engines as they may think necessary. And the Central Commissioners may provide such works and engines as they may think necessary for the purpose of supplying water to the several Divisions of the Town respectively for the purpose of this Section.

Lighting streets.

XVIII. The Divisional Commissioners, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall, in streets and places which are not, or which may not hereafter be, lighted with gas, provide lamps, lamp-posts, and such other means as they may deem necessary for lighting with oil such of the public streets and roads as they shall consider to require lighting with oil; and shall cause the said lamps to be kept in fit order, and shall employ a sufficient number of persons to cleanse, prepare, and light the same; and shall also, from time to time, increase or otherwise alter the number and situation of the said lamps, as to them shall appear necessary. But the Central Commissioners shall have the sole control and management of the lighting of the said Town so far as the same is or may hereafter be lighted with gas, and shall for that purpose, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, provide lamps, lamp-posts, and such other means as they may deem necessary for lighting with gas such of the public streets and roads (in whatever part of the Town they may be situated,) as they shall consider to require lighting with gas: and shall cause the said lamps to be kept in fit order, and shall employ a sufficient number of persons to cleanse, prepare, and light the same: and shall also from time to time increase or otherwise alter the number and situation of the said lamps in such manner as to them shall appear necessary.

Future obstructions in streets or roads.

XIX. Whoever builds any wall, or erects or sets up any fence, rail, post, o- other obstruction or encroachr ment, in any public street of road, or in or over any open drain, sewer, or aqueduct along the side of any such street or road after the passing of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the Divisional Commissioners shall have power to remove any such obstruction or encroachment; and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the person erecting the same, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to remove.

Temporary obstruction on occasions of festivals, &c.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Divisional Commissioners, with the concurrence of the Commissioner of Police, from allowing any temporary erections in any public street or road on occasions of festivals and ceremonies.

Taking up pavements.

XX. Whoever displaces, takes up, or makes any alteration in the pavement, flags, or other materials, or in the fences or posts of any public street, without the consent in writing of the Divisional Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Private persons laying out new streets.

XXI. Every person who wishes to make or lay out any new street, shall give notice in writing thereof to the Divisional Commissioners, showing the intended level and width of such street; and the level and width of every such street shall be fixed or approved by the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners; and whoever lays out, makes, or builds upon any such street, otherwise than in accordance with the level and width so fixed or approved, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees; and the Central Commissioners may, if they think fit, cause any such street, laid out or made at a level or width otherwise than in accordance with the level or width so fixed or approved as aforesaid, to be altered; or may cause any building erected in any such street otherwise than in accordance with such level and width, to be altered, or if necessary removed, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the offender and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Proviso.

If no such level or width be fixed, and no approval or disapproval of the level or width proposed, be signified by the Divisional Commissioners with such sanction as aforesaid within one month, the intended street may be laid out and made upon the level and of the width specified in the notice.

Erection of new huts to be under the control of the Commissioner.

XXII. It shall not be lawful for any person to erect, in or near any street, any hut or any range or block of huts on any plot or parcel of ground not previously built upon, or on which no huts are standing, without previous notice to the Divisional Commissioners; and the said Commissioners may require such hut or huts to be built so that they may stand in regular lines with a free passage or way in front of each line, of such width as the said Commissioners may think proper for salutary ventilation, and to facilitate scavengering, and at such a level as will admit of sufficient drainage. And if any such hut or huts be built without giving such notice to the Divisional Commissioners, or otherwise than as required by the said Commissioners, the said Commissioners may give notice to the builder or builders thereof to take down and remove the same within one month, and if such hut or huts be not taken down or removed according to such notice, the Divisional Commissioners may cause the same to be taken down and removed, and the expense incurred in doing so shall be paid by said builder or builders, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power of Commissioners as to existing huts.

XXIII. Whenever the Divisional Commissioners are satisfied, from inspection or by report of competent persons, that any existing block of huts, in or near any street, is, by reason of the manner in which the huts are huddled together, or the want of drainage and the impracticability of scavengering, attended with risk of disease to the inhabitants or the neighbourhood, they may, with the consent of the Central Commisssioners and of the Government, cause a notice to be affixed to some conspicuous part of such block of huts, requiring the owners or occupiers thereof, within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Commissioners for that purpose, to execute such operations as the Commissioners with such consent as aforesaid may deem necessary for the avoidance of such risk. And in case such owners or occupiers shall refuse or neglect to execute such operations within the time appointed, the Divisioal Commissioners may cause the said huts to be taken down, or such operations to be performed in respect of such huts, as the Divisional Commissioners may deem necessary to prevent such risk. If such huts be pulled down, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause the materials of each hut to be sold separately, if such sale can be effected; and the proceeds shall be paid to the owner of the hut, or if the owner be unknown, or the title disputed, shall be held in deposit by the said Commisioners, until the person interested therein shall obtain the order of a competent Court for the payment of the same. The Calcutta Court of Small Causes shall be deemed a competent Court for that purpose.

Paving, &c. of private streets.

XXIV. If any street (not being a public street), or any part thereof, be not levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Divisional Commissioners, they may, by notice in writing to the respective owners or occupiers of the premises fronting, adjoining, or abutting upon, such parts thereof as may need to be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, require them to level, metal, pave, flag, channel, and sewer the same within a time to be specified in such notice, and upon non-compliance the Divisional Commissioners may, if they think fit, and with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, execute the works mentioned or referred to therein; and the expenses incurred by them in so doing shall be paid by the owners in default according to the frontage of their respective premises, and in such proportion as shall be settled by the Divisional Commissioners, or, in case of dispute, as shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses, and such expense shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided. Provided always that, after such street shall have been so levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, on the requisition of the Divisional Commissioners, or by the Divisional Commissioners as aforesaid, at the expense of the owners, such owners shall have a right to require that the street shall be declared a public street, to be from time to time repaired by the Divisional Commissioners out of the funds at their disposal for the purposes of this Act.

Proviso.

Certain streets to be deemed public and repaired by the Commissioners.

XXV. If any street (not being a public street) be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Divisional Commissioners, they may, if they think fit, and with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, by notice in writing put up in any part of such street, declare the same to be a public street, and thereupon the same shall become a public street, and be from time to time repaired by them out of the funds at their disposal Provided that no street shall become a public street as last aforesaid if, within one month after such notice in writing, the owner of such street, or any one of the owners, shall, by notice in writing to the Divisional Commissioners, object thereto.

Proviso.

Houses may be set forward for improving line of streets.

XXVI. The Divisional Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, and upon such terms as they think fit, allow any house or building to be set forward for improving the line of any public street, in which such house or building is situated.

Houses projecting beyond line of street, when taken down, to be set back.

XXVII. When any house or building, any part of which projects beyond the regular line of a public street, or beyond the front of the house or building on either side thereof, has been taken down in order to be re-built or altered, the Divisional Commissioners may require the same to be set back to or towards the line of the street or the line of the adjoining houses or buildings. Provided always that the Divisional Commissioners shall make full compensation to the owner of any such house or building for any damage he may thereby sustain; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Proviso.

Names of streets.

XXVIII. The Divisional Commissioners shall, from time to time, cause to be put up or painted on a conspicuous part of some house, building, wall, or place at or near each end, corner, or entrance of every street, the name by which such street is to be known; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such name, or puts up any name different from that put up by order of the Divisional Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Numbers of houses.

XXIX. The Divisional Commissioners may, from time to time, fix a number in a conspicuous place on the outer side of any house or building, or at the entrance of the enclosure thereof fronting the street; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such number, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Doors not to open outwards.

XXX. All doors, gates, bars, and ground-floor windows put up after the passing of this Act, which open upon any public streets, shall be hung or placed so as not to open outwards; and if any such door, gate, bar, or window be hung or placed so as to open outwards on any such street, the owner of the premises to which the same is attached shall, within eight days after notice from the Divisional Commissioners to that effect, cause the same to be altered so as not to open outwards, and in case he neglects so to do, the Divisional Commissioners may make such alteration, and the expense thereof shall be paid by such owners, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Doors opening outwards to be altered.

XXXI. If any door, gate, bar, or ground-floor window put up before the passing of this Act is hung or placed so as to open outwards upon any public street, the Divisional Commissioners may alter the same, so that no part thereof, when open, shall project over any such street so as to cause an obstruction, and the expense thereof shall be paid by the owners and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Troughs and pipes to be fixed to houses.

XXXII. The owner of every house or building in any public street shall, within eight days after notice from the Divisional Commissioners to that effect, put up and keep in good condition proper troughs and pipes for catching and carrying the water from the roof and other parts of such house or building, and for discharging the same in such manner that it shall not fall upon the persons passing along the street; and in default of compliance with such notice within the period aforesaid, such owner shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day that he shall so make default.

Future projections from houses to be removed.

XXXIII. The Divisional Commissioners may give notice in writing to the owner or occupier of any house or building to remove or alter any projection, encroachment, or obstruction, which after the passing of this Act, shall be erected or placed against or in front of such house or building, if the same overhangs, or juts into, or in any way projects or encroaches upon, or is an obstruction to the safe and convenient passage along any public street, or obstructs or projects or encroaches into or upon any uncovered aqueduct, drain, or sewer in such street; and such owner or occupier shall, within fourteen days after the service of such notice upon him, remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction, or alter the same in such manner as shall have been directed by the Divisional Commissioners; and in default thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees; and the Divisional Commissioners in such case may remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction; and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the owner or occupier so making default, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided. Provided that, when the expense shall have been paid by the occupier, except in the case in which such projections, encroachments, or obstructions were made or put up by him, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the expense of removing or altering the same from the rent payable by him to the owner of the house or building.

Proviso

Sun-shades, &c.

Provided always that the roofs or eaves of houses or buildings, sun-shades, weather-frames, and the like, at a height not less than twelve feet above the surface of any street, may be projected to the extent of three feet over the same.

Removal of existing projections from houses.

XXXIV. The Divisional Commissioners may cause any such projection, encroachment or obstruction, erected or placed against or in front of any house or buliding, in any public street, before the passing of this Act, to be removed or altered as they think fit; provided that they give notice of such intended removal or alteration to the occupier of the house or building against or in front of which such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall be, thirty days before such alteration or removal is begun; and if such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall have been lawfully made, they shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by such removal or alteration; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Notice of removal.

Compensation when to be made.

Commissioners may allow certain projections from houses.

XXXV. The Divisional Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, give permission in writing to the owners or occupiers of houses or buildings in public streets, the width of which is not less than twenty-five feet, to put up verandahs, balconies, sun-shades, weather-frames, and the like, to project from any upper-story thereof over the street, to an extent not exceeding four feet from the foundation, and, for special reasons, to allow such projections to be extended to five feet.

Roofs and external walls of houses not to be made of combustible materials.

XXXVI. The external roofs and walls of huts or other buildings erected or renewed in or near any street after the passing of this Act, shall not be made of grass, leaves, mats, or other such inflammable materials; and it shall not be lawful for the owner of any hut or other building in or near any street now having an external roof or wall made of any such material, and which is contiguous to or adjoining to any other building, to suffer such roof or wall to remain after the passing of this Act, unless with the consent in writing of the Central Commissioners and of the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which such roof or wall is; and whoever makes any external roof or wall made of such materials, or suffers any roof or wall made of such materials to continue contrary to the provisions herein contained, and who shall not remove or alter the same within one month after notice given to him for that purpose by the Central Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day that such roof or wall shall continue. Any person may give information and institute a prosecution before a magistrate under this Section.

Houses in ruinous and dangerous state.

XXXVI. If, in any street, any house, building or wall or any thing affixed thereon, be deemed by the Divisional Commissioners to be in a ruinous state or likely to fall, or in any way dangerous to the inhabitants of such house or building, or to the neighbouring houses or buildings, or to the occupiers thereof, or to passengers, they shall immediately, if it appears to them to be necessary, cause a proper board or fence to be put up for the protection of passengers; and shall cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door or other conspicuous part of the said premises or otherwise to be given to the occupier thereof (if any) requiring such owner or occupier forthwith to take down, secure, or repair such house, building, wall, or thing affixed thereon, as the case shall require; and if such owner or occupier do not begin to repair, take down, or secure the same within three days after such notice, and complete such work with due diligence, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause all or so much of such house, building, wall, or thing as they shall think necessary, to be given down, repaired, or otherwise secured; and all the expenses incurred by the Divisional Commissioners shall be paid by the owner of the premises, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Sale of materials of ruinous houses.

XXXVIII. If any such house, building, or wall, or any part of the same be pulled down by virtue of the powers aforesaid, the Divisional Commissioners may sell the materials thereof or so much of the same as shall be taken down, and apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the expenses incurred, and shall restore any overplus arising from such sale to the owner of such house, building, or wall, on demand. The Divisional Commissioners, although they sell such materials for the purposes aforesaid, shall have the same remedies for compelling the payment of so much of the said expenses as may remain due after the application of the proceeds of such sale, as by this Act are given to them for compelling the payment of the whole of the said expenses.

Power to shut up and secure deserted houses.

XXXIX. If any building or land, by reason of abandonment or of disputed ownership or other cause, shall remain untenanted, and thereby become a resort of idle and disorderly persons, or be complained of by any two or more of the neighbours as a nuisance, the Divisional Commissioners, after due enquiry, may cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, or to the person claiming to be the owner if he be known and resident within the limits of their jurisdiction, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door of the building or some conspicuous part of the premises, requiring the persons, concerned therein, whoever they may be, to secure or enclose the same; and if such notice shall not be complied with within eight days, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause the necessary work to be executed, and all expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the premises and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty on occupier of a house not removing filth.

XL. Whoever, being the occupier of a house in or near any street, keeps or allows to be kept for more than twenty-four hours, otherwise than in some proper receptacle, any dirt, dung, bones, ashes, nightsoil, filth, or any noxious or offensive matter, in or upon the roof of such house, or in any out-house, yard, or ground attached to and occupied with such house, or suffers such receptacle to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means to remove the filth therefrom and to cleanse and purify the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Filthy houses, &c.

XLI. Whoever, being the owner or occupier of any house, building, or land in or near any street, whether tenantable or otherwise, suffers the same to be in a filthy and unwholesome state, or overgrown with vegetation, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day after conviction for such offence during which the offence is continued.

Power to trim hedges and trees bordering roads.

XLII. The Divisional Commissioners may give notice to the owner or occupier of any land to trim or prune the hedges thereof bordering any public road or street, so that they may not exceed the height of seven feet from the level of the road; and to cut and trim all trees which by overhanging any public road or street obstruct the passage or cause damage thereto; and in the event of such notice not being complied with within eight days from the date thereof, the Divisional Commissioners may cause the said hedges and trees to be cut and trimmed in the manner required, and the expense incurred by the Commissioners in respect thereof shall be paid to them by the owners, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Keeping swine, &c, in or near any street.

XLIII. Whoever keeps any pig-stye to the front of any street, not being shut out therefrom by a sufficient wall or fence, or whoever shall keep any swine in or near any street, so as to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood, or who shall, without the permission of the Divisional Commissioners keep more than twenty sheep or goats, or ten horned cattle, in or near any street, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Sewers, drains, &c. vested in the Commissioners.

XLIV. All public sewers and drains not forming part of any general system of sewerage or drainage for the Town of Calcutta, and all sewers, drains, tunnels, and culverts (not forming part of any such system), in, alongside, or under the streets or roads existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or afterwards made, and whether made at the cost of the Commissioners or otherwise, and all works, materials, and things appertaining thereto, shall be vested in and belong to the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which the same are or may be situated respectively. But all sewers and drains and culverts forming part of any general system of sewerage or drainage for the Town of Calcutta, and existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or afterwards made, and whether made at the cost of the Central Commissioners or otherwise, and all works, materials, and things appertaining thereto, shall be vested in and belong to the Central Commissioners.

Commissioners to make public sewers.

XLV. The Central Commissioners with the sanction of the Government, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall cause to be made such main and other sewers as they may judge necessary for the effectual draining of the Town of Calcutta; and, if needful, they may carry such sewers through, across, or under any street, or any place laid out as or intended for a street, or any cellar or vault which may be under any of the streets, and (after reasonable notice in writing in that behalf) into, through, or under any inclosed or other land whatsoever, making full compensation for any damage done thereby; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Commissioners to repair and alter and discontinue sewers.

XLVI. The Central Commissioners, and the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, shall respectively maintain, and from time to time repair, and as they see fit enlarge, alter, arch-over, or otherwise improve all or any of the sewers and drains vested in them respectively by this Act; and may discontinue, close up, or destroy such of them as they may deem useless or unnecessary.

Proviso.

Provided always that the discontinuance, closing up, or destruction of any sewer or drain, shall be so done as not to create a nuisance; and if by reason thereof, or of any alteration as hereinbefore mentioned, any person is deprived of the lawful use of any sewer or drain, the Central Commissioners, or the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, as the case may be, shall, with due diligence, provide some other sewer or drain as effectual for his use as the one of which he is so deprived.

Cleansing and emptying sewers.

XLVII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, cause the sewers and drains belonging to them respectively, to be so constructed, maintained, and kept, as not to be a nuisance or injurious to health, and to be properly cleared, cleansed, and emptied; and for the purpose of flushing, cleansing, and emptying the same, they may construct and place, either above or under-ground, such reservoirs, sluices, engines, and other works as may be necessary; and the Central Commissioners may also with the consent of the Government, and the Divisional Commissioners may also with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, cause all or any of such sewers and drains to communicate with and be emptied into any tidal river or other fit place, or cause the refuse from such sewers and drains to be conveyed by a proper channel to the most convenient site for its deposit, and may sell the same for any agricultural or other purposes as may be deemed most expedient, but so that the same shall not become a nuisance.

Bed of stream receiving sewerage to be cleared.

XLVIII. When the contents of any sewer or drain or any other flow or filth or refuse are discharged into any river or stream, in the bed or channel of which the quantity of water at any season of the year is so much diminished by natural or artificial causes as to be insufficient to keep such channel clean or clear, the Central Commissioners with the consent of the Government, and the Divisional [illegible]s-[illegible]mis-sioners with the consent of the Centr[illegible]ase may sioners and of the Government, as th[illegible] will admit, be, so far as the funds at their dispos[illegible] of such river shall make such alteration in the bed [illegible]er and drain- or stream as may prevent such sew[illegible] water from spreading over the surface of such bed, or from accumulating and stagnating in parts thereof to the injury of health or the annoyance of the surrounding population.

Penalty for making unauthorized drains into public sewers.

XLIX. Whoever, without the written consent of the Commissioners first obtained, makes or causes to be made any drain into any of the sewers or drains vested in such Commissioners by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the Commissioners into whose sewer or drain such drain has been made, may cause such branch-drain to be demolished, altered, re-made, or otherwise dealt with as they think fit; and all the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the person making such branch-drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Building over sewers, &c, not to be erected without consent of Commissioners.

L. No building shall be newly erected over any sewer or drain vested in any of the Commissioners by this Act, without their written consent; and if any building be so erected, the Commissioners to whom the sewer or drain belongs, may cause such building to be pulled down, or otherwise dealt with as they may think fit; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person offending, and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Divisional Commissioners empowered to make drains from houses in or near streets which are not properly drained.

LI. If any house or building, in or near any street, be at any time not drained to the satisfaction of the Central or of the Divisional Commissioners by a sufficient drain or pipe communicating with some sewer, or some tidal river or other place at which the said Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers, and if there be such means of drainage within one hundred feet of any part of such house or building, the said Commissioners may construct or lay from such house or building a covered drain or pipe of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall, as they think necessary for the draining of such house or building; and the expenses incurred by the Commissioners in respect thereof, if not forthwith paid by the owner, shall be recoverable as hereinafter directed. Provided that the cost of executing such work shall not, without the consent of the owner, exceed the amount of three months' rent of the house or building. Provided also that no Divisional Commissioners shall, under this Section, be empowered to open o[illegible] in any way to intermeddle with any sewer or dr[illegible]n which belongs to any other Divisional Com[illegible]ssioners or to the Central Commissioners.

Level of houses hereafter built in or near streets.

LII. N[illegible] house or building shall be hereafter built in or near any street upon a lower level than will allow of the drainage of such house or building being led into some [illegible] sewer either then existing, or projected by the Central Commissioners, into some tidal river or other place into which the Central Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers.

Houses hereafter built in or near streets to have drains constructed under the orders of the Commissioners.

LIII. If any house or building, newly erected or re-built in or near any street after the passing of this Act, have such means of drainage as in the last preceding Section mentioned, existing within one hundred feet thereof, the owner shall make a drain leading thereunto from the site of such house or building, of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall as the Divisional Commissioners may direct; and if he neglect to do so within a reasonable time, the Divisional Commissioners may cause the same to be done, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Notice of new building in or near streets to be given to Commissioners.

LIV. Before beginning, in or near any street to build or re-build any house, the person intending to build or rebuild such house shall give to the Divisional Commissioners notice thereof in writing and shall accompany such notice with a plan shewing the levels at which the foundation and lowest floor of such house are proposed to be laid by reference to some level ascertained under the direction of the Divisional Commissioners

Commissioners to signify disapproval within fourteen days.

LV. Within fourteen days after receiving such notice, the Divisional Commissioners shall signify their approval of the proposed levels, or if they disapprove thereof, they shall fix other levels in lieu thereof within the same time.

Houses built without notice, or contrary to provisions of this Act, may be altered by Commissioners.

LVI. If such building be begun or made without sending such notice and plan, or at any levels different from those fixed by the Divisional Commissioners within the said fourteen days, or in any other respect contrary to the provisions of this Act, the Divisional Commissioners may, if necessary, cause such building to be altered or demolished as the case may require; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid by the person failing to comply with the provisions aforesaid, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

If Commissioners fail to approve, &c., within fourteen days, parties may proceed without.

LVII. If the Divisional Commissioners fail to signify in writing their approval or disapproval of the levels shewn on such plan as aforesaid, and to fix other levels within fourteen days after receiving such notice and plan as aforesaid, the person giving such notice may, notwithstanding any thing hereinbefore contained, proceed to build or re-build the house therein referred to according to the levels shewn on such plan, provided that such building or re-building be otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Sewers in streets to be covered with traps, &c.

LVIII. All sewers and drains in streets, whether public or private, shall be provided by the Commissioners or by the persons to whom they severally belong, with proper traps or other coverings or means of ventilation so as to prevent stench. If the owner of any private sewer or drain shall, for ten days after notice given to him by the Divisional Commissioners, neglect or delay to provide proper traps or coverings or means of ventilation as aforesaid, the Divisional Commissioners may forthwith provide and apply the same; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such sewer or drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power of Commissioners to erect or affix to building pipes for ventilation of sewers.

LIX. The Commissioners may erect on, or fix to any house or building, such pipes as they may deem necessary for the proper ventilation of the sewers belonging to them, and such pipes shall be carried to a height of not less than six feet above the highest part of the house or building, and erected so as not to occasion any nuisance or inconvenience to any house or building in the neighbourhood.

Throwing rubbish into sewers.

LX. Whoever throws or puts, or permits his servants to throw or put any earth, dirt, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or any broken glass or earthen-ware, or other rubbish, or, until suitable sewers shall be provided, any night-soil, into any sewer or drain belonging to any of the Commissioners, or into any drain communicating therewith, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Common necessaries.

LXI. The Divisional Commissioners may provide and maintain in proper and convenient situations, so as not to create a nuisance, common necessaries and urinals, and shall cause the same, when provided, to be kept in proper order and to be daily cleansed.

Licensing of public necessaries.

LXII. The Divisional Commissioners may license, for any period not exceeding one year, such necessaries for public accommodation as they, from time to time, may think proper; and whoever keeps any public necessary without such license, or, having a license for a public necessary, suffers the same to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means for cleaning the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the license may be cancelled by the Magistrate before whom the person is convicted.

Neglecting to enclose private privy.

LXIII. The owner or occupier of any house or building having a privy erected on his premises, shall have such privy shut out by a sufficient wall or fence from the view of persons passing by. In neglect of this provision he shall be liable to a penalty of ten Rupees a day for each day of default.

Branch-drains, privies, &c., to be under control of Commissioners and to be kept in good order by owners.

LXIV. All branch-drains, as well within as without the lands or buildings to which they belong, and all privies and cess-pools in or near any street, shall be under the survey and control of the Divisional Commissioners, and shall be altered, repaired, and kept in proper order at the costs and charges of the owners of the lands and buildings to which the same belong, or for the use of which they are constructed or continued; and if the owner of any land or buildings to which any such drain, privy, or cess-pool belongs, neglect, during eight days after notice in writing for that purpose, to alter, repair, and put the same into good order in Commissioners may cause the [illegible] to be done and [illegible]harge the owners with the expense.

the manner required by the Divisional Commissioners, the Divisional Commissioners may cause such drain, privy, or cess-pool to be altered, repaired, and put in good order, and the expense incurred by the Divisional Commissioners in respect thereof shall be paid by the owner, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty for persons making or altering drains, &c., contrary to the orders of the Commissioners.

LXV. If any such drain, privy, or cess-pool be constructed, after the passing of this Act, contrary to the directions and regulations of the Divisional Commissioners, or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or if any person, without the consent of the Divisional Commissioners, constructs, re-builds, or unstops, any drain, privy, or cess-pool which has been ordered by them to be demolished or stopped up, or not to be made, every person so doing shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and the Divisional Commissioners may cause such amendment or alteration to be made in any such drain, privy, or cess-pool as they think fit; and the expense thereof shall be paid by the person by whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool was improperly constructed, rebuilt, or unstopped, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Inspection of drains, privies, and cess-pools.

LXVI. The Divisional Commissioners, or any Officer appointed by them for the purpose, may inspect any such drain, privy, or cesspool, and for that purpose, any time between sunrise and sunset, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing to the occupier of the premises to which such drain, privy, or cesspool is attached, may enter upon any lands and buildings with such assistants and workmen as are necessary, and cause the ground to be opened where they or he may think fit, and if, upon such inspection, it appears that the drain, privy, or cess-pool is not in good order and condition, or that it has been constructed after the passing of this Act contrary to the provisions thereof, the expenses of such inspection shall be paid by the person to whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool may belong; but if the drain, privy, or cess-pool be found to be in proper order and condition and not to have been constructed in violation of the provisions of this Act, the Divisional Commissioners or Officer as aforesaid shall cause the ground to be closed and made good as soon as may be; and the expenses of opening, closing, and making good such drain, privy, or cess-pool shall, in that case, be defrayed by the Divisional Commissioners. Provided always that nothing hereinbefore contained shall authorize an entry into the zenanas or private appartments appropriated to the females of Hindoo and Mussulman families for the purpose of such inspection, except by the agency of women.

Proviso.

Service of notice on owners and occupiers of buildings and lands.

LXVII. Where any notice is required by this Act to be given to the owner or occupier of any building or land, such notice, addressed to the owner or occupier as the case may require, may be served upon the occupier of such building or land, or left with some adult male member or servant of his family, or, if the notice cannot be so served, or if there be no occupier, may be put up on some conspicious part of such building or land, and it shall not be necessary in any such notice to name the occupier or the owner. Provided always that, when the owner and his residence are known to the Commissioners by whom the notice is issued, it shall be their duty, if such owner be residing within the limits of their authority, to cause every notice, required to be given to the owner of any building or land, to be served on such owner or left with some adult male member or servant of his family; and, if the owner be not resident within such limits, they shall send every such notice by Post addressed to his residence, and proof of delivery of the notice at the Post Office shall be held to be due service of the same.

Commissioners, in default of owner or occupier, may execute works and recover expenses.

LXVIII. Whenever, under the provisions of this Act, any work is required to be executed by the owner or occupier of any building or land, and default is made in the execution of such works, the Divisional Commissioners, whether any penalty is or is not provided for such default, may cause such work to be executed; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the person by whom such work ought to have been executed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to levy charges on ocupier, who may deduct the same from his rent.

LXIX. If the defaulter be the owner of the building or land, the Divisional Commissioners may, by way of additional remedy, whether any action or proceeding has been brought or taken against any such owner or not, require the payment of all or any part of the expenses payable by the owner for the time being, from the person who then or at any time thereafter occupies the building or land under such owner, and, in default of payment thereof by such occupier on demand, the same may be levied by distress of the goods and chattels of such occupier; and every such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent payable by him to his landlord so much as is so paid by or recovered from him in respect of any such expenses.

Occupier not to be liable for more than the amount of rent due.

LXX. No occupier of any building or land shall be liable to pay more money, in respect of any expenses charged by this Act on the owner thereof, than the amount of rent due from him for the premises in respect of which such expenses are payable at the time of the demand made upon him, or which at any time after such demand has accrued and become payable by him, unless he neglect or refuse, upon application made to him for that purpose by the Commissioners, truly to disclose the amount of his rent and the name and address of the person to whom such rent is payable; but the burden of proof that the sum demanded of any such occupier is greater than the rent which was due by him at the time of such demand or which has since accrued, shall lie upon such occupier; provided further that nothing herein contained shall be taken to affect any special contract made between any such owner or occupier respecting the payment of the expenses of any such works as aforesaid.

LXXI. Whenever default is made by the owner of any building or land, in the execution of any work required to be executed by him, the occupier of such building or land may, with the approval of the Divisional Commissioners, cause such work to be executed, and the expense thereof shall be paid to him by the owner, or the amount may be deducted out of the rent from time to time becoming due from him to such owner.

Occupier in default of owner, may execute works and deduct expenses from his rent.

LXXII. If the occupier of any building or land prevent the owner thereof from carrying into effect, in respect of such building or land, any of the provisions of this Act, after notice of his intention so to do has been given by the owner to such occupier, any Magistrate, upon proof thereof, may give an order in writing requiring such occupier to permit the owner to execute all such works with respect to such building or land as may be necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this Act; and if, after the expiration of eight days from the date of the order, such occupier continue to refuse to permit such owner to execute such works, such occupier shall, for every day during which he so continues to refuse, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and every such owner, during the continuance of such refusal, shall be discharged from any penalties to which he might otherwise have become liable by reason of his default in executing such works.

Proceedings in case of tenants opposing the execution of this Act.

LXXIII. Except as is in the concluding paragraph of this Section provided, all public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works existing at the time of the passing of this Act or afterwards made, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land (not being private property) appertaining to any public tank, shall be vested in and belong to the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which the same are respectively situated. Provided always that all tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, and other water-works, forming part of or appertaining to any general system of water-supply to be hereafter undertaken by the Central Commissioners, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land not being private property, shall be vested in and belong to the Central Commissioners.

Tanks, &c., vested in the Commissioners.

LXXIV. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners to whom they respectively belong shall cause all existing public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works used for the supply of water to the inhabitants or for the other purposes mentioned in this Act, to be continued, maintained, and supplied with water; or they shall substitute other such works and shall cause them to be maintained and supplied with water; and the Divisional Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners at a meeting held under Section XIII of Act of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and so far as the funds at their disposal will permit, from time to time construct aqueducts for bringing water into the Division under their authority, and may provide any number of new tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, and other such water-works for the purposes aforesaid.

Construction and maintenance of works for supply of water.

LXXV. The Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, cause all necessary works, machinery, and assistance for securing an efficient supply of water in cases of fire, to be provided and maintained.

Provision for supply of water in cases of fire.

LXXVI. Whoever, except as permitted by the Divisional Commissioners under Section LXXIX, bathes in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, or aqueduct belonging to the Central Commissioners or to the Divisional Commissioners; or washes or causes to be washed therein, any horse, dog, or other animal, or any wool, cloth, or wearing apparel, or any utensils for cooking or other purposes, or leather, or the skin of any animal, or other foul or offensive thing; or throws, puts, or casts, or causes to enter therein, any animal or any gravel, stone, dust, or rubbish, or any dirt, filth, or other noisome or offensive matter or thing; or causes or suffers to run, drain, or be brought thereinto, the water of any sink, sewer, drain, engine, or boiler, or any other unwholesome or offensive liquid matter or thing belonging to him or flowing from any house or building or from any ground occupied by him; or does any thing whatsoever whereby any such water shall be in any degree fouled or corrupted, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

been so fouled or corrupted, then such expenses, and all damages occasioned by the examination, shall be paid by the Divisional Commissioners.

Injuring water-works or diverting or wasting water.

LXXVIII. Whoever wilfully or carelessly injures any water-works belonging to the Central Commissioners or to the Divisional Commissioners, or unlawfully draws off, diverts, or takes water from any such water-works, or from any waters or streams belonging to the said Commissioners respectively by which such water-works are supplied, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Commissioners may set apart bathing places, &c.

LXXIX. The Central Commissioners may, at their discretion, set apart any public ghaut or place, or any part of the strand of any river (not being private property), for the purpose of being used as a bathing place; and may also provide or set apart a sufficient number of convenient tanks or runs of water for the inhabitants to bathe in, and may also set apart tanks or reservoirs, or runs of water, for washing animals or clothes, or for any other purpose connected with the health, cleanliness, and comfort of the inhabitants.

Bye-laws to regulate—

LXXX. The Central Commissioners may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws—

The use of water.

For regulating all or any matters and things whatsoever connected with the water to be supplied by them, and the use of such water for any of the purposes mentioned in this Act—

Bathing places.

And for regulating the time and place of bathing for persons of each sex in the places provided or appointed by them for the purpose of bathing, in such manner as shall appear to the Commissioners necessary, making due allowance for the habits and customs of the country.

Power to fill up unwholesome tanks, &c., on private premises.

LXXXI. When any private tank or low marshy ground, or any waste or stagnant water, being within any private enclosure, appears to the Divisional Commissioners to be injurious to health, or to be offensive to the neighbourhood, it shall be lawful for the Divisional Commissioners to require, by notice in writing, the owner of the said premises to cleanse or fill up such tank or marshy ground, or to drain off or remove such stagnant water; and if he shall refuse or neglect to comply with such requisition during eight days from the service thereof, the said Commissioners, their Officers, and workmen, may enter into the said premises and do all necessary acts for all or any of the purposes aforesaid as they shall think fit; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owners of such premises, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to drain off and cleanse stagnant pools in open places.

LXXXII. The Divisional Commissioners are hereby empowered, from time to time, as they shall see fit, to drain off into any sewers belonging to them, and cleanse and fill up, or otherwise abate, any stagnant pool, ditch, tank, pond, or other receptacle of water (the same not being within any private enclosure) which shall appear to them to be useless or unnecessary, or likely to prove injurious to the health of the inhabitants, whether the same be the private property of any person or otherwise; and the Divisional Commissioners, their Officers, and workmen, may do all necessary acts for effecting any of the purposes aforesaid.

Commissioners in executing works to provide roads, &c., where existing ones are injured.

LXXXIII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively, in executing any works directed or authorized by this Act to be made, shall provide and make, at their own expense, a sufficient number of convenient ways, water-courses, drains, and channels in the place of such as may be interrupted, injured, or rendered useless by reason of the execution of such works; and, in case of any difference arising between the said Commissioners respectively and the persons affected thereby, such difference shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

LXXXVI. If the person to whom any such pipes or works belong, or under whose control they may be, do not proceed forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be after the receipt of such notice, to cause the same to be raised, sunk, or altered, in such manner as the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners, with such consent as aforesaid, require, the said Commissioners may themselves cause such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or altered, as they think fit; provided that such works be not permanently injured thereby, or the water or gas prevented from flowing as freely and conveniently as before.

Hoards to be set up during repairs.

LXXXVII. Every person intending to build or take down any building, or to alter or repair the outward part of any building where any street or footway will be obstructed or rendered inconvenient by means of such work shall, before beginning the same, and having first obtained a license in writing from the Divisional Commissioners so to do, cause sufficient hoards or fences to be put up, in order to separate the building where such works are being carried on from the street or footway, and shall continue such hoard or fence standing and in good condi- to the satisfaction of the said Commission- such time as the public safety or requires, and shall cause the same to lighted during the night; and who begins to build, or take repair, any building contrary this Section, or who, without up any hoards, scaffolding, who, being licensed, fails oard, or to continue the condition as aforesaid who does not, while standing, keep the the night, or who directed by the days, shall be fifty Rupees, fifty Rupees, ntinued after aid Commis- ssioners and ommissioners during the ir by them ets, sewers, take proper nt, by shor- houses, and o be fixed to prevent r vehicles, arried on, said Com- y sewer or g the con- be sufficie- e night; and es any of the nguishes any of the said able to a Penalty for not lighting deposits of building materials or excavations.

LXXXIX. No persons except the Central Commissioners shall deposit any building materials, or make a hole in any street, without the permission of the Divisional Commissioners; and when such permission is granted to any person, he shall, at his own expense, cause such materials, or such hole, to be sufficiently fenced and enclosed until the materials are removed, or the hole is filled up, or otherwise made secure; and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and whoever, except as aforesaid, deposits materials, or makes a hole without such permission, or fails to fence or enclose and light such materials or hole, or does not remove such materials, or fill up such hole when the permission has been withdrawn, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the said Commissioners.

Dangerous places near streets to be repaired or enclosed.

XC. If any building, tank, well, or hole, or other place, be, for want of sufficient repair, protection, or enclosure, dangerous to passengers, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause the same to be repaired, protected, or enclosed, so as to prevent danger therefrom; and the expenses of such repair, protection, or enclosure, shall be paid to the said Commissioners by the owner of the property so repaired, protected, or enclosed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Slaughter-houses within certain limits to be registered.

XCI. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta which (if any) shall be specially prescribed by the Government for the purpose, every place used as a slaughter-house shall, within one month after the passing of this Act, be registered by the owner or occupier at the Office of the Central Commissioners in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of that time, and after eight days' notice from the said Commissioners, uses or permits to be used any slaughter-house without its being registered, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day during which such place shall be so used without having been registered.

Commissioners may order existing slaughter-houses to be discontinued.

XCII. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Central Commissioners that any place used as a slaughter-house within the said limits is a nuisance to the neighbourhood, they may give notice to the occupier to discontinue such use thereof within one month; and whoever, after the expiration of that time, uses such place, or permits it to be used as a slaughter-house, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding two hundred Rupees, for every day during which it shall be so used.

No slaughter-houses to be newly set up without license.

XCIII. No place shall be used as a slaughter-house within the prescribed limits which was not in such use at the time of the passing of this Act, and has not so continued ever since, unless and until a license in writing for the use thereof as a slaughter-house has been obtained from the Central Commissioners, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without such license, uses as a slaughter-house any place within such limits not used as such at the time of the passing of this Act, and so continued to be used ever since, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, and to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day, after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

Commissioners to provide places for slaughter-houses.

XCIV. The Central Commissioners may, from time to time, if they shall think fit, with the consent of the Government, provide places for the purpose of being used as slaughter-houses, and they are hereby empowered to make bye-laws for and with respect to the management and charges for the use of such places.

Markets, slaughter-houses, &c., to be properly drained.

XCV. Every owner, occupier, or farmer of any market for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or of any slaughter-house within the prescribed limits, shall cause such drains to be made therein as shall be considered sufficient by the Divisional Commissioners, and (if required so to do by the said Commissioners) shall cause all the floors and drains to be paved with stone or burnt brick, and shall also cause a supply of water to be provided sufficient for keeping such market or slaughter-house in a clean and wholesome state; and if such owner occupier, or farmer, after notice in writing given to him by the said Commissioners that such market or slaughter-house is defective in any of the said particulars, and requiring him to remedy the defect specified within not less than thirty days, makes default therein, he shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day during which such default is continued.

Commissioners may make bye-laws for the inspection of slaughter-houses.

XCVI. The Central Commissioners may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of all such markets and of all slaughter-houses within the prescribed limits, and for the management and conduct of the business therein, and for keeping the same in a cleanly and proper state, and for removing filth at least once in every twenty-four hours.

Keeping unwholesome food in market, or in shops.

XCVII. Whoever keeps in any market, shop, building, stall, or place used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or exposes or allows to be exposed for sale in any other place or way any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetable, which is unfit for the food of man, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence.

Sale of unwholesome food or drink.

XCVIII. Whoever sells, or offers or exposes for sale, within the Town of Calcutta, as food or drink for man, any article which has been rendered or has become noxious or unfit for such use, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and such article shall be forfeited and disposed of as the Magistrate shall direct; and it shall be lawful for any Magistrate, on the application of the Divisional Commissioners, or any of their Officers, setting forth that there is just cause to believe that any such article is in the possession of any person for the purpose of being sold or offered or exposed for sale as aforesaid, to grant a warrant to such Commissioners or their Officers to enter upon the premises of such person, and to search for and seize such article; and if it appear to the Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that the same is noxious or unfit for such use, he shall order such article to be forfeited and disposed of in such way as to him shall seem proper.

Power to Comissioners to enter and inspect slaughter-houses, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

XCIX. The Divisional Commissioners, or any person appointed by them for that purpose, may at all reasonable times, with or without assistants, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall, or place used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables, which may be therein; and in case any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables, appear to be intended for the food of man and to be unfit for such food, may seize the same; and if it appear to a Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that such animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables, is unfit for the food of man, he shall order the same to be destroyed, or to be so disposed of as to prevent its being exposed for sale, or used for such food; and the owner thereof, or the person in whose possession the same is found, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Suspension or revocation of license, &c.

C. The Magistrate, before whom any person is convicted of an offence contrary to the provisions of this Act relating to slaughter-houses, or of the non-observance of any of the bye-laws relating thereto made by virtue of this Act, in addition to the penalty imposed on such person under the authority of this Act, may suspend, for any period not exceeding two months, the license granted to such person under this Act; or in case such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid, for any period not exceeding two months, the slaughtering of cattle therein; and the Magistrate, upon the conviction of any person for a second or other subsequent like offence, in addition to the penalty imposed under the authority of this Act, may declare the license granted under this Act revoked; or if such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid absolutely the slaughtering of cattle therein.

Penalty for using slaughter-houses during suspension or revocation of license.

CI. Whoever, during the period for which any such license is suspended, or after the same is revoked as aforesaid, slaughters cattle or allows cattle to be slaughtered in the slaughter-house to which such license relates, and whoever, during the period that the slaughtering of cattle in any such registered slaughter-house is forbidden as aforesaid, or after such slaughtering has been absolutely forbidden therein, slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered, in any such registered slaughter-house, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

CII. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta (if any) which may be specially prescribed by the Government for the purpose, the owner or occupier of every place used at the time of the passing of this Act for any of the following purposes, namely, for melting tallow—or for boiling offal or blood—or as a soap house—oil-boiling house—dyeing house—tannery—brick, pottery, or lime kiln—sago manufactory—or other manufactory or place of business from which offensive or unwholesome smells arise—or as a yard or depot for hay, straw, wood, or coal—shall, within three months after this Act comes into operation, register the same at the Office of the Central Commissioners in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of the said three months, and after eight days' notice from the said Commissioners, uses any such place without the same being registered, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day during which the offence is continued.

Offensive and dangerous trades existing within certain limits to be registered.

CIII. No place shall be newly used within the prescribed limits for any of the purposes mentioned in the last preceding Section, except under a license from the Central Commissioners, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without a license, uses any such place for such purpose, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees, and a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day, after the conviction for such offence, during which the said offence is continued.

Penalty for establishing such trades without license.

CIV. The Central Commissioners may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of every place, within the prescribed limits, used for any of the purposes mentioned in Section CII, and for the management and conduct of such business, whether the same be newly established or not, in such manner as they may think necessary and proper, in order to prevent or diminish the noxious or injurious or offensive effect thereof.

Commissioners to make rules for licensing, registering, &c., such business places.

CV. The Central Commissioners may, if they think fit, cause a survey and measurement to be made of every burial ground and every place used as such; and every such place, and every burning ground existing at the time of the passing of this Act, shall, within one month after this Act shall come into operation, be registered by the owner or the person having the control thereof, or, if there be no owner or person authorized to control the same, by order of the said Commissioners, in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of the said time, knowingly buries, or burns, or causes, procures, or suffers to be buried or burned any corpse in any ground other than such registered burial or burning ground, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Burial and Burning grounds to be registered.

CVI. No vault or grave shall be made within the walls of, or underneath, any church or chapel, or other place of public worship built after the passing of this Act; and no burial or burning ground, whether public or private, shall be opened, made, or formed after the passing of this Act, otherwise than by or under the authority of the Government, without a license, describing the extent and boundaries thereof, first obtained from the Central Commissioners, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever shall bury or burn, or cause, permit, or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpse in any vault, grave, or burial or burning ground opened, made, or formed without such license or contrary to the terms thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

No vault or burial or burning place henceforth to be constructed without leave of Commissioners.

CVII. If, upon the evidence of competent persons, the Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Government, shall certify in manner hereinafter provided, that any burial ground or place of burial, or any place used for the burning of corpses, is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof, or that any church or other place of public worship is dangerous to the health of persons frequenting the same, by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of, or underneath the same, or in any church-yard or burial ground adjacent thereto, and shall also certify that a fitting place for interment or burning (as the case may be) exists within a convenient distance, and is available, it shall not be lawful, after a time (not less than two months) to be named in such certificate, to bury or burn, or permit or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpses in, upon, within, or under the ground, church, or place of worship to which the certificate relates, except in so far as may be allowed by such certificate; and whoever, after due publication of such certificate as hereinafter provided, buries or burns, or causes, permits, or suffers to be buried or burned, any corpse contrary to this enactment, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees. Provided always that every such certificate shall be published in the Government Gazette, and that a translation thereof in Bengallee shall, in the case of a burial or burning ground, be affixed conspicuously on some part of the said ground.

Commissioners to issue certificates prohibiting improper burial places.

Proviso.

CVIII. Notwithstanding any such certificate as in the preceding Section mentioned, where by usage or otherwise there is, at the time of the passing of this Act, any right of interment in or under any church or chapel, or in any vault of such church or chapel, or of any church-yard, burial ground, or place of burial affected by such certificate, or where any exclusive right of interment, or any exclusive right to ground for the purpose of interment, has been purchased or acquired before the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for the Central Commissioners, if, on application made to them, they are satisfied that the exercise of such right or the use of such ground will not be injurious to health, to grant a license for such exercise or use during such time and subject to such conditions and restrictions as they may think fit.

Commissioners may, in certain cases, permit interment in churches, &c.

CIX. The Central Commissioners may, from time to time, out of the funds available for the purposes of this Act, with the consent of the Government, provide fitting places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

Commissioners may provide places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

CX. The Central Commissioners may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection and regulation of burial and burning grounds, and may thereby prescribe rules as to the depth of graves and places of interment, and generally as to all matters connected with the good order of burial and burning grounds, due regard being had to the religious usages of the several classes of the community.

Commissioners to make bye-laws for regulation of burial and burning grounds.

CXI. The Central Commissioners shall, upon such information as they may be able to obtain, cause to be registered the name, sex, age, religion, residence, and cause of death of every person whose body is brought to any of the said burial or burning grounds, and also, so far as is practicable, the like particulars of every other person who dies within the said Town.

Registry of deaths.

CXII. The Commissioners, whether Central or Divisional, shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power by themselves or their officers, between sunrise and sunset, to enter into and upon any building or land, as well for the purpose of making any survey or inspection which they may be entitled to make, as for the purpose of executing any work authorized by this Act to be executed by them, without being liable to any legal proceedings or molestation whatsoever on account of such entry or of any thing done in any part of such building or land in pursuance of this Act. Provided that, except when herein otherwise provided, the said Commissioners or their officers shall not enter upon any building or land which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof, without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of his or their intention to do so.

Power to enter upon lands for the purposes of this Act.

Proviso.

CXIII. The Commissioners, whether Central or Divisional, or their officers or servants, may enter upon the land of any person adjoining to, or being within the distance of one hundred yards of any works by this Act authorized to be made, for the purpose of depositing upon such land, any soil, gravel, sand, lime, brick, stone, or other materials, or for any other purposes connected with the formation of the said works, without making any previous payment, tender, or deposit, doing as little damage as may be in the exercise of the several powers hereby granted to them, and making compensation for such temporary occupation or temporary damage of the said land to the owner and occupier thereof, from time to time, and as often as any such temporary occupation shall be taken or such temporary damage done, and making compensation to the owner also for the permanent injury (if any) to such land; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses. Provided that, before the said Commissioners make any such temporary use as aforesaid of the land adjoining or lying near to the said works, they shall give fourteen days' notice of such their intention to the owners and occupiers of such land, and shall set apart, by sufficient fences, so much of the land as shall be required to be used as aforesaid, from the other land adjoining thereto.

Power to Commissioners to enter on lands adjacent to works.

Proviso.

CXIV. Whoever at any time obstructs or molests the Commissioners, whether Divisional or Central, or any of their officers or workmen, or any person employed by them or with whom they may have contracted under the provisions of this Act, in the performance and execution of their or his duty or of any thing which they are respectively empowered or required to do by virtue or in consequence of this Act; or removes any mark set up for the purpose of indicating any level or direction necessary to the execution of works authorized by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, or, in the discretion of the Magistrate before whom he is convicted, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months.

Penalty for obstructing Commissioners in their duty.

CXV. For the purpose of constructing aqueducts for bringing water into the Town of Calcutta, from any place without the limits of the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature; or for the purpose of making sewers or drains to communicate with or empty themselves into any public sewer, lake, stream, canal, or water-course without the said limits, it shall be lawful, whenever a plan for any such aqueduct, sewer, or drain shall have been approved by the Government, for the Central Commissioners, and their officers, with such assistants as they may require, to exercise, in the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain throughout the line of country through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, all the powers which, by this Act, it is lawful for them to exercise within the said local limits, and which may be necessary for the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain, without being subject to any action or molestation whatever for so doing; and it shall also be lawful for any Magistrate of any district through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, to exercise in respect thereof the like powers and jurisdiction within the limits of his own district as it is by this Act lawful for a Magistrate or two Magistrates (as the case may be) of the said Town of Calcutta to exercise in respect of any work to be executed by the said Commissioners within the said local limits.

Powers to be exercised by the Commissioners when constructing drains and aqueducts without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

CXVI. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the central Commissioners may, from time to time, make such bye-laws as they think fit for the several purposes for which bye-laws are hereinbefore authorized to be made by them, and may, from time to time, repeal, alter, or amend any such bye-laws; provided such bye-laws be not repugnant to law or to the provisions of this Act; and for any breach of any of such bye-laws the offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, and, in case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day, after notice of the offence from the said Commissioners respectively, during which such offence is continued.

Commissioner empowered to make bye-laws.

CXVII. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall have effect until the same is confirmed by the Government.

Bye-laws to be confirmed.

CXVIII. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall be confirmed until the same has been published in the Government Gazette or in one of the public newspapers at least seven times, nor till the space of one month has elapsed since the date of the first publication, during which period a copy of such proposed bye-law shall be kept at the Office of the Commissioners, by whom the law has been made; and all persons may, at any time between ten o'clock in the morning and five o'clock in the afternoon, inspect such copy without fee or reward.

Notice of confirmation.

CXIX. Such bye-laws, when confirmed, shall be published in the Government Gazette and in one or more of the public newspapers, and a copy thereof, in English and in Bengalee, shall be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the Commissioners by whom the same has been made.

Publication of bye laws.

CXX. All Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of such bye-laws when the same shall have been confirmed and published as aforesaid.

Bye-laws to be judicially noticed.

CXXI. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively shall publish short particulars of the several offences for which any penalty is imposed by this Act, or by any bye-law made under this Act, and of the amount of every such penalty, and shall cause such particulars, in English, Bengali, and Urdu, to be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the said Commissioners, respectively, by whom the same is published.

Publication of Penalties.

CXXII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively may enter into contracts with any persons for the execution of any works directed or authorized by this Act to be done by them respectively or for any other things necessary for the purposes of this Act.

Power to Commissioners to make contracts.

CXXIII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively may direct any prosecution for any public nuisance whatsoever, and may order proceedings to be taken for the recovery of any penalties and for the punishment of any persons offending against the provisions of this Act, and may order the expenses of such prosecution or other proceedings to be paid out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act. But nothing in this Section shall be held to hinder any person from prosecuting any other person for any nuisance, if so disposed.

Commissioners may direct prosecutions

CXXIV. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to render lawful any act or omission on the part of any person which is, or but for this Act would be deemed to be, a nuisance at common law, nor to exempt any person, guilty of a nuisance at common law, from prosecution or action in respect thereof. Provided that, if any person, convicted of an offence under this Act, shall have paid the whole amount adjudged to be paid under such conviction, and the costs thereof, in every such case he shall be released from all further or other criminal proceedings for the same offence.

Act not to affect nuisances at common law.

Proviso.

CXXV. No writ or process shall be issued out against or served upon the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners respectively or any of them or any of their officers, or any person acting under the direction of the said Commissioners respectively, for any thing done or intended to be done under the powers of this Act, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered or left at the Office of such Commissioners or at the place of abode of such person, explicitly stating the cause of action, and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff, and of his attorney or agent in the cause; and, upon the trial of any such action, the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action, except such as is stated in the notice so delivered, and unless the service of such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant; and every such action shall be commenced within three months next after the date of the cause of action, and not afterwards; and if any person to whom any such notice of action is given shall, before action brought, tender sufficient amends to the complainant, such complainant shall not recover in any such action when brought; and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issue joined, to pay into Court such some of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

No writ or process to be issued against Commissioners or their officers until after one month's notice of cause of action, &c.

CXXVI. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively may make compensation out of the funds in their hands respectively applicable to the purposes of this Act, to all persons sustaining any damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested in them, their officers, or servants, under and by virtue of this Act.

Power to make compensation out of funds

CXXVII. When there is any hindrance to the acquisition by purchase of any land or building required for the purposes of this Act, the Government, upon the representation of the Central Commissioners, and after such inquiry as may be thought proper, may declare that the land or building is needed for a public purpose, and may order proceedings for obtaining possession of the same for Government, and for determining the compensation to be paid to the parties interested, according to any laws now or hereafter to be in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes. And the Government may vest such land or building in the Central Commissioners on their paying the compensation awarded.

Mode of ascertaining compensation for land, &c.

CXXVIII. The Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners respectively, as the case may be, with the consent of the Government, may sell any lands vested in them by virtue of this Act, or acquired by them for the purposes thereof, either together or in parcels as they may find most convenient and advantageous, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the purposes of this Act: and for carrying such sale into effect such Commissioners respectively may execute a conveyance of the lands sold to the purchaser, and such conveyance shall be under the common seal of the said Commissioners.

Power to sell lands.

Power to sell old roads.

CXXIX. Whenever any street or road hereby vested in the Divisional Commissioners respectively, shall be discontinued and stopped up under the provisions of Section VI of this Act, the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Government, may sell the land or such part thereof as shall not be required for the purposes of this Act.

Fees for Licenses.

CXXX. When any license is granted under the provisions of Section LXII, XCIII, or CIII of this Act, authorizing the use of any place for any of the purposes therein described, and when permission is given under Section XIX for making any temporary erection, or under Section XXXV for putting up any projection, the Commissioners granting the same may charge a fee for such license or permission; and the rates of the fees to be so charged shall be from time to time adjusted by the Central Commissioners with the sanction of the Government, provided that no such fee shall exceed the sum of one hundred Rupees. When permission or license is given for the temporary occupation of any ground belonging to any of the said Commissioners under the provisions of Section LXXXVII or Section LXXXIX, such Commissioners may charge rent for such ground, according to the time the occupation may continue, at such rates as may from time to time be sanctioned by the Government. All sums received by Commissioners under this Section shall be applied by them to the purposes of this Act.

Damages and expenses how to be determined.

CXXXI. In all cases where any damages, costs, or expenses are by this Act directed to be paid, the amount of the same, in case of dispute, shall be ascertained and determined by two Magistrates.

Method of proceeding before Magistrates in questions of damages, &c.

CXXXII. In any case referred to the determination of two Magistrates, under this Act, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate, upon the application of either party, to summon the other party to appear before any two Magistrates, at a time and place to be named in such summons; and every such summons shall be served by delivering the original or a copy thereof to the person summoned, or by leaving the same at his usual place of abode with some adult male member or servant of his family. Upon the appearance of the parties, or in the absence of any of them, upon proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such Magistrates to hear and determine such question, and for that purpose, to examine such parties or any of them and their witnesses on oath; and the cost of every such enquiry shall be in the discretion of such Magistrates, and they shall determine the amount thereof. Provided that, in the event of a difference of opinion between such Magistrates, the case shall be referred to the determination of a third Magistrate or (if there be no such Magistrate) of any Justice of the Peace to be selected by them.

Proviso.

Recovery of damages by distress

CXXXIII. If the amount of damages, costs, or expenses, ascertained in the manner above described, be not paid by the party liable to pay the same within seven days after demand, such amount may be recovered, under a warrant from the said Magistrates or either of them, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such party; and the overplus arising from the sale thereof, after satisfying such amount and the costs of the distress and sale, shall be returned on demand to the party whose goods shall have been distrained.

Commissioners may sue in competent Court, instead or on failure of distress.

CXXXIV. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of any expenses, charges, or damages awarded under the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners to whom such expenses, charges, or damages have been awarded, may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Distress not unlawful for want of form.

CXXXV. No distress levied by virtue of this Act shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio on account of any irregularity afterwards committed by him; but all persons aggrieved by such irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Recovery of fines and penalties.

CXXXVI. Every prosecution under this Act may be instituted before any single person having the powers of a Magistrate, unless where otherwise provided; and every fine or penalty imposed under or by virtue of this Act, or any bye-law made in pursuance thereof, may be recovered by summary proceeding before a Magistrate upon information exhibited by order of the Commissioners.

How fines and penalties are to be applied.

CXXXVII. The Magistrate by whom any fine or penalty is imposed by virtue of this Act may award any portion not being more than one-half thereof to the informer, and shall order the remainder—or, if he make no award to the informer, the whole of such fine or penalty,—to be paid to the Central Commissioners, to be by them applied to the purposes of this Act.

No person liable to fine or penalty unless complaint made within two months after offence committed.

CXXXVIII. No person shall be liable to any fine or penalty under this Act, for any offence made cognizable before a Magistrate, unless the complaint respecting such offence shall have been made before a Magistrate within two months next after the commission of such offence.

Damage to the Commissioners' property to be made good in addition to penalty.

CXXXIX. If through any act, neglect, or default, on account whereof any person shall have incurred any penalty imposed by this Act, any damage to the property of any of the Commissioners shall have been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage, as well as to pay such penalty; and the amount of such damage shall, in case of dispute, be determined by the Magistrate by whom the party incurring such penalty shall have been convicted; and, on non-payment of such damage on demand, the same shall be levied by distress, and such Magistrate shall issue his warrant accordingly.

Police Officers to report offences to Commissioners and to arrest unknown offenders.

CXL. It shall be the duty of all Police Officers to give immediate information to the respective Divisional Commissioners of any offence committed contrary to the provisions of this Act, within the limits of their respective divisions. Any Police Officer may arrest any person committing in his view any offence against any of the provisions of this Act, if the name and address of such persons be unknown to him, or if such person decline to give his name and address, or if the Police Officer in question shall have reason to doubt the accuracy of such name and address, if given: and such person may be detained at the Station House until his name and address shall be correctly ascertained.

Certain provisions of Conservancy Act extended.

CXLI. If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall have determined that any portion of the environs of the Town of Calcutta shall (under Section XLI of Act of 1862 of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal) be included in the system of sewérage and drainage authorized by that Act, and if the said Lieutenant-Governor shall have declared the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, then Sections XLIV to LX, both inclusive, of this Act shall have effect within the boundaries so declared; and all penalties, expenses, and compensation which, under the said Sections and by the provisions of this Act, may be adjudged and determined by a Magistrate or by two Magistrates acting in and for the Town of Calcutta, may be adjudged and determined within such boundaries by the Magistrate having jurisdiction therein.

Recovery of expenses on account of improvements to private property.

CXLII. Whenever any of the Central or of the Divisional Commissioners shall have incurred any expenses in the execution of any of the works which, under Sections XXIV, LI, and LIII of this Act, the owners of any premises, houses, or buildings are required to execute, such Commissioners may either recover the amount of such expenses in the manner therein provided, or, if they think fit, may take engagements from the said owners for the quarterly payment of such sums as will be sufficient to defray the whole amount of the said expenses, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, within a period not exceeding five years; and such sums, when due, may be recovered by the same process by which rates may be recovered under the Incorporated Act.

Commencement of Act.

CXLIII. This Act shall commence and take effect from and after the 1st of January 1863.

SUMMARY OF CONSTRUCTION OF INCOME TAX ACTS, NOS. XXXII. AND XXXIX. OF 1860.

No. 177.

Bank or Trade,

Carried on at two or more places—return of profits where to be delivered, and assessment by whom to be made.

Act XXXII. of 1860.
Section XLVII.
Section XCVIII.
Rules 36 and 42, and Section LII.

WHEN the Branch of a Banking or Trading Firm carries on an independent business, and a balance of profit and loss is struck by such Branch irrespectively of the accounts of the Head Firm, the Return of the actual profits made by such Branch should be delivered to the Assessor of the place where the Branch is established, and that Officer should proceed to make his assessment upon such Return.

If the accounts of the Branch of a Banking or Trading Firm are incorporated in the accounts of the Head Office, and are taken into consideration in the general calculation of profit and loss made in that Office, the Returns of the Branch should still be delivered to the Assessor of the place in which the Branch is established, although in the proper Column no profits may be entered, but the remark that a balance of profit and loss had been struck at the Head Office of the Firm, mentioning the place where the Head Office is held. In any such case the Assessor might accept the fact, and refrain from making any assessment; or if, in accordance with Section XLVII., Act XXXII. of 1860, he should declare that the Branch delivering such Return ought to be assessed, and the Collector of the District in which such Branch is established should assess the Branch in the exercise of the discretionary power vested in him by Section LII. of the said Act, the Head Office should have no difficulty in proving that the Return made by it included the profits derived from the transactions of such Branch, and in obtaining relief from the two-fold assessment under the Rules for affording relief in cases of double assessments.—(Financial Department Order No. 97, dated 27th October 1860)

Fort William, the 3rd May 1862.

No. 498 of 1862.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following appointment :—

Lieutenant-Colonel G. E. Voyle, of Artillery, Officiating as Director of the Artillery Depôt of Instruction at Meerut, to officiate as Agent for the manufacture of Gunpowder at Ishapore during the period Colonel Eyre may officiate as Inspector-General of Ordnance and Magazines, or until further orders.

Fort William, the 5th May 1862.

No. 499 of 1862.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to appoint Deputy Inspector-General of Her Majesty's Hospitals, John Charles Graham Tice, M. D., C. B., to be a Member of the Commission convened under Government General Order No. 457 of the 22nd ultimo, in room of Surgeon W. Munro, M. D., who is unable to take up the duties from ill health.

No. 500 of 1862.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish, for general information, the following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 136, dated 31st March 1862 :—

Para. 1. (No. 30.) "On receipt of your letter dated 3rd January last, I lost no time in bringing under the favorable consideration of the General Commanding-in-Chief the proposal contained therein for an extension of the period of service on the Divisional Staff of Major-General Sir Sidney Cotton, K. C. B., with the expression of my hope that this distinguished Officer might be permitted to hold, until the 1st November next, the important Command which he has exercised with so much success.

2. "I am now informed that there is no objection on the part of His Royal Highness to this arrangement."

No. 501 of 1862.—The following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 133 of the 21st March 1862, are published for general information :—

Para. 1. "I have received and considered in Council your letter No. 375, dated 31st December 1861, transmitting correspondence relating to a Memorial from Lieutenant Williams, 13th Madras Native Infantry, praying for admission to the Madras Staff Corps, notwithstanding that he has not passed the prescribed examination in Hindustani.

2. "Paragraphs 69, 72, 73, 74, 75, of your General Order of the 10th April 1861, No. 332, offer the privilege of joining the Staff Corps to Officers now holding Staff appointments upon certain conditions. Paragraph 72 requires of them simply that they do not possess the substantive rank of Colonel.

3. "Paragraph 75 declares that those whose tenure of Staff appointment, at the time of transfer to the Staff Corps, shall have exceeded one year, will not be subjected to probation or to any introductory test other than those already prescribed for any Department in which they may be serving.

4. "Paragraph 73 admits to the Staff Corps Officers who have held Staff appointment within the last three years, upon the understanding that they shall have passed the prescribed examination in Hindustani, and did not lose their appointment through misconduct.

5. "In paragraph 75 it is also declared that the option of joining the Staff Corps will be open to those Officers only who may be considered by the Government under which they are serving to be in all respects fit for the Staff Corps.

6. "It appears that Lieutenant Williams has been for some years Adjutant of his Corps, having passed the examination required in Madras for such appointment. A case has been also brought to my notice (and there may be other similar cases) of an Officer in Bombay, who has been actually employed upon the general Staff having passed in a Vernacular language, common to the whole or a large portion of that Presidency, though not in Hindustani.

7. "It would appear hard if, by a too strict and literal application of the rule regarding the Hindustani language, the privilege of joining the Staff Corps on its first formation should be denied to Officers who have been already pronounced by their own Government qualified for certain Staff situations, and have performed their duties well therein.

8. "Taking these circumstances into consideration, as also the necessity of adopting and enforcing one uniform rule in future for all Staff Officers in regard to the examination in Hindustani, I have determined that in cases of both kinds, that is, where an Officer has qualified for a Staff employment or Department, as Lieutenant Williams appears to have done by passing the prescribed examination for that Office or Department, and also in the case of an Officer whose proficiency in any language other than Hindustani has already been accepted as qualification for general Staff, such Officers, if coming under the terms of paragraph 69 of your General Order No. 332 of the 10th April 1861, may be appointed to the Staff Corps under paragraphs 72 and 73 of that Order, provisionally, and with the understanding that they pass the examination in Hindustani required for general staff within six months from the date of their appointment to that Corps, failing which they will revert to their former Corps and position in the Service."

No. 502 of 1862.—In continuation of Government General Order No. 262 of the 7th March 1862, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish, for general information, the following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 135 of the 31st March 1862 :—

Para. 1. "I have received and considered in Council your letter No. 44, dated the 8th February 1862, containing your decision on the following question submitted by the Government of Bombay regarding the Staff Corps :—

"Question 130.*—An Officer proceeded to England on Medical Certificate in 1857, and, according to the new Furlough Regulations, was entitled to retain his appointment for a period of fifteen months.

"As he did not return on the expiration of that period, and consequently lost his appointment, are the fifteen months thus passed to be considered as Staff employ, so as to bring that Officer under the operation of paragraph 73? or, as he did not re-join his appointment at the expiration of his leave, and can hardly be said to have held an appointment within the last three years, is he debarred from entering the Staff Corps?"

"Answer 130.—This Officer is entitled to reckon for Staff Service the period of fifteen months during which he was on leave."

* Published in Government General Order No. 1118 of 6th December 1861.

2. "I am unable to approve the answer given, as it is not in accordance with the decision communicated to you in my Despatch No. 315, dated the 9th August 1861, which stated that "no leave of absence, either on Sick Certificate or Private Affairs beyond the privilege leave of one month in six, will be allowed to reckon towards the Staff Service required by the Royal Warrant as a qualification for promotion in the Staff Corps" An Officer may, however, be considered as having been on Staff employ for the period in question, so far as his claim to admission to the Staff Corps is concerned."

Fort William, the 6th May 1862.

No. 503 of 1862.—With reference to Government General Order No. 1011 of the 5th November 1861, the following paragraph of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 111 of the 24th March 1862, is published for general information :—

Para. 21. "Your General Order admitting the claims of men of the Police Levies, Horse and Foot, who were under the Command of Military Officers, and performing Military duties to share in Prize Money, is approved as far as respects Prize Money taken during the late Military operations in India, the distribution of which has, in many cases, called for special arrangement and decision."

No. 504 of 1862.—The following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 111, dated 24th March 1862, are published for general information :—

Letter dated 16*th November* 1861, No. 299.

Para. 54. "According to the usage in India, Chaplains have not hitherto been considered entitled to share in Prize Money.

Para. 35.

55 "It is stated, however, to be the practice at Chelsea Hospital to allow of their sharing in Prize property. I am of opinion that a similar rule must be established in India.

56. "The revised scale of distribution of Prize Money, commencing with the distribution of the Delhi booty, the right of Chaplains to share is to commence from the same date.

No. 505 of 1862.—The undermentioned Officers are permitted to proceed to Europe on leave of absence on Sick Certificate:—

Captain Charles Bean Lucie Smith, of the Madras Staff Corps, Deputy Commissioner, Central Provinces ...	For twenty months.
Captain James Edmund Bacon Parsons, of the Bengal Staff Corps, Assistant Commissioner, Punjab ...
Lieutenant Thomas William Evans, of the 7th Regiment Native Infantry ...	For eighteen months, under the old Regulations.

No. 506 of 1862.—The following Order issued by the Government of the Punjab is confirmed:—

No. 81, dated 19*th April* 1862.—Transferring Assistant Surgeon S. C. Courtney, 5th Punjab Infantry, to the Medical charge of the 1st Cavalry Punjab Irregular Force at Rajanpore, vice Assistant Surgeon Potter, proceeded on Furlough to Europe.

No. 507 of 1862.—The undermentioned Officer having completed twenty years' service, six years of which were on permanent Staff employ, to be Major from the date specified opposite to his name, under the Royal Warrant of the 16th January 1861, subject to Her Majesty's approval:—

Bengal Staff Corps.

Captain J. I. Gibbs ... 24th April 1862.

No. 508 of 1862.—Under the authority of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to permit Major (now Lieutenant-Colonel) Walter Stanhope Sherwill, of the late 66th or Goorkha Regiment, Lieutenant-Colonel in the Staff Corps, to retire from the Service, with effect from the 31st December last, on the pension of a Major, and with the additional annuity of (£ 180) one hundred and eighty pounds assigned to him in Government General Order No. 905 of the 8th October 1861.

Under the authority of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, notified in Government General Order No. 351 of the 25th March 1862, the admission to the Bengal Staff Corps of Major Sherwill, and his promotion in that Corps, are hereby cancelled.

No. 509 of 1862.—The following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 132 of the 31st March 1862, are published for general information, and the Governments of Fort St. George and Bombay and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India are requested to give effect to the instructions conveyed therein:—

Para. 1. "I have carefully considered in Council your Despatch No. 272 of 22nd October 1861, forwarding a letter from the Adjutant General of the Army, conveying the views of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief on the Report of the Committee, of which the late Colonel Sir George Barker, K. C. B., of the Royal Artillery, was President, on the organization and equipment of Artillery for service in India, expressing generally your concurrence in the recommendations of the Committee, and proposing certain modifications of some of their proposals.

3. "I shall now proceed to communicate to your Lordship the decisions which Her Majesty's Government have arrived at, with the full concurrence of His Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-Chief, upon these important subjects.

6. "You observe that the Madras Horse Artillery has worked with 116, and the Bengal Horse Artillery with 112 Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers, and that their work has been done in a most satisfactory manner; and in consideration of the peculiar nature of the service in India, and the necessity of reducing, as much as possible, expenditure in every branch, and especially in the Military branches of the Service, you recommend that the total Establishment of Non-Commissioned Officers, Gunners and Drivers, in each Battery of Horse and Field Artillery, should be 140, exclusive of Artificers.

7. "The General Commanding-in-Chief has given an opinion upon this point:—"That the "Establishments of the late Indian Artilleries "were not sufficient, and it often followed that, "after a general engagement, the number of Guns "had to be temporarily "reduced;* but taking "into consideration the "present requirements of "the Indian Service, and the important consider-"ations of a financial nature to which Sir C. "Wood draws attention, His Royal Highness is "not desirous of raising any objection to the re-"duced Establishment of 140 Europeans (exclusive "of Artificers) for Field Batteries."

* See General Mansfield's Minute, page 106 of Appendix to Report of Royal Commission 1859.

8. "Her Majesty's Government concur in these views, and sanction the adoption of this Establishment for Horse Artillery and Light Field Batteries for Service in India, viz., 140 Europeans of all ranks, exclusive of Commissioned Officers and Artificers.

Reserve or Garrison Batteries.

10. "The Meerut Committee have recommended a strength of 130 Non-Commissioned Officers and Gunners for Garrison or Reserve Companies of Artillery.

11. "You are of opinion "that seventy-five "Non-Commissioned Officers and Gunners will be "sufficient for Reserve or Garrison Companies, "and that with that number they will be as "strong as is necessary or expedient, under the "financial circumstances of the empire."

12. "The Establishment, and, for [illegible] ficient as a pe given, Her Majesty's Government which you ha doption. approve of its ience alone can show, however, 13. "Expe number of reserve Batteries now whether, with rganization will suffice to render proposed, the emselves efficient in Garrison and the Batteriesis, and be equal at the same time to Siege operati furnishing reinforcements, on occasional emergencies, to the Light Field Batteries. They must be looked to as available for both these purposes.

14. "I annex, for your information, Statements showing the distribution of these numbers for each description of Battery, as proposed by His Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-Chief.

Detachment System.

15. "The introduction of the Detachment system throughout the Artillery in India is approved.

HORSES.—Horse Artillery, 9-pounder Batteries.

16. "Your proposal to fix the peace Establishment of Horses for the Horse Artillery at 178, for the 9-pounder Batteries at 110, to be increased to 200 in the former case, and 130 in the latter, on a Battery taking the Field, is approved.

17. "Her Majesty's Government also approve of your proposal to change the mode in which Horses have been hitherto allotted to the several branches of the Service, and to make the selection hereafter first for the Artillery, the Horses so selected being afterwards divided between the Horse and Field Batteries.

Separate Gunner and Driver System.

18. "I have given very careful consideration to this point, and to the facts and arguments which you adduce in favor of a continuance of the mixed system which has hitherto obtained in India. I have also before me the views of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India upon this important point.

19. "The same system at one time prevailed in the British Artillery, but, after long experience, it has been found not only advisable but necessary to enlist two classes of men under the separate denomination of Gunners and Drivers, a lower standard of height and size being required for the Drivers, in consequence of the difficulty experienced in obtaining a sufficient number of men of the required size for both duties.

20. "In order to meet this difficulty, I suggested to His Royal Highness that the standard might perhaps be reduced. Upon this His Royal Highness observed that "the present standard for "Gunners of the Royal Artillery (five feet seven "inches) is as low as it can possibly be reduced, "having regard to the efficiency of the general "Service, which, with heavy ordnance, requires men "at least that height to enable them properly to per-"form their duties; but even at this standard it is "found impracticable to raise sufficient men to keep "so large a Force up to its Establishment, and hence "the necessity for enlisting men of five feet four "inches as Drivers, who, with Field Artillery, are "quite equal to the work of Gunners, when "required,"—and His Royal Highness therefore trusts the standard for Gunners will not be altered.

21. "His Royal Highness has further observed, that under this system, "although the men are "mustered respectively as Gunners and Drivers, they "are always equally available for the duties of "either grade, and in the Field Brigades at home the "Drivers, during the past year, have been through "the prescribed course of Gunner instruction, and "are found fully equal in cases of emergency to the "duties required of Gunners."

"The present strength of the Regiment, from "40,000 to 50,000, renders it," His Royal Highness observes, "impracticable to raise a sufficient number "of men to cover the casualties in so large a Force of "the standard height of Gunners, and accordingly a "proportion of men of much shorter stature are "enlisted, who are readily obtained, and who are "found better adapted for the particular duties of "Drivers than taller men; but at the same time, as "before stated, their instruction in Artillery Drills "and exercises is not lost sight of, and in a year or "two, after joining the Service, they become pro-"ficient in all that pertains to an Artilleryman's "duty."

22. "Under these circumstances, and taking into consideration the impossibility of two systems in the same Corps working harmoniously, the General Commanding-in-Chief expresses a hope that the Gunner and Driver system may be fully extended to the new Brigades and Batteries, as being the most conducive to their future efficiency.

23. "Her Majesty's Government are fully aware of the very high state of efficiency to which the Indian Artillery had attained under the system now advocated by your Government. They do not however overlook the fact that, until very lately, the number of European Drivers in the Indian Artillery was small in proportion to that of Gunners, and less difficulty was experienced in obtaining a sufficient number of men qualified for both duties. This difficulty has already been found to be insuperable in the Royal Artillery, and the separate system has been adopted and found to work exceedingly well.

24. "Under all these circumstances, Her Majesty's Government have come to the determination that it is not desirable to attempt to introduce in the Brigades serving in India a practice wholly dissimilar in this important particular from that in force with the Regiment at large, and they therefore desire that the separate system may be gradually introduced, as Drivers are sent out from this country into the whole of the Artillery in India. It will be necessary to introduce this change, as opportunity offers, by whole Batteries, re-placing by the regular Drivers the Gunners who may have hitherto served as such, and transferring the latter to other Batteries.

Contract System.

25. "Her Majesty's Government quite concur in the views you have expressed on the subject, and approve of the contract system, as it has obtained in Bengal, being adopted as the rule for the whole of the Artillery in India.

Poles and Shafts.

26. "Your proposal, that Shafts shall be substituted for the Poles in all cases, where the latter have been heretofore used, is also approved.

Points of Detail.

27. "You propose that the recommendation of the Meerut Committee, that six spare Ammunition Waggons, drawn by Bullocks, should be attached to each Battery, should be adopted.

31. "I cannot close this Despatch without conveying to you the expression of the high sense which Her Majesty's Government entertain of the public spirit and professional ability displayed by the Officers composing the Committee at Meerut, and the cordial feeling of unanimity with which they undertook and carried through the discussion of this important and complicated subject, and ultimately set at rest questions which had, for many years, given rise to difference of opinion and practice involving no little detriment to the public service.

32. "Much credit is due on this account to all the Members of the Committee, but the acknowledgments of Her Majesty's Government would have been especially due to their late distinguished President, Colonel Sir G. Barker."

Education Notice.

MEDICAL COLLEGE.

1. THE Calcutta Medical College Session of 1862-63 will commence on the 15th June next.

2. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal at the Medical College, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., on or before the 15th May next, when the vacant Free Presentations will be awarded, and the vacancies in the Class of Scholarship-holders filled up.

3. The possession of the "Entrance Examination" Certificate of the Calcutta University will entitle Students to enter the Medical College without further Examination.

4. Under certain conditions (which may be learned on application to the Principal), Students will be admitted in anticipation of passing the University Entrance Examination, but in all cases under the clear proviso that they will present themselves for that Examination when next held.

5. The course of Instruction given in the Calcutta Medical College is framed to meet the requirements of the Calcutta University for obtaining its Degrees in Medicine and Surgery.

6. The Candidates who may fail in obtaining a Scholarship or a free Presentation may be admitted as Students on payment of an Entrance Fee of 15 Rupees, and a further sum of 5 Rupees monthly during the period of their stay at the College, provided they enter into a guarantee to follow out the College Curriculum to a close and to graduate at the Calcutta University. Candidates who do not intend to graduate in Calcutta, or who wish to attend only a few courses of Lectures, may be admitted as casual Students on payment of a Fee of 40 Rupees for each course of Lectures, or 60 Rupees for six months' attendance upon any single branch of Hospital practice.

7. The Certificates of Lectures and Hospital attendance of the College are recognized by the University of London, the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London.

Notice.

WITH reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle,—

Cuttack,
Pooree.
Mahanuddy,
Balasore,

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st September 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately, or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. ARMSTRONG, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

CUTTACK,
The 29th April 1862.

Government Telegraph Department.

THE following alterations in Sections XI. and XXI. of the Revised Rules of this Department, dated 21st December 1859, have received the sanction of Government :—

Sections previous to alteration.	Sections as now altered.
XI. Dates are optional, but if given are charged for word by word.	XI. The day, hour, and minute of receipt of a Message into a Telegraph Office for transmission, is in every instance added by the Department, forming the concluding words of the text of the Message, and is telegraphed free of charge. Senders may, however, date their Messages if they think fit, but the Sender's date, if inserted, will be charged for, and in view to avoid confusion will, if given at the end, be transferred to the beginning of the text of the Message.
XXI. When a Message is delivered in an unintelligible state, a refund of the cost will be made to the Sender, if application be made within two months from the date of dispatch, provided the Message has been paid for at repetition price.	XXI. When a Message is delivered in an unintelligible state, a refund of the cost of the portion rendered unintelligible will be made to the Sender, if application be made within three months of the date of despatch, provided the Message has not been transmitted beyond the limits of India, its Dependencies, or Ceylon; and within six months, in the case of Messages for Countries beyond India, as Egypt and Europe. Such refunds will be made irrespective of whether the Message has been paid for at repetition price or not, but no refund will be given for any error in an unrepeated Message arising from wrong figures being given, unless the precaution advised in Section XVI. of these Rules shall have been adopted.

NOTICE issued by the POST-MASTER GENERAL of BENGAL.

No. 15.

THE Public are informed, that the transmission of Books and other Parcels by Banghy Post during the Monsoon or rainy months, unless they are originally packed so as to be water-proof, is attended with much risk, more especially on roads on which the Banghy Mail is conveyed by Runners, and which are often during the rains intersected by deep water-courses through which the Runners have to wade. Book Packets and Parcels not made water-tight by parties posting them will be liable to receive damage by wet.

Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XV OF 1862.

An Act to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure in regard to the extension thereof to any parts of the Territories not subject to the General Regulations; It is enacted as follows:—

With what restrictions, &c., Code of Criminal Procedure may be extended to a Non-Regulation Province.

I. When, under the provisions of Section 445 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the said Code has been or shall be extended to any part of the Territories not subject to the General Regulations of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, it shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council, or for the local Government of such Territory, to vest the Chief Officer charged with the Executive administration of a District in Criminal matters, by whatever designation such Officer is called, with power to try all offences not punishable with death, and under the provisions of the said Code to pass sentence of imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding seven years, including such solitary confinement as is authorized by law, or fine, or both.

When Sudder Court consists of one Judge.

II. When the Sudder Court in any part of the Territories to which the said Code of Criminal Procedure has been or shall be extended as aforesaid, shall consist of a single Judge, such Judge shall have all the powers of two or more Judges of the Sudder Court under Sections 398, 401, and 420 of the said Code.

Construction.

III. This Act shall be taken and read as part of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVI OF 1862.

An Act to limit in certain cases the amount of assessment to the Duties chargeable after the 31st day of July 1862 under Act XXXII of 1860 (for imposing duties on profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices) and Act XXXIX of 1860 (to amend Act XXXII of 1860), and otherwise to modify the said Acts.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, by Act XXI of 1861, power is given to limit in certain cases for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1861, the amount of assessment to the Duties chargeable under Act XXXII of 1860 (for imposing Duties on profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices) and Act XXXIX of 1860 (to amend Act XXXII of 1860); and whereas it is expedient to give similar powers in respect of the said assessment for the whole or any of the remaining three years during which the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860 are to continue in force, to raise the limit of exemption contained in Section CXVII of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and otherwise to modify the said

Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860; It is enacted as follows:—

Issue of general notice regarding the rate and amount of assessment of Duties under Schedules 1 and 2 for the year commencing 31st July 1862.

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council, by an order to be published in the Government Gazette, to direct that within the Territories or any part of the Territories subject to the local Government of any Presidency or place, the general or special notices required by Sections XXXVII and XXXVIII of the said Act XXXII of 1860 shall not be issued for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 in respect to the Duties contained in Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act, and that in such Territories or part of such Territories the Returns of profits or income chargeable with Duties under the said Schedules, as prescribed by Section XXXIX of the said Act for the year commencing as above, shall not be required; but that in the place of such notices a general notice shall be issued in such Territories or part of such Territories to the effect that, except as hereinafter provided, the assessment of the Duties contained in the said Schedules for the year commencing as above upon the several persons liable thereto either on their own behalf or on behalf of any other person, shall be at the same rate and on the same amount at and on which such persons were or shall be assessed for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1862.

Form and publication of general notice.

II. The general notice to be issued under the last preceding Section shall be in the form appended to this Act or to the like effect, and shall fix a period of two months after which the assessments under this Act shall be made. Such notice shall be published in the Official Gazette of the Presidency or place within which it is issued, and in such other manner as the local Government shall direct, and copies of such notice shall be affixed at the several places within such Territories or part of such Territories as are mentioned in Section XXXVII of the said Act XXXII of 1860.

Assessments to be made and recovered without requiring Returns of profits or income.

III. After the expiration of the period specified in such notice, the Officers within such Territories or part of such Territories whose duty it is to make assessments under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860, shall proceed, except as hereinafter provided, without requiring the Returns prescribed by Section XXXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 in respect to the Duties contained in Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act, to assess the several persons in their respective jurisdictions liable to the said Duties, either on their own behalf or on behalf of any other person, for the year commencing as above, at the same rate and on the same amount at and on which such persons were or shall be assessed to the said Duties for the year ending on the date above mentioned, and shall proceed to collect and recover the amount of such assessments for the year in which the same are payable under the provisions contained in the said Act XXXII of 1860 which are hereby declared applicable to the assessments so made.

Payment of Duties.

Claims to be assessed under Act XXXII of 1860.

V. If any person within such Territories or part of such Territories chargeable with the Duties contained in Schedules 1 and 2 of the said Act XXXII of 1860 or either of them, for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862, shall object to the assessment provided by this Act, and shall claim to be assessed under the said Act XXXII of 1860, he shall apply to the Commissioners, Collector, or Assessor within whose jurisdiction he resides, for forms of Returns of profits or income chargeable under the said Schedules or either of them, and such person shall, within the period mentioned in such general notice, deliver the Return for the year commencing as above, filled up in the manner and containing the declaration prescribed by the said Act XXXII of 1860, at the Office of such Assessor, Commissioners, or Collector, and claim to be assessed thereon in the same manner as if this Act had not passed. No such claim to be assessed under the said Act XXXII of 1860, shall be received unless made within the period aforesaid.

Mode of assessment in such cases.

VI. When any claim shall be made under the provisions of the last preceding Section within the time therein allowed, it shall be the duty of the Assessor, Commissioners, Special Commissioner, or Collector, as the case may be, to whom such claim is made, to assess the person making it on his profits or income chargeable under the said Schedules for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 in accordance with the provisions of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and all the provisions of the said Act shall be applicable to the Return and Declaration made by such person and to the assessment made upon him.

Saving of issue of special notice to a person who has made no Return for the year ending 31st July 1862, &c.

VII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to debar the Commissioners of any Presidency Town or any Collector, from issuing or causing the issue of a special notice according to the form and in the manner provided by Section XXXVIII of the said Act XXXII of 1860, to any person residing within the jurisdiction of such Commissioners or Collector whom they or he shall consider liable to the Duties chargeable under the said Schedules 1 and 2, or either of them, for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862, but to whom a special notice requiring such person to make a Return of his profits or income under the said Schedules for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1861 shall not have been issued within such jurisdiction; or to any person to whom such special notice shall have been issued, but who shall not have been assessed to the said Duties for the said year by reason of the amount of his profits or income not rendering him liable to the said Duties or for any other cause; or to any person who, such Commissioners or Collector shall have reason to believe, made a fraudulent or obviously inadequate Return of his profits or income under the said Schedules or either of them for the said year, or for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1862, and who shall not have been surcharged upon such Return; or to any person who shall have been assessed to the Duties under the said Schedules or either of them on a Return of profits or income calculated upon any period less than a whole year. Provided that no notice shall be issued under this Section after the expiration of three months from the date of the general notice mentioned in Section I of this Act.

Procedure on special notice.

VIII. When a special notice shall be issued to any person under the provisions of the last preceding Section, all the provisions of the said Act XXXII of 1860 as to special notices shall apply thereto and to any Return and Declaration made by such person and to the assessment of such person.

Case of transfer of immoveable property.

IX. When any transfer of any immoveable property, which shall have been or shall be assessed to the Duties contained in the said Schedule 1 of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the year ending upon the 31st day of July 1862, shall have taken place subsequently to the date at which such assessment shall have been or shall be made, the person in the enjoyment of the profits or income arising from such property, at the time that the assessment of Duties thereupon for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862 is made, shall be liable to be assessed on the profits of such property under the rules contained in the said Act XXXII of 1860 in the same manner as if this Act had not passed.

Act not to apply to Duties under Schedules and 3 and 4.

X. This Act shall not apply to the Duties contained in Schedules 3 and 4 of the said Act XXXII of 1860, or to the assessment, collection, and recovery of such duties.

Governor-General in Council may extend this Act to the year commencing 31st July 1863, or the year commencing 31st July 1864, or both.

XI. The Governor-General of India in Council may extend the provisions of this Act to the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1863, or the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1864, or to both of those years, and on such extension the several provisions of this Act shall mutatis mutandis apply to such year or years in the same manner as they apply to the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1862.

Composition for the whole period of three years from 31st July 1862.

XII. If any person shall be desirous of compounding for the Duties mentioned in Schedules 1 and 2 or either of the said Schedules of the said Act XXXII of 1860 for the entire period of three years from the 31st day of July 1862, and shall be willing to pay the whole amount of the Duties payable under the said Schedule or Schedules for such three years at one time, he may make an application to that effect, and it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of any Presidency Town, or any Collector beyond the limits of any such Town with the sanction of the Commissioner of Land Revenue or other Revenue Authority to whom such Collector is immediately subordinate, to assess such person under the said Schedule or Schedules (as the case may be) for each of the three years aforesaid at the rate and amount assessed on him under the said Schedule or Schedules (as the case may be) for the year ending on the 31st day of July 1861, or if such person shall have been assessed on a fresh Return made for the year commencing from the 31st day of July 1861 then at the rate and on the amount assessed on him in the said Schedule or Schedules for such year without any such addition as is provided in Section LXIX or LXX of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and the payment by such person of the aggregate amount chargeable on him for the said three years on such assessment under the said Schedule or Schedules shall be received and taken by the said Commissioners or Collector in full satisfaction and discharge of the liability of such person to assessment under the said Schedule or Schedules during the said three years, and shall have the effect of a final settlement by such person with the Government of India in respect of all claims whatsoever in respect of such assessment. Provided that such payment be made on or before a date to be fixed by such Commissioners or Collector, and provided also that all the provisions of Section LXXV of the said Act relating to fraud shall apply to a composition under this Section.

Repeal of Sections CXVI to CXIX of Act XXXII of 1860.

XIII. From and after the 31st day of July 1862, Sections CXVI, CXVII, CXVIII, and CXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860 shall cease to have effect, except in respect of any Duty chargeable upon any person under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860 for either of the years commencing from the 31st July 1860, and the 31st July 1861, or for both of such years, or in respect of any assessment made under the said Acts upon any person for either or both of the said years.

The two following Sections to be in lieu of the Sections above repealed.

XIV. From the 31st July 1862, with the exception contained in the last preceding Section, the two following Sections shall stand in the place of the said Sections CXVI, CXVII, CXVIII, and CXIX of the said Act XXXII of 1860, and shall be read and construed as if they formed part of the said Act, namely :—

Exemption of persons whose annual profits or income do not amount to 500 Rupees

(1.) No person shall be chargeable to any Duty under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860, whose annual profits or income, from whatever source derived, estimated as in the said Act XXXII of 1860, do not amount to 500 Rupees.

Procedure in the case of persons claiming exemption under preceding Section.

(2.) Every person assessed under the said Acts XXXII and XXXIX of 1860, for the year commencing from the 1st August 1862 on an income or profits amounting to 500 Rupees, who shall claim to be exempted from payment of Duty on the ground that his income and profits do not amount to 500 Rupees, shall, within the time limited by the said Act XXXII of 1860 for delivering in the Returns and Declarations required by the said Act or within such further time as the Collector or Commissioners respectively shall, for special cause assigned allow, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Assessor of the place where such claimant shall reside, a notice of his claim to such exemption, together with a declaration signed by such claimant and in such form as shall be prescribed as aforesaid, declaring and setting forth therein all the particular sources from whence the income of such claimant shall arise, and the particular amount arising from each source, and also every sum of annual interest or other annual payment reserved or charged thereon, whereby the income shall or may be diminished, and also every sum which such claimant may have charged, or may be entitled to charge against any other person, on account of the Duties made payable by this Act, or which he may have deducted or may be entitled to deduct under the authority of this Act, from any payment to which he may be liable.

Repeal of Sections CXCI to CXCIV of Act XXXII of 1860.

XV. Sections CXCI, CXCII, CXCIII, and CXCIV of the said Act XXXII of 1860 which provide that separate accounts shall be kept of the one per cent. Duty under Section III of the said Act, and that the amount thereof shall be appropriated in the manner therein directed, are hereby repealed.

Proviso.

Provided that a sum being not less than 20 per cent of the gross sum collected on account of the Duties of 3 and 1 per cent prescribed by Sections I and III of the said Act shall be appropriated to each Presidency, Lieutenant-Governorship, and Province under a Chief Commissioner, in the proportion which shall be determined by the Governor-General in Council having regard to the proportion in which every such Presidency or Lieutenant-Governorship or Province under a Chief Commissioner shall contribute to the whole amount of the Duty raised under the said Act XXXII of 1860, and shall be expended by the local Governments and Chief Commissioners thereof in Roads, Canals, and other reproductive public works which have been duly sanctioned, in the various Districts under them as they may think fit, having regard to the respective contribution of such Districts.

Governor-General in Council to prescribe forms.

XVI. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council, in the exercise of the powers specified in Section CCXLVI of the said Act XXXII of 1860, from time to time to prescribe particular forms of Returns of profits and income for any part or parts of the British Territories in India. The forms so prescribed shall be published at least three times in the Government Gazette of such part or parts of such Territories, and when so published and until they shall be altered, varied, or annulled by any subsequent order of the Governor-General of India in Council, such forms shall be observed by all persons in such part or parts of such Territories who, by the said Act, are required to do the matters referred to in such forms, and all Notices given and Returns or Declarations made, and all oaths and affirmations taken or made, and all proceedings had according to such forms respectively by such person shall, if otherwise valid, be deemed valid and effectual.

Notice.

INCOME TAX ACT, SCHEDULES 1 AND 2.

UNDER the orders of the Governor-General of India in Council, Notice is hereby given that, except in the case of any person or persons to whom a special notice is issued, the assessment for the Income Tax for the year commencing from the 31st July 1862, under Schedules 1 and 2, Act XXXII of 1860 (Income Tax Act), will be the same as for the year ending on the said 31st day of July 1862; provided that if any person object to such assessment, he may apply to the Commissioners, Collector of his District, or to the Assessor of his Division for forms of Returns of profits or income under the said Schedules, and send in his Return thereof within two months from the 31st July in that year, and he will then be assessed on such Return under the said Act XXXII of 1860.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal certain Regulations and Acts relating to Criminal Law and Procedure.

Preamble.

WHEREAS by Act XLV of 1860 a Penal Code has been prescribed for British India, and the said Code came into operation on the 1st day of January 1862; and whereas by Act XXV of 1861 a Code of Procedure is provided for the Courts of Criminal Judicature not established by Royal Charter, and the said Code likewise came into operation on the 1st day of January 1862 in the Presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and was at the same time, or has since been, or hereafter may be extended to other parts of British India; and whereas it is expedient to repeal, in the manner hereinafter provided, certain Regulations and Acts relating to Criminal Law and Procedure; It is enacted as follows:—

Repeal of Regulations and Acts providing for the punishment of offences.

I. The several Regulations and Acts set forth in the Schedule hereunto annexed, so far as they provide for the punishment of offences, shall be held to have been and are hereby repealed from the 1st day of January 1862 in the Presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and in the other parts of British India in which such Regulations and Acts or any of them were in force on the said 1st day of January 1862, except in so far as they repeal the whole or any part of any other Regulation or Act, and except as to any offence committed before the said 1st day of January 1862.

Exception.

Repeal of Regulations and Acts not repealed by last Section, in places where Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation on 1st January 1862.

II. To the extent expressed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, the Regulations and Acts set forth therein, which are not repealed by the last preceding Section, shall, except in so far as they repeal the whole or any part of any other Regulation or Act, and except as to any offence committed before the said 1st day of January 1862, be held to have been and are hereby repealed from the said date in the Presidencies of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and in the other parts of British India in which such Regulations and Acts or any of them were in force on the said 1st day of January 1862, and in which the said Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation on such date.

Repeal of the same Regulations and Acts in places where the Code of Criminal Procedure did not come into operation on 1st January 1862.

III. To the extent expressed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, the Regulations and Acts set forth therein, which are not repealed by Section I of this Act, and which were in force on the said 1st day of January 1862 in any part of British India in which the said Code of Criminal Procedure did not come into operation on the said 1st day of January 1862, shall, except in so far as they repeal the whole or any part of any other Regulation or Act and except as to any offence committed before the date on which the said Code shall have been or shall hereafter be extended to such part of British India, be held to have been or shall be repealed in such part of British India from the date on which the said Code shall have been or shall be so extended thereto.

Procedure and powers in the investigation and trial of offences committed before 1st January 1862

IV. In the investigation and trial of offences committed before the said 1st day of January 1862, the Criminal Courts of the several grades and the Officers of Police shall, after the passing of this Act, be guided by the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, so far as the same can be applied, wherever the said Code shall be in operation at the time of such investigation or trial; and for the trial and punishment of such offences such Courts shall exercise the jurisdiction and powers vested in them under the said Code of Criminal Procedure, provided that no person convicted of any such offence shall be liable to any other punishment than that to which he would have been liable had he been convicted of such offence before the said 1st day of January 1862, and that no such person, who shall claim the same, shall be deprived of any right of appeal or reference to a Sudder Court which he would have enjoyed had the trial been held under any of the Regulations or Acts hereby repealed.

Procedure in the investigation and trial, in places to which the Code of Criminal Procedure is extended after passing of this Act, of offences committed before date of extension.

V. In any part of British India to which the Code of Criminal Procedure shall be extended after the passing of this Act, the said Code shall, subject to the provisions of the last preceding Section, be followed in the investigation and trial of any offences committed before the date of such extension.

Saving of certain sentences passed for offences committed before Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation, by reason only of the procedure of that Code having been followed.

VI. No sentence passed before the passing of this Act for any offence which shall have been committed before the 1st day of January 1862, (or whenever the said Code of Criminal Procedure shall not have been extended to any place in British India on the said 1st day of January 1862, then before the date on which the said Code shall have been extended to such place), shall be liable to be quashed or set aside by reason only of the procedure in the investigation or trial of any such offence having been wholly or in part the procedure provided by the said Code of Criminal Procedure. Provided that, if in any such case it shall appear that the accused party has been deprived of any right of appeal or reference to a Sudder Court, which he would have enjoyed had the trial been held under any of the Regulations or Acts hereby repealed, the Sudder Court or the highest Court of Criminal Jurisdiction may call for the proceedings in the case and pass such order thereon as it may deem just and proper.

Proviso.

Saving of certain sentences passed, &c., before passing of this Act.

VII. Nothing in this Act shall affect any sentence or order passed or any proceeding held or any act done previously to the passing of this Act and in accordance with any Act or Regulation repealed by this Act.

M. Wylie,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. XVIII of 1862.

An Act to repeal Act XVI of 1852 in those parts of British India in which the Indian Penal Code is in force, and to re-enact some of the provisions thereof with amendments, and further to improve the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature.

Preamble.

Whereas, in consequence of the passing of the Indian Penal Code, many of the provisions of Act XVI of 1852 (for further improving the administration of Criminal Justice in Her Majesty's Courts of Justice in the territories of the East India Company) have become inapplicable and others require amendment, and it is expedient to repeal the said Act and, pending the preparation of a Code of Criminal Procedure for Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, to re-enact some of the provisions of the said Act, and to make further provision for the administration of Criminal

Justice in such Courts; It is enacted as follows :—

Court may amend certain variances not material to the merits of the case and by which the defendant cannot be prejudiced in his defence and may either proceed with or postpone the trial to be had before the same or another Jury.

I. Whenever, on the trial of an indictment for an offence, there shall appear to be a variance between any statement in such indictment and the evidence offered in proof thereof, it shall be lawful for the Court before which the trial shall be had, if it shall consider that by the amendment of the indictment the person indicted will not be prejudiced in his defence on the merits, to order such indictment to be amended. according to the proof, by some Officer of the Court or other person, both in that part of the indictment where such variance occurs, and in every other part of the indictment which it may become necessary to amend, on such terms as to postponing the trial if the person indicted apply for a postponement, and ordering the same to be had before the same or another Jury, as such Court shall think reasonable; and after any such amendment the trial shall proceed. whenever the same shall be proceeded with, in the same manner in all respects and with the same consequences both with respect to the liability of witnesses to be indicted for giving false evidence and otherwise, as if no such variance had occurred. Provided that in any such case where the trial shall be so postponed as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such Court to respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses, and of the person indicted and his surety or sureties, (if any), in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence respectively, and the person indicted shall be bound to attend to be tried at the time and place to which such trial shall be postponed, without entering into any fresh recognizances for that purpose, in such and the same manner as if they were originally bound by their recognizances to appear and prosecute, or give evidence at the time and place to which such trial shall be so postponed. Provided also, that where any such trial shall be ordered to be had before another Jury, the Crown and the person indicted shall respectively be entitled to the same challenges as they were respectively entitled to before the first Jury was sworn.

On trial for criminal breach of trust and other offences, if the offence be theft, the Court may order indictment to be amended.

II. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the Indian Penal Code, or the offence of cheating and thereby dishonestly inducing the person deceived to deliver property under Section 420 of the said Code, or of criminal breach of trust as a carrier, wharfinger, or ware-house-keeper under Section 407 of the said Code. evidence shall be given to prove that such person took the property in question in any such manner as to amount to the offence of theft under Section 378 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of Criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant.

III. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant under Section 408 of the Indian Penal Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person took the property in question in any such manner as to amount to the offence of theft under Section 378 of the said Code, or the offence of theft as a clerk or servant of property in possession of his master under Section 381 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of theft or of theft in a building, tent, or vessel.

IV. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of theft under Section 378 of the Indian Penal Code, or the offence of theft in a building, tent, or vessel under Section 380 of the said Code, evidence shall be given to prove that, in respect of the property stated in the indictment, such person was guilty of the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property under Section 403 of the said Code, or the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the said Code, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Similar power of amendment in cases of theft as a clerk or servant.

V. If upon the trial of any person charged with the offence of theft as a clerk or servant of property in the possession of his master under Section 381 of the Indian Penal Code, evidence shall be given to prove that such person was guilty of the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property under Section 403 of the said Code, or the offence of dishonest misappropriation of property possessed by a deceased person at the time of his death under Section 404 of the said Code, or of such dishonest misappropriation under the said Section 404, the offender being at the time of the person's decease employed by him as a clerk or servant, or the offence of criminal breach of trust under Section 405 of the said Code, or the offence of criminal breach of trust as a clerk or servant under Section 408 of the said Code, in respect of the property stated in the indictment, the Court may order the indictment to be amended under the provisions of Section I of this Act.

Verdicts and judgments valid after amendments.

VI. Every verdict and judgment which shall be given after the making of any amendment under the provisions of this Act, shall be of the same force and effect in all respects as if the indictment had originally been in the form in which it is after such amendment shall have been made.

Records to be drawn up in amended form without noticing the amendments

VII. If it shall become necessary at any time, for any purpose whatsoever, to draw up a formal record in any case where any amendment shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, such record shall be drawn up in the form in which the indictment is, after such amendment shall have been made, without taking any notice of the fact of such amendment having been made.

Form of indictment in cases of theft.

VIII. In an indictment for theft the person indicted may be charged with having dishonestly taken the property stated in the indictment out of the possession of the person mentioned therein without that person's consent, and in support of such allegation it shall be sufficient to prove that the person indicted, intending to take dishonestly such property out of the possession of the person mentioned in the indictment, without that person's consent moved that property in order to such taking.

The means by which the injury was inflicted need not be specified in indictments for murder and culpable homicide.

IX. In an indictment for murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, or for abetting murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, or for attempting to commit murder which shall be preferred after this Act shall come into operation, it shall not be necessary to set forth the manner in which, or the means by which, the death of the deceased was caused or attempted to be caused.

Form of indictment in cases of murder.

X. In an indictment for murder it shall be sufficient to state that the person charged with the offence did murder the deceased by doing an act with the intention of causing the death of a human being, or, as the case may be, by doing an act with the intention of causing such bodily injury to the deceased as the offender knew to be likely to cause the death of the deceased, or by doing an act with the intention of causing bodily injury to some person, and that the bodily injury intended to be inflicted was sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death, or by doing an act knowing it to be so imminently dangerous that it must in all probability cause the death of a human being, or such bodily injury as was likely to cause the death of a human being, and committing such act without any excuse for incurring the risk of causing death or such injury as aforesaid, and in any indictment for abetting murder or for attempting to commit murder, it shall be sufficient to state that the person charged with the offence abetted the murder of the deceased, or attempted to murder the deceased, as the case may be.

Upon indictment for murder, Jury may find the accused guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

XI. Upon an indictment for murder the Jury may find the person charged with the offence not guilty of murder, but guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

Upon indictment for murder, Jury may find the accused guilty of concealing, or endeavoring to conceal, the birth of a child.

XII. Upon an indictment for the murder of a child the Jury may find the person indicted not guilty of murder, but guilty of intentionally concealing or endeavoring to conceal the birth of such child under Section 318 of the Indian Penal Code, and the person so found guilty shall be liable to be punished under the said Section of the said Code.

Not necessary to specify the particular kind of grievous hurt.

XIII. It shall not be necessary in an indictment for voluntarily causing grievous hurt to specify the particular kind of grievous hurt.

Provision for cases of trial for causing grievous hurt and other similar offences.

XIV. Upon an indictment for voluntarily causing grievous hurt, or for voluntarily causing hurt to any person, or for an offence under Section 336, 337, or 338 of the Indian Penal Code, the person indicted shall not be entitled to be acquitted upon the ground that the hurt caused the death of the person injured or that the person indicted was guilty of culpable homicide.

Form of indictment in cases respecting instruments or documents.

XV. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to mention any instrument or document, or to make an averment or allegation respecting any instrument or document, it shall be sufficient to describe such instrument or document by any name or designation by which the same is usually known, or by the purport thereof, without setting out any copy or fac-simile thereof, or otherwise describing the same, or the value thereof.

Intent to defraud particular person need not be alleged or proved.

XVI. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to allege an intent to defraud, it shall not be necessary to allege or prove an intent to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to allege and prove an intent to defraud.

A party indicted for an offence may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the same, and shall be liable to the same consequences as if charged with and convicted of the attempt only. No person so tried to be afterwards prosecuted for the same.

XVII. If, on the trial of any person charged with any offence, it shall appear to the Jury upon the evidence that the person charged did not complete the offence charged, but was guilty of an offence within the meaning of Section 511 of the Indian Penal Code by attempting to commit such offence, or to cause such offence to be committed, and in such attempt doing an act towards the commission of such offence, such person shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the Jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that the person accused is not guilty of the offence charged, but is guilty of an attempt to commit the same within the meaning of Section 511 of the Indian Penal Code, and the offender so found guilty shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted upon an indictment framed under the said Section for attempting to commit the particular offence charged in the indictment, and no person so tried as herein lastly mentioned shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for an attempt to commit the offence for which he was so tried

If person indicted for criminal misappropriation be proved guilty of theft.

XVIII. If, upon the trial of any person indicted for criminal misappropriation of property, it shall be proved that he was guilty of committing theft of such property, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of the offence charged against him.

Upon an indictment for jointly receiving, persons guilty of separately receiving may be convicted.

XIX. If, upon the trial of two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving stolen property, it shall be proved that one or more of such persons separately received any part of such property, it shall be lawful for the Jury to convict upon such indictment such of the said persons as shall be proved to have received any part of such property.

Abettor of an offence may be indicted and punished in the absence of the principal.

XX. A person may be indicted and punished for abetting an offence which has been committed in consequence of the abetment, notwithstanding the person who committed the offence shall not have been indicted or found guilty, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice, and every abettor of an offence may be indicted, tried, and punished for the abetment as a substantive offence, and may be tried either jointly with the principal offender or separately, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature which would have power to try the principal offender, or which would have power to try the abettor if he had committed the offence himself, either in the place in which he is guilty of the abetment, or in the place in which any act shall have been committed in pursuance of the abetment.

Receiver of stolen property may be indicted and punished in the absence of the principal.

XXI. A person may be indicted and punished for dishonestly receiving or retaining stolen property, notwithstanding the person by whose offence the possession of such property shall have been transferred, or who shall have criminally misappropriated such property or committed criminal breach of trust in respect thereof, shall not have been found guilty of such offence, or shall not be in custody or amenable to justice.

Insertion of several counts in the same indictment against the same person.

XXII. It shall be lawful to insert several counts in the same indictment against the same person for different offences. But the Judge, before whom the person indicted shall be tried, may direct that any one or more of the counts shall be treated as a distinct indictment or indictments, and that the person indicted shall be tried thereupon in the same manner as if such count or counts had been in separate and distinct indictments.

If the property alleged in an indictment for theft appear to have been taken at different times, prosecutor need not elect, unless where more than three takings, or more than six months between the first and last taking.

XXIII. If, upon the trial of an indictment for theft, it shall appear that the property alleged in the indictment was taken or moved at different times, the prosecutor shall not by reason thereof be required to elect upon which taking or moving he will proceed, unless it shall appear that there were more than three takings or movings, or that more than the space of six calendar months elapsed between the first and the last of such takings or movings, and in either of such last mentioned cases the prosecutor shall be required to elect to proceed for such number of takings or movings not exceeding three as shall appear to have taken place within the period of six calendar months from the first to the last of such takings or movings.

Form of indictment for giving or fabricating false evidence, &c.

XXIV. In an indictment for giving or fabricating false evidence, or for using or attempting to use false or fabricated evidence, or for any offence which by the Indian Penal Code is declared to be punishable in the same manner as the offence of intentionally giving false evidence, or for abetting or attempting to commit any of the offences aforesaid, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged, without setting out any part of any proceeding either in law or in equity and without setting forth the commission or authority of the Court or person before whom such offence was committed.

Coin and Bank or Government Notes may be described simply as money.

XXV. In an indictment in which it shall be necessary to make any averment as to any money or any note of any Bank, or any note of Government payable on demand, or which by any law is or shall be declared to be a legal tender, it shall be sufficient to describe such money or note simply as money without specifying any particular coin or Bank or other note, and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin or of any such note as aforesaid, although the particular species of coin, of which such amount was composed, or the amount, number, or other particulars of the note, shall not be proved, and in cases of obtaining money or any such note or notes as aforesaid by cheating by proof that the offender obtained any piece or pieces of coin, or any such note or notes, or any portion thereof, or of the value thereof by cheating, although such piece or pieces of coin or note or notes may have been delivered to him in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the party delivering the same or to any other person or persons, and such part shall have been returned accordingly.

Absence of general exceptions under the Penal Code to be assumed.

XXVI. It shall not be necessary to allege in an indictment any circumstances for the purpose of shewing that the case does not come, nor shall it be necessary to allege that the case does not come within any of the general exceptions contained in Chapter IV of the Indian Penal Code, or within the exceptions contained in Section 136, Section 300, Section 323, Section 324, Section 325, Section 326, Section 375, or Section 499 of the said Code, but every charge shall be understood to assume the absence of all such circumstances, and it shall not be necessary on the part of the prosecutor to prove at the trial the absence of such circumstances in the first instance; but the person indicted shall be entitled to give evidence of the existence of any such circumstances, and evidence in disproof thereof may then be given on the part of the prosecutor.

Evidence as to general exception.

Good faith to be presumed in certain cases.

XXVII. In proving the existence of circumstances as a defence under the 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, or 10th exception to Section 499 of the Indian Penal Code, good faith shall be presumed unless the contrary appear.

Words in indictments to be taken in the sense of the Penal Code.

XXVIII. In every indictment, words used in describing an offence shall be deemed to have been used in the sense attached to them by the Indian Penal Code.

Trials for murder or culpable homicide if the act which caused or the death took place within the jurisdiction.

XXIX. Any person accused of murder or of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the act which shall have caused the death shall have been committed wholly or partly within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if the death shall have taken place within such local limits in the same manner as if both the act had been committed, and the death had taken place within such local limits.

Supreme Court may deal with offence either commenced or completed within local jurisdiction.

XXX. Any person accused of an offence may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the offence shall have been either commenced or completed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court in the same manner as if the offence had been wholly and entirely committed within such local limits.

Offence may be dealt with if either the act was done or the consequence ensued within the jurisdiction.

XXXI. Whenever the offence of which any person shall be accused shall consist of any thing which has been done and of any consequence which has ensued therefrom, the person accused may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if either the act shall have been done or the consequence shall have ensued within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court in the same manner as if both the act had been done and the consequence had ensued within such local limits.

Receiving stolen property, when part only of the offence is committed within the jurisdiction.

XXXII. Whenever a person shall be accused of any offence punishable under Section 411, 412, 413, or 414 of the Indian Penal Code in respect to the receiving or retaining of stolen property, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the offence by which the possession of the property shall have been transferred shall have been committed either wholly or in part within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if any of the stolen property shall have been received or retained by the person accused within such local limits.

Similar provision as to dishoneest removal or concealment of property.

XXXIIII. If any person shall be accused of any offence under Section 424 of the Indian Penal Code of dishonestly or fraudulently concealing or removing any property of himself, or of any other person, or of dishonestly or fraudulently assisting in the concealment or removal thereof, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if the property shall have been concealed or removed in any place within the local limits of such Court or shall have been removed from any place within such local limits.

Provision for cases on the boundaries or near the boundaries of local jurisdiction.

XXXIV. If any act shall have been committed or the consequence of any act shall have ensued on the boundaries of the local jurisdiction of such Court or so near to such boundaries as to render it doubtful whether such act was committed or such consequence ensued within such local limits or not, such act or consequence may for all purposes be stated, deemed, and taken to have been committed or to have ensued within such local limits.

Provision for the case of offences committed on a journey or voyage.

XXXV. If any person shall be accused of any offence alleged to have been committed on a journey or on any voyage in British India, such person may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature if any part of the journey or voyage shall have been performed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court.

Escape from lawful custody under sentence.

XXXVI. If any person shall escape from any custody in which he is lawfully detained in pursuance of a sentence of a Court of Justice or by virtue of a commutation of such sentence, or shall be charged with any offence declared to be punishable under Section 227 of the Indian Penal Code or under Section XII of Act XXIV of 1855 (relating to Penal servitude), the person accused may be dealt with, tried, and punished by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, if such person shall be apprehended and retaken within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, or if he was formerly tried by such Court, or in the case of an escape from custody if he shall have escaped from custody in any place within such local limits.

Justices of Peace may deal with such offences.

XXXVII. Every Justice of the Peace shall have power to deal with any person charged with an offence, for which he is liable under this Act to be tried by one of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, in the same manner as if such offence had been wholly and entirely committed within the local limits of such Court.

A former conviction or acquittal before a competent Court to be a bar to subsequent trial or conviction.

XXXVIII. A former conviction or acquittal before a Court of competent jurisdiction of any offence hereby made punishable by Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, shall be a bar to any subsequent trial or conviction for the same offence.

Certain provisions of 9th Geo. 4, c. 74, shall be deemed to apply to and include offences punishable under Penal Code.

XXXIX. The provisions of Sections 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, and 23 of the 9th Geo. 4, c. 74, intituled "An Act for improving the administration of Criminal Justice in the East Indies," shall be deemed to apply to and to include any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code. Section 5 of the said Act shall be deemed to include murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and the words felony or misdemeanor in Section 110 of the said Act shall be deemed to extend to and include any offence declared to be punishable under the Indian Penal Code by means of or in consequence of which the possession of property shall have been transferred.

No indictment to be held insufficient for immaterial errors.

XL. No indictment for any offence shall be held insufficient for want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for the omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," or of the words "against the peace," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statute" instead of "against the form of the statutes" or vice versâ, nor because any person mentioned in the indictment is designated by a name of Office or other description or appellation instead of his proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offence, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment or on an impossible day or on a day that never happened, nor for want of a proper or perfect venue, nor for want of a proper or formal conclusion, nor for want of or imperfection in the addition of any defendant, nor for want of the statement of the value or price of any matter or thing, or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil in any case where the value or price or the amount of damage, injury, or spoil is not of the essence of the offence.

Formal objections to indictments shall be taken before Jury are sworn. Court may amend any formal defect

XLI. Every objection to an indictment for uncertainty or for any formal defect apparent on the face thereof shall be taken by demurrer or motion to quash such indictment before the Jury shall be sworn, and not afterwards, and every Court before which any objection shall be taken by demurrer or motion to quash for any formal defect, may, if it be thought necessary, cause the indictment to be forthwith amended in such particulars by some Officer of the Court or other person, and thereupon the trial shall proceed as if no such defect had appeared.

No traverse allowed, but the Court may postpone trial.

XLII. No person prosecuted shall be entitled to traverse or postpone the trial of any indictment found against him at any Session of Oyer and Terminer or Session of Gaol delivery; provided always that if the Court, upon the application of the person so indicted, or otherwise, shall be of opinion that he ought to be allowed a further time either to prepare for defence or otherwise, such Court may adjourn the Sessions to any subsequent day, and may adjourn the trial of such person to such day or to the next subsequent Session, upon such terms as to bail or otherwise as to such Court shall seem meet, and may respite the recognizances of the prosecutor and witnesses accordingly, in which case the prosecutor and witnesses shall be bound to attend to prosecute and give evidence at such subsequent day or Session without entering into any fresh recognizance for that purpose.

Provision as to plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit.

XLIII. In any plea of Autrefois convict or Autrefois acquit, it shall be sufficient for the person accused to state that he has been lawfully convicted or acquitted (as the case may be) of the offence charged in the indictment.

Prosecution for adultery not to be instituted except by the husband.

XLIV. A charge of an offence under Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code shall not be instituted except by the husband of the woman.

Prosecution for enticing away a married woman not to be instituted except by husband or person in charge of the woman.

XLV. A charge of an offence under Section 498 of the Indian Penal Code shall not be instituted except by the husband of the woman, or by the person having care of such woman on behalf of her husband.

On trial of offence under last two Sections, proof necessary of husband or person in charge of woman having instituted the charge.

XLVI. Upon the trial of an indictment for either of the offences mentioned in the last two preceding Sections, it shall be necessary to prove that the charge was instituted by the husband of the woman if the charge be made under Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code, or by the husband of the woman, or by the person having care of such woman on behalf of her husband, if the charge be made under Section 498 of the said Code, and in either case that the indictment is prosecuted by such husband, or other person as the case may be, and on failure of such proof the indictment shall be quashed and the person accused shall be discharged.

Persons sentenced to rigorous confinement may be imprisoned in House of Correction.

XLVII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor, or to solitary confinement, he shall be imprisoned in the House of Correction, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not.

Persons sentenced to transportation or Penal servitude may be kept in the House of Correction.

XLVIII Whenever any person shall be sentenced by any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature to transportation or penal servitude, such person shall be kept in the House of Correction as the place of intermediate custody, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not.

If the Sheriff be not the keeper of the House of Correction, how he shall proceed.

XLIX. If the Sheriff be not the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, he shall cause any person sentenced as mentioned in either of the last two preceding Sections to be delivered to the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested or to the keeper of such House of Correction, together with a warrant to be signed by a Judge of the said Supreme Court authorizing the detention of such person. Such Officer or keeper shall be bound to receive the person so delivered over to his custody, and they both shall be responsible for the safe custody of such person.

All Constables, &c., bound to assist.

L. All Constables and Police Officers are hereby empowered to aid and assist the Sheriff in carrying to the House of Correction any person sentenced as aforesaid.

Sheriff absolved from responsibility

LI. If the Sheriff be not the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, he shall be absolved from all responsibility in respect of the custody of any person sentenced as aforesaid from the time such person shall be delivered to the custody of the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, or to the keeper of such House of Correction.

Person sentenced by Justice of Peace to rigorous imprisonment or hard labor may be committed to the House of Correction.

LII. Whenever any person shall be sentenced by a Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor, for any offence committed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, the person so sentenced shall be committed to the custody of the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction is vested, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not, or of the keeper of such House of Correction, and such Officer and keeper shall be responsible for the safe custody of such person.

LIII. From and after the passing of this Act all persons who are confined at the date of the passing of this Act in the House of Correction, whether under the sentence of any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature, or of any Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate, shall be considered to be and shall remain in the custody of the Officer in whom the control of such House of Correction is vested, whether such Officer be the Sheriff or not, or of the keeper of such House of Correction, and such Officer and keeper shall be responsible for the safe custody of all such persons.

Provision for persons now in the House of Correction.

LIV. This Act shall commence and take effect in Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or in any Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of that Court shall be transferred, from the time of the passing of the Act, and shall, so far as the same is applicable, extend to all indictments and proceedings in respect of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code, which have been or shall be presented or commenced in the said Court or in any other Court to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of such Court shall be transferred.

Commencement of Act at Fort William in Bengal.

LV. This Act shall commence and take effect in Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature at Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, or in any Courts to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of those Courts respectively shall be transferred, from the time at which it shall be notified in the Official Gazette by an order of the Governor in Council of Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, that the Act is to take effect in such Courts; and from such time the provisions of the Act shall, so far as the same is applicable, extend to all indictments and proceedings in respect of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code which have been or shall be presented or commenced in the said Courts or in any other Courts to which the whole or any part of the Criminal jurisdiction of such Courts shall be transferred.

Commencement of Act at Madras and Bombay.

LVI. From the time at which this Act shall take effect in any of Her Majesty's Supreme Courts of Judicature as provided in the last two preceding Sections, Act XVI of 1852 is repealed so far as it relates to indictments and proceedings in such Court, except as to offences not punishable under the Indian Penal Code.

Act XVI of 1852 how far repealed.

LVII. In the construction of this Act, unless where a contrary intention appears from the context, the word "Indictment" shall be understood to include information, inquisition, or presentment, as well as indictment, and also any plea, replication, or other pleading; and the term "finding of the indictment" shall be understood to include the taking of an inquisition, the exhibiting of an information, and the making of a presentment; and words importing the singular number or masculine gender shall include several persons and parties, as well as one person or party, and females as well as males, and bodies corporate as well as individuals, and several matters and things as well as one matter and thing. Words which refer to acts done shall include illegal omissions. The words "British India" shall denote the territories that are or shall become vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic., c. 106, entitled "An Act for the better government of India," except the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca; and the word "property" shall be understood to include goods, chattels, money, valuable securities, and every other matter or thing, whether real or personal, upon or with respect to which any offence may be committed.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XIX OF 1862.

An Act to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Acts XIV of 1843 and XXXVI of 1855 relating to the manufacture of contraband Salt, and to amend the last-named Act.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend to the Province of Oude certain provisions of Act XIV of 1843 (for regulating the levy of Customs Duties and the manufacture of Salt in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Bengal) and of Act XXXVI of 1855 (to empower Officers of Customs and Land Revenue to search houses and other enclosed places for contraband Salt in the North-Western Provinces), and to amend the last-named Act; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. So much of the said Act XIV of 1843 as relates to the manufacture of alimentary Salt, and the prevention and punishment of the illicit manufacture and importation of such Salt, and the said Act XXXVI of 1855 as hereinafter amended, shall be held to have been and are hereby extended to the Province of Oude from the date on which Act XXXI of 1861 (to regulate the manufacture of Saltpetre and the sale of Salt educed in the refinement thereof) was extended to the said Province in the manner provided in Section XVIII of the said Act.

Certain provisions of Act XIV of 1843 and Act XXXVI of 1855 extended to Oude.

II. Section IV of Act XXXVI of 1855 is hereby repealed, and the following Section is enacted in lieu thereof, and shall be read and construed in the same manner as if it formed part of the said Act, namely,—

Forcible entry into zenanahs.

"If the place to be searched is a zenanah or apartment in the actual occupancy of a woman who, according to the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the Officer making the search shall give notice to such woman in such zenanah or apartment that she is at liberty to withdraw, and after giving such notice and allowing a reasonable time for the woman to withdraw, and affording her every reasonable facility for withdrawing, such Officer may enter such zenanah or apartment for the purpose of completing the search, using at the same time every precaution consistent with these provisions for preventing the clandestine removal of any Salt. Provided that the responsibility for the act, and the determination whether to force an entry or not, shall rest with the Officer of Customs or Land Revenue only."

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. IV OF 1862.

An Act for the better enforcement of discipline in the Great Jail at Calcutta.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the better enforcement of discipline and order amongst the criminal prisoners confined in the Great Jail of Calcutta, as well as for the more effectual superintendence over, and control of such prisoners; It is enacted as follows:—

Authority over House of Correction vested in Commissioner of Police or such other Officer as Government may appoint.

I. The authority hitherto exercised by the Sheriff of Calcutta over that part of the Great Jail which is termed the House of Correction, shall henceforth cease and determine; and the whole authority over the House of Correction and the prisoners confined therein, is hereby vested in the Commissioner of Police for Calcutta, or in such other Officer as the Government may from time to time appoint.

Officer in whom control of House of Correction is vested empowered to take cognizance of breaches of discipline and to punish prisoners for certain offences.

II. The Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, is hereby empowered to take cognizance of all breaches of prison discipline, and to punish prisoners guilty of mutinous or violent conduct or of insolent language, or of contumacious refusal or wilful neglect to perform the work or wilful mismanagement of the work allotted to them, by placing them in solitary confinement, which shall not extend beyond three days, or in separate confinement for not more than seven days, or by confining them in irons for periods not exceeding four days.

Proviso.

Provided that no person shall be detained in prison under the provisions of this Act beyond the term of his original sentence.

Register of persons punished shall be kept.

A Register of all persons punished in the House of Correction under this Act shall be regularly kept by the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, and shall be forwarded to Government once a month.

Powers specified in Section II vested in the Sheriff, or the Jailor, as regards Criminal prisoners in the Great Jail.

III. The powers entrusted by the preceding Section of this Act to the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, are hereby extended to the Sheriff of Calcutta for the time being as regards criminal prisoners in that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff. In the case of mutinous or violent conduct, or where it may be necessary in order to prevent an outbreak, the Jailor shall exercise, within that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff, the powers laid down in the preceding Section of this Act. Provided that the Jailor shall, within twenty-four hours of the exercise thereof, report every instance in which he shall exercise such powers, to the Sheriff, and the Sheriff shall have power to annul or alter the order as he may think fit. The Sheriff shall be bound to keep up a Register similar to that mentioned in the preceding Section of this Act.

Certain prisoners may be ironed during removal to place of embarkation.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Jailor, or for the Keeper of the House of Correction, to cause any prisoner sentenced to transportation or penal servitude to be put in irons when it may be necessary to do so for the safe removal of such prisoner from the Jail to the place of embarkation.

Government may frame Rules for proper discipline, &c., of prisoners.

V. The Government is hereby authorized from time to time to frame Rules for the proper discipline of prisoners in the House of Correction, and of criminal prisoners within that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff, with regard to their food, dress, hours of recreation and work, labor, classification, instruction, and all points in any way concerning the regularity and order of the said House of Correction and of such criminal prisoners as aforesaid.

Rules to apply to all persons confined in the House of Correction or Great Jail under criminal sentence, and also to persons awaiting trial.

VI. These Rules shall be applicable to all persons confined in any part of the said Great Jail or House of Correction under any judicial criminal sentence, whether such persons be confined there for the whole or for a part of their term of imprisonment, or be merely placed temporarily there pending their removal elsewhere, and also to persons awaiting their trial.

Saving of power of Sheriff to remove prisoners sentenced to death to the Great Jail, &c.

VII. Should any person under sentence of death be at any time confined in the House of Correction, the power of the Sheriff to remove the prisoner to that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the custody of the Sheriff or to such other place as may from time to time be fixed on as the place of execution, and to execute that sentence of death shall not in any wise be affected by this Act

Visiting Magistrates to be appointed:

VIII. The Magistrates of Police for the Town of Calcutta for the time being appointed under Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca) shall, on the 1st day of June next after the passing of this Act, and on the 1st day of June in every subsequent year, meet at the Calcutta Police Court for the purpose of nominating, and shall then and there nominate, two or more of their number, who shall consent thereto, to be Visitors of the said Great Jail and House of Correction. One or more of such Visiting Magistrates so nominated shall personally visit and inspect the said Great Jail and House of Correction at least three times in each quarter of a year and oftener if occasion shall require, and shall examine into the state of the buildings so as to form a judgment as to any alterations or additions which may appear necessary, and into the behaviour and conduct of the Officers of the said Great Jail and House of Correction, and the treatment, behaviour, and condition of the criminal prisoners confined therein.

and to visit the Great Jail and House of Correction three times in each Quarter.

IX. The Visiting Magistrates for the time being shall once in every quarter of a year make a report in writing to the Government, through the Sheriff and the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested respectively, of the state of the said Great Jail and House of Correction, of what additions or alterations are required or shall have been made therein, of any abuses which have come to their knowledge in the management of the criminal prisoners, and of the general state of such prisoners as to discipline, employment, instruction, hard labor, and observance of rules.

Visiting Magistrates to make Quarterly Reports to Government.

X. In case any criminal prisoner within the said Great Jail or House of Correction shall be guilty of any repeated offence under Section II of this Act or against the rules to be passed under this Act, or of any greater offence than is punishable under the said Section II of this Act, the Sheriff or Officer for the time being having the control of the House of Correction, as the case may be, may notify the same to the Visiting Magistrates for the time being. Such Visiting Magistrates shall thereupon have power and are required to attend at the Great Jail or House of Correction, as the case may be, and enquire upon oath and determine concerning the matter so reported, and to order the offender to be punished by separate confinement for any term not exceeding one calendar month, of which six days may be ordered to be solitary confinement in periods of not more than three days each.

Visiting Magistrates to investigate and punish certain offences.

XI. Whoever without due permission takes or attempts to take or throws or attempts to throw into any part of the said Great Jail any food or other article prohibited by the rules to be passed under this Act, shall be liable to be apprehended and brought before any Police Magistrate for the Town of Calcutta, and on conviction shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding two months.

Punishment for taking or attempting to take prohibited articles into the Great Jail

A. G. MACPHERSON,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,

Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. V OF 1862.

An Act to provide for the Periodical Survey of Steam Vessels in the Port of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is desirable to provide for the survey, by competent Surveyors, of Steam Vessels in the Port of Calcutta, with a view to the due security of the lives of passengers, and of property shipped on board such Steam Vessels; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Every Steam Vessel plying on the river Hooghly or on any of the rivers or waters of Bengal, and every British Steam Vessel plying between Calcutta and any Indian Port or Ports, shall be liable to be surveyed twice in every year, in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

Certain Steam Vessels liable to be surveyed twice a year.

II. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to appoint a fit and proper person, or fit and proper persons, to be a Surveyor or Surveyors for the purposes of this Act.

Government to appoint one or more Surveyors.

III. It shall be lawful for the said Surveyors in the execution of their duties to go on board any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, as soon as reasonably may be after the arrival of such Steam Vessel in the Port of Calcutta, and not so as unnecessarily to hinder the loading or unloading of such Steam Vessel, or to detain or delay her from proceeding on any voyage or service, and to inspect such Steam Vessel or any part thereof, and any of the machinery, equipments, or articles on board thereof: and the Owner, Master, and Officers serving on board of such Vessel shall be bound to afford to the Surveyors all reasonable facility for such inspection or survey, and to afford them all such information respecting such Vessel and her machinery and equipments, or any part thereof respectively, as may be reasonably required by the Surveyors; and any person who shall refuse access to the Surveyors, or shall otherwise hinder them in the performance of their duty, or shall refuse or neglect to give any information which may reasonably be required of them, and which they have it in their power to give, shall be liable for each offence to a penalty of five hundred Rupees, or to one month's imprisonment.

Authority to Surveyors to go on board Steamers for the purpose of surveying.

Penalty for hindering them in making the survey or withholding required information

IV. When any survey is made under this Act, the Surveyors making such survey shall forthwith, if satisfied that they can with propriety do so, and on payment by the Owner or Master of the fees hereinafter mentioned, give to the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel surveyed a Certificate and Declaration signed by them and framed as nearly as the circumstances of each case will admit in the Form set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed.

Surveyors to grant Certificate and Declaration when they can with propriety do so.

V. No Officer of Customs shall grant a clearance, nor shall any Pilot be assigned to any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, which shall not have been duly furnished with a Certificate and Declaration under the provisions of this Act applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed; and if any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, shall leave or attempt to leave the Port of Calcutta without such Certificate and Declaration applicable to the voyage on which

No clearance to be given to a Steamer for a voyage for which she has not got a Certificate from the Surveyors.

she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, the Owner or Master of such Steam Vessel shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand Rupees for each offence; and if there be any Officer of Customs or any Pilot on board of such Steam Vessel, he may detain her until she is duly furnished with such Certificate and Declaration.

Master or Officer who is a licensed Pilot attempting to take his ship out of Calcutta, without a proper Certificate, liable to lose his license.

VI. If the Commander or any other Officer of a Tug Steamer or of any other Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, is a licensed Pilot, and shall leave or attempt to leave the Port of Calcutta in such Tug Steamer or Steam Vessel without such Tug Steamer or Steam Vessel being duly furnished with a Certificate and Declaration under the provisions of this Act, applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, such Commander or other Officer shall be liable to have his license as a Pilot taken away from him entirely or suspended for any period by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, as the Lieutenant-Governor may see fit to order.

Special survey may be ordered by Government on any British Steamer in the Port of Calcutta.

VII. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to give special directions to the Surveyors under this Act for the survey by them of any British Steamer lying in the Port of Calcutta and plying between Calcutta and any Port or Ports whatever, and the provisions of this Act shall apply (so far as the same are in any way applicable) to every Vessel so specially directed to be surveyed, and the Owner, Master, and Officers thereof.

Government may make Rules as to mode and time of conducting survey.

VIII. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is hereby empowered to frame Rules as to the manner in which the surveys shall be made, and the times and places of such surveys, and the duties of the Surveyors. Provided that such Rules shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Penalty for Surveyor who receives fees, &c., for making a survey.

IX. Any Surveyor demanding or receiving directly or indirectly from the Owner, Master, or Officer, of any Ship surveyed by him under the provisions of this Act, any fee or remuneration otherwise than as provided by this Act, shall be liable to dismissal, in addition to any other penalty to which he may by law be liable.

Fees to be paid for every survey made.

X. For every survey made under this Act the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel surveyed shall pay to the Surveyors making the same a fee calculated on the Tonnage of the Vessel according to the rates in Schedule B. hereto annexed.

Certificates to be always hung up in conspicuous part of Vessel.

XI. Each Certificate and Declaration granted by Surveyors under this Act shall be hung up, and remain at all times suspended, in some conspicuous part of the Vessel for which the same is granted, where the same may be easily read; and in default of compliance with this provision, every Owner or Master shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence, such fine to be leviable by distraint or sale of personal property.

Certificate to be in force only six months; and to be delivered up when expired or revoked.

XII. No Certificate or Declaration shall be held to be in force for the purposes of this Act after the expiration of six Calendar months from the date thereof.

Proviso in case of Vessels absent from Port when Certificate expires.

Provided that, if any Steam Vessel is absent from the Port of Calcutta, when her Certificate and Declaration expire, no penalty shall be incurred for the want of a Certificate and Declaration, until she first begins to ply or is about to ply after her next subsequent return to the Port of Calcutta. And the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, or any Officer appointed by him for that purpose, may require any Certificate and Declaration which has expired or has been revoked or cancelled to be delivered up as may be directed; and any Owner or Master or other person who, without reasonable cause, neglects or refuses to comply with such requirement, shall incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence.

Certificate and Declaration may be cancelled by Government.

XIII. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, or any Officer appointed or authorized by him for that purpose, may revoke and cancel any Certificate and Declaration granted under this Act in any case in which he has reason to believe—

(1.) That the Certificate and Declaration of the sufficiency and good condition of the hull, equipments, and machinery of any Steam Vessel, or either of them, have been fraudulently or erroneously given or made: or

(2.) That such Certificate and Declaration have otherwise been issued upon false or erroneous information: or

(3.) That since the giving and making of such Certificate and Declaration the hull, equipments, or machinery of such Ship have sustained any injury or are otherwise insufficient.

And in every such case the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal or such Officer as last aforesaid may, if he thinks fit, require the Owner or Master to have such Steam Vessel again surveyed as herein provided.

If the correctness of a survey is doubted, Government may order a second survey by other Surveyors.

XIV. If any Steam Vessel shall be surveyed under the provisions of this Act, and if the Surveyors shall decline to give any Certificate or Declaration, or shall give a Certificate or Declaration with which the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel shall be dissatisfied, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, on the application of such Owner or Master, appoint two other competent Surveyors to survey the said Steam Vessel. The Surveyors so appointed shall forthwith survey the said Steam Vessel, and shall either decline to give any Certificate and Declaration, or shall give such Certificate and Declaration as under the circumstances may seem to them proper. Every survey made under this Section shall be made subject to all the provisions and rules both as to the payment of fees and otherwise which are applicable to surveys made in ordinary cases under this Act. If the Surveyors appointed under this Section unanimously refuse to give any Certificate and Declaration, or agree as to the terms of their Certificate and Declaration, such refusal or such Certificate and Declaration shall be final and conclusive; but if they do not agree, the refusal originally made or the Certificate and Declaration originally granted by the Surveyers who surveyed the said Steam Vessel in the first instance, shall remain and be of full force and effect.

Offences under this Act by whom to be tried.

XV. Any case arising out of this Act may be tried by any Officer having the full powers of a Magistrate, within whose jurisdiction the offence may have been committed, or by any Police Magistrate of the Town of Calcutta. The provisions of Section LV of Act XXII of 1855 (for the regulation of Ports and Port-dues) are hereby extended to all penalties imposed under this Act, and all fees due under Section X of this Act shall be recoverable in like manner as penalties are recoverable.

Surveyor acting alone included in term "Surveyors."

XVI. The word "Surveyors" as used in this Act shall be taken to include any Surveyor acting alone when authorized so to do by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the provisions of this Act.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VI OF 1862.

To amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the law relating to the recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act X of 1859, so far as the same relates to the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal ; It is enacted as follows :—

Repeals Sections 26, 40, 74, 79, 86, 150, and 162 of Act X of 1859.

I. Sections XXVI, XL, LXXIV, LXXIX, LXXXVI, CL, and CLXII of Act X of 1859 are hereby repealed, except as regards suits under the said Act X of 1859 instituted prior to the passing of this Act.

The Court may in certain cases award to the plaintiff additional damages not exceeding 25 per cent.

II. In any suit hereafter to be brought for rent under Act X of 1859, if it shall appear to the Court that the defendant has without reasonable or probable cause neglected or refused to pay the amount due by him, and that he has not before the institution of the suit tendered such amount to the plaintiff or his duly authorized Agent, or, in case of refusal of the plaintiff or such Agent to receive the amount tendered, has not deposited such amount with the Collector before the institution of the suit in manner hereinafter mentioned, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to the plaintiff, in addition to the amount decreed for rent and costs, such damages, not exceeding twenty-five per cent on the amount of rent decreed, as the Court may think fit. These damages, if awarded, as well as the amount of rent and costs decreed in the suit, shall carry interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of decree until payment thereof, and shall be recoverable from the defendant in like manner as sums decreed to be paid by defendants under Act X of 1859 are recoverable.

The Court may award compensation, not exceeding 25 per cent. on the amount sued for, to a defendant improperly sued.

III. In any suit hereafter to be brought for rent under Act X of 1859, if it shall appear to the Court that the plaintiff has instituted the suit against the defendant without reasonable or probable cause, or that the defendant before the institution of the suit duly deposited with the Collector in the manner hereinafter mentioned, the full amount which the Court shall find to have been due to the plaintiff at the date of such deposit, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to the defendant by way of compensation such sum, not exceeding twenty-five per cent on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff, as the Court may think fit, and such sum, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, until payment thereof, shall be recoverable from the plaintiff in like manner as sums decreed to be paid by defendants under Act X of 1859 are recoverable.

Under-tenant or ryot may, after tender, &c., pay into Court, without any action being brought against him, what he admits to be due to his Zemindar, &c.

IV. If any under-tenant or ryot shall, at the Mal Kutcherry for the receipt of rents or other place where the rents of the land held or cultivated by him are usually payable, tender payment of what he shall consider to be the full amount of rent due from him at the date of the tender to the Zemindar or other person in receipt of the rent of such land, and if the amount so tendered shall not be accepted, and a receipt in full forthwith granted, it shall be lawful for the under-tenant or ryot, without any suit having been instituted against him, to deposit such amount in the Collector's Court, to the credit of the Zemindar or other person aforesaid, and such deposit shall, so far as the under-tenant or ryot and all persons claiming through or under him are concerned, in all respects operate as and have the full effect of a payment then made by the under-tenant or ryot of the amount deposited to such Zemindar or other person.

Payment into Court to have effect of payment to Zemindar or other person entitled.

V. The Collector shall receive such deposit on the application of the under-tenant or ryot, or his agent, made in writing upon paper bearing a stamp of such value as would be necessary on the institution of a suit for arrears of rent under Section XXXVII of Act X of 1859 for an amount equal to that which it is intended to deposit, and on the under-tenant or ryot, or his agent, making a declaration in the form, or as nearly as circumstances will admit in the form, set forth in the Schedule (A) hereto annexed, and the Collector shall give a receipt for the same. If the declaration shall contain any averment which the person making the declaration shall know or believe to be false or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence. Upon receiving the money so deposited, the Collector shall issue a notice to the person to whose credit it has been deposited, in the form set forth in the Schedule (B) hereto annexed, and such notice shall be served by the Collector, without the payment of any fee, either upon the person to whom it is addressed or upon his Naib, Gomastah, or other Agent, and in the absence of any such Agent it shall be served by sticking up a copy of the same in the Office of the Collector, and another copy at the Mal Kutcherry for the receipt of rents, or other place where the rents are usually paid for the land in respect of which the money has been deposited. If the person to whom such notice is issued, or his duly authorized Agent, shall appear and apply that the money in deposit be paid to him, it shall be immediately made over to him.

Proceedings on making a payment into Court and the drawing out the money.

VI. Whenever a deposit shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, no suit shall be brought against the person making the deposit or his representatives on account of any rent which accrued due prior to the date of the deposit, unless such suit is instituted within six months from the date of the service of the notice in the fifth Section of this Act mentioned.

Suit for further balance to be instituted within six months of service of notice of deposit.

VII. The defendant in any suit under this Act or under Act X of 1859, instituted after the passing of this Act, may, if he have duly tendered the same to the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, pay into Court such sum of money as he shall consider to be due to the plaintiff, without paying in any costs incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall be immediately paid out of Court to the plaintiff. If after such payment the plaintiff elects to proceed in the suit and ultimately recovers no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the plaintiff shall be charged with the whole costs of the suit incurred by the defendant; but if the plaintiff ultimately recovers a further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the defendant shall be charged with the whole costs of the suit.

After action brought defendant may pay into Court, without costs, money tendered before action brought.

Costs if plaintiff goes on and recovers no more.

VIII. The defendant in any suit under this Act or under Act X of 1859 instituted after the passing of this Act may, without having made any tender before action brought, pay into Court such sum of money as he shall consider to be due to the plaintiff, together with the costs (to be fixed by the Court if necessary, as of a suit originally instituted for the amount so paid into Court) incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall immediately be paid out of Court to the plaintiff. If after such payment the plaintiff elects to proceed in the suit and ultimately recovers no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, he shall be charged with all costs incurred by the defendant subsequently to such payment; but if the plaintiff ultimately recovers a further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the defendant shall (including the sum paid into Court by him in the first instance on account of costs) be charged with costs as upon a suit originally instituted for the whole amount for which the plaintiff ultimately obtains a decree.

If no previous tender has been made, defendant may pay into Court what he admits to be due with costs on that sum.

Costs if plaintiff goes on with the suit.

IX. Every proprietor of an estate or tenure, or other person in receipt of the rents of an estate or tenure, has a right of making a general survey and measurement of the lands comprised in such estate or tenure or any part thereof, unless restrained from doing so by express engagement with the occupants of the lands. If any person intending to measure any land which he has a right to measure, is opposed in making such measurement by the occupant of the land, or if any under-tenant or ryot, having received notice of the intended measurement of land held or cultivated by him which is liable to such measurement, refuses to attend and point out such land, such person may make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under Act X of 1859, and shall pass a decision either allowing or disallowing the measurement, and, if the case so require, enjoining or excusing the attendance of any such under-tenant or ryot. If any under-tenant or ryot, after the issue of an order enjoining his attendance, neglects to attend and to point out the land, it shall not be competent to him to contest the correctness of the measurement made or any of the proceedings held in his absence.

Survey and measurement of lands.

X. If the proprietor of an estate or tenure, or other person entitled to receive the rents of an estate or tenure, is unable to measure the lands comprised in such estate or tenure or any part thereof, by reason that he cannot ascertain who are the persons liable to pay rent in respect of the lands or any part of the lands comprised therein, such proprietor or other person may petition the Collector in respect of the lands which he cannot measure as aforesaid, and the Collector thereupon and on the necessary costs being deposited with him by the applicant, shall proceed to measure the land and to ascertain and record the names of the persons in occupation of the same, or on the special application of the proprietor or other person aforesaid, but not otherwise, shall proceed to ascertain, determine, and record the tenures and under-tenures, the rates of rent payable in respect of such lands, and the persons by whom respectively the rents are payable. The provisions of Section LXVII of Act X of 1859 shall apply to any proceeding of the Collector instituted under this Section. If after due enquiry the Collector shall be unable to measure the land, or to ascertain or record the names of the persons in occupation of the same, or if he shall (in any case in which such special application shall have been made as aforesaid) be unable to ascertain who are the persons having tenures or under-tenures in such lands or any part thereof, then and in any such case he may declare the same to have lapsed to the party on whose petition he has made the enquiry. If any person, within fifteen days after the Collector shall have recorded the name of such person as being in occupation of such land, or any part thereof, or shall have declared a tenure to have lapsed, shall appear and show good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance, and shall satisfy the Collector that there has been a failure of justice, the Collector

Measurement of lands, where it cannot be ascertained who are the persons liable to pay rent.

may, upon such terms or conditions as he may think proper, alter or rescind his declaration according to the justice of the case. Save as aforesaid, the decision of the Collector on all matters enquired into and determined by him under this or the last preceding Section, shall be final unless the same shall be reversed on appeal therefrom to the Civil Court. Such appeals shall lie to the Zillah Judge or to the Sudder Court subject to the provisions and conditions contained in Section CLX and CLXI of Act X of 1859.

Measurements to be made by the Pergunnah Pole.

XI. All measurements made under this Act shall be made by the Standard pole of measurement of the Pergunnah in which the land is situated.

Form of plaint in suits for arrears of rent.

XII. In any suit hereafter to be brought for the recovery of an arrear of rent the statement shall specify the name of the village and estate and of the Pergunnah or other local division in which the land is situate, the yearly rent of the land, the amount (if any) received on account of the year for which the claim is made, the amount in arrear, and the time in respect of which it is alleged to be due. If the arrear is alleged to be due from any ryot, the statement shall further specify the quantity of land, and where fields have been numbered in a Government Survey the number (if it be possible to give it) of each field.

Order under Section 58 of Act X of 1859 to set aside judgment shall be final, but rejection of application to set it aside shall be appealable.

XIII. In all cases in which the Collector shall pass an order under Section LVIII of Act X of 1859 for setting aside a judgment, the order shall be final; but in all appealable cases in which the Collector shall reject the application, an appeal shall lie from the order of rejection to the tribunal to which the final decision in the suit would be appealable; provided that the appeal be preferred within the time allowed for an appeal from such final decision, and be written upon Stamp Paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Court to which the appeal lies where a Stamp is required for petitions.

Fees to Agents and Mooktears.

XIV. So much of Section LXXI of Act X of 1859 as directs that no fee for any Agent shall be charged as part of the costs of suit in any case under the Act, is hereby repealed. In awarding costs to either party in any suit hereafter to be brought under the said Act or under this Act, it shall be competent for the Collector to award to such party, on account of the fees of any Agent or Mooktear employed by him, such a sum, not exceeding the rate of fee chargeable under the provisions of Section VII of Act I of 1846 for Pleaders in the Civil Courts, as the Collector may direct.

Language in which the Collector is to write his judgment.

XV. The Collector shall pronounce judgment in all cases tried under this Act or under Act X of 1859 in open Court. The judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Collector, and shall contain the reasons for the same, and shall be dated and signed by the Collector at the time when it is pronounced. Provided that if the vernacular language of the Collector be not English, and the Collector be sufficiently conversant with the English language to be able to write a clear and intelligible decision in that language, and prefer to write his judgment in it, the judgment may be written in English.

XVI. The provisions relating to attachment before judgment contained in Sections LXXXI to XC, both inclusive, of Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) are hereby extended to all suits hereafter to be brought under this Act or Act X of 1859.

Execution to issue at time of decree on oral application: afterwards on application in writing

XVII. Process of execution in any suit hereafter to be instituted under this Act or under Act X of 1859 may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment debtor, but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. It may be issued on the oral application of the judgment creditor, his Agent, or Mooktear, made at the time the judgment is pronounced, or thereafter upon the written application of the judgment creditor, his Agent, or Mooktear, presented to the Court by which the judgment was given. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in the Form (E) or the Form (F) contained in the Schedule to Act X of 1859, or in a form as nearly resembling those forms as the circumstances of the case may admit.

If person is arrested under Section 145 of Act X of 1859, case to be disposed of at once.

XVIII. If any person shall after the date of the passing of this Act be arrested under Section CXLV of the said Act X of 1859, he shall be brought before the Collector with all convenient speed, and the Collector shall proceed forthwith to try the case. If the case cannot be at once heard and determined, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the person arrested to give security for his appearance whenever the same is required. In default of such security the person arrested shall be committed to the Civil Jail till the case is heard.

Deputy Collector's powers.

XIX. All the powers vested in the Collector by any of the Sections of this Act or of Act X of 1859, may be exercised by any Deputy Collector in cases referred to him by a Collector, and in all cases without such reference by any Deputy Collector placed in charge of any Sub-Division of a District, or who is specially authorized by Government to receive such cases; and all applications and reports allowed or required by the said Act X of 1859 or by this Act to be made to the Collector, may be made to any Deputy Collector having such local jurisdiction or such special authority as aforesaid.

In what Court suits are to be instituted.

XX. Suits under this Act or under Act X of 1859 shall be preferred in the Revenue Office of the District, or when a Sub-Division of a District has been placed under the jurisdiction of a Deputy Collector, in the Revenue Office of the Sub-Division in which the cause of action shall have arisen, or when the cause of action shall have arisen within the limits of the local jurisdiction of any Deputy Collector not in charge of a Sub-Division but who has been specially authorized by Government to receive such suits, then in the Office of such last mentioned Deputy Collector. Provided always that the Collector may withdraw any suit from any Deputy Collector, and try it himself, or refer it to another Deputy Collector. If the lands comprised in any talook, farm, or other tenure, or any lands held under one lease or engagement, or at one entire rent, in respect of which arrears of rent may be due, are situated in more than one District or Sub-Division, or within the local limits of the jurisdiction of more than one Deputy Collector so specially authorized as aforesaid, the District or Sub Division, or local limits in which the greater part of such lands is situate, shall be held to be the District, or Sub-Division, or local limits in which the cause of action has arisen, and if any question shall be raised respecting the District, or Sub-Division, or local limits within which the greater part of the lands is situate, the Board of Revenue, or if all the lands be situate in one District, the Collector of the District shall decide the question, and such decision shall be conclusive on the point of jurisdiction.

XXI. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of Act X of 1859, except as regards suits instituted thereunder before the passing of this Act.

This Act to be read with Act X of 1859.

SCHEDULE A *

I, A. B. of &c., do solemnly declare that I did personally (or by my Agent C. D.) on the day of tender payment to E. THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 (for modifying the provisions contained in the existing Regulations regarding the resumption of the revenue of lands held free of assessment under illegal or invalid tenures, and for defining the right of Government to the revenue of lands not included within the limits of estates for which a settlement has been made).

Preamble.

WHEREAS by Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819, it is enacted that certain suits preferred in a Court of Judicature regarding lands held, or claimed to be held, free of assessment, shall be referred for investigation to the Collector, and that similar suits may be preferred in the first instance to the Collector; and whereas such reference of suits is unnecessary and causes inconvenience and delay in their decision, and it is advisable that such suits should be preferred and disposed of exclusively in the ordinary Courts of Civil Judicature; it is enacted as follows:—

Sec. 30 of Reg. II. 1819 repealed.

I. Within the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 is hereby repealed, except as regards such suits decided by Collectors under the provisions of that Section as may be open to appeal at the date of the passing of this Act.

Suits for resumption of land held free of assessment to be tried in the ordinary Civil Courts; so also claims to hold land free of assessment.

II. All suits preferred by proprietors, farmers, or talookdars, to resume the revenue of any land held free of assessment, as well as all suits preferred by individuals claiming to hold land exempt from the payment of revenue, shall be instituted, heard, and determined in and by the Courts of Civil Judicature, like ordinary civil suits, and under the rules and subject to all the provisions contained in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) and not otherwise.

Act to apply to all pending suits commenced under Section 30 of Reg. II. 1819

Collectors shall transfer all suits pending before them to the Civil Courts.

III. This Act shall apply to all suits commenced under Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 and pending decision under that Section in any Court (other than a Court to which such suit has come by way of appeal) or before any Collector at the time of the passing of this Act. All Collectors shall forthwith transfer to the ordinary Courts of Civil Judicature all such suits whether originally instituted before them, or referred to them by the Civil Courts, as may be pending before them at the time of the passing of this Act; and all suits so transferred shall be heard and determined as provided for by this Act, and not otherwise.

Act not to invalidate proceedings, &c., under Section 30 of Reg. II. 1819, and transfer of suit to Civil Court not to alter effect of proceedings previously had.

IV. This Act shall not in any way invalidate or alter the effect of any thing which shall have been done in any suit prior to the passing of this Act; and all proceedings which, prior to the transfer of any suit, shall have been held, or shall have taken place under, or in accordance with, the provisions of Section XXX of Regulation II 1819, shall be taken, and shall have effect, so far as circumstances will permit, as if the same had been held or had taken place in due course in the Court to which the suit shall be transferred.

* If this Declaration is made by an Agent, it must be altered accordingly.

† This is to be by indorsement on a copy of the Declaration under Schedule A made by the person paying the money into Court.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations on the 3rd May 1862, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 7th June next:—

A Bill for appointing Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta, and for levying rates and taxes in that Town.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the appointment of Commissioners for the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town of Calcutta, and for assessing and levying rates and taxes for Municipal purposes in the said Town: and whereas it is also expedient to provide additional funds for improving the drainage, lighting, and supply of water, in the said Town; It is enacted as follows:—

Repeal of Act XXVIII of 1856.

I. Act XXVIII of 1856, so far as it relates to the Town of Calcutta, is hereby repealed.

Calcutta to be divided into six Divisions.

II. For the purposes of this Act the Town of Calcutta shall be considered to be divided into six Divisions as follows:—

The First Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which lies to the North of the South side of Nimtollah Street, Doorgachurn Mitter's Street, and Hogoolcooria Lane respectively.

The Second Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the South side of Nimtollah Street, Doorgachurn Mitter's Street, and Hogoolcooria Lane respectively; and on the South by the South side of Cotton Street and Machooa Bazar respectively.

The Third Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the South side of Nimtollah Street; on the South by the North side of Fairlie Place, Tank Square, and Lall Bazar respectively; on the East by the West side of the Chitpore Road; and on the West by the River Hooghly.

The Fourth Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the South side of Machooa Bazar Road; on the South by the North side of Bow Bazar and Boitackhannah Road respectively; on the West by the West side of the Chitpore Road; and on the East by the Circular Road.

The Fifth Division shall comprise that portion of the Town which is bounded on the North by the North side of Fairlie Place, and the North side of Tank Square, Lall Bazar, Bow Bazar, and Boitackhannah respectively; on the South by Esplanade Row, and the North side of Jaun Bazar; on the West by the East side of Tank Square, Old Court House Street, and Chowringhee Road respectively; and on the East by the Circular Road.

The sixth Division shall comprise that portion of the said Town which is bounded on the North by the North side of Jaun Bazar Street; on the South and East by the Circular Road South; and on the West by Chowringhee Road.

Six Commissioners to be appointed for each Division: and they shall each be a body corporate.

III. For each of the said six Divisions of the Town of Calcutta there shall be appointed six Commissioners who shall be styled Divisional Commissioners for the Division to which they are appointed, and who shall by such name be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and by such name shall sue and be sued.

Divisional Commissioners to be selected from residents in the Division: one to be President of the Board.

IV. The Divisional Commissioners shall be selected from among the residents in the Division of which they are appointed Commissioners respectively: and in each Division one of the six Commissioners of that Division shall be appointed the President of the Commissioners for that Division.

Six Central Commissioners to be appointed.

V. There shall be six Commissioners appointed for the Town of Calcutta who shall be styled Central Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta, and who shall by such name be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and by such name shall sue and be sued.

Central Commissioners to be selected from residents of the Town generally.

VI. The Central Commissioners shall be selected from among the residents of the Town of Calcutta. Provided always that no Divisional Commissioner shall be also at one and the same time a Central Commissioner.

One to be President.

One of the Central Commissioners shall be appointed the President of the Central Commissioners.

All Commissioners and Presidents to be appointed and to be removeable by Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

VII. All Commissioners and Presidents appointed under this Act shall be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and shall be removeable at his pleasure.

Proviso in case six Commissioners cannot be found for any Division.

VIII. If in any Division six residents shall not be found able and willing to undertake the duties of Divisional Commissioners, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may place the Conservancy and Improvement of that Division under the exclusive control and management of the President of the Central Commissioners; and all functions which might have been performed by the Divisional Commissioners, may be performed by such President of the Central Commissioners. The provisions of this Act and of any other Act which now is or hereafter shall be in force, applicable to the Divisional Commissioners in their collective capacity, shall be applicable to the President of the Central Commissioners vested with control under this Section.

Central Commissioners may receive certain allowances.

IX. The Central Commissioners may receive such allowances out of the funds to be raised under this Act as shall be from time to time fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. Provided that the allowance for any Commissioner shall not exceed the rate of twelve thousand Rupees a year if the Commissioner holds no other appointment or occupation, or the rate of six thousand Rupees a year if he holds any other appointment or occupation.

X. The Central Commissioners and each of the several Boards of Divisional Commissioners shall respectively meet once at least in every fortnight. The attendance of three shall be necessary to constitute a meeting. If the Commissioners at any meeting are equally divided in opinion, if the President be one of them he shall have a casting vote; otherwise the question shall be reserved for the decision of a future meeting.

Central and Divisional Boards to meet at least once a fortnight.

XI. In addition to the meetings of the Divisional Commissioners under the last preceding Section, one of the Divisional Commissioners of each Division shall sit daily (except on such holidays as are allowed by Government) within his Division for the transaction of business connected with that Division; and every Commissioner so sitting alone may exercise all the powers possessed by the Divisional Commissioners of the Division to which he is appointed. Provided always that no Commissioner sitting alone shall dispose of or issue orders on any business other than the current business of the Division, such as the daily reports of Overseers and other Subordinates, applications as to nuisances, and the like.

One Divisional Commissioner to sit daily within each Division for the transaction of current business.

XII. The Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, shall, on or after the 1st day of May, the 1st day of August, the 1st day of November, and the 1st day of February in each and every year, out of the Funds in their hands applicable to the purposes of this Act, set apart such sum as may be available for the purposes of the Conservancy and Improvement (so far as they are strictly local) of the six Divisions of the Town during the then next ensuing quarter.

Central Commissioners to set apart the sums available for the Divisional Boards quarterly.

XIII. Once in every quarter the Central Commissioners shall hold a meeting at which the Presidents of the several Boards of Divisional Commissioners shall attend as Assessors, and shall have a right to vote and take part in the proceedings in like manner and with the same powers in all respects as if they were Central Commissioners. The attendance of five, of whom two at least must be Central Commissioners, shall be necessary to constitute a meeting under this Section; and if the Commissioners and Assessors present at a meeting are equally divided in opinion on any subject raised for discussion, if the President of the Central Commissioners be one of them, he shall have a casting vote; otherwise the question shall be reserved for the decision of a future meeting to be held under this Section.

Once a quarter the Central Commissioners and Assessors shall meet.

XIV. The Central Commissioners, in accordance with the resolutions adopted at meetings held under the last preceding Section, shall allot between and among the several Divisional Boards such monies as the Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, shall have set apart for the purposes of the Conservancy and Improvement, so far as they are local, of the six Divisions of the Town, and shall decide upon all questions of raising money by loan for Municipal or Conservancy purposes, and of undertaking, by any of the Divisional Commissioners, new works or repairs in any part of the Town requiring an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees. Except with the sanction of the Central Commissioners and Assessors obtained at such meetings as last aforesaid, no money shall be raised by way of loan for Municipal or Conservancy purposes: and except with such sanction no new works or repairs requiring an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees, shall be undertaken in any part of the Town by any of the Divisional Commissioners.

Objects and powers of such meetings.

XV. No business shall be transacted at any meeting held under Section XIII of this Act except that which relates to the allotment, among the several Boards, of the monies set apart under Section XII for the purposes of the Conservancy and Improvement of the six Divisions, or to the raising of money by way of loan, or to the undertaking, by any of the Divisional Commissioners, of new works or repairs involving an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees.

No business to be done at such meetings except that mentioned in the last Section

XVI. The monies to be allotted to the Commissioners of any Division at any meeting held under Section XIII of this Act, shall be applied to purposes of local Conservancy and to the Improvement of that Division. Provided that all arrangements and works of the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town which form part of a general system extending or operating throughout the said Town, or in more than one Division, shall remain under the exclusive management and control of the Central Commissioners, and that no allotment of funds in respect thereof shall be made to any of the Divisional Commissioners, nor shall any control over such general works be ever vested in the Divisional Commissioners. The Central Commissioners at their quarterly meetings under Section XIII shall decide what works are local and what are general.

How Funds allotted to Divisional Boards are to be applied.

Central Commissioners to have control of all general works, &c.

XVII. The monies allotted to the Commissioners of any Division under the provisions of this Act, shall not be actually paid over to the Commissioners of that Division, but shall be placed by the Central Commissioners to the credit of the account of such Commissioners. The Central Commissioners shall keep regular books of account with the Commissioners of each Division, and shall make payments in respect of each Division, to the extent of the amount for the time being standing to the credit of the Commissioners of that Division. All payments made by the Central Commissioners on account of any of the Divisional Commissioners, shall be made on production of an order for payment signed by one of the Divisional Commissioners on whose account the payment is to be made, accompanied by a certificate from a Commissioner of that Division certifying the particulars in respect of which the payment is made and the amount due.

Payments by Divisional Boards, how to be made.

XVIII. The Commissioners of each Division shall, on or before the first day of February in every year, prepare a detailed Statement showing the nature and amount of the receipts and disbursements on account of their Division during the year ending on the 31st December then last past, and also a Report of their proceedings during that year. The Divisional Commissioners respectively shall forthwith forward such Statements and Reports to the Central Commissioners, by whom they shall be submitted before the first day of April then next ensuing, to the Government of Bengal, accompanied by such observations thereupon as the said Central Commissioners may make. The Central Commissioners shall before the first day of April in each year submit to Government a similar detailed Statement of their receipts and disbursements for the year ending the 31st of December then last past, and a similar Report of their proceedings during that year. The accounts of the Central Commissioners and of the Divisional Commissioners respectively may be audited annually by such persons as the Government shall appoint.

Divisional Commissioners to make annual report and statement.

XIX. The Central Commissioners may, from time to time, appoint Officers to assist in the execution of this Act, and may from time to time remove any of such Officers and appoint others in their places, and may, with the sanction of the Government, pay such salaries and allowances to the said Officers respectively as the said Commissioners shall think reasonable. Provided that no person shall be appointed to or removed from any office, the monthly salary of which exceeds two hundred Rupees, without the sanction of the Government.

Appointment of Officers.

XX. An annual rate of seven and a half per cent of their annual value shall be imposed upon houses, buildings, and lands, in the said Town, and shall be payable by the owners thereof by quarterly instalments. Provided that if the annual value shall in any case exceed the amount of rent payable by the lessee or tenant to the owner, the owner may in such case recover from the lessee or tenant the difference between the sum assessed upon him and the sum at which he would have been assessed had he been rated only upon the amount of rent actually payable to him: and such difference shall be added to the rent payable by such lessee or tenant and shall be recoverable by the owner from him by such means and in like manner in all respects as such rent is recoverable.

Rate on houses, buildings, and lands.

XXI. Houses, buildings, and lands situate in Fort William, on the Esplanade of the Fort, and in Cooley Bazar, and buildings used exclusively as places of public worship, shall not be liable to the rate.

Exemption of Fort William and of certain public buildings.

XXII. The Central Commissioners may exempt from assessment any house, building, or land, the annual value whereof is less than twelve Rupees, if the same be the sole rateable property of the owner.

Power to exempt small holdings.

XXIII. When any house shall have been vacant for sixty consecutive days during any year, the Central Commissioners shall remit so much of the rate for that year as may be proportionate to the number of days the said house may have remained unoccupied: provided that the owner of such house, or his Agent, shall have given notice in writing of the vacancy thereof to the said Commissioners, and that the amount of rate to be remitted shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice.

Remission on account of vacant houses.

XXIV. A tax shall be imposed upon all carriages, horses, ponies, and mules, kept within the said Town, at the rates specified in the annexed Schedule, and shall be payable quarterly by the owners or persons having charge of the same. The said tax shall be due and payable on and from the thirty-first day after the commencement of each quarter, unless in any particular case the Central Commissioners shall declare that, as regards any person or persons specified, it has become due and payable after the thirty-first day of the quarter.

Tax on vehicles and animals.

XXV. Provided that the several vehicles and animals hereinafter mentioned shall be exempt from the Tax, namely: —

Exemption of certain vehicles and animals.

Gun Carriages, and Ordnance Carts and Waggons.

Cavalry Horses, and Horses of the Mounted Police.

Horses belonging to Officers doing Regimental duty at the Presidency, at the rate of one horse for each Officer.

Conservancy Carts, Horses, Ponies, and Mules belonging to the Commissioners.

Vehicles and animals kept for sale and not used for any other purpose if kept by bonâ fide dealers in such vehicles and animals.

XXVI. Every person, who may have owned or had charge of any vehicle or animal kept within the said Town for a period exceeding thirty days in any quarter, shall be liable to the whole tax for that quarter. If the period do not exceed thirty days, no tax shall be chargeable for that quarter. Provided that, when any person owning or having charge of any vehicle or animal shall transfer the same to another person, he shall give notice thereof to the Central Commissioners within one week of the date of such transfer, and if he fail to give such notice, he shall be liable to the whole tax for that quarter, although the period during which he may have owned or had charge of such vehicle or animal shall not have exceeded thirty days.

What will constitute liability to the tax for a whole quarter.

Transfer of ownership.

XXVII. When a carriage shall have been under repair at a carriage-maker's for more than thirty days in any quarter, the Central Commissioners shall remit so much of the tax for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days the said carriage may have been under repair

Remission of tax on carriages under repair.

XXVIII. The Central Commissioners, at their discretion, may compound, for any period not exceeding one year, with livery stable-keepers and other persons keeping carriages and horses for hire, for a certain sum to be paid for the carriages and horses so kept by such persons, in lieu of the taxes specified in the Schedule.

Commissioners may compound with livery stable-keepers and others.

XXIX. Every Cart and Hackery kept and used within the said Town, and every Cart and Hackery plying for hire within the said Town or let for hire and used within the said Town and kept at any place beyond the limits thereof, shall be registered in the Office of the Central Commissioners with the name and residence of the owner, and shall bear, in such manner as the said Commissioners shall direct, the number of such registration. Provided that this Section shall not apply to or include Ordance or Commissariat or other Government Carts or Hackeries, or Conservancy Carts or Hackeries belonging to the Central Commissioners or to any of the Divisional Commissioners.

Registry and numbering of Hackeries.

XXX. The registration of carts and hackeries under the last preceding Section shall be made and the numbers assigned annually upon such day in each year as the said Commissioners shall appoint, and a fee of six Rupees shall be paid for each registration. Any person becoming possessed within the year of any such cart or hackery which has not been registered, may obtain registration on application to the Central Commissioners at their Office and on payment of the said fee of six Rupees. When any registered cart or hackery is transferred within the year, it shall be registered anew in the name of the person to whom it has been transferred: and a fee of four annas shall be paid for every such last mentioned registration.

Fee for registration.

XXXI. Whoever keeps any cart or hackery required to be registered by the provisions of the last preceding Section, without being so registered, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, and the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners or any Officer duly authorized by any of them may seize or cause to be seized any such cart or hackery, (provided the same be not employed at the time of seizure in the conveyance of any passengers or goods,) together with the horses, bullocks, or other animals drawing the same, and may deliver them over to the Police; and all Police Officers are hereby required, on the application of the Central or Divisional Commissioners or their Officers as aforesaid, to seize and detain the same. If the vehicle seized be not claimed, or if the fine be not paid within ten days, such vehicle, together with the animals seized with it (if any), may be sold by auction by order of the Magistrate, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the fine, and to the costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), if not claimed by the owner within a further period of twenty days, shall be paid to the Central Commissioners.

Penalty for not registering a cart or hackery.

XXXII. The Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, may contract with the owners of any Gas-works for lighting with Gas such of the public streets of the said Town as the said Commissioners, with the like sanction, shall from time to time determine.

Gas contracts.

XXXIII. To provide for the lighting of the public streets of the said Town, an annual Lighting-rate of two per cent of their annual value shall be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town, the estimated monthly rent of which is not less than ten Rupees: and such rate shall be payable in quarterly instalments by the occupiers of such houses, buildings, and lands. The sum applicable annually to the current expenses of lighting the said streets, shall be the gross proceeds of the said Lighting-rate and no more; but the Central Commissioners may expend out of the funds at their disposal such further sums as may from time to time be requisite for the purchase, setting up, and maintaining of lamps, lamp-posts, pipes, and other necessary apparatus.

Lighting-rate.

XXXIV. The Central Commissioners shall carry out such a complete system for the supplying of fresh water within the Town as shall be directed by the Government of Bengal with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, subject to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered by the said Government with such sanction.

Water-supply.

XXXV. In order to provide for the better supply of water under the last preceding Section, an annual Water-rate not exceeding two and a half per cent. of their annual value shall be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town, the estimated monthly rent of which is not less than ten Rupees, and such rate shall be payable in quarterly assessments by the occupiers of such houses, buildings, and lands. The Government of Bengal shall, from time to time, by notification in the Government Gazette, declare at what rate within the above limit the tax to be levied under this Section shall be assessed.

Water-rate.

XXXVI. Every occupier shall be liable to the Lighting-rate and to the Water-rate for the time of his occupation; and when any person shall have been an occupier for a part only of any quarter, the Central Commissioners shall charge him with only so much of the rate for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days during which he continued to be an occupier. No such rate shall be chargeable to any person on account of any unoccupied house for the time during which it may remain unoccupied. Provided always that when any person ceases to be the occupier of any premises liable to the rate, he shall give the Central Commissioners notice thereof or, if he fail to give such notice, he shall be liable to the rate assessed on the said premises for the whole quarter, although they may have been occupied for a part only of such quarter.

Occupier liable to the rate for time of occupation only.

Proviso.

XXXVII. When any house or building or any land is let by the owner in apartments, flats, or portions, the owner shall be liable to pay the Lighting-rate and the Water-rate instead of the occupier or occupiers.

Owner when liable.

XXXVIII. When any person, who rents from the owner any house or building or any land, sublets the same in apartments or portions, such person, for the purposes of the Lighting-rate and of the Water-rate, shall be held to be the occupier.

Occupiers sub-letting.

XXXIX. If during the course of any quarter the Central Commissioners shall have reason to believe that any person, who, if the current quarter had come to an end, would be liable to pay the House-rate, the Lighting-rate, or the Water-rate for that quarter, is about to remove from the Town of Calcutta forthwith, it shall be lawful for the said Central Commissioners to declare such person liable to the immediate payment of the said rates or any one of them from the commencement of that quarter up to the date of such declaration, and the amount of such rate for such time due from such person shall be leviable forthwith in like manner and in all respects as the said rates are in ordinary cases leviable.

Person liable to rate and leaving Calcutta during a quarter may be made at once to pay the rate up to date.

XL. The Central Commissioners shall carry out such a complete system of sewerage and drainage within the said Town as has been or shall be directed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, subject to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered by the said Lieutenant Governor with such sanction; and until such system of sewerage and drainage has been completed, and all the expenses thereof defrayed, and all monies borrowed for the payment of such expenses on the security of the rates and interest thereon have been repaid, the said Commissioners shall set apart for the purposes above mentioned an annual sum of not less than one hundred and fifty thousand Rupees, out of the proceeds of the rate provided by Section XX of this Act.

Drainage.

XLI. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may determine what portions, if any, of the environs of the said Town shall be included in the said system of sewerage and drainage, and may declare the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazette. An annual rate to be fixed from time to time by the said Lieutenant-Governor, not exceeding two and a half per cent. of their annual value, may be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands situated within the boundaries so notified, and the same shall be payable by the owners thereof in quarterly instalments. For the purposes of the said rate, the houses, buildings, and lands situated within such boundaries as aforesaid, shall be held to be a part of the said Town; and all the provisions of this Act which relate to the assessment and collection of rates payable by owners, shall have effect in respect to such rates.

Drainage rate on houses in the environs of Town.

XLII. The Divisional Commissioners, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners and of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, shall, in addition to any general system for the supply of water under Section XXXIV of this Act, cause to be made and constructed such tanks, reservoirs, or other works, as shall be necessary to provide in convenient parts of the said Town, for the use of inhabitants thereof, a proper supply of good and wholesome water for drinking and domestic purposes; and until such tanks, reservoirs, or other works, shall have been constructed, and all the expenses thereof defrayed, and all monies borrowed for the payment of such expenses on the security of the rates, and interest thereon, shall have been repaid, the Central Commissioners shall set apart, for the purpose above mentioned, an annual sum of not less than thirty thousand Rupees, out of the proceeds of the rate provided by Section XX of this Act.

Construction of Tanks, &c., in the Town.

XLIII. For every notice of demand under Section XXI of Act XXV of 1856 which the Central Commissioners shall cause to be served upon any person, a fee of one Rupee shall be paid by such person, which fee shall be added to the amount of the rate or tax in respect of which the notice is given, and if not duly paid shall be levied in the same manner as such rate or tax may be leviable.

Fee to levied on every notice of demand issued by the Commissioners.

XLIV. All monies received by the Central Commissioners by virtue of this Act or of any other Act, and all monies which may be assigned by Government for purposes of Conservancy and Improvement in the said Town, shall constitute a fund, which shall be called the Municipal Fund of Calcutta, and shall be under the direction, management, and control of the Central Commissioners in the manner hereinbefore provided, and shall be applied to the purposes of this Act and of Act XXV of 1856, and of any other Act which now is or hereafter may be in force for the Conservancy or the Improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Municipal Fund.

XLV. All fines and penalties levied under this Act or under Act XXV of 1856 shall be paid to the Municipal Fund.

Certain fines to be paid to the Municipal Fund.

XLVI. The said Act XXV of 1856, so far as it relates to or has effect in the Town of Calcutta, is incorporated with this Act: and in construing the said Act as incorporated with this Act, the expression "the Special Act" shall mean this Act, the expressions "the Commissioners" and "the Municipal Commissioners" respectively, wherever they occur in the said Act or in any of the Schedules thereto, shall mean the Central Commissioners constituted by this Act, and the expression "the local Government" shall mean the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Interpretation of Act XXV of 1856.

XLVII. This Act shall commence and take effect on and from the first day of January 1863.

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations on the 3rd May 1862, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon after the 7th June next:—

A Bill for the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the Conservancy and Improvement of the Town of Calcutta, and to invest the Commissioners for the said Town with the powers hereinafter mentioned; It is enacted as follows:—

Act XIV of 1856 repealed.

I. Act XIV of 1856 is hereby repealed, so far as it relates to the Town of Calcutta, and except so far as it repeals the whole or any part of any other Act or Regulation, and except as to any act or offence which shall have been done or committed, or to any money which shall have become due, or to any fine or penalty which shall have been incurred, or to any proceedings which shall have been commenced, before this Act shall come into operation.

Interpretation.

II. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, (that is to say)—

"Town"

The word "Town" shall include all places within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta.

"Central Commissioners." "Divisional Commissioners."

The expressions "Central Commissioners" and "Divisional Commissioners" shall respectively mean the persons for the time being constituted by Law to be or to act as "Central Commissioners" or "Divisional Commissioners" (as the case may be) for the Town of Calcutta.

"Street."

The word "Street" shall mean any road, street, square, court, alley, or passage, whether a thoroughfare or not, over which the public have a right of way, and also the roadway over any public bridge or causeway, within the said Town.

"Land."

The word "Land" shall include messuages, buildings, tenements, and hereditaments, of any tenure.

Number.

Words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number.

Gender.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

"Person."

The word "person" shall include a corporation.

"Month."

The word "month" shall mean calendar month.

"Oath."

The word "oath" shall include any affirmation or declaration lawfully substituted for an oath.

"Magistrate."

The word "Magistrate" shall mean any Magistrate of Police for the Town of Calcutta.

"Owner.

The word "Owner" shall mean the person for the time being receiving the rent of the land or premises in connexion with which the word is used, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, or who would so receive the same if such land or premises were let to a tenant. Provided that no person receiving the rent of land or premises as agent for another person, shall be liable to do any thing by this Act required to be done by the owner of such land or premises, unless he have sufficient funds of the owner to pay for the same; nor shall he be subject to any penalty for omitting to do such act, if he can prove that the default was occasioned by reason of his not having funds of the owner sufficient to defray the expense of doing the act required.

Commissioners to appoint Officers.

III. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners may respectively, from time to time, appoint all such Officers as they shall think necessary and proper to assist in the execution of this Act; and may respectively, from time to time, remove any of such officers and appoint others in their place; and out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act, the Central Commissioners with the sanction of the Government, and the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commisioners and of the Government, may pay such salaries to the said Officers as the said Commissioners respectively shall think reasonable. Provided that no person shall be appointed to, or removed from, any office the monthly salary of which exceeds two hundred Rupees, without the sanction of the Government.

Property vested in Commissioners.

IV. All property, moveable or immoveable, purchased or otherwise acquired before the passing of this Act by the Municipal Commissioners or other persons, however designated, heretofore lawfully administering the funds applicable to the Conservancy and Improvement of the said Town, and now vested in them or in any persons in trust for them for any such purposes, shall, after the passing of this Act, be vested in the Central Commissioners as trustees for the purposes of this Act.

Streets and roads vested in the Commissioners.

V. All public streets and roads (not being the property, and kept under the control of the Government), existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall afterwards be made, and the pavements, stones, and other materials thereof, and also all erections, materials, implements, and other things provided for such streets and roads, shall be vested in and belong to the Central Commissioners.

Power to make and improve streets and roads.

VI. The Divisional Commissioners, with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, may within the limits of their Divisions respectively, lay out and make new streets and roads, and may build and construct bridges and tunnels; and may turn, divert, discontinue, or stop up, any public street or road; and may widen, open, enlarge, or otherwise improve, any such street or road; making due compensation to the owners and occupiers of any land, houses, or buildings which may be required for any such purposes.

Power to take land adjoining new streets for building purposes.

VII. In laying out new streets, in addition to the land required for the carriage-ways and foot-ways thereof, the Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, may purchase also the land necessary for the houses and buildings to form the said streets, and may sell and dispose of the same with such stipulations and conditions as to the class and description of houses or buildings to be erected thereon as they shall think fit. Provided that, if any land be taken under the provisions of this Act, compensation shall be made by the Central Commissioners to the owners for any damage which may be done thereby to any adjoining land or buildings of such owner.

Compensation for damage to adjoining land.

Power to agree for purchase of land for improving streets or roads.

VIII. The Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners may agree with the owners of any land, within the limits of their Division respectively, for the absolute purchase thereof for the purpose of laying out and making new streets and roads, or of widening, enlarging, or otherwise improving any of the public streets or roads.

Maintenance and repair of streets and roads.

IX. The Divisional Commissioners shall within the limits of their Divisions respectively, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, from time to time cause the public streets and roads to be maintained and repaired; and from time to time may cause the same to be paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, sewered, or otherwise improved, and the surface thereof to be raised, lowered, or altered, as they may think fit; and may also make and keep in repair any footways for the use of passengers in any such street or road, and also from time to time place on the sides of such footways or otherwise such fences and posts as may be needed for the protection of foot-passengers. Provided that no repairs of streets or roads or alterations in the direction, or in the channels or sewers or canals thereof, entailing an outlay of more than three hundred Rupees, shall be undertaken without the sanction of the Central Commissioners having been first obtained thereto at a meeting held under Section XIII of Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council.

Footways.

Cleansing Street.

X. The Divisional Commissioners shall, within the limits of their Divisions respectively, cause the streets, including the footways thereof, to be regularly swept and cleansed; and the dust, dirt, ashes, rubbish, and filth of every sort found thereon, to be collected and removed.

Dust boxes in streets.

XI. The Divisional Commissioners may, within the limits of their Divisions respectively, cause any number of moveable or fixed dust boxes or other convenient receptacles, wherein dust, dirt, ashes, and rubbish may be temporarily deposited, until removed and carried away, to be provided and placed in proper and convenient situations, and may require the occupiers of houses in streets to cause all such matter as aforesaid to be deposited daily or ortherwise periodically in the said receptacles. Every person who, after such receptacles have been provided, and after such requisition as above mentioned, shall deposit, or cause or permit to be deposited, any such matter in any street, except in such receptacles, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Depositing dirt on streets, &c.

XII. Whoever deposits, or permits his servants to deposit, any dust, dirt, dung, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or filth of any kind, or any animal matter, or any broken glass or earthen-ware, or other rubbish, in any street or on any public quay, jetty, ghaut, or landing-place, or on any part of a river-bank whether above or below high-water mark, except in such places and in such manner and at such hours as shall be fixed by the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which such deposit is made, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Allowing sewerage to flow on streets.

XIII. Whoever causes or allows the water of any sink or sewer, or any other offensive liquid matter belonging to him or being on his land, to run, drain, or be thrown or put upon any street, or causes or allows any offensive matter from any sewer or privy to run, drain, or be thrown into a surface drain in any street, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Removal of night-soil.

XIV. The Divisional Commissioners from time to time may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, fix the hours within which only it shall be lawful to remove any night-soil or other such offensive matter from within the limits of their Divisions respectively. When the Divisional Commissioners have, with such sanction as aforesaid, fixed such hours and given public notice thereof, whoever removes or causes to be removed along any street any such offensive matter at any time, except within the hours so fixed, and also whoever, at any time, whether such hours have been fixed by the Commissioners or not, uses for any such purpose any cart, carriage, or other receptacle or vessel not having a covering proper for preventing the escape of the contents thereof or of the stench therefrom, or who slops or spills any such offensive matter in the removal thereof, or who does not carefully sweep and clean every place in which any such offensive matter has been slopped or spilled, or who places or sets down in any public place any vessel containing such offensive matter, or who drives or takes or causes to be driven or taken any cart, carriage, receptacle, or vessel used for any such purpose as aforesaid, through any street or by any route other than such as shall from time to time be by public notice appointed for that purpose by the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees for each offence.

Places of deposit for filth.

XV. The Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, from time to time, shall appoint or provide places convenient for the deposit of the night soil, dung, and other filth, and the dust, dirt, ashes, and rubbish collected and removed from their Divisions respectively under the authority of this Act; and for keeping all cattle, carts, implements, and other things required for the above or any of the purposes of this Act, and for any of such purposes the Divisional Commissioners, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, may purchase or take on lease any land or buildings by them considered necessary, or may with such sanction cause any new building to be made upon any land to be purchased or hired by them.

All rubbish &c., collected to be the property of the Commissioners.

XVI. All dirt, dust, ashes, rubbish, sewerage, soil, dung, and filth, collected from the streets, houses, privies, sewers, and cess-pools, shall be the property of the Divisional Commissioners, who shall have power to sell or dispose of the same as they may think proper, and the money arising from the sale thereof, shall be applied to the purposes of this Act.

Watering streets.

XVII. The Divisional Commissioners, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, and so far as they may deem requisite for the public convenience, shall cause the public streets and roads within their respective Divisions, to be watered; and for that purpose may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, provide such works and engines as they may think necessary. And the Central Commissioners may provide such works and engines as they may think necessary for the purpose of supplying water to the several Divisions of the Town respectively for the purpose of this Section.

Lighting streets.

XVIII. The Divisional Commissioners, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall, in streets and places which are not, or which may not hereafter be, lighted with gas, provide lamps, lamp-posts, and such other means as they may deem necessary for lighting with oil such of the public streets and roads as they shall consider to require lighting with oil; and shall cause the said lamps to be kept in fit order, and shall employ a sufficient number of persons to cleanse, prepare, and light the same; and shall also, from time to time, increase or otherwise alter the number and situation of the said lamps, as to them shall appear necessary. But the Central Commissioners shall have the sole control and management of the lighting of the said Town so far as the same is or may hereafter be lighted with gas, and shall for that purpose, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, provide lamps, lamp-posts, and such other means as they may deem necessary for lighting with gas such of the public streets and roads (in whatever part of the Town they may be situated,) as they shall consider to require lighting with gas: and shall cause the said lamps to be kept in fit order, and shall employ a sufficient number of persons to cleanse, prepare, and light the same: and shall also from time to time increase or otherwise alter the number and situation of the said lamps in such manner as to them shall appear necessary.

Future obstructions in streets or roads.

XIX. Whoever builds any wall, or erects or sets up any fence, rail, post, or other obstruction or encroachment, in any public street of road, or in or over any open drain, sewer, or aqueduct along the side of any such street or road after the passing of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the Divisional Commissioners shall have power to remove any such obstruction or encroachment; and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the person erecting the same, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to remove.

Temporary obstruction on occasions of festivals, &c.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Divisional Commissioners, with the concurrence of the Commissioner of Police, from allowing any temporary erections in any public street or road on occasions of festivals and ceremonies.

Taking up pavements.

XX. Whoever displaces, takes up, or makes any alteration in the pavement, flags, or other materials, or in the fences or posts of any public street, without the consent in writing of the Divisional Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Private persons laying out new streets.

XXI. Every person who wishes to make or lay out any new street, shall give notice in writing thereof to the Divisional Commissioners, showing the intended level and width of such street; and the level and width of every such street shall be fixed or approved by the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners; and whoever lays out, makes, or builds upon any such street, otherwise than in accordance with the level and width so fixed or approved, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees; and the Central Commissioners may, if they think fit, cause any such street, laid out or made at a level or width otherwise than in accordance with the level or width so fixed or approved as aforesaid, to be altered; or may cause any building erected in any such street otherwise than in accordance with such level and width, to be altered, or if necessary removed, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the offender and be recoverable as hereinafter provided. If no such level or width be fixed, and no approval or disapproval of the level or width proposed, be signified by the Divisional Commissioners with such sanction as aforesaid within one month, the intended street may be laid out and made upon the level and of the width specified in the notice.

Proviso.

Erection of new huts to be under the control of the Commissioner.

XXII. It shall not be lawful for any person to erect, in or near any street, any hut or any range or block of huts on any plot or parcel of ground not previously built upon, or on which no huts are standing, without previous notice to the Divisional Commissioners; and the said Commissioners may require such hut or huts to be built so that they may stand in regular lines with a free passage or way in front of each line, of such width as the said Commissioners may think proper for salutary ventilation, and to facilitate scavengering, and at such a level as will admit of sufficient drainage. And if any such hut or huts be built without giving such notice to the Divisional Commissioners, or otherwise than as required by the said Commissioners, the said Commissioners may give notice to the builder or builders thereof to take down and remove the same within one month, and if such hut or huts be not taken down or removed according to such notice, the Divisional Commissioners may cause the same to be taken down and removed, and the expense incurred in doing so shall be paid by said builder or builders, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power of Commissioners as to existing huts.

XXIII. Whenever the Divisional Commissioners are satisfied, from inspection or by report of competent persons, that any existing block of huts, in or near any street, is, by reason of the manner in which the huts are huddled together, or the want of drainage and the impracticability of scavengering, attended with risk of disease to the inhabitants or the neighbourhood, they may, with the consent of the Central Commisssioners and of the Government, cause a notice to be affixed to some conspicuous part of such block of huts, requiring the owners or occupiers thereof, within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Commissioners for that purpose, to execute such operations as the Commissioners with such consent as aforesaid may deem necessary for the avoidance of such risk. And in case such owners or occupiers shall refuse or neglect to execute such operations within the time appointed, the Divisioal Commissioners may cause the said huts to be taken down, or such operations to be performed in respect of such huts, as the Divisional Commissioners may deem recessary to prevent such risk. If such huts be pulled down, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause the materials of each hut to be sold separately, if such sale can be effected; and the proceeds shall be paid to the owner of the hut, or if the owner be unknown, or the title disputed, shall be held in deposit by the said Commisioners, until the person interested therein shall obtain the order of a competent Court for the payment of the same. The Calcutta Court of Small Causes shall be deemed a competent Court for that purpose.

Paving, &c. of private streets.

XXIV. If any street (not being a public street), or any part thereof, be not levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Divisional Commissioners, they may, by notice in writing to the respective owners or occupiers of the premises fronting, adjoining, or abutting upon, such parts thereof as may need to be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, require them to level, metal, pave, flag, channel, and sewer the same within a time to be specified in such notice, and upon non-compliance the Divisional Commissioners may, if they think fit, and with the sanction of theCentral Commissioners, execute the works mentioned or referred to therein; and the expenses incurred by them in so doing shall be paid by the owners in default according to the frontage of their respective premises, and in such proportion as shall be settled by the Divisional Commissioners, or, in case of dispute, as shall be settled in the manner hereinfater provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses, and such expense shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided. Provided always that, after such street shall have been so levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, on the requisition of the Divisional Commissioners, or by the Divisional Commissioners as aforesaid, at the expense of the owners, such owners shall have a right to require that the street shall be declared a public street, to be from time to time repaired by the Divisional Commissioners out of the funds at their disposal for the purposes of this Act.

Proviso.

Certain streets to be deemed public and repaired by the Commissioners.

XXV. If any street (not being a public street) be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Divisional Commissioners, they may, if they think fit, and with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, by notice in writing put up in any part of such street, declare the same to be a public street, and thereupon the same shall become a public street, and be from time to time repaired by them out of the funds at their disposal. Provided that no street shall become a public street as last aforesaid if, within one month after such notice in writing, the owner of such street, or any one of the owners, shall, by notice in writing to the Divisional Commissioners, object thereto.

Proviso.

Houses may be set forward for improving line of streets.

XXVI. The Divisional Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, and upon such terms as they think fit, allow any house or building to be set forward for improving the line of any public street, in which such house or building is situated.

Houses projecting beyond line of street, when taken down, to be set back.

XXVII. When any house or building, any part of which projects beyond the regular line of a public street, or beyond the front of the house or building on either side thereof, has been taken down in order to be re-built or altered, the Divisional Commissioners may require the same to be set back to or towards the line of the street or the line of the adjoining houses or buildings. Provided always that the Divisional Commissioners shall make full compensation to the owner of any such house or building for any damage he may thereby sustain; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Proviso.

Names of streets.

XXVIII. The Divisional Commissioners shall, from time to time, cause to be put up or painted on a conspicuous part of some house, building, wall, or place at or near each end, corner, or entrance of every street, the name by which such street is to be known; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such name, or puts up any name different from that put up by order of the Divisional Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Numbers of houses.

XXIX. The Divisional Commissioners may, from time to time, fix a number in a conspicuous place on the outer side of any house or building, or at the entrance of the enclosure thereof fronting the street; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such number, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Doors not to open outwards.

XXX. All doors, gates, bars, and ground-floor windows put up after the passing of this Act, which open upon any public streets, shall be hung or placed so as not to open outwards; and if any such door, gate, bar, or window be hung or placed so as to open outwards on any such street, the owner of the premises to which the same is attached shall, within eight days after notice from the Divisional Commissioners to that effect, cause the same to be altered so as not to open outwards, and in case he neglects so to do, the Divisional Commissioners may make such alteration, and the expense thereof shall be paid by such owners, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Doors opening outwards to be altered.

XXXI. If any door, gate, bar, or ground-floor window put up before the passing of this Act is hung or placed so as to open outwards upon any public street, the Divisional Commissioners may alter the same, so that no part thereof, when open, shall project over any such street so as to cause an obstruction, and the expense thereof shall be paid by the owners and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Troughs and pipes to be fixed to houses.

XXXII. The owner of every house or building in any public street shall, within eight days after notice from the Divisional Commissioners to that effect, put up and keep in good condition proper troughs and pipes for catching and carrying the water from the roof and other parts of such house or building, and for discharging the same in such manner that it shall not fall upon the persons passing along the street; and in default of compliance with such notice within the period aforesaid, such owner shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day that he shall so make default.

Future projections from houses to be removed.

XXXIII. The Divisional Commissioners may give notice in writing to the owner or occupier of any house or building to remove or alter any projection, encroachment, or obstruction, which after the passing of this Act, shall be erected or placed against or in front of such house or building, if the same overhangs, or juts into, or in any way projects or encroaches upon, or is an obstruction to the safe and convenient passage along any public street, or obstructs or projects or encroaches into or upon any uncovered aqueduct, drain, or sewer in such street; and such owner or occupier shall, within fourteen days after the service of such notice upon him, remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction, or alter the same in such manner as shall have been directed by the Divisional Commissioners; and in default thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees; and the Divisional Commissioners in such case may remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction; and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the owner or occupier so making default, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided. Provided that, when the expense shall have been paid by the occupier, except in the case in which such projections, encroachments, or obstructions were made or put up by him, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the expense of removing or altering the same from the rent payable by him to the owner of the house or building.

Proviso.

Sun-shades, &c.

Provided always that the roofs or eaves of houses or buildings, sun-shades, weather-frames, and the like, at a height not less than twelve feet above the surface of any street, may be projected to the extent of three feet over the same.

Removal of existing projections from houses.

XXXIV. The Divisional Commissioners may cause any such projection, encroachment or obstruction, erected or placed against or in front of any house or buliding, in any public street, before the passing of this Act, to be removed or altered as they think fit; provided that they give notice of such intended removal or alteration to the occupier of the house or building against or in front of which such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall be, thirty days before such alteration or removal is begun; and if such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall have been lawfully made, they shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by such removal or alteration; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Notice of removal.

Compensation when to be made.

Commissioners may allow certain projections from houses.

XXXV. The Divisional Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, give permission in writing to the owners or occupiers of houses or buildings in public streets, the width of which is not less than twenty-five feet, to put up verandahs, balconies, sun-shades, weather-frames, and the like, to project from any upper-story thereof over the street, to an extent not exceeding four feet from the foundation, and, for special reasons, to allow such projections to be extended to five feet.

Roofs and external walls of houses not to be made of combustible materials.

XXXVI. The external roofs and walls of huts or other buildings erected or renewed in or near any street after the passing of this Act, shall not be made of grass, leaves, mats, or other such inflammable materials; and it shall not be lawful for the owner of any hut or other building in or near any street now having an external roof or wall made of any such material, and which is contiguous to or adjoining to any other building, to suffer such roof or wall to remain after the passing of this Act, unless with the consent in writing of the Central Commissioners and of the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which such roof or wall is; and whoever makes any external roof or wall made of such materials, or suffers any roof or wall made of such materials to continue contrary to the provisions herein contained, and who shall not remove or alter the same within one month after notice given to him for that purpose by the Central Commissioners, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day that such roof or wall shall continue. Any person may give information and institute a prosecution before a magistrate under this Section.

Houses in a ruinous and dangerous state.

XXXVII. If, in any street, any house, building or wall or any thing affixed thereon, be deemed by the Divisional Commissioners to be in a ruinous state or likely to fall, or in any way dangerous to the inhabitants of such house or building, or to the neighbouring houses or buildings, or to the occupiers thereof, or to passengers, they shall immediately, if it appears to them to be necessary, cause a proper board or fence to be put up for the protection of passengers; and shall cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door or other conspicuous part of the said premises or otherwise to be given to the occupier thereof (if any) requiring such owner or occupier forthwith to take down, secure, or repair such house, building, wall, or thing affixed thereon, as the case shall require; and if such owner or occupier do not begin to repair, take down, or secure the same within three days after such notice, and complete such work with due diligence, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause all or so much of such house, building, wall, or thing as they shall think necessary, to be given down, repaired, or otherwise secured; and all the expenses incurred by the Divisional Commissioners shall be paid by the owner of the premises, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Sale of materials of ruinous houses.

XXXVIII. If any such house, building, or wall, or any part of the same be pulled down by virtue of the powers aforesaid, the Divisional Commissioners may sell the materials thereof or so much of the same as shall be taken down, and apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the expenses incurred, and shall restore any overplus arising from such sale to the owner of such house, building, or wall, on demand. The Divisional Commissioners, although they sell such materials for the purposes aforesaid, shall have the same remedies for compelling the payment of so much of the said expenses as may remain due after the application of the proceeds of such sale, as by this Act are given to them for compelling the payment of the whole of the said expenses.

Power to shut up and secure deserted houses.

XXXIX. If any building or land, by reason of abandonment or of disputed ownership or other cause, shall remain untenanted, and thereby become a resort of idle and disorderly persons, or be complained of by any two or more of the neighbours as a nuisance, the Divisional Commissioners, after due enquiry, may cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, or to the person claiming to be the owner if he be known and resident within the limits of their jurisdiction, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door of the building or some conspicuous part of the premises, requiring the persons, concerned therein, whoever they may be, to secure or enclose the same; and if such notice shall not be complied with within eight days, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause the necessary work to be executed, and all expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the premises and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty on occupier of a house not removing filth.

XL. Whoever, being the occupier of a house in or near any street, keeps or allows to be kept for more than twenty-four hours, otherwise than in some proper receptacle, any dirt, dung, bones, ashes, nightsoil, filth, or any noxious or offensive matter, in or upon the roof of such house, or in any out-house, yard, or ground attached to and occupied with such house, or suffers such receptacle to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means to remove the filth therefrom and to cleanse and purify the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Filthy houses, &c.

XLI. Whoever, being the owner or occupier of any house, building, or land in or near any street, whether tenantable or otherwise, suffers the same to be in a filthy and unwholesome state, or overgrown with vegetation, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day after conviction for such offence during which the offence is continued.

Power to trim hedges and trees bordering roads.

XLII. The Divisional Commissioners may give notice to the owner or occupier of any land to trim or prune the hedges thereof bordering any public road or street, so that they may not exceed the height of seven feet from the level of the road; and to cut and trim all trees which by overhanging any public road or street obstruct the passage or cause damage thereto; and in the event of such notice not being complied with within eight days from the date thereof, the Divisional Commissioners may cause the said hedges and trees to be cut and trimmed in the manner required, and the expense incurred by the Commissioners in respect thereof shall be paid to them by the owners, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Keeping swine, &c, in or near any street.

XLIII. Whoever keeps any pig-stye to the front of any street, not being shut out therefrom by a sufficient wall or fence, or whoever shall keep any swine in or near any street, so as to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood, or who shall, without the permission of the Divisional Commissioners keep more than twenty sheep or goats, or ten horned cattle, in or near any street, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Sewers, drains &c. vested in the Commissioners.

XLIV. All public sewers and drains not forming part of any general system of sewerage or drainage for the Town of Calcutta, and all sewers, drains, tunnels, and culverts (not forming part of any such system), in, alongside, or under the streets or roads existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or afterwards made, and whether made at the cost of the Commissioners or otherwise, and all works, materials, and things appertaining thereto, shall be vested in and belong to the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which the same are or may be situated respectively. But all sewers and drains and culverts forming part of any general system of sewerage or drainage for the Town of Calcutta, and existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or afterwards made, and whether made at the cost of the Central Commissioners or otherwise, and all works, materials, and things appertaining thereto, shall be vested in and belong to the Central Commissioners.

Commissioners to make public sewers.

XLV. The Central Commissioners with the sanction of the Government, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall cause to be made such main and other sewers as they may judge necessary for the effectual draining of the Town of Calcutta; and, if needful, they may carry such sewers through, across, or under any street, or any place laid out as or intended for a street, or any cellar or vault which may be under any of the streets, and (after reasonable notice in writing in that behalf) into, through, or under any inclosed or other land whatsoever, making full compensation for any damage done thereby; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Commissioners to repair and alter and discontinue sewers.

XLVI. The Central Commissioners, and the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, shall respectively maintain, and from time to time repair, and as they see fit enlarge, alter, arch-over, or otherwise improve all or any of the sewers and drains vested in them respectively by this Act; and may discontinue, close up, or destroy such of them as they may deem useless or unnecessary.

Proviso.

Provided always that the discontinuance, closing up, or destruction of any sewer or drain, shall be so done as not to create a nuisance; and if by reason thereof, or of any alteration as hereinbefore mentioned, any person is deprived of the lawful use of any sewer or drain, the Central Commissioners, or the Divisional Commissioners with the sanction of the Central Commissioners, as the case may be, shall, with due diligence, provide some other sewer or drain as effectual for his use as the one of which he is so deprived.

Cleansing and emptying sewers.

XLVII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, cause the sewers and drains belonging to them respectively, to be so constructed, maintained, and kept, as not to be a nuisance or injurious to health, and to be properly cleared, cleansed, and emptied; and for the purpose of flushing, cleansing, and emptying the same, they may construct and place, either above or under-ground, such reservoirs, sluices, engines, and other works as may be necessary; and the Central Commissioners may also with the consent of the Government, and the Divisional Commissioners may also with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, cause all or any of such sewers and drains to communicate with and be emptied into any tidal river or other fit place, or cause the refuse from such sewers and drains to be conveyed by a proper channel to the most convenient site for its deposit, and may sell the same for any agricultural or other purposes as may be deemed most expedient, but so that the same shall not become a nuisance.

Bed of stream receiving sewerage to be cleared.

XLVIII. When the contents of any sewer or drain or any other flow or filth or refuse are discharged into any river or stream, in the bed or channel of which the quantity of water at any season of the year is so much diminished by natural or artificial causes as to be insufficient to keep such channel clean or clear, the Central Commissioners with the consent of the Government, and the Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners and of the Government, as the case may be, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall make such alteration in the bed of such river or stream as may prevent such sewer and drain-water from spreading over the surface of such bed, or from accumulating and stagnating in parts thereof to the injury of health or the annoyance of the surrounding population.

Penalty for making unauthorized drains into public sewers.

XLIX. Whoever, without the written consent of the Commissioners first obtained, makes or causes to be made any drain into any of the sewers or drains vested in such Commissioners by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the Commissioners into whose sewer or drain such drain has been made, may cause such branch-drain to be demolished, altered, re-made, or otherwise dealt with as they think fit; and all the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the person making such branch-drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Building over sewers, &c., not to be erected without consent of Commissioners.

L. No building shall be newly erected over any sewer or drain vested in any of the Commissioners by this Act, without their written consent; and if any building be so erected, the Commissioners to whom the sewer or drain belongs, may cause such building to be pulled down, or otherwise dealt with as they may think fit; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person offending, and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Divisional Commissioners empowered to make drains from houses in or near streets which are not properly drained.

LI. If any house or building, in or near any street, be at any time not drained to the satisfaction of the Central or of the Divisional Commissioners by a sufficient drain or pipe communicating with some sewer, or some tidal river or other place at which the said Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers, and if there be such means of drainage within one hundred feet of any part of such house or building, the said Commissioners may construct or lay from such house or building a covered drain or pipe of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall, as they think necessary for the draining of such house or building; and the expenses incurred by the Commissioners in respect thereof, if not forthwith paid by the owner, shall be recoverable as hereinafter directed. Provided that the cost of executing such work shall not, without the consent of the owner, exceed the amount of three months' rent of the house or building. Provided also that no Divisional Commissioners shall, under this Section, be empowered to open or in any way to intermeddle with any sewer or drain which belongs to any other Divisional Commissioners or to the Central Commissioners.

Level of houses hereafter built in or near streets.

LII. No house or building shall be hereafter built in or near any street upon a lower level than will allow of the drainage of such house or building being led into some public sewer either then existing, or projected by the Central Commissioners, into some tidal river or other place into which the Central Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers.

LIII. If any house or building, newly erected or re-built in or near any street after the passing of this Act, have such means of drainage as in the last preceding Section mentioned, existing within one hundred feet thereof, the owner shall make a drain leading thereunto from the site of such house or building, of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall as the Divisional Commissioners may direct; and if he neglect to do so within a reasonable time, the Divisional Commissioners may cause the same to be done, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Houses hereafter built in or near streets to have drains constructed under the orders of the Commissioners.

LIV. Before beginning, in or near any street to build or re-build any house, the person intending to build or rebuild such house shall give to the Divisional Commissioners notice thereof in writing and shall accompany such notice with a plan shewing the levels at which the foundation and lowest floor of such house are proposed to be laid by reference to some level ascertained under the direction of the Divisional Commissioners

Notice of new building in or near streets to be given to Commissioners.

LV. Within fourteen days after receiving such notice, the Divisional Commissioners shall signify their approval of the proposed levels, or if they disapprove thereof, they shall fix other levels in lieu thereof within the same time.

Commissioners to signify disapproval within fourteen days.

LVI. If such building be begun or made without sending such notice and plan, or at any levels different from those fixed by the Divisional Commissioners within the said fourteen days, or in any other respect contrary to the provisions of this Act, the Divisional Commissioners may, if necessary, cause such building to be altered or demolished as the case may require; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid by the person failing to comply with the provisions aforesaid, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Houses built without notice, or contrary to provisions of this Act, may be altered by Commissioners.

LVII. If the Divisional Commissioners fail to signify in writing their approval or disapproval of the levels shewn on such plan as aforesaid, and to fix other levels within fourteen days after receiving such notice and plan as aforesaid, the person giving such notice may, notwithstanding any thing hereinbefore contained, proceed to build or re-build the house therein referred to according to the levels shewn on such plan, provided that such building or re-building be otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

If Commissioners fail to approve, &c., within fourteen days, parties may proceed without.

LVIII. All sewers and drains in streets, whether public or private, shall be provided by the Commissioners or by the persons to whom they severally belong, with proper traps or other coverings or means of ventilation so as to prevent stench. If the owner of any private sewer or drain shall, for ten days after notice given to him by the Divisional Commissioners, neglect or delay to provide proper traps or coverings or means of ventilation as aforesaid, the Divisional Commissioners may forthwith provide and apply the same; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such sewer or drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Sewers in streets to be covered with traps, &c.

LIX. The Commissioners may erect on, or fix to any house or building, such pipes as they may deem necessary for the proper ventilation of the sewers belonging to them, and such pipes shall be carried to a height of not less than six feet above the highest part of the house or building, and erected so as not to occasion any nuisance or inconvenience to any house or building in the neighbourhood.

Power of Commissioners to erect or affix to building pipes for ventilation of sewers.

LX. Whoever throws or puts, or permits his servants to throw or put any earth, dirt, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or any broken glass or earthen-ware, or other rubbish, or, until suitable sewers shall be provided, any night-soil, into any sewer or drain belonging to any of the Commissioners, or into any drain communicating therewith, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Throwing rubbish into sewers.

LXI. The Divisional Commissioners may provide and maintain in proper and convenient situations, so as not to create a nuisance, common necessaries and urinals, and shall cause the same, when provided, to be kept in proper order and to be daily cleansed.

Common necessaries.

LXII. The Divisional Commissioners may license, for any period not exceeding one year, such necessaries for public accommodation as they, from time to time, may think proper; and whoever keeps any public necessary without such license, or, having a license for a public necessary, suffers the same to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means for cleaning the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the license may be cancelled by the Magistrate before whom the person is convicted.

Licensing of public necessaries.

LXIII. The owner or occupier of any house or building having a privy erected on his premises, shall have such privy shut out by a sufficient wall or fence from the view of persons passing by. In neglect of this provision he shall be liable to a penalty of ten Rupees a day for each day of default.

Neglecting to enclose private privy.

LXIV. All branch-drains, as well within as without the lands or buildings to which they belong, and all privies and cess-pools in or near any street, shall be under the survey and control of the Divisional Commissioners, and shall be altered, repaired, and kept in proper order at the costs and charges of the owners of the lands and buildings to which the same belong or for the use of which they are constructed or continued; and if the owner of any land or buildings to which any such drain, privy, or cess-pool belongs, neglect, during eight days after notice in writing for that purpose, to alter, repair, and put the same into good order in

Branch-drains, privies, &c., to be under control of Commissioners and to be kept in good order by owners.

If owners neglect, Commissioners may cause the same to be done and charge the owners with the expense.

the manner required by the Divisional Commissioners, the Divisional Commissioners may cause such drain, privy, or cess-pool to be altered, repaired, and put in good order, and the expense incurred by the Divisional Commissioners in respect thereof shall be paid by the owner, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty for persons making or altering drains, &c., contrary to the orders of the Commissioners.

LXV. If any such drain, privy, or cess-pool be constructed, after the passing of this Act, contrary to the directions and regulations of the Divisional Commissioners, or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or if any person, without the consent of the Divisional Commissioners, constructs, re-builds, or unstops, any drain, privy, or cess-pool which has been ordered by them to be demolished or stopped up, or not to be made, every person so doing shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and the Divisional Commissioners may cause such amendment or alteration to be made in any such drain, privy, or cess-pool as they think fit; and the expense thereof shall be paid by the person by whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool was improperly constructed, rebuilt, or unstopped, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Inspection of drains, privies, and cess-pools.

LXVI. The Divisional Commissioners, or any Officer appointed by them for the purpose, may inspect any such drain, privy, or cesspool, and for that purpose, any time between sunrise and sunset, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing to the occupier of the premises to which such drain, privy, or cesspool is attached, may enter upon any lands and buildings with such assistants and workmen as are necessary, and cause the ground to be opened where they or he may think fit, and if, upon such inspection, it appears that the drain, privy, or cess-pool is not in good order and condition, or that it has been constructed after the passing of this Act contrary to the provisions thereof, the expenses of such inspection shall be paid by the person to whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool may belong; but if the drain, privy, or cess-pool be found to be in proper order and condition and not to have been constructed in violation of the provisions of this Act, the Divisional Commissioners or Officer as aforesaid shall cause the ground to be closed and made good as soon as may be; and the expenses of opening, closing, and making good such drain, privy, or cess-pool shall, in that case, be defrayed by the Divisional Commissioners. Provided always that nothing hereinbefore contained shall authorize an entry into the zenanas or private appartments appropriated to the females of Hindoo and Mussulman families for the purpose of such inspection, except by the agency of women.

Proviso.

Service of notice on owners and occupiers of buildings and lands.

LXVII. Where any notice is required by this Act to be given to the owner or occupier of any building or land, such notice, addressed to the owner or occupier as the case may require, may be served on the occupier of such building or land, or left with some adult male member or servant of his family, or, if the notice cannot be so served, or if there be no occupier, may be put up on some conspicious part of such building or land, and it shall not be necessary in any such notice to name the occupier or the owner. Provided always that, when the owner and his residence are known to the Commissioners by whom the notice is issued, it shall be their duty, if such owner be residing within the limits of their authority, to cause every notice, required to be given to the owner of any building or land, to be served on such owner or left with some adult male member or servant of his family; and, if the owner be not resident within such limits, they shall send every such notice by Post addressed to his residence, and proof of delivery of the notice at the Post Office shall be held to be due service of the same.

Commissioners, in default of owner or occupier, may execute works and recover expenses.

LXVIII. Whenever, under the provisions of this Act, any work is required to be executed by the owner or occupier of any building or land, and default is made in the execution of such works, the Divisional Commissioners, whether any penalty is or is not provided for such default, may cause such work to be executed; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the person by whom such work ought to have been executed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to levy charges on ocupier, who may deduct the same from his rent.

LXIX. If the defaulter be the owner of the building or land, the Divisional Commissioners may, by way of additional remedy, whether any action or proceeding has been brought or taken against any such owner or not, require the payment of all or any part of the expenses payable by the owner for the time being, from the person who then or at any time thereafter occupies the building or land under such owner, and, in default of payment thereof by such occupier on demand, the same may be levied by distress of the goods and chattels of such occupier; and every such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent payable by him to his landlord so much as is so paid by or recovered from him in respect of any such expenses.

Occupier not to be liable for more than the amount of rent due.

LXX. No occupier of any building or land shall be liable to pay more money, in respect of any expenses charged by this Act on the owner thereof, than the amount of rent due from him for the premises in respect of which such expenses are payable at the time of the demand made upon him, or which at any time after such demand has accrued and become payable by him, unless he neglect or refuse, upon application made to him for that purpose by the Commissioners, truly to disclose the amount of his rent and the name and address of the person to whom such rent is payable; but the burden of proof that the sum demanded of any such occupier is greater than the rent which was due by him at the time of such demand or which has since accrued, shall lie upon such occupier; provided further that nothing herein contained shall be taken to affect any special contract made between any such owner or occupier respecting the payment of the expenses of any such works as aforesaid.

LXXI. Whenever default is made by the owner of any building or land, in the execution of any work required to be executed by him, the occupier of such building or land may, with the approval of the Divisional Commissioners, cause such work to be executed, and the expense thereof shall be paid to him by the owner, or the amount may be deducted out of the rent from time to time becoming due from him to such owner.

Occupier in default of owner, may execute works and deduct expenses from his rent.

LXXII. If the occupier of any building or land prevent the owner thereof from carrying into effect, in respect of such building or land, any of the provisions of this Act, after notice of his intention so to do has been given by the owner to such occupier, any Magistrate, upon proof thereof, may give an order in writing requiring such occupier to permit the owner to execute all such works with respect to such building or land as may be necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this Act; and if, after the expiration of eight days from the date of the order, such occupier continue to refuse to permit such owner to execute such works, such occupier shall, for every day during which he so continues to refuse, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and every such owner, during the continuance of such refusal, shall be discharged from any penalties to which he might otherwise have become liable by reason of his default in executing such works.

Proceedings in case of tenants opposing the execution of this Act.

LXXIII. Except as is in the concluding paragraph of this Section provided, all public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works existing at the time of the passing of this Act or afterwards made, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land (not being private property) appertaining to any public tank, shall be vested in and belong to the Divisional Commissioners of the Division within the limits of which the same are respectively situated. Provided always that all tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, and other water-works, forming part of or appertaining to any general system of water-supply to be hereafter undertaken by the Central Commissioners, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land not being private property, shall be vested in and belong to the Central Commissioners.

Tanks, &c., vested in the Commissioners.

LXXIV. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners to whom they respectively belong shall cause all existing public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works used for the supply of water to the inhabitants or for the other purposes mentioned in this Act, to be continued, maintained, and supplied with water; or they shall substitute other such works and shall cause them to be maintained and supplied with water; and the Divisional Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Central Commissioners at a meeting held under Section XIII of Act of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and so far as the funds at their disposal will permit, from time to time construct aqueducts for bringing water into the Division under their authority, and may provide any number of new tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, and other such water-works for the purposes aforesaid.

Construction and maintenance of works for supply of water.

LXXV. The Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the Central Commissioners shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, cause all necessary works, machinery, and assistance for securing an efficient supply of water in cases of fire, to be provided and maintained.

Provision for supply of water in cases of fire.

LXXVI. Whoever, except as permitted by the Divisional Commissioners under Section LXXIX, bathes in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, or aqueduct belonging to the Central Commissioners or to the Divisional Commissioners; or washes or causes to be washed therein, any horse, dog, or other animal, or any wool, cloth, or wearing apparel, or any utensils for cooking or other purposes, or leather, or the skin of any animal, or other foul or offensive thing; or throws, puts, or casts, or causes to enter therein, any animal or any gravel, stone, dust, or rubbish, or any dirt, filth, or other noisome or offensive matter or thing; or causes or suffers to run, drain, or be brought thereinto, the water of any sink, sewer, drain, engine, or boiler, or any other unwholesome or offensive liquid matter or thing belonging to him or flowing from any house or building or from any ground occupied by him; or does any thing whatsoever whereby any such water shall be in any degree fouled or corrupted, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Fouling water by—Bathing.
Washing animals or things, &c.
Throwing rubbish, &c.
Allowing drains, &c., to flow.

LXXVII. Whoever, being the proprietor of any gas-works, or being engaged or employed in the manufacture or supply of gas, or being the occupier or proprietor of any place where an offensive trade or manufacture is carried on, wilfully does any act connected with the said business, whereby the water in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, aqueduct, or other water-works belonging to the Central Commissioners or to the Divisional Commissioners, is fouled or corrupted, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand Rupees, and to a further penalty, not exceeding five hundred Rupees, for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice in writing from the Divisional Commissioners in this behalf; and the Divisional Commissioners may, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, lay open and examine any pipes, conduits, and works belonging to such person; and if, upon such examination, it appears that the water has been fouled or corrupted by any thing proceeding from or contained in the pipes, conduits, or works examined, the expenses of such examination shall be paid by the person to whom such pipes, conduits, or works belong, or under whose management or control they may be, and be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided; but if it appear that the water has not been so fouled or corrupted, then such expenses, and all damages occasioned by the examination, shall be paid by the Divisional Commissioners.

Water fouled by offensive trades.

Injuring water-works or diverting or wasting water.

LXXVIII. Whoever wilfully or carelessly injures any water-works belonging to the Central Commissioners or to the Divisional Commissioners, or unlawfully draws off, diverts, or takes water from any such water-works, or from any waters or streams belonging to the said Commissioners respectively by which such water-works are supplied, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Commissioners may set apart bathing places, &c.

LXXIX. The Central Commissioners may, at their discretion, set apart any public ghaut or place, or any part of the strand of any river (not being private property), for the purpose of being used as a bathing place; and may also provide or set apart a sufficient number of convenient tanks or runs of water for the inhabitants to bathe in, and may also set apart tanks or reservoirs, or runs of water, for washing animals or clothes, or for any other purpose connected with the health, cleanliness, and comfort of the inhabitants.

Bye-laws to regulate—

LXXX. The Central Commissioners may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws—

The use of water.

For regulating all or any matters and things whatsoever connected with the water to be supplied by them, and the use of such water for any of the purposes mentioned in this Act—

Bathing places.

And for regulating the time and place of bathing for persons of each sex in the places provided or appointed by them for the purpose of bathing, in such manner as shall appear to the Commissioners necessary, making due allowance for the habits and customs of the country.

Power to fill up unwholesome tanks, &c., on private premises.

LXXXI. When any private tank or low marshy ground, or any waste or stagnant water, being within any private enclosure, appears to the Divisional Commissioners to be injurious to health, or to be offensive to the neighbourhood, it shall be lawful for the Divisional Commissioners to require, by notice in writing, the owner of the said premises to cleanse or fill up such tank or marshy ground, or to drain off or remove such stagnant water; and if he shall refuse or neglect to comply with such requisition during eight days from the service thereof, the said Commissioners, their Officers, and workmen, may enter into the said premises and do all necessary acts for all or any of the purposes aforesaid as they shall think fit; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owners of such premises, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to drain off and cleanse stagnant pools in open places.

LXXXII. The Divisional Commissioners are hereby empowered, from time to time, as they shall see fit, to drain off into any sewers belonging to them, and cleanse and fill up, or otherwise abate, any stagnant pool, ditch, tank, pond, or other receptacle of water (the same not being within any private enclosure) which shall appear to them to be useless or unnecessary, or likely to prove injurious to the health of the inhabitants, whether the same be the private property of any person or otherwise; and the Divisional Commissioners, their Officers, and workmen, may do all necessary acts for effecting any of the purposes aforesaid.

Commissioners in executing works to provide roads, &c., where existing ones are injured.

LXXXIII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively, in executing any works directed or authorized by this Act to be made, shall provide and make, at their own expense, a sufficient number of convenient ways, water-courses, drains, and channels in the place of such as may be interrupted, injured, or rendered useless by reason of the execution of such works; and, in case of any difference arising between the said Commissioners respectively and the persons affected thereby, such difference shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Commissioners breaking up street to restore the same with all convenient speed.

LXXXIV. When the pavement or surface of any street, or when any sewer or drain, shall be opened or broken up by the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners respectively, or by their Officers or servants, they shall, with all convenient speed, complete the work on account of which the same shall have been broken up, and fill in the ground and make good the pavement and surface, and the sewer or drain, so opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned thereby; and shall, in the meantime, cause the place where such pavement or surface shall be so opened or broken up, to be fenced and guarded, and sufficiently lighted during the night.

Situation of gas and water-pipes to be altered at the expense of the Commissioners.

LXXXV. If the Central Commissioners deem it necessary, for the purposes of this Act, to raise, sink, or otherwise alter the situation of any water-pipe, or gas-pipe, or other water works or gas-works laid in any of the streets, they may, from time to time, by notice in writing, require the person to whom any such pipes or works belong, or under whose control they may be, to cause forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be, any such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or otherwise altered in position in such manner as the said Commissioners direct; provided that such alteration be not such as permanently to injure such works, or to prevent the water or gas from flowing as freely and conveniently as before; and the expenses attending such raising, sinking, or altering, and full compensation for the damage done thereby, shall be paid by the said Commissioners, as well to the persons to whom such pipes or works belong as to all other persons. And if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses. The Divisional Commissioners may, with the consent of the Central Commissioners, exercise, within their respective divisions, the powers conferred by this Section on the Central Commissioners.

If owner, &c., neglect to make alterations, the Commissioners may cause the same to be done.

LXXXVI. If the person to whom any such pipes or works belong, or under whose control they may be, do not proceed forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be after the receipt of such notice, to cause the same to be raised, sunk, or altered, in such manner as the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners, with such consent as aforesaid, require, the said Commissioners may themselves cause such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or altered, as they think fit; provided that such works be not permanently injured thereby, or the water or gas prevented from flowing as freely and conveniently as before.

Hoards to be set up during repairs.

LXXXVII. Every person intending to build or take down any building, or to alter or repair the outward part of any building where any street or footway will be obstructed or rendered inconvenient by means of such work shall, before beginning the same, and having first obtained a license in writing from the Divisional Commissioners so to do, cause sufficient hoards or fences to be put up, in order to separate the building where such works are being carried on from the street or footway, and shall continue such hoard or fence standing and in good condition, to the satisfaction of the said Commissioners, during such time as the public safety or convenience requires, and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and every such person who begins to build, or take down, or alter, or repair, any building contrary to the provisions of this Section, or who, without license, erects, or sets up any hoards, scaffolding, or fence whatsoever, or who, being licensed, fails to put up such fence or hoard, or to continue the same standing and in good condition as aforesaid during the time aforesaid, or who does not, while the said hoards or fence are standing, keep the same sufficiently lighted during the night, or who does not remove the same when directed by the said Commissioners, within eight days, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the said Commissioners.

Bars to be erected across streets during repairs, and lights placed at night.

LXXXVIII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively shall, during the construction or repair by them of any of the streets, sewers, or drains, vested in them respectively, take proper precaution for guarding against accident, by shoring up and protecting the adjoining houses, and shall cause such bars, chains, or posts to be fixed across or in any of the streets or roads to prevent the passage of carriages, carts or other vehicles, cattle or horses, while such works are carried on, as to them shall seem proper; and the said Commissioners respectively shall cause any sewer or drain or other works in streets, during the construction or repair thereof by them, to be sufficiently lighted and guarded during the night; and whoever takes down, alters, or removes any of the said bars, chains, or posts, or extinguishes any light, without the authority or consent of the said Commissioners respectively, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Penalty for not lighting deposits of building materials or excavations.

LXXXIX. No persons except the Central Commissioners shall deposit any building materials, or make a hole in any street, without the permission of the Divisional Commissioners; and when such permission is granted to any person, he shall, at his own expense, cause such materials, or such hole, to be sufficiently fenced and enclosed until the materials are removed, or the hole is filled up, or otherwise made secure; and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and whoever, except as aforesaid, deposits materials, or makes a hole without such permission, or fails to fence or enclose and light such materials or hole, or does not remove such materials, or fill up such hole when the permission has been withdrawn, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the said Commissioners.

Dangerous places near streets to be repaired or enclosed.

XC If any building, tank, well, or hole, or other place, be, for want of sufficient repair, protection, or enclosure, dangerous to passengers, the Divisional Commissioners shall cause the same to be repaired, protected, or enclosed, so as to prevent danger therefrom; and the expenses of such repair, protection, or enclosure, shall be paid to the said Commissioners by the owner of the property so repaired, protected, or enclosed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Slaughter-houses within certain limits to be registered.

XCI. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta which (if any) shall be specially prescribed by the Government for the purpose, every place used as a slaughter-house shall, within one month after the passing of this Act, be registered by the owner or occupier at the Office of the Central Commissioners in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of that time, and after eight days' notice from the said Commissioners, uses or permits to be used any slaughter-house without its being registered, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day during which such place shall be so used without having been registered.

Commissioners may order existing slaughter-houses to be discontinued.

XCII. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Central Commissioners that any place used as a slaughter-house within the said limits is a nuisance to the neighbourhood, they may give notice to the occupier to discontinue such use thereof within one month; and whoever, after the expiration of that time, uses such place, or permits it to be used as a slaughter-house, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding two hundred Rupees, for every day during which it shall be so used.

No slaughter-houses to be newly set up without license.

XCIII. No place shall be used as a slaughter-house within the prescribed limits which was not in such use at the time of the passing of this Act, and has not so continued ever since, unless and until a license in writing for the use thereof as a slaughter-house has been obtained from the Central Commissioners, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without such license, uses as a slaughter-house any place within such limits not used as such at the time of the passing of this Act, and so continued to be used ever since, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, and to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day, after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

Commissioners to provide places for slaughter-houses.

XCIV. The Central Commissioners may, from time to time, if they shall think fit, with the consent of the Government, provide places for the purpose of being used as slaughter-houses, and they are hereby empowered to make bye-laws for and with respect to the management and charges for the use of such places.

Markets, slaughter-houses, &c., to be properly drained.

XCV. Every owner, occupier, or farmer of any market for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or of any slaughter-house within the prescribed limits, shall cause such drains to be made therein as shall be considered sufficient by the Divisional Commissioners, and (if required so to do by the said Commissioners) shall cause all the floors and drains to be paved with stone or burnt brick, and shall also cause a supply of water to be provided sufficient for keeping such market or slaughter-house in a clean and wholesome state; and if such owner occupier, or farmer, after notice in writing given to him by the said Commissioners that such market or slaughter-house is defective in any of the said particulars, and requiring him to remedy the defect specified within not less than thirty days, makes default therein, he shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day during which such default is continued.

Commissioners may make bye-laws for the inspection of slaughter-houses.

XCVI. The Central Commissioners may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of all such markets and of all slaughter-houses within the prescribed limits, and for the management and conduct of the business therein, and for keeping the same in a cleanly and proper state, and for removing filth at least once in every twenty-four hours.

Keeping unwholesome food in market, or in shops.

XCVII. Whoever keeps in any market, shop, building, stall, or place used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or exposes or allows to be exposed for sale in any other place or way any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetable, which is unfit for the food of man, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence.

Sale of unwholesome food or drink.

XCVIII. Whoever sells, or offers or exposes for sale, within the Town of Calcutta, as food or drink for man, any article which has been rendered or has become noxious or unfit for such use, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and such article shall be forfeited and disposed of as the Magistrate shall direct; and it shall be lawful for any Magistrate, on the application of the Divisional Commissioners, or any of their Officers, setting forth that there is just cause to believe that any such article is in the possession of any person for the purpose of being sold or offered or exposed for sale as aforesaid, to grant a warrant to such Commissioners or their Officers to enter upon the premises of such person, and to search for and seize such article; and if it appear to the Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that the same is noxious or unfit for such use, he shall order such article to be forfeited and disposed of in such way as to him shall seem proper.

Power to Comissioners to enter and inspect slaughter-houses, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

XCIX. The Divisional Commissioners, or any person appointed by them for that purpose, may at all reasonable times, with or without assistants, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall, or place used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables, which may be therein; and in case any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables, appear to be intended for the food of man and to be unfit for such food, may seize the same; and if it appear to a Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that such animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables, is unfit for the food of man, he shall order the same to be destroyed, or to be so disposed of as to prevent its being exposed for sale, or used for such food; and the owner thereof, or the person in whose possession the same is found, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Suspension or revocation of license, &c.

C. The Magistrate, before whom any person is convicted of an offence contrary to the provisions of this Act relating to slaughter-houses, or of the non-observance of any of the bye-laws relating thereto made by virtue of this Act, in addition to the penalty imposed on such person under the authority of this Act, may suspend, for any period not exceeding two months, the license granted to such person under this Act; or in case such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid, for any period not exceeding two months, the slaughtering of cattle therein; and the Magistrate, upon the conviction of any person for a second or other subsequent like offence, in addition to the penalty imposed under the authority of this Act, may declare the license granted under this Act revoked; or if such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid absolutely the slaughtering of cattle therein.

Penalty for using slaughter-houses during suspension or revocation of license.

CI. Whoever, during the period for which any such license is suspended, or after the same is revoked as aforesaid, slaughters cattle or allows cattle to be slaughtered in the slaughter-house to which such license relates, and whoever, during the period that the slaughtering of cattle in any such registered slaughter-house is forbidden as aforesaid, or after such slaughtering has been absolutely forbidden therein, slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered, in any such registered slaughter-house, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

CII. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta (if any) which may be specially prescribed by the Government for the purpose, the owner or occupier of every place used at the time of the passing of this Act for any of the following purposes, namely, for melting tallow—or for boiling offal or blood—or as a soap house—oil-boiling house—dyeing house—tannery—brick, pottery, or lime kiln—sago manufactory—or other manufactory or place of business from which offensive or unwholesome smells arise—or as a yard or depot for hay, straw, wood, or coal—shall, within three months after this Act comes into operation, register the same at the Office of the Central Commissioners in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of the said three months, and after eight days' notice from the said Commissioners, uses any such place without the same being registered, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day during which the offence is continued.

Offensive and dangerous trades existing within certain limits to be registered.

CIII. No place shall be newly used within the prescribed limits for any of the purposes mentioned in the last preceding Section, except under a license from the Central Commissioners, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without a license, uses any such place for such purpose, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees, and a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees, for every day, after the conviction for such offence, during which the said offence is continued.

Penalty for establishing such trades without license.

CIV. The Central Commissioners may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of every place, within the prescribed limits, used for any of the purposes mentioned in Section CII, and for the management and conduct of such business, whether the same be newly established or not, in such manner as they may think necessary and proper, in order to prevent or diminish the noxious or injurious or offensive effect thereof.

Commissioners to make rules for licensing, registering, &c., such business places.

CV. The Central Commissioners may, if they think fit, cause a survey and measurement to be made of every burial ground and every place used as such; and every such place, and every burning ground existing at the time of the passing of this Act, shall, within one month after this Act shall come into operation, be registered by the owner or the person having the control thereof, or, if there be no owner or person authorized to control the same, by order of the said Commissioners, in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of the said time, knowingly buries, or burns, or causes, procures, or suffers to be buried or burned any corpse in any ground other than such registered burial or burning ground, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Burial and Burning grounds to be registered.

CVI. No vault or grave shall be made within the walls of, or underneath, any church or chapel, or other place of public worship built after the passing of this Act; and no burial or burning ground, whether public or private, shall be opened, made, or formed after the passing of this Act, otherwise than by or under the authority of the Government, without a license, describing the extent and boundaries thereof, first obtained from the Central Commissioners, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever shall bury or burn, or cause, permit, or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpse in any vault, grave, or burial or burning ground opened, made, or formed without such license or contrary to the terms thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

No vault or burial or burning place henceforth to be constructed without leave of Commissioners.

CVII. If, upon the evidence of competent persons, the Central Commissioners, with the sanction of the Government, shall certify in manner hereinafter provided, that any burial ground or place of burial, or any place used for the burning of corpses, is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof, or that any church or other place of public worship is dangerous to the health of persons frequenting the same, by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of, or underneath the same, or in any church-yard or burial ground adjacent thereto, and shall also certify that a fitting place for interment or burning (as the case may be) exists within a convenient distance, and is available, it shall not be lawful, after a time (not less than two months) to be named in such certificate, to bury or burn, or permit or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpses in, upon, within, or under the ground, church, or place of worship to which the certificate relates, except in so far as may be allowed by such certificate; and whoever, after due publication of such certificate as hereinafter provided, buries or burns, or causes, permits, or suffers to be buried or burned, any corpse contrary to this enactment, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees. Provided always that every such certificate shall be published in the Government Gazette, and that a translation thereof in Bengallee shall, in the case of a burial or burning ground, be affixed conspicuously on some part of the said ground.

Commissioners to issue certificates prohibiting improper burial places.

Proviso.

CVIII. Notwithstanding any such certificate as in the preceding Section mentioned, where by usage or otherwise there is, at the time of the passing of this Act, any right of interment in or under any church or chapel, or in any vault of such church or chapel, or of any church-yard, burial ground, or place of burial affected by such certificate, or where any exclusive right of interment, or any exclusive right to ground for the purpose of interment, has been purchased or acquired before the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for the Central Commissioners, if, on application made to them, they are satisfied that the exercise of such right or the use of such ground will not be injurious to health, to grant a license for such exercise or use during such time and subject to such conditions and restrictions as they may think fit.

Commissioners may, in certain cases, permit interment in churches, &c.

CIX. The Central Commissioners may, from time to time, out of the funds available for the purposes of this Act, with the consent of the Government, provide fitting places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

Commissioners may provide places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

CX. The Central Commissioners may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection and regulation of burial and burning grounds, and may thereby prescribe rules as to the depth of graves and places of interment, and generally as to all matters connected with the good order of burial and burning grounds, due regard being had to the religious usages of the several classes of the community.

Commissioners to make bye-laws for regulation of burial and burning grounds.

CXI. The Central Commissioners shall, upon such information as they may be able to obtain, cause to be registered the name, sex, age, religion, residence, and cause of death of every person whose body is brought to any of the said burial or burning grounds, and also, so far as is practicable, the like particulars of every other person who dies within the said Town.

Registry of deaths

CXII. The Commissioners, whether Central or Divisional, shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power by themselves or their officers, between sunrise and sunset, to enter into and upon any building or land, as well for the purpose of making any survey or inspection which they may be entitled to make, as for the purpose of executing any work authorized by this Act to be executed by them, without being liable to any legal proceedings or molestation whatsoever on account of such entry or of any thing done in any part of such building or land in pursuance of this Act. Provided that, except when herein otherwise provided, the said Commissioners or their officers shall not enter upon any building or land which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof, without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of his or their intention to do so.

Power to enter upon lands for the purposes of this Act.

Proviso.

CXIII. The Commissioners, whether Central or Divisional, or their officers or servants, may enter upon the land of any person adjoining to, or being within the distance of one hundred yards of any works by this Act authorized to be made, for the purpose of depositing upon such land, any soil, gravel, sand, lime, brick, stone, or other materials, or for any other purposes connected with the formation of the said works, without making any previous payment, tender, or deposit, doing as little damage as may be in the exercise of the several powers hereby granted to them, and making compensation for such temporary occupation or temporary damage of the said land to the owner and occupier thereof, from time to time, and as often as any such temporary occupation shall be taken or such temporary damage done, and making compensation to the owner also for the permanent injury (if any) to such land; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses. Provided that, before the said Commissioners make any such temporary use as aforesaid of the land adjoining or lying near to the said works, they shall give fourteen days' notice of such their intention to the owners and occupiers of such land, and shall set apart, by sufficient fences, so much of the land as shall be required to be used as aforesaid, from the other land adjoining thereto.

Power to Commissioners to enter on lands adjacent to works.

Proviso.

CXIV. Whoever at any time obstructs or molests the Commissioners, whether Divisional or Central, or any of their officers or workmen, or any person employed by them or with whom they may have contracted under the provisions of this Act, in the performance and execution of their or his duty or of any thing which they are respectively empowered or required to do by virtue or in consequence of this Act; or removes any mark set up for the purpose of indicating any level or direction necessary to the execution of works authorized by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, or, in the discretion of the Magistrate before whom he is convicted, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months.

Penalty for obstructing Commissioners in their duty.

CXV. For the purpose of constructing aqueducts for bringing water into the Town of Calcutta, from any place without the limits of the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature; or for the purpose of making sewers or drains to communicate with or empty themselves into any public sewer, lake, stream, canal, or water-course without the said limits, it shall be lawful, whenever a plan for any such aqueduct, sewer, or drain shall have been approved by the Government, for the Central Commissioners, and their officers, with such assistants as they may require, to exercise, in the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain throughout the line of country through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, all the powers which, by this Act, it is lawful for them to exercise within the said local limits, and which may be necessary for the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain, without being subject to any action or molestation whatever for so doing; and it shall also be lawful for any Magistrate of any district through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, to exercise in respect thereof the like powers and jurisdiction within the limits of his own district as it is by this Act lawful for a Magistrate or two Magistrates (as the case may be) of the said Town of Calcutta to exercise in respect of any work to be executed by the said Commissioners within the said local limits.

Powers to be exercised by the Commissioners when constructing drains and aqueducts without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

CXVI. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners with the consent of the central Commissioners may, from time to time, make such bye-laws as they think fit for the several purposes for which bye-laws are hereinbefore authorized to be made by them, and may, from time to time, repeal, alter, or amend any such bye-laws; provided such bye-laws be not repugnant to law or to the provisions of this Act; and for any breach of any of such bye-laws, the offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, and, in case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day, after notice of the offence from the said Commissioners respectively, during which such offence is continued.

Commissioner empowered to make bye-laws.

CXVII. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall have effect until the same is confirmed by the Government.

Bye-laws to be confirmed.

CXVIII. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall be confirmed until the same has been published in the Government Gazette or in one of the public newspapers at least seven times, nor till the space of one month has elapsed since the date of the first publication, during which period a copy of such proposed bye-law shall be kept at the Office of the Commissioners, by whom the law has been made; and all persons may, at any time between ten o'clock in the morning and five o'clock in the afternoon, inspect such copy without fee or reward.

Notice of confirmation.

CXIX. Such bye-laws, when confirmed, shall be published in the Government Gazette and in one or more of the public newspapers, and a copy thereof, in English and in Bengalee, shall be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the Commissioners by whom the same has been made.

Publication of bye-laws.

CXX. All Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of such bye-laws when the same shall have been confirmed and published as aforesaid.

Bye-laws to be judicially noticed.

CXXI. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively shall publish short particulars of the several offences for which any penalty is imposed by this Act, or by any bye-law made under this Act, and of the amount of every such penalty, and shall cause such particulars, in English, Bengali, and Urdu, to be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the said Commissioners, respectively, by whom the same is published.

Publication of Penalties.

CXXII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively may enter into contracts with any persons for the execution of any works directed or authorized by this Act to be done by them respectively or for any other things necessary for the purposes of this Act.

Power to Commissioners to make contracts.

CXXIII. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively may direct any prosecution for any public nuisance whatsoever, and may order proceedings to be taken for the recovery of any penalties and for the punishment of any persons offending against the provisions of this Act, and may order the expenses of such prosecution or other proceedings to be paid out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act. But nothing in this Section shall be held to hinder any person from prosecuting any other person for any nuisance, if so disposed.

Commissioners may direct prosecutions.

CXXIV. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to render lawful any act or omission on the part of any person which is, or but for this Act would be deemed to be, a nuisance at common law, nor to exempt any person, guilty of a nuisance at common law, from prosecution or action in respect thereof. Provided that, if any person, convicted of an offence under this Act, shall have paid the whole amount adjudged to be paid under such conviction, and the costs thereof, in every such case he shall be released from all further or other criminal proceedings for the same offence.

Act not to affect nuisances at common law.

Proviso.

CXXV. No writ or process shall be issued out against or served upon the Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners respectively or any of them or any of their officers, or any person acting under the direction of the said Commissioners respectively, for any thing done or intended to be done under the powers of this Act, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered or left at the Office of such Commissioners or at the place of abode of such person, explicitly stating the cause of action, and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff, and of his attorney or agent in the cause; and, upon the trial of any such action, the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action, except such as is stated in the notice so delivered, and unless the service of such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant; and every such action shall be commenced within three months next after the date of the cause of action, and not afterwards; and if any person to whom any such notice of action is given shall, before action brought, tender sufficient amends to the complainant, such complainant shall not recover in any such action when brought; and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issue joined, to pay into Court such some of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

No writ or process to be issued against Commissioners or their officers until after one month's notice of cause of action, &c.

CXXVI. The Central Commissioners and the Divisional Commissioners respectively may make compensation out of the funds in their hands respectively applicable to the purposes of this Act, to all persons sustaining any damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested in them, their officers, or servants, under and by virtue of this Act.

Power to make compensation out of funds.

CXXVII. When there is any hindrance to the acquisition by purchase of any land or building required for the purposes of this Act, the Government, upon the representation of the Central Commissioners, and after such inquiry as may be thought proper, may declare that the land or building is needed for a public purpose, and may order proceedings for obtaining possession of the same for Government, and for determining the compensation to be paid to the parties interested, according to any laws now or hereafter to be in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes. And the Government may vest such land or building in the Central Commissioners on their paying the compensation awarded.

Mode of ascertaining compensation for land, &c.

CXXVIII. The Central Commissioners or the Divisional Commissioners respectively, as the case may be, with the consent of the Government, may sell any lands vested in them by virtue of this Act, or acquired by them for the purposes thereof, either together or in parcels as they may find most convenient and advantageous, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the purposes of this Act: and for carrying such sale into effect such Commissioners respectively may execute a conveyance of the lands sold to the purchaser, and such conveyance shall be under the common seal of the said Commissioners.

Power to sell lands.

Power to sell old roads.

CXXIX. Whenever any street or road hereby vested in the Divisional Commissioners respectively, shall be discontinued and stopped up under the provisions of Section VI of this Act, the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Government, may sell the land or such part thereof as shall not be required for the purposes of this Act.

Fees for Licenses.

CXXX. When any license is granted under the provisions of Section LXII, XCIII, or CIII of this Act, authorizing the use of any place for any of the purposes therein described, and when permission is given under Section XIX for making any temporary erection, or under Section XXXV for putting up any projection, the Commissioners granting the same may charge a fee for such license or permission; and the rates of the fees to be so charged shall be from time to time adjusted by the Central Commissioners with the sanction of the Government, provided that no such fee shall exceed the sum of one hundred Rupees. When permission or license is given for the temporary occupation of any ground belonging to any of the said Commissioners under the provisions of Section LXXXVII or Section LXXXIX, such Commissioners may charge rent for such ground, according to the time the occupation may continue, at such rates as may from time to time be sanctioned by the Government All sums received by Commissioners under this Section shall be applied by them to the purposes of this Act.

Damages and expenses how to be determined.

CXXXI. In all cases where any damages, costs, or expenses are by this Act directed to be paid, the amount of the same, in case of dispute, shall be ascertained and determined by two Magistrates.

Method of proceeding before Magistrates in questions of damages, &c.

CXXXII. In any case referred to the determination of two Magistrates, under this Act, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate, upon the application of either party, to summon the other party to appear before any two Magistrates, at a time and place to be named in such summons; and every such summons shall be served by delivering the original or a copy thereof to the person summoned, or by leaving the same at his usual place of abode with some adult male member or servant of his family. Upon the appearance of the parties, or in the absence of any of them, upon proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such Magistrates to hear and determine such question, and for that purpose, to examine such parties or any of them and their witnesses on oath; and the cost of every such enquiry shall be in the discretion of such Magistrates, and they shall determine the amount thereof. Provided that, in the event of a difference of opinion between such Magistrates, the case shall be referred to the determination of a third Magistrate or (if there be no such Magistrate) of any Justice of the Peace to be selected by them.

Proviso.

Recovery of damages by distress.

CXXXIII. If the amount of damages, costs, or expenses, ascertained in the manner above described, be not paid by the party liable to pay the same within seven days after demand, such amount may be recovered, under a warrant from the said Magistrates or either of them, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such party; and the overplus arising from the sale thereof, after satisfying such amount and the costs of the distress and sale, shall be returned on demand to the party whose goods shall have been distrained.

Commissioners may sue in competent Court, instead or on failure of distress.

CXXXIV. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of any expenses, charges, or damages awarded under the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners to whom such expenses, charges, or damages have been awarded, may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Distress not unlawful for want of form.

CXXXV. No distress levied by virtue of this Act shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio on account of any irregularity afterwards committed by him; but all persons aggrieved by such irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Recovery of fines and penalties.

CXXXVI. Every prosecution under this Act may be instituted before any single person having the powers of a Magistrate, unless where otherwise provided; and every fine or penalty imposed under or by virtue of this Act, or any bye-law made in pursuance thereof, may be recovered by summary proceeding before a Magistrate upon information exhibited by order of the Commissioners.

How fines and penalties are to be applied.

CXXXVII. The Magistrate by whom any fine or penalty is imposed by virtue of this Act may award any portion not being more than one-half thereof to the informer, and shall order the remainder—or, if he make no award to the informer, the whole of such fine or penalty,—to be paid to the Central Commissioners, to be by them applied to the purposes of this Act.

No person liable to fine or penalty unless complaint made within two months after offence committed.

CXXXVIII. No person shall be liable to any fine or penalty under this Act, for any offence made cognizable before a Magistrate, unless the complaint respecting such offence shall have been made before a Magistrate within two months next after the commission of such offence.

Damage to the Commissioners' property to be made good in addition to penalty.

CXXXIX. If through any act, neglect, or default, on account whereof any person shall have incurred any penalty imposed by this Act, any damage to the property of any of the Commissioners shall have been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage, as well as to pay such penalty; and the amount of such damage shall, in case of dispute, be determined by the Magistrate by whom the party incurring such penalty shall have been convicted; and, on non-payment of such damage on demand, the same shall be levied by distress, and such Magistrate shall issue his warrant accordingly.

Police Officers to report offences to Commissioners and to arrest unknown offenders.

CXL. It shall be the duty of all Police Officers to give immediate information to the respective Divisional Commissioners of any offence committed contrary to the provisions of this Act, within the limits of their respective divisions. Any Police Officer may arrest any person committing in his view any offence against any of the provisions of this Act, if the name and address of such persons be unknown to him, or if such person decline to give his name and address, or if the Police Officer in question shall have reason to doubt the accuracy of such name and address, if given: and such person may be detained at the Station House until his name and address shall be correctly ascertained.

Certain provisions of Conservancy Act extended.

CXLI. If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall have determined that any portion of the environs of the Town of Calcutta shall (under Section XLI of Act of 1862 of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal) be included in the system of sewerage and drainage authorized by that Act, and if the said Lieutenant-Governor shall have declared the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, then Sections XLIV to LX, both inclusive, of this Act shall have effect within the boundaries so declared; and all penalties, expenses, and compensation which, under the said Sections and by the provisions of this Act, may be adjudged and determined by a Magistrate or by two Magistrates acting in and for the Town of Calcutta, may be adjudged and determined within such boundaries by the Magistrate having jurisdiction therein.

Recovery of expenses on account of improvements to private property.

CXLII. Whenever any of the Central or of the Divisional Commissioners shall have incurred any expenses in the execution of any of the works which, under Sections XXIV, LI, and LIII of this Act, the owners of any premises, houses, or buildings are required to execute, such Commissioners may either recover the amount of such expenses in the manner therein provided, or, if they think fit, may take engagements from the said owners for the quarterly payment of such sums as will be sufficient to defray the whole amount of the said expenses, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, within a period not exceeding five years; and such sums, when due, may be recovered by the same process by which rates may be recovered under the Incorporated Act.

Commencement of Act.

CXLIII. This Act shall commence and take effect from and after the 1st of January 1863.

Notice.

With reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle:—

Cuttack.
Pooree.
Mahanuddy.
Balasore.

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st September 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately, or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. Armstrong, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

Cuttack,
The 29th April 1862.

Notification.

UNDER the orders of Government all Cash and Stock Accounts of 1861-62 are to be closed by the 30th September 1862; the Controller of Military Finance therefore calls the attention of all Civil* and Military* Officers who may be responsible for Stores, the property of Government, to the necessity of having their Annual and Half-Yearly Returns of Stores in hand on the 1st May 1862, prepared and forwarded to the Ordnance Examiner's Office, 3½, Coilah Ghât Street, by the 15th May 1862.

Education Notice.

MEDICAL COLLEGE.

1. THE Calcutta Medical College Session of 1862-63 will commence on the 15th June next.

2. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal at the Medical College, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., on or before the 15th May next, when the vacant Free Presentations will be awarded, and the vacancies in the Class of Scholarship-holders filled up.

3. The possession of the "Entrance Examination" Certificate of the Calcutta University will entitle Students to enter the Medical College without further Examination.

4. Under certain conditions (which may be learned on application to the Principal), Students will be admitted in anticipation of passing the University Entrance Examination, but in all cases under the clear proviso that they will present themselves for that Examination when next held.

5. The course of Instruction given in the Calcutta Medical College is framed to meet the requirements of the Calcutta University for obtaining its Degrees in Medicine and Surgery.

6. The Candidates who may fail in obtaining a Scholarship or a free Presentation may be admitted as Students on payment of an Entrance Fee of 15 Rupees, and a further sum of 5 Rupees monthly during the period of their stay at the College, provided they enter into a guarantee to follow out the College Curriculum to a close and to graduate at the Calcutta University. Candidates who do not intend to graduate in Calcutta, or who wish to attend only a few courses of Lectures, may be admitted as casual Students on payment of a Fee of 40 Rupees for each course of Lectures, or 60 Rupees for six months' attendance upon any single branch of Hospital practice.

7. The Certificates of Lectures and Hospital attendance of the College are recognized by the University of London, the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London.

SUMMARY OF CONSTRUCTION OF INCOME TAX ACTS XXXII. AND XXXIX. OF 1860.

No. 177.

Bank or Trade,

Carried on at two or more places—return of profits where to be delivered, and assessment by whom to be made

Act XXXII of 1860.
Section XLVII.
Section XCVIII.
Rules 36 and 42, and Section LII.

WHEN the Branch of a Banking or Trading Firm carries on an independent business, and a balance of profit and loss is struck by such Branch irrespectively of the accounts of the Head Firm, the Return of the actual profits made by such Branch should be delivered to the Assessor of the place where the Branch is established, and that Officer should proceed to make his assessment upon such Return.

If the accounts of the Branch of a Banking or Trading Firm are incorporated in the accounts of the Head Office, and are taken into consideration in the general calculation of profit and loss made in that Office, the Returns of the Branch should still be delivered to the Assessor of the place in which the Branch is established, although in the proper Column no profits may be entered, but the remark that a balance of profit and loss had been struck at the Head Office of the Firm, mentioning the place where the Head Office is held. In any such case the Assessor might accept the fact, and refrain from making any assessment; or if, in accordance with Section XLVII., Act XXXII. of 1860, he should declare that the Branch delivering such Return ought to be assessed, and the Collector of the District in which such Branch is established should assess the Branch in the exercise of the discretionary power vested in him by Section LII. of the said Act, the Head Office should have no difficulty in proving that the Return made by it included the profits derived from the transactions of such Branch, and in obtaining relief from the two-fold assessment under the Rules for affording relief in cases of double assessments.—(Financial Department Order No. 97, dated 27*th October* 1860.)

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. IV OF 1862.

An Act for the better enforcement of discipline in the Great Jail at Calcutta.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the better enforcement of discipline and order amongst the criminal prisoners confined in the Great Jail of Calcutta, as well as for the more effectual superintendence over, and control of such prisoners; It is enacted as follows :—

Authority over House of Correction vested in Commissioner of Police or such other Officer as Government may appoint.

I. The authority hitherto exercised by the Sheriff of Calcutta over that part of the Great Jail which is termed the House of Correction, shall henceforth cease and determine; and the whole authority over the House of Correction and the prisoners confined therein, is hereby vested in the Commissioner of Police for Calcutta, or in such other Officer as the Government may from time to time appoint.

Officer in whom control of House of Correction is vested empowered to take cognizance of breaches of discipline and to punish prisoners for certain offences.

II. The Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, is hereby empowered to take cognizance of all breaches of prison discipline, and to punish prisoners guilty of mutinous or violent conduct or of insolent language, or of contumacious refusal or wilful neglect to perform the work or wilful mismanagement of the work allotted to them, by placing them in solitary confinement, which shall not extend beyond three days, or in separate confinement for not more than seven days, or by confining them in irons for periods not exceeding four days.

Proviso.

Provided that no person shall be detained in prison under the provisions of this Act beyond the term of his original sentence.

Register of persons punished shall be kept.

A Register of all persons punished in the House of Correction under this Act shall be regularly kept by the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, and shall be forwarded to Government once a month.

Powers specified in Section II vested in the Sheriff, or the Jailor, as regards Criminal prisoners in the Great Jail.

III. The powers entrusted by the preceding Section of this Act to the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested, are hereby extended to the Sheriff of Calcutta for the time being as regards criminal prisoners in that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff. In the case of mutinous or violent conduct, or where it may be necessary in order to prevent an outbreak, the Jailor shall exercise, within that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff, the powers laid down in the preceding Section of this Act. Provided that the Jailor shall, within twenty-four hours of the exercise thereof, report every instance in which he shall exercise such powers, to the Sheriff, and the Sheriff shall have power to annul or alter the order as he may think fit. The Sheriff shall be bound to keep up a Register similar to that mentioned in the preceding Section of this Act.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Jailor, or for the Keeper of the House of Correction, to cause any prisoner sentenced to transportation or penal servitude to be put in irons when it may be necessary to do so for the safe removal of such prisoner from the Jail to the place of embarkation.

Certain prisoners may be ironed during removal to place of embarkation.

V. The Government is hereby authorized from time to time to frame Rules for the proper discipline of prisoners in the House of Correction, and of criminal prisoners within that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the control of the Sheriff, with regard to their food, dress, hours of recreation and work, labor, classification, instruction, and all points in any way concerning the regularity and order of the said House of Correction and of such criminal prisoners as aforesaid.

Government may frame Rules for proper discipline, &c., of prisoners.

VI. These Rules shall be applicable to all persons confined in any part of the said Great Jail or House of Correction under any judicial criminal sentence, whether such persons be confined there for the whole or for a part of their term of imprisonment, or be merely placed temporarily there pending their removal elsewhere, and also to persons awaiting their trial.

Rules to apply to all persons confined in the House of Correction or Great Jail under criminal sentence, and also to persons awaiting trial.

VII. Should any person under sentence of death be at any time confined in the House of Correction, the power of the Sheriff to remove the prisoner to that part of the Great Jail which will remain under the custody of the Sheriff or to such other place as may from time to time be fixed on as the place of execution, and to execute that sentence of death shall not in any wise be affected by this Act.

Saving of power of Sheriff to remove prisoners sentenced to death to the Great Jail, &c.

VIII. The Magistrates of Police for the Town of Calcutta for the time being appointed under Act XIII of 1856 (for regulating the Police of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca) shall, on the 1st day of June next after the passing of this Act, and on the 1st day of June in every subsequent year, meet at the Calcutta Police Court for the purpose of nominating, and shall then and there nominate, two or more of their number, who shall consent thereto, to be Visitors of the said Great Jail and House of Correction. One or more of such Visiting Magistrates so nominated shall personally visit and inspect the said Great Jail and House of Correction at least three times in each quarter of a year and oftener if occasion shall require, and shall examine into the state of the buildings so as to form a judgment as to any alterations or additions which may appear necessary, and into the behaviour and conduct of the Officers of the said Great Jail and House of Correction, and the treatment, behaviour, and condition of the criminal prisoners confined therein.

Visiting Magistrates to be appointed:

and to visit the Great Jail and House of Correction three times in each Quarter.

IX. The Visiting Magistrates for the time being shall once in every quarter of a year make a report in writing to the Government, through the Sheriff and the Officer in whom the control of the House of Correction shall be vested respectively, of the state of the said Great Jail and House of Correction, of what additions or alterations are required or shall have been made therein, of any abuses which have come to their knowledge in the management of the criminal prisoners, and of the general state of such prisoners as to discipline, employment, instruction, hard labor, and observance of rules.

Visiting Magistrates to make Quarterly Reports to Government.

X. In case any criminal prisoner within the said Great Jail or House of Correction shall be guilty of any repeated offence under Section II of this Act or against the rules to be passed under this Act, or of any greater offence than is punishable under the said Section II of this Act, the Sheriff or Officer for the time being having the control of the House of Correction, as the case may be, may notify the same to the Visiting Magistrates for the time being. Such Visiting Magistrates shall thereupon have power and are required to attend at the Great Jail or House of Correction, as the case may be, and enquire upon oath and determine concerning the matter so reported, and to order the offender to be punished by separate confinement for any term not exceeding one calendar month, of which six days may be ordered to be solitary confinement in periods of not more than three days each.

Visiting Magistrates to investigate and punish certain offences.

XI. Whoever without due permission takes or attempts to take or throws or attempts to throw into any part of the said Great Jail any food or other article prohibited by the rules to be passed under this Act, shall be liable to be apprehended and brought before any Police Magistrate for the Town of Calcutta, and on conviction shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding two months.

Punishment for taking or attempting to take prohibited articles into the Great Jail.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. V OF 1862.

An Act to provide for the Periodical Survey of Steam Vessels in the Port of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is desirable to provide for the survey, by competent Surveyors, of Steam Vessels in the Port of Calcutta, with a view to the due security of the lives of passengers, and of property shipped on board such Steam Vessels; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Every Steam Vessel plying on the river Hooghly or on any of the rivers or waters of Bengal, and every British Steam Vessel plying between Calcutta and any Indian Port or Ports, shall be liable to be surveyed twice in every year, in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

Certain Steam Vessels liable to be surveyed twice a year.

Government to appoint one or more Surveyors.

II. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to appoint a fit and proper person, or fit and proper persons, to be a Surveyor or Surveyors for the purposes of this Act.

Authority to Surveyors to go on board Steamers for the purpose of surveying.

III. It shall be lawful for the said Surveyors in the execution of their duties to go on board any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, as soon as reasonably may be after the arrival of such Steam Vessel in the Port of Calcutta, and not so as unnecessarily to hinder the loading or unloading of such Steam Vessel, or to detain or delay her from proceeding on any voyage or service, and to inspect such Steam Vessel or any part thereof, and any of the machinery, equipments, or articles on board thereof: and the Owner, Master, and Officers serving on board of such Vessel shall be bound to afford to the Surveyors all reasonable facility for such inspection or survey, and to afford them all such information respecting such Vessel and her machinery and equipments, or any part thereof respectively, as may be reasonably required by the Surveyors; and any person who shall refuse access to the Surveyors, or shall otherwise hinder them in the performance of their duty, or shall refuse or neglect to give any information which may reasonably be required of them, and which they have it in their power to give, shall be liable for each offence to a penalty of five hundred Rupees, or to one month's imprisonment.

Penalty for hindering them in making the survey or withholding required information.

Surveyors to grant Certificate and Declaration when they can with propriety do so.

IV. When any survey is made under this Act, the Surveyors making such survey shall forthwith, if satisfied that they can with propriety do so, and on payment by the Owner or Master of the fees hereinafter mentioned, give to the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel surveyed a Certificate and Declaration signed by them and framed as nearly as the circumstances of each case will admit in the Form set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed.

No clearance to be given to a Steamer for a voyage for which she has not got a Certificate from the Surveyors.

V. No Officer of Customs shall grant a clearance, nor shall any Pilot be assigned to any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, which shall not have been duly furnished with a Certificate and Declaration under the provisions of this Act applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed; and if any Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, shall leave or attempt to leave the Port of Calcutta without such Certificate and Declaration applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, the Owner or Master of such Steam Vessel shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand Rupees for each offence; and if there be any Officer of Customs or any Pilot on board of such Steam Vessel, he may detain her until she is duly furnished with such Certificate and Declaration.

Master or Officer who is a licensed Pilot attempting to take his ship out of Calcutta, without a proper Certificate, liable to lose his license.

VI. If the Commander or any other Officer of a Tug Steamer or of any other Steam Vessel, liable to be surveyed under this Act, is a licensed Pilot, and shall leave or attempt to leave the Port of Calcutta in such Tug Steamer or Steam Vessel without such Tug Steamer or Steam Vessel being duly furnished with a Certificate and Declaration under the provisions of this Act, applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, such Commander or other Officer shall be liable to have his license as a Pilot taken away from him entirely or suspended for any period by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, as the Lieutenant-Governor may see fit to order.

Special survey may be ordered by Government on any British Steamer in the Port of Calcutta.

VII. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to give special directions to the Surveyors under this Act for the survey by them of any British Steamer lying in the Port of Calcutta and plying between Calcutta and any Port or Ports whatever, and the provisions of this Act shall apply (so far as the same are in any way applicable) to every Vessel so specially directed to be surveyed, and the Owner, Master, and Officers thereof.

Government may make Rules as to mode and time of conducting survey.

VIII. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is hereby empowered to frame Rules as to the manner in which the surveys shall be made, and the times and places of such surveys, and the duties of the Surveyors. Provided that such Rules shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Penalty for Surveyor who receives fees, &c., for making a survey.

IX. Any Surveyor demanding or receiving directly or indirectly from the Owner, Master, or Officer, of any Ship surveyed by him under the provisions of this Act, any fee or remuneration otherwise than as provided by this Act, shall be liable to dismissal, in addition to any other penalty to which he may by law be liable.

Fees to be paid for every survey made.

X. For every survey made under this Act the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel surveyed shall pay to the Surveyors making the same a fee calculated on the Tonnage of the Vessel according to the rates in Schedule B. hereto annexed.

Certificates to be always hung up in conspicuous part of Vessel.

XI. Each Certificate and Declaration granted by Surveyors under this Act shall be hung up, and remain at all times suspended, in some conspicuous part of the Vessel for which the same is granted, where the same may be easily read; and in default of compliance with this provision, every Owner or Master shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence, such fine to be leviable by distraint or sale of personal property.

Certificate to be in force only six months; and to be delivered up when expired or revoked.

XII. No Certificate or Declaration shall be held to be in force for the purposes of this Act after the expiration of six Calendar months from the date thereof. Provided that, if any Steam Vessel is absent from the Port of Calcutta, when her Certificate and Declaration expire, no penalty shall be incurred for the want of a Certificate and Declaration, until she first begins to ply or is about to ply after her next subsequent return to the Port of Calcutta. And the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, or any Officer appointed by him for that purpose, may require any Certificate and Declaration which has expired or has been revoked or cancelled to be delivered up as may be directed; and any Owner or Master or other person who, without reasonable cause, neglects or refuses to comply with such requirement, shall incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for each offence.

Proviso in case of Vessels absent from Port when Certificate expires.

Certificate and Declaration may be cancelled by Government.

XIII. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, or any Officer appointed or authorized by him for that purpose, may revoke and cancel any Certificate and Declaration granted under this Act in any case in which he has reason to believe—

(1.) That the Certificate and Declaration of the sufficiency and good condition of the hull, equipments, and machinery of any Steam Vessel, or either of them, have been fraudulently or erroneously given or made: or

(2.) That such Certificate and Declaration have otherwise been issued upon false or erroneous information: or

(3.) That since the giving and making of such Certificate and Declaration the hull, equipments, or machinery of such Ship have sustained any injury or are otherwise insufficient.

And in every such case the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal or such Officer as last aforesaid may, if he thinks fit, require the Owner or Master to have such Steam Vessel again surveyed as herein provided.

If the correctness of a survey is doubted, Government may order a second survey by other Surveyors.

XIV. If any Steam Vessel shall be surveyed under the provisions of this Act, and if the Surveyors shall decline to give any Certificate or Declaration, or shall give a Certificate or Declaration with which the Owner or Master of the Steam Vessel shall be dissatisfied, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, on the application of such Owner or Master, appoint two other competent Surveyors to survey the said Steam Vessel. The Surveyors so appointed shall forthwith survey the said Steam Vessel, and shall either decline to give any Certificate and Declaration, or shall give such Certificate and Declaration as under the circumstances may seem to them proper. Every survey made under this Section shall be made subject to all the provisions and rules both as to the payment of fees and otherwise which are applicable to surveys made in ordinary cases under this Act. If the Surveyors appointed under this Section unanimously refuse to give any Certificate and Declaration, or agree as to the terms of their Certificate and Declaration, such refusal or such Certificate and Declaration shall be final and conclusive; but if they do not agree, the refusal originally made or the Certificate and Declaration originally granted by the Surveyers who surveyed the said Steam Vessel in the first instance, shall remain and be of full force and effect.

Offences under this Act by whom to be tried.

XV. Any case arising out of this Act may be tried by any Officer having the full powers of a Magistrate, within whose jurisdiction the offence may have been committed, or by any Police Magistrate of the Town of Calcutta. The provisions of Section LV of Act XXII of 1855 (for the regulation of Ports and Port-dues) are hereby extended to all penalties imposed under this Act, and all fees due under Section X of this Act shall be recoverable in like manner as penalties are recoverable.

Surveyor acting alone included in term "Surveyors."

XVI. The word "Surveyors" as used in this Act shall be taken to include any Surveyor acting alone when authorized so to do by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the provisions of this Act.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VI OF 1862.

To amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the law relating to the recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act X of 1859, so far as the same relates to the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

Repeals Sections 26, 40, 74, 79, 86, 150, and 162 of Act X of 1859.

I. Sections XXVI, XL, LXXIV, LXXIX, LXXXVI, CL, and CLXII of Act X of 1859 are hereby repealed, except as regards suits under the said Act X of 1859 instituted prior to the passing of this Act

The Court may in certain cases award to the plaintiff additional damages not exceeding 25 per cent.

II. In any suit hereafter to be brought for rent under Act X of 1859, if it shall appear to the Court that the defendant has without reasonable or probable cause neglected or refused to pay the amount due by him, and that he has not before the institution of the suit tendered such amount to the plaintiff or his duly authorized Agent, or, in case of refusal of the plaintiff or such Agent to receive the amount tendered, has not deposited such amount with the Collector before the institution of the suit in manner hereinafter mentioned, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to the plaintiff, in addition to the amount decreed for rent and costs, such damages. not exceeding twenty-five per cent on the amount of rent decreed, as the Court may think fit. These damages, if awarded, as well as the amount of rent and costs decreed in the suit, shall carry interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of decree until payment thereof, and shall be recoverable from the defendant in like manner as sums decreed to be paid by defendants under Act X of 1859 are recoverable.

The Court may award compensation, not exceeding 25 per cent. on the amount sued for, to a defendant improperly sued.

III. In any suit hereafter to be brought for rent under Act X of 1859, if it shall appear to the Court that the plaintiff has instituted the suit against the defendant without reasonable or probable cause, or that the defendant before the institution of the suit duly deposited with the Collector in the manner hereinafter mentioned, the full amount which the Court shall find to have been due to the plaintiff at the date of such deposit, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to the defendant by way of compensation such sum, not exceeding twenty-five per cent on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff, as the Court may think fit, and such sum, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, until payment thereof, shall be recoverable from the plaintiff in like manner as sums decreed to be paid by defendants under Act X of 1859 are recoverable.

Under-tenant or ryot may, after tender, &c, pay into Court, without any action being brought against him, what he admits to be due to his Zemindar, &c.

IV. If any under-tenant or ryot shall, at the Mal Kutcherry for the receipt of rents or other place where the rents of the land held or cultivated by him are usually payable, tender payment of what he shall consider to be the full amount of rent due from him at the date of the tender to the Zemindar or other person in receipt of the rent of such land, and if the amount so tendered shall not be accepted, and a receipt in full forthwith granted, it shall be lawful for the under-tenant or ryot, without any suit having been instituted against him, to deposit such amount in the Collector's Court, to the credit of the Zemindar or other person aforesaid. and such deposit shall, so far as the under-tenant or ryot and all persons claiming through or under him are concerned. in all respects operate as and have the full effect of a payment then made by the under-tenant or ryot of the amount deposited to such Zemindar or other person.

Payment into Court to have effect of payment to Zemindar or other person entitled.

Proceedings on making a payment into Court and the drawing out the money.

V. The Collector shall receive such deposit on the application of the under-tenant or ryot, or his agent, made in writing upon paper bearing a stamp of such value as would be necessary on the institution of a suit for arrears of rent under Section XXXVII of Act X of 1859 for an amount equal to that which it is intended to deposit. and on the under-tenant or ryot, or his agent, making a declaration in the form, or as nearly as circumstances will admit in the form, set forth in the Schedule (A) hereto annexed, and the Collector shall give a receipt for the same. If the declaration shall contain any averment which the person making the declaration shall know or believe to be false or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence. Upon receiving the money so deposited, the Collector shall issue a notice to the person to whose credit it has been deposited, in the form set forth in the Schedule (B) hereto annexed, and such notice shall be served by the Collector, without the payment of any fee, either upon the person to whom it is addressed or upon his Naib, Gomastah, or other Agent, and in the absence of any such Agent it shall be served by sticking up a copy of the same in the Office of the Collector, and another copy at the Mal Kutcherry for the receipt of rents, or other place where the rents are usually paid for the land in respect of which the money has been deposited. If the person to whom such notice is issued. or his duly authorized Agent, shall appear and apply that the money in deposit be paid to him, it shall be immediately made over to him.

Suit for further balance to be instituted within six months of service of notice of deposit.

VI. Whenever a deposit shall have been made under the provisions of this Act, no suit shall be brought against the person making the deposit or his representatives on account of any rent which accrued due prior to the date of the deposit, unless such suit is instituted within six months from the date of the service of the notice in the fifth Section of this Act mentioned.

After action brought defendant may pay into Court, without costs, money tendered before action brought.

VII. The defendant in any suit under this Act or under Act X of 1859, instituted after the passing of this Act, may, if he have duly tendered the same to the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, pay into Court such sum of money as he shall consider to be due to the plaintiff, without paying in any costs incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall be immediately paid out of Court to the plaintiff. If after such payment the plaintiff elects to proceed in the suit and ultimately recovers no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the plaintiff shall be charged with the whole costs of the suit incurred by the defendant; but if the plaintiff ultimately recovers a further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the defendant shall be charged with the whole costs of the suit.

Costs if plaintiff goes on and recovers no more.

If no previous tender has been made, defendant may pay into Court what he admits to be due with costs on that sum.

VIII. The defendant in any suit under this Act or under Act X of 1859 instituted after the passing of this Act may, without having made any tender before action brought, pay into Court such sum of money as he shall consider to be due to the plaintiff, together with the costs (to be fixed by the Court if necessary, as of a suit originally instituted for the amount so paid into Court) incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and such sum shall immediately be paid out of Court to the plaintiff.

Costs if plaintiff goes on with the suit.

If after such payment the plaintiff elects to proceed in the suit and ultimately recovers no further sum than shall have been paid into Court, he shall be charged with all costs incurred by the defendant subsequently to such payment; but if the plaintiff ultimately recovers a further sum than shall have been paid into Court, the defendant shall (including the sum paid into Court by him in the first instance on account of costs) be charged with costs as upon a suit originally instituted for the whole amount for which the plaintiff ultimately obtains a decree.

Survey and measurement of lands.

IX. Every proprietor of an estate or tenure, or other person in receipt of the rents of an estate or tenure, has a right of making a general survey and measurement of the lands comprised in such estate or tenure or any part thereof, unless restrained from doing so by express engagement with the occupants of the lands. If any person intending to measure any land which he has a right to measure, is opposed in making such measurement by the occupant of the land, or if any under-tenant or ryot, having received notice of the intended measurement of land held or cultivated by him which is liable to such measurement, refuses to attend and point out such land, such person may make application to the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to enquire into the case in the manner provided for suits under Act X of 1859, and shall pass a decision either allowing or disallowing the measurement, and, if the case so require, enjoining or excusing the attendance of any such under-tenant or ryot. If any under-tenant or ryot, after the issue of an order enjoining his attendance, neglects to attend and to point out the land, it shall not be competent to him to contest the correctness of the measurement made or any of the proceedings held in his absence.

Measurement of lands, where it cannot be ascertained who are the persons liable to pay rent.

X. If the proprietor of an estate or tenure, or other person entitled to receive the rents of an estate or tenure, is unable to measure the lands comprised in such estate or tenure or any part thereof, by reason that he cannot ascertain who are the persons liable to pay rent in respect of the lands or any part of the lands comprised therein, such proprietor or other person may petition the Collector in respect of the lands which he cannot measure as aforesaid, and the Collector thereupon and on the necessary costs being deposited with him by the applicant, shall proceed to measure the land and to ascertain and record the names of the persons in occupation of the same, or on the special application of the proprietor or other person aforesaid, but not otherwise, shall proceed to ascertain, determine, and record the tenures and under-tenures, the rates of rent payable in respect of such lands, and the persons by whom respectively the rents are payable. The provisions of Section LXVII of Act X of 1859 shall apply to any proceeding of the Collector instituted under this Section. If after due enquiry the Collector shall be unable to measure the land, or to ascertain or record the names of the persons in occupation of the same, or if he shall (in any case in which such special application shall have been made as aforesaid) be unable to ascertain who are the persons having tenures or under-tenures in such lands or any part thereof, then and in any such case he may declare the same to have lapsed to the party on whose petition he has made the enquiry. If any person, within fifteen days after the Collector shall have recorded the name of such person as being in occupation of such land, or any part thereof, or shall have declared a tenure to have lapsed, shall appear and show good and sufficient cause for his previous non-appearance, and shall satisfy the Collector that there has been a failure of justice, the Collector may, upon such terms or conditions as he may think proper, alter or rescind his declaration according to the justice of the case. Save as aforesaid, the decision of the Collector on all matters enquired into and determined by him under this or the last preceding Section, shall be final unless the same shall be reversed on appeal therefrom to the Civil Court. Such appeals shall lie to the Zillah Judge or to the Sudder Court subject to the provisions and conditions contained in Section CLX and CLXI of Act X of 1859.

Measurements to be made by the Pergunnah Pole.

XI. All measurements made under this Act shall be made by the Standard pole of measurement of the Pergunnah in which the land is situated.

Form of plaint in suits for arrears of rent.

XII. In any suit hereafter to be brought for the recovery of an arrear of rent the statement shall specify the name of the village and estate and of the Pergunnah or other local division in which the land is situate, the yearly rent of the land, the amount (if any) received on account of the year for which the claim is made, the amount in arrear, and the time in respect of which it is alleged to be due. If the arrear is alleged to be due from any ryot, the statement shall further specify the quantity of land, and where fields have been numbered in a Government Survey the number (if it be possible to give it) of each field.

Order under Section 58 of Act X of 1859 to set aside judgment shall be final, but rejection of application to set it aside shall be appealable.

XIII. In all cases in which the Collector shall pass an order under Section LVIII of Act X of 1859 for setting aside a judgment, the order shall be final; but in all appealable cases in which the Collector shall reject the application, an appeal shall lie from the order of rejection to the tribunal to which the final decision in the suit would be appealable; provided that the appeal be preferred within the time allowed for an appeal from such final decision, and be written upon Stamp Paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Court to which the appeal lies where a Stamp is required for petitions.

Fees to Agents and Mooktears.

XIV. So much of Section LXXI of Act X of 1859 as directs that no fee for any Agent shall be charged as part of the costs of suit in any case under the Act, is hereby repealed. In awarding costs to either party in any suit hereafter to be brought under the said Act or under this Act, it shall be competent for the Collector to award to such party, on account of the fees of any Agent or Mooktear employed by him, such a sum, not exceeding the rate of fee chargeable under the provisions of Section VII of Act I of 1846 for Pleaders in the Civil Courts, as the Collector may direct.

Language in which the Collector is to write his judgment.

XV. The Collector shall pronounce judgment in all cases tried under this Act or under Act X of 1859 in open Court. The judgment shall be written in the vernacular language of the Collector, and shall contain the reasons for the same, and shall be dated and signed by the Collector at the time when it is pronounced. Provided that if the vernacular language of the Collector be not English, and the Collector be sufficiently conversant with the English language to be able to write a clear and intelligible decision in that language, and prefer to write his judgment in it, the judgment may be written in English.

XVI. The provisions relating to attachment before judgment contained in Sections LXXXI to XC, both inclusive, of Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) are hereby extended to all suits hereafter to be brought under this Act or Act X of 1859.

XVII. Process of execution in any suit hereafter to be instituted under this Act or under Act X of 1859 may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment debtor, but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. It may be issued on the oral application of the judgment creditor, his Agent, or Mooktear, made at the time the judgment is pronounced, or thereafter upon the written application of the judgment creditor, his Agent, or Mooktear, presented to the Court by which the judgment was given. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in the Form (E) or the Form (F) contained in the Schedule to Act X of 1859, or in a form as nearly resembling those forms as the circumstances of the case may admit.

Execution to issue at time of decree on oral application: afterwards on application in writing.

XVIII. If any person shall after the date of the passing of this Act be arrested under Section CXLV of the said Act X of 1859, he shall be brought before the Collector with all convenient speed, and the Collector shall proceed forthwith to try the case. If the case cannot be at once heard and determined, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the person arrested to give security for his appearance whenever the same is required. In default of such security the person arrested shall be committed to the Civil Jail till the case is heard.

If person is arrested under Section 145 of Act X of 1859, case to be disposed of at once.

XIX. All the powers vested in the Collector by any of the Sections of this Act or of Act X of 1859, may be exercised by any Deputy Collector in cases referred to him by a Collector, and in all cases without such reference by any Deputy Collector placed in charge of any Sub-Division of a District, or who is specially authorized by Government to receive such cases; and all applications and reports allowed or required by the said Act X of 1859 or by this Act to be made to the Collector, may be made to any Deputy Collector having such local jurisdiction or such special authority as aforesaid.

Deputy Collector's powers.

XX. Suits under this Act or under Act X of 1859 shall be preferred in the Revenue Office of the District, or when a Sub-Division of a District has been placed under the jurisdiction of a Deputy Collector, in the Revenue Office of the Sub-Division in which the cause of action shall have arisen, or when the cause of action shall have arisen within the limits of the local jurisdiction of any Deputy Collector not in charge of a Sub-Division but who has been specially authorized by Government to receive such suits, then in the Office of such last mentioned Deputy Collector. Provided always that the Collector may withdraw any suit from any Deputy Collector, and try it himself, or refer it to another Deputy Collector. If the lands comprised in any talook, farm, or other tenure, or any lands held under one lease or engagement, or at one entire rent, in respect of which arrears of rent may be due, are situated in more than one District or Sub-Division, or within the local limits of the jurisdiction of more than one Deputy Collector so specially authorized as aforesaid, the District or Sub Division, or local limits in which the greater part of such lands is situate, shall be held to be the District, or Sub-Division, or local limits in which the cause of action has arisen, and if any question shall be raised respecting the District, or Sub-Division, or local limits within which the greater part of the lands is situate, the Board of Revenue, or if all the lands be situate in one District, the Collector of the District shall decide the question, and such decision shall be conclusive on the point of jurisdiction.

In what Court suits are to be instituted.

XXI. This Act shall be read with and taken as part of Act X of 1859, except as regards suits instituted thereunder before the passing of this Act.

This Act to be read with Act X of 1859.

SCHEDULE A *

I, A. B. of &c., do solemnly declare that I did personally (or by my Agent C. D.) on the day of tender payment to E. F. at his Mal-Kutchery (or at) the place where the rent of the lands at held or cultivated by me under or from the said E. F., are usually payable, of the sum of Company's Rupees as and for the whole amount due from me in respect of the rent of the said lands from the month of to the month of both inclusive. I further declare that the said E. F. refused to accept the said sum so tendered (or to give me a receipt in full forthwith for the same.) And I do declare that to the best of my belief the sum of Company's so tendered and which I now desire to pay into Court, is the full amount which I owe the said E. F. on account of the rent of the said lands from the month of to the month of both inclusive, and that I owe the said E. F. no further sum on account of the rent of the said lands.

SCHEDULE B.†

Court of the Collector (or Deputy Collector) of

Dated the day of 18

To E. F. of &c.

With reference to the within declaration you are hereby informed that the sum of Company's Rupees therein mentioned is now in deposit in this Court, and that the above sum will be paid to you or to your duly authorized Agent on application. And take notice that if you have any further claim or demand whatsoever to make against the said A. B. in respect of the rent of the said lands, you must institute a suit in Court for the establishment of such claim or demand within six calendar months from this date; otherwise your claim will be for ever barred.

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VII OF 1862.

An Act to repeal Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 (for modifying the provisions contained in the existing Regulations regarding the resumption of the revenue of lands held free of assessment under illegal or invalid tenures, and for defining the right of Government to the revenue of lands not included within the limits of estates for which a settlement has been made).

WHEREAS by Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819, it is enacted that certain suits preferred in a Court of Judicature regarding lands held, or claimed to be held, free of assessment, shall be referred for investigation to the Collector, and that similar suits may be preferred in the first instance to the Collector; and whereas such reference of suits is unnecessary and causes inconvenience and delay in their decision, and it is advisable that such suits should be preferred and disposed of exclusively in the ordinary Courts of Civil Judicature; it is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Within the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 is hereby repealed, except as Section 30 of Reg. II., 1819, repealed.

* If this Declaration is made by an Agent, it must be altered accordingly.

† This is to be by indorsement on a copy of the Declaration under Schedule A made by the person paying the money into Court.

regards such suits decided by Collectors under the provisions of that Section as may be open to appeal at the date of the passing of this Act.

Suits for resumption of land held free of assessment to be tried in the ordinary Civil Courts; so also claims to hold land free of assessment.

II. All suits preferred by proprietors, farmers, or talookdars, to resume the revenue of any land held free of assessment, as well as all suits preferred by individuals claiming to hold land exempt from the payment of revenue, shall be instituted, heard, and determined in and by the Courts of Civil Judicature, like ordinary civil suits, and under the rules and subject to all the provisions contained in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) and not otherwise.

Act to apply to all pending suits commenced under Section 30 of Reg. II. 1819.

III. This Act shall apply to all suits commenced under Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819 and pending decision under that Section in any Court (other than a Court to which such suit has come by way of appeal) or before any Collector at the time of the passing of this Act. All Collectors shall forthwith transfer to the ordinary Courts of Civil Judicature all such suits whether originally instituted before them, or referred to them by the Civil Courts, as may be pending before them at the time of the passing of this Act; and all suits so transferred shall be heard and determined as provided for by this Act, and not otherwise.

Collectors shall transfer all suits pending before them to the Civil Courts.

Act not to invalidate proceedings, &c., under Section 30 of Reg. II. 1819, and transfer of suit to Civil Court not to alter effect of proceedings previously had.

IV. This Act shall not in any way invalidate or alter the effect of any thing which shall have been done in any suit prior to the passing of this Act; and all proceedings which, prior to the transfer of any suit, shall have been held, or shall have taken place under, or in accordance with, the provisions of Section XXX of Regulation II. 1819, shall be taken, and shall have effect, so far as circumstances will permit, as if the same had been held or had taken place in due course in the Court to which the suit shall be transferred.

A. G. MACPHERSON,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 8th May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VIII OF 1862.

An Act to improve the system of Zemindary Dawks in the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the conveyance of letters on the public service between Police Officers and Police Stations and the Magisteral Offices of the Districts subject to the Government of Bengal is defective, irregular, and uncertain, and the system requires to be amended and placed on a better footing; It is enacted as follows:—

Section 10, Regulation XX., 1817, repealed.

I. Section X of Regulation XX. 1817 is hereby repealed, so far as the same relates to the Districts and Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal.

Appointment, remuneration, and removal of dawk-runners vested in Magistrate or other Officer appointed by Government.

II. The appointment, removal, and payment of dawk-runners and other persons necessary for the performance of the service of conveying papers, letters, packets, and correspondence between Police Officers and Police Stations and Magistrates of Districts or Officers in charge of Sub-Divisions, shall be vested exclusively in the Magistrate of each District, or in such other Officer as the Government may, from time to time, direct.

Raising of funds for maintaining Zemindary Dawks.

III. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate of every District or for such other Officer as the Government may from time to time direct, to raise, as hereinafter provided, the monies necessary for the payment of the establishments required for the purpose of efficiently maintaining the Zemindary Dawks within the District, from all Zemindars, Sudder Farmers, and other persons paying revenue direct to Government in respect of lands situated within the District.

No Zemindary Dawk to be maintained where there is a Government Post.

IV. Provided always, that no Zemindary Dawk shall be established or maintained under this Act between any two places between which a Government Post for the time being exists.

Total sum necessary to be fixed and apportioned rateably on sudder jumma of those liable to contribute.

V. The Magistrate or such other Officer as aforesaid shall in each and every year, on or before the last day of the month of December, fix, subject to the approval and revision of the Commissioner of the Division, the total sum necessary for the next ensuing year for the efficient service of the Zemindary Dawks in his District, and apportion such amount rateably on the sudder jumma of the parties liable as aforesaid to pay the same, and shall appoint the days for the payment thereof.

Notice to be given of amount to be levied, its rateable apportionment, and days of payment.

VI. A notice shewing the amount to be levied for the ensuing year and the rateable apportionment thereof among the persons liable to pay the same, and the days appointed for payment thereof, shall be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Office of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid, and also in the Office of the Collector of the District, not less than fifteen days previous to the day appointed for the first half-yearly payment.

Appeal to Commissioner when assessment on any one person exceeds forty Rupees in the year.

VII. An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division from any order of a Magistrate or such other Officer as aforesaid, imposing on any one person a pecuniary liability for more than forty Rupees a year under Section V of this Act.

Proviso.

Provided that such appeal shall be presented to the Commissioner within thirty days from the date of affixing in the Office of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid the notice of the imposition of the liability appealed against.

Exemption from liability to pay assessment.

VIII. It shall be lawful for such Magistrate or other Officer aforesaid, by an order to that effect, to exempt from the liability to payment of an assessment under this Act any person the sudder jumma of whose estates in any one District does not exceed fifty Rupees a year.

Payment to be half-yearly, and in advance: and double amount to be levied on default.

IX. The sums leviable under this Act shall be paid into the District Treasury half-yearly and in advance by the persons liable to pay the same; and any person or the local Agent of any person liable to pay any sum assessed under this Act, who shall refuse or shall for the space of thirty days after the day appointed for the payment thereof neglect to pay the same, shall be liable to pay double the amount so assessed, which said double amount, in default of immediate payment, shall be levied by the order of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid by distraint and sale of moveable property of the person making default. Provided always that no person shall become liable to pay double the amount originally assessed, so long as any appeal instituted by him under Section VII of this Act shall be pending.

Proviso.

Any surplus to be carried to credit of next year's Dawk account.

X. If the whole of the sum raised for the service of any one year be not actually required for that service, the surplus shall be placed to the credit of the Zemindary Dawk account for the next ensuing year, and shall go in reduction of the total sum to be levied for the service of that year under this Act: and when a double amount is levied under the last preceding Section, so much thereof as is in excess of the sum for which the person from whom it is levied was in the first instance assessed, shall in like manner be placed to the credit of the next ensuing year's account and go in reduction of the total sum to be levied for that year.

Government to frame general Rules.

XI. The Government may from time to time frame general Rules for the guidance of the authorities and for the transport of the dawks established by this Act, provided such Rules be not incompatible with its provisions, or with the provisions of Act XVII of 1854 (for the management of the Post Office, for the regulation of the duties of Postage, and for the punishment of offences against the Post Office), or with any Rules made under that Act by the Governor-General of India in Council.

This Act not to affect contracts between Zemindars and their under-tenants.

XII. Nothing in this Act contained shall in any way affect or alter any contract or engagement made or to be made by any Zemindar with any person holding under him.

Act to take effect on and from first December next.

XIII. This Act shall take effect on and from the first day of December next.

No. 84.

Read again Financial Resolution No. 5126, dated the 4th December 1857, as published in the Notification No. 1 of the 26th March 1858.

READ also Financial Resolution No. 8718, dated 4th July 1861.

His Excellency the Governor-General in Council observes that the object of the first of these Resolutions was to put an end to the practice which had caused so much confusion and uncertainty in Indian Accounts and Estimates, of appointing Officers from the Civil Service indiscriminately to Offices of Account without previous training, and constantly changing them as their advance in the Service entitled them to promotion.

The avowed object was to adopt measures for repairing the Offices of Account in the different Presidencies, so that "a succession of Officers, conversant with the business of Accounts, to the higher post in the Department might be secured, and appointments to vacancies regulated accordingly."

In like manner the object of the Resolution of the 4th July 1861 was to regulate the constitution of the Financial Department of the Government of India, so that it might be in a position to perform duties which are described in the Resolution as "exactly similar to those performed by the Treasury in England."

The new system of Audit and Account and of Budget Estimates, which has been introduced, makes it more than ever important that the objects contemplated by these Resolutions should be thoroughly carried out.

The foundation of this system is, that Estimates of all expenditure should be framed and revised with such care as to enable the Government of India to hold all Local Governments, Departments, and Officers who spend public money, responsible for their observance; that accounts of all receipts and expenditure should be kept on an uniform system, so accurately and promptly as to enable the Government at any moment to know its real position and to check unauthorised outlay; and, finally, that the Financial Department proper or Treasury should exercise a constant central supervision and control over all estimates and expenditure, the more necessary in India, as the spending Departments are not, as in England, subjected to the check of passing their estimates annually through the House of Commons.

Great reforms have already been effected in this direction, and no blame can be attached to the Officers who have zealously co-operated in the arduous task of introducing a new system amidst the pressure of daily work and of financial difficulties.

At the same time it is apparent that the object has not yet been attained of organizing a self-supporting machinery, which, as in England, can be depended upon to conduct the ordinary business of Financial Administration, without extraordinary efforts or constant risk of failure.

In the Financial Department proper, which corresponds to the English Treasury, there are two situations only below the Financial Secretary, at salaries which admit of their being held by Europeans, while in the English Treasury there are below the Secretary a permanent Assistant Secretary, and five Divisions, each presided over by a "Principal Clerk," who is invariably a gentleman of great ability and experience, with a staff of four or five established Clerks under him, recruited commonly from gentlemen of University Education, liberally paid, and rising according to merit and seniority to the higher posts.

It is not too much to say that there are in the English Treasury, and the principal Departments connected with it, seldom less than five or six Officers, who have been conversant with the details of every Budget for the last twenty years, and who would be perfectly competent to frame a very respectable Budget themselves, if suddenly called upon.

The result is a machinery which works with very little risk of disturbance from political changes in high offices, and which it is the more important to introduce in India, as the effect of climate and other causes makes frequent changes in the higher offices inevitable.

As regards the Department of Account it is equally clear that, until a recent period, Returns and Estimates of Indian Finance have been notoriously untrustworthy.

The Parliamentary Returns of "actual expenditure" for the year 1869-60, while correct as to the actual entries in the Books, were calculated to mislead to an extent of several millions in any attempt to form a judgment as to what had been the established expenditure proper to the year 1859-60, and whether that of 1860-61 showed any material decrease in comparison with it.

Again, the figures which have been accepted until very recently as shewing the probable revenue and expenditure of the financial year 1860-61, corrected up to the close of the year, prove, on the completion of the "actual" Returns for the year, to have under-stated the Revenue by £3,500,000, and the expenditure by nearly £1,500,000, thus misleading the Government as to its actual position to an extent of not less than £2,000,000, or more than the whole annual produce of the Income Tax.

Mistakes of this magnitude are now, it is believed, impossible, and the exertions of the Accountant and Auditor-General are bringing us to a point where we may hope to have reliable returns of actual receipts and expenditure under each principal head of the Budget within two months at latest after the close of each month. But the maintenance even of present results is endangered by the increasing difficulty of obtaining Officers of the "Covenanted Service," who are willing to abandon the regular line of service for the Financial Department, and of retaining those we have, without such frequent changes as necessarily greatly impair the efficiency of their offices.

An Office of Account is one which peculiarly requires a fixed head who thoroughly understands his work, and knows the character and capabilities of those who work under him.

Of twenty Officers now holding the principal offices of Account and Audit, no less than fourteen are acting away from their own proper posts in temporary appointments. Under such circumstances it is creditable to them that they have been able to effect improvements at all, and it would be unreasonable to impute blame to individuals because they have not at once succeeded in obtaining the efficiency of the English system which has been the growth of centuries.

At the same time it is evident that such efficiency can never be expected under a system which confines all the higher posts to men who have had no previous training, and necessitates constant changes of office to meet legitimate claims to advance of salary; while it is equally clear that it is not, and rarely can be, worth the while of a Covenanted Officer to attach himself to the Departments of Finance and Account unless he can commence by holding a high post, and be almost certain of changing to other posts still higher after a comparatively short period.

It is absolutely necessary, therefore, in framing any plan for the future organization of the Financial Department to proceed on the principle that all distinction between "Covenanted" and "Uncovenanted" Services must be set aside, except for a few of the very highest offices as that of Financial Secretary, and that the salaries and constitution of the Department must be regulated with a sole view to efficiency without distinction of service, profession, race, or religion.

This change will, however, come very gradually, as it is not proposed to interfere with the salaries of appointments actually held by Covenanted Officers, or with existing prospects of promotion of such Officers, where fit for it, except so far as these may be affected by the abolition of the three Sub-Treasurerships which, under the arrangement with the Presidency Banks, have become superfluous and would have been abolished at any rate. And as it will take some years before a sufficient body of qualified Assistants can be trained up under the proposed new organization, the succession to the highest posts (more especially those of Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, which it is for many reasons important to fill by Officers of weight and standing as well as of ability and experience), will for a long time continue necessarily to be held by the Covenanted Officers now attached to the Department.

If, however, any Officer should consider that his fair prospects of promotion on the faith of which he joined the Department are interfered with by the abolition of the Sub-Treasurerships, or otherwise, he will be allowed to re-join the general service at the first moment when he can be allowed to leave his post without positive inconvenience to the public service, and in the meantime if any Officer should be obliged for the service of the State to remain for a time in the Financial line when he would have wished to return at once to the General Service, the Government will be quite prepared to deal with each case separately in a liberal spirit.

In the meantime, although the change of system must be gradual and in some measure prospective, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council thinks it desirable that the occasion of a change in the Financial Secretaryship, from which Mr. Lushington has retired after so many years of arduous and meritorious service, should not be lost, in order to announce clearly to the Officers of the Department and to the public the scheme for the future organization of Financial Administration which has been decided upon by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council after mature consideration.

The Financial Department, including the Departments of Account and Audit, will constitute one Department, at the head of which will be the Financial Secretary.

The Military Finance Department, having special duties of a Professional as well as a Financial character, will remain, as at present, an independent Department, subject neither exclusively to the Financial or Military Departments, but corresponding with the Government through either, according as the subject is Financial or Military.

The Head of the Military Finance Department will submit Estimates and make his official communications on all subjects relating to Finance or requiring orders in the Financial Department through the Financial Secretary, so that the latter will be cognizant of what takes place, and able to remark upon it as far as it may affect Finance generally, though he will not be responsible for, or expected to interfere with, matters involving Military considerations, or affecting the sole and undivided responsibility of the Head of the Military Finance Department to the Supreme Government for all matters of Military Finance.

The division of Financial business into Departments begins below the Financial Secretary.

The Auditor and Accountant-General of the Government of India is the Head of the important Departments of Account and Audit charged with the important duty of bringing the accounts of the Empire together, and, as a general rule, the Government will look to him as responsible for the correct performance of what may be called the mechanical duties of Account and Audit, as distinguished from administrative matters which come within the province of the Financial Secretary.

This, it is believed, will not involve any change in existing practice.

The Accountant and Auditor-General will continue, as at present, to sit with the Head of the Military Finance Department as an "Audit Board," for the purpose of considering questions where Civil and Military Finance are intermixed, of consulting each other on doubtful questions, and of preserving, as far as possible, uniformity of accounts and system.

In case of difference of opinion between the two Members, the matter will thus be brought directly before the Government for its decision.

The duties and responsibilities of the Superior Officers being thus defined, it remains to settle the position of the various grades of employés.

These will, as at present, consist of two main divisions, viz :—

1*st*.—Clerks doing the routine and mechanical work;

2*nd*.—Assistants either doing, or in training for doing, the more important and responsible work.

No immediate change is proposed as regards the first division of Clerks. As regards the higher division of the Service corresponding to the "established Clerks" of the Treasury and other English Public Offices, the general denomination would be applied of "Assistants (according to their respective classes) in the Financial Department," in addition to the special denomination of any office they might happen to fill.

They will form one Service, divided into four Classes, viz. :—

CLASS I.—Salary 1,500 Rupees a month, rising 100 Rupees a month after each year of service in the Class to a maximum of 2,000 Rupees a month; some extra personal allowance being admissible where the Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General at Madras or Bombay is required to fulfil the additional duty of acting as the sole or Senior Government Director of the Presidency Bank, consisting of—

Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General of the three Presidencies and the North-West.

First Assistant Secretary, Financial Department.

CLASS II.—Salary 1,000 Rupees a month, rising to 1,500, by an increase of 75 Rupees a month each year after two years of service in the Class, consisting of—

Civil Pay Masters of the three Presidencies.

Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General, Punjab, and smaller Governments.

First Assistant to Accountant and Auditor-General of India.

Second Assistant Secretary of Financial Department.

CLASS III.—Salary 700 Rupees a month, rising to 1,000, by 50 Rupees a month each year of the three years' service in the Class, consisting of—

Civil Pay-Masters at other places.

First Assistants to Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General.

Second Assistant to Accountant and Auditor-General of India.

Third Assistant Secretary, Financial Department.

First Assistants to Principal Assistant Secretaries, Financial Department.

And any other Officers fairly on a par with these

CLASS IV.—Salary 400 Rupees a month, rising to 700 by an increase of 30 Rupees a month each year after three years' service, consisting of—

Junior Grades in the Central Office at Calcutta, and Chief Assistants in the Principal Local Offices.

As a rule every one should serve for a certain time in this Class in the Central Office at Calcutta, so as to be instructed in the system of Accounts and Budget Estimates.

In addition to these established Classes there will be a Class of Apprentices or Probationers, at salaries not exceeding 250 Rupees a month, consisting of youths who will be taken on trial, and from whom the established Classes will be principally recruited as vacancies occur.

It will be distinctly understood that the Government always retains the power of selecting men of higher standing and experience and placing them at once in any of the higher classes where the public service requires it. Once placed in any Class, they will rise as if they had entered the Service from the bottom; but, as a general rule, after an adequate supply of young men has been trained up in the Lower Grades, promotion will take place among them according to merit and seniority.

In order to secure due consideration to personal claims and to the good of the public service, the following Rule, which prevails with great advantage in the English Treasury, will be adopted in regard to all vacancies and appointments, viz:—

The Financial Secretary shall confer with the Accountant and Auditor-General; and if, after duly considering the Report of the Officer at the head of the Department in which the vacancy occurs, they agree on a recommendation, the Financial Secretary shall report it to the Governor-General in Council, but if they disagree, each shall report his opinion separately in writing to the Governor-General in Council.

The rise of Salary in each Class after the specified period of service will take place without any change of office or any special report in the absence of positive demerit, but promotion from one class to another will depend entirely on efficiency. The Covenanted Officers now in the Service, who retain their present offices and prospects of promotion without change, except as already stated, need not be classed as above described, unless they desire it.

As regards the expense of the new organization, it appears that the following is the present cost of Officers in the Financial Department (exclusive of the Financial Secretary and Accountant and Auditor General of India) with salaries of 700 Rupees a month or upwards:—

Appointment.	Salary Rupees a month.
Covenanted.
Sub-Treasurer, Calcutta ...	3,000

Total of Covenanted and Uncovenanted	42,450

making the total cost £50,840 a year.

Under the new organization when fully carried ut, the corresponding Establishment will be composed neary as follows :—

	Minimum.	Maximum.
Class I.
5 Officers at £1,800 to £2,400 a year ...	9,000	12,000
Class II.
8 Office rs at £1,200 to £1,800 ...	9,600	14,400

19 Officers at £840 to £1,200 ...	15,960	22,800
Total ..	34,560	49,200
Average ..	...	41,880

Some of the expense of the present Establishment would have been saved at any rate by the abolition of the Sub-Treasurerships under the arrangements with the Banks, but on the other hand some increase of strength in the Central Department was indispensable if the existing system had been retained, so that on the whole it may be safely said that the new scheme will not be attended with any material increase of expense, while it provides for seven more Offices than at present, in the Central Department, where additional strength is so much needed, at salaries sufficient to secure the services of men of talent and experience, and holds out a career sufficiently certain and attractive to induce a succession of young men of good character and abilities to devote themselves to the exclusive study of accounts and Financial Administration.

Experience has suggested some further changes in the constitution of the Financial Department, as laid down by the Resolution of the 4th July 1861, which may be conveniently made in connection with the above scheme.

The office of Under-Secretary cannot with advantage be made a wheel in the administrative machinery, so that papers which are sent through the Assistant Secretaries to the Financial Secretary, and from him to the Financial Member of Council, should also be read and minuted upon by the Under-Secretary.

No young man, however able, can be expected to deal with Financial subjects without long preparation, and the attempt to do so would only waste time and divide responsibility.

But there is abundance of work for an intelligent young man as personal Assistant to the Financial Secretary, and the office of Under-Secretary is retained on this footing, though not as one of the regular Establishment.

The Resolution of 4th July 1861 states that "the most important appointment in the Finan-"cial Department is that of Assistant Secretary "in the Account Department." Experience fully confirms this, and shews that there is no Officer in the whole range of the Department, except the Financial Secretary, upon whose accuracy, zeal, and intelligence, the Government must so constantly rely in the most important Financial matters. Accordingly, the office is placed in the First Class of the new organization, and the present holder of it, Mr. T. Peachey, is confirmed in the appointment.

A large class of important business remains in the Financial Department, which is not provided for either in the Account or General Departments as constituted by the Resolution of 4th July 1861.

The existence of the Civil Finance and Police Commissions has hitherto given the Financial Department a ready means of revising Estimates and checking expenditure in the different Civil Branches. But those Commissions have come to an end, and it is very important that the Financial Department should possess, within its own walls, a Department whose special duty it is to watch Civil expenditure, and to criticise, by the aid of uninterrupted tradition and official experience, all proposals involving expense, which may be submitted either with the Budget Estimates or in the course of the year.

Accor ingly, a "Civil Finance Department" is constituted with an Assistant Secretary of the Second Class at its head, as an addition to the Account and General Departments, and Mr. R. H. Hollingberry, whose services in the Civil Finance Commission peculiarly qualify him for such an office, is appointed to fill it. This will not in any way interfere with the principle of the Rule laid down in 1843, that all applications from Local Governments for increased expenditure shall be considered first in the Department of the Supreme Government to which the business of the Department in which the increase is proposed belongs. Any proposal, for instance, for increased expenditure in Police will continue to come to the Financial Department through the Home Department, with the opinion of that Department on the proposal, though the Financial Department will still require an Establishment to enable it to apply its own revision to the proposal so made.

In some cases, as in passing the Annual Budget, time may not always admit of a previous reference from the Financial to other Departments, but in this case sanction may be given to the Estimate provisionally, subject to consideration of the details by the proper Department, or such other special rule made as may be required to meet the special case.

The appointment of other important business of the Financial Department hitherto but partially provided for, as supervision of the Revenue, preparation of Financial and Commercial Statistics, and supervision of the Currency, will be made between the different Assistant Secretaries as experience may suggest, and competent Assistants to the Chief Assistant Secretaries will be appointed as fit men can be found or trained up from lower grades.

Ordered, that the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information, and that a copy be forwarded to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for information.

No. 85.

Appointments.—The Hon'ble Edmund Drummond to be Secretary to the Government of India, in the Financial Department, from the 1st instant.

Mr. R. P. Harrison to be Auditor-General and Accountant-General to the Government of India from the 1st instant.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 12th May 1862.

No. 520 of 1862.—The following Rule which has received the sanction of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India for calculating the service of Officers who, formerly under the old Furlough Regulations, have joined the Staff Corps, and whose service from date of joining that Corps is to be reckoned under the new Furlough Regulations, is published for general information and guidance:—

1. Officers having elected (or who not having before elected might, on their entering the Staff Corps, desire to elect,) the old Furlough Regulations will carry with them into the Staff Corps so much of their service (authorized leave included) as may have been passed within Indian limits and no more. Before they can retire on the pension of any particular rank they will be required to serve for such further period as will, with that service, complete the full period prescribed for the pension of any particular rank, with the liberty of availing themselves, after their entry into the Staff Corps, of the privilege periods* of absence allowed by paragraph 30 of the new Furlough Regulations.

* 2 Years' absence in 20 years' service.

NOTIFICATION.—The 13th May 1862.—Whereas application has been made to the Government for putting Act No. XXVI of 1850 (to enable improvements to be made in Towns) in force in the Town of Canning, on the Mutlah, notice is hereby given, that the purposes of the said application are as set forth in the annexed letters from the Secretary to the Mutlah Association, dated, respectively, the 13th September 1861 and 11th March 1862, and that one month from this date is given for all inhabitants of the said Town, who are minded to declare themselves for or against the adoption of the said Act therein, for such purposes or any of them.

From S. H. ROBINSON, ESQ., Secretary, Mutlah Association, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(dated the 13th September 1861.)

SIR,—I AM directed by the Committee of the Mutlah Association to suggest, for the consideration of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the necessity of some arrangement for the future Municipal duties of the new Port of Mutlah.

2. It is the impression of the Association that the proceeds of sale of all building Lots in the Town were intended to form the basis of a Municipal fund, to be appropriated to meet the expenses of road-making, drainage, and other conveniences of the Town; and they beg to suggest that a Committee should be formed, without further delay, for the proper direction and carrying out of these objects, and for supervising the expenditure of the funds now or hereafter to become available for such Municipal purposes. And, should this suggestion meet His Honor's approval, they would further propose that a majority of such Committee be elected by and from the Lot-holders of the Town, who will have a direct interest in the economical application of the funds, in co-operation with one or more Official Members to be nominated by the Government.

3. Also, with the view of improving as far as possible the salubrity of the new Settlement, the Committee beg to suggest that in any future sales of Lots in the Town or its vicinity, a stipulation should be made with the purchasers that their ground should be kept clear of jungle, and fines levied for neglecting to do so; and that no such Lots should be used for paddy cultivation.

4. And lastly, the Association beg that orders may be passed for the early completion of all roads which communicate with Town Lots, which have already been taken up, in order that lessees may have no further cause of complaint, after the present rainy season, of difficulty in communicating with their Lots, and in conveying thereto materials for building operations, which will no doubt soon be in general progress in anticipation of the early opening of the Railway.

From S. H. ROBINSON, ESQ., Secretary to the Mutlah Association, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(dated the 11th March 1862.)

SIR,—I HAD the honor to address you on the 13th September last, submitting a suggestion from the Mutlah Association for the organization of a Municipal scheme for the new Town of Mutlah; to which communication I received a reply from Mr. Under-Secretary Bell, dated 23rd December, to the effect that the arrangement for a Municipal Committee would "be taken into consideration hereafter."

With the certain prospect of the communication by Railway with the new Town being completed in about two months from the present time, the Association have now directed me to address you again on the subject, with the object of soliciting the Government of Bengal to afford the proposed arrangement, if not already decided on their early consideration.

The Association would beg reference to the very slow progress that has been made with the roads approaching to and through the Town, under the present management of the Department of Public Works, since they last had the honor to address you on the subject; and they believe that a much more satisfactory result would be realized under the direction of a Municipal Committee with some of its Members elected from Landholders in the Town, who would have a direct interest in the energetic as well as economical progress of the work. They would also point to the importance of having all the arrangements for roads, drainage, water supply, &c., projected on one uniform plan, which they believe can best be done by a Municipal Committee similar to that which has been recently appointed for the Town of Kurrachee.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The following letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Financial Department, to the address of the Civil Pay Master of the Punjaub, No. 2235, dated the 20th ultimo, is published for the information of the Officers concerned:—

"I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 637 of the 7th ultimo, and in reply to inform you, that the orders passed in this Department on the 10th of September 1858, prohibiting the grant of travelling allowance to Officers transferred from one Department to another at their own request, are applicable to both Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains, and that before Bills from these Officers for travelling allowance are passed, a Certificate, that they are not transferred at their own request, should be called for, if the Gazette be not sufficiently clear on the point."

No. 300.

The 29*th April* 1862.

The following Notification, issued by the Government of India, in the Financial Department, is re-published for general information:—

No. 67, Fort William, the 21*st April* 1862.

Under orders contained in a Despatch from the late Court of Directors, No. 31 of 1849, dated the 18th December, it is prescribed that the Medical Certificate of unfitness, which is submitted by an applicant for superannuation pension, should state that his incapacity for further service is not the result of his own imprudence or intemperance, but pensions have hitherto been granted in very many cases on Medical Certificates containing no such declaration.

A pension, however, having been recently refused on the ground that disqualification for service was the result of intemperance, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the re-publication, for general information, of the following Extract from the Despatch referred to:—

Para. 16.—"To enable us to decide upon the propriety of allowing the retirement upon pension of the Uncovenanted Servants of Government, it is desirable that we should be placed in possession of detailed information regarding their several cases. The nature of the complaint and whether or not it has been induced by irregular or intemperate habits are points on which it is especially necessary to afford us information."

17. We beg this may be attended to "in future."

For the future, pensions will in no case be granted to applicants whose incapacity for further service is the result of their own intemperance.

By Order of the Board of Revenue,

A. EDEN,
Junior Secretary.

FORT WILLIAM,
The 6th May 1862.

Notification.

UNDER instructions from the Accountant-General, it is hereby notified, that for the convenience of parties having demands against Government on account of freight on Public Stores imported from England, all Bills for such freight will, after being countersigned by the Agent for Government Consignments, be received in this Office If the charges are purely on account of Civil Stores, and subject to audit in this Office, they will be passed at once for payment; if on account of Stores belonging to any of the Departments noted in the margin, the requisite steps will be taken by this Office to obtain the audit of the Department concerned.

Military.
Marine.
Public Works.
Electric Telegraph.
Post Office.

The several Departments, for which the Stores are intended, should, whenever practicable, be distinctly specified in the Bills.

HUGH SANDEMAN,
Offg. Civil Pay-Master.

FORT WILLIAM;
Civil Pay-Master's Office,
The 5th May 1862.

Notice.

WITH reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle:—

Cuttack.
Pooree.
Mahanuddy.
Balasore.

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st September 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately, or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. ARMSTRONG, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

CUTTACK,
The 29th April 1862.

Notification.

UNDER the orders of Government all Cash and Stock Accounts of 1861-62 are to be closed by the 30th September 1862; the Controller of Military Finance therefore calls the attention of all Civil* and Military* Officers who may be responsible for Stores, the property of Government, to the necessity of having their Annual and Half-Yearly Returns of Stores in hand on the 1st May 1862, prepared and forwarded to the Ordnance Examiner's Office, 3½, Coilah Ghât Street, by the 15th May 1862.

ORDNANCE STORES.

Education Notice.

MEDICAL COLLEGE.

1. THE Calcutta Medical College Session of 1862-63 will commence on the 15th June next.

2. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal at the Medical College, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., on or before the 15th May next, when the vacant Free Presentations will be awarded, and the vacancies in the Class of Scholarship-holders filled up.

3. The possession of the "Entrance Examination" Certificate of the Calcutta University will entitle Students to enter the Medical College without further Examination.

4. Under certain conditions (which may be learned on application to the Principal), Students will be admitted in anticipation of passing the University Entrance Examination, but in all cases under the clear proviso that they will present themselves for that Examination when next held.

5. The course of Instruction given in the Calcutta Medical College is framed to meet the requirements of the Calcutta University for obtaining its Degrees in Medicine and Surgery.

6. The Candidates who may fail in obtaining a Scholarship or a free Presentation may be admitted as Students on payment of an Entrance Fee of 15 Rupees, and a further sum of 5 Rupees monthly during the period of their stay at the College, provided they enter into a guarantee to follow out the College Curriculum to a close and to graduate at the Calcutta University. Candidates who do not intend to graduate in Calcutta, or who wish to attend only a few courses of Lectures, may be admitted as casual Students on payment of a Fee of 40 Rupees for each course of Lectures, or 60 Rupees for six months' attendance upon any single branch of Hospital practice.

7. The Certificates of Lectures and Hospital attendance of the College are recognized by the University of London, the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London.

S. B. PARTRIDGE,
Offg. Principal, Medical College.

Extracts from the Records of Government, No. 2.

Thibet in 1774.

Minute on Thibet, by the HON'BLE WARREN HASTINGS, President of the Council at Fort William,—(dated May 9th, 1774.)

THE President acquaints the Board that since he laid before them the letter from the Teshu Lama of Thibet, he has written an answer to it, and, among other things, has proposed a general treaty of amity and commerce between the two States of Bengal and Bootan. He begs leave to remind them that such a treaty has ever been a favourite object with our Hon'ble Masters, and that they have repeatedly recommended the establishment of an intercourse with that country. The present juncture appeared to him the most favourable, which has yet occurred, for pursuing these views. The letter from the Lama invites us to friendship and communication. Therefore, no sooner was the treaty of Cooch Behar signed and ratified, than he thought seriously of carrying this project into execution, and conceiving it to be most proper that a European and Servant of the Company should be entrusted with the negociations in preference to any Native, he wrote immediately to Mr. Purling to procure the necessary passports for such a person, which he informs the Board he has now obtained. The person he has made choice of, for this trust, is Mr. George Bogle, a Servant of the Company, well known to the Board for his intelligence, assiduity, and exactness in affairs; and the President also expects to draw much advantage in the conduct of the business from the moderation of temper which he seems to possess in an eminent degree. He proposes that Mr. Bogle should set out, without loss of time; and he will charge himself, with furnishing him with proper instructions and dispatches. He hopes the Board will approve of his choice, and, as Mr. Bogle undertakes this difficult and hazardous commission, without any immediate prospect of advantage and with a great uncertainty as to its success, he would recommend to the Board that he be continued in possession of the appointments which he now holds at the Presidency, and permitted to act by Deputy till his return, or till it shall be thought proper to dispose of him in another way. The President further acquaints the Board that he has nominated Mr. Alexander Hamilton, Assistant Surgeon on the Establishment, to accompany Mr. Bogle on this expedition.

The President has only further to observe that he is far from being sanguine in his hopes of success, but the present occasion appears too favourable for the attempt to be neglected. He also can assure the Board that the information which he has been able to procure of the people, the country, and Government of Thibet, give considerable encouragement to it. They are represented as a quiet people, numerous and industrious, living under a well-regulated Government, having considerable intercourse with other nations, particularly with the Chinese and Northern Tartars; and possessing, at home, the principal means of commerce, gold and silver, in great abundance. For more particular satisfaction of the Board, he subjoins to his Minute the substance of those informations which, being on record, will also exhibit to our Hon'ble Masters the grounds of the present undertaking, whatever may be its success; and enable them to judge how far it may be advisable to prosecute it on any future occasion; at all events they cannot fail of being an object of curiosity to them.

He also annexes to this an account of such goods as he ordered Mr. Bogle to deliver as presents to the Lama, and to carry with him as samples of the commodities which this country is capable of supplying, and he moves that the Board order the amount, being current Rupees 10,982-11-6, to be paid out of the Treasury.

Teshu Lama traces his origin from Tang-la, who was a person of great reputation and commanded the garrison of Tisseyjee. Ankesu was formerly the Rajah of Bootan, and Memanu Kesu was his father. Delai and Teshu were both Fakirs and ruled over part of the country. Upon some outrages being committed on their authority by Ankesu, they applied to the Chief of the Calmucks, from whose race they sprung, for assistance; which the Calmucks accordingly granted them, and Ankesu was soon after slain. From that time they have ruled over the whole of Bootan. They live in a state of celibacy, and believe that if one dies his soul immediately transmigrates into the body of of a new born child, who succeeds him in the Government. As Dalai is now a Minor, Teshu has the charge of the Government and administration, but not meddling, himself, with worldly affairs, he deputes Tela Backhumboo to transact them on his behalf, for which purpose Tela has an Army of 30,000 men under his command, consisting of Cavalry and Infantry. The dress of the Teshu Lama is this. Upon his head he wears a cap of a purple colour, over his loins a kind of petticoat, which reaches to his feet, and is tied with a girdle round his middle; over his shoulders is thrown a short jacket of silk, which reaches down to his middle, and leaves both arms bare. The religion of the Bootans is something similar to that of the Hindoos. They worship Bowanny, Narrain, and Byroo, and hold the Priests of their own sect in great veneration. The food of the Grand Lama is the flesh of goats or sheep, jaghrey, vegetables and fruits. He never touches hog's or cow's flesh, but the common people frequently eat both. Sangeah Chumdunda was the founder of their laws.

If a person oppresses, or commits an act of injustice upon another, and flies for protection to the Grand Lama he is absolved from all punishment and is out of the reach of the law; but should he be apprehended in the way and carried before the Magistrate, he must then suffer agreeably to the written laws of Sangeah Chumdunda. Their country, on the north side, extends as far as the country of the Calmucks; on the south side it is limited by the Buckshadawar; on the East by China; and on the West by the country of Cashmere. In this large track of country there are only three Rajahs of any consideration. The first, in the Hindoostani language, is called Deb Rajah, whose territories lie towards Buckshadawar; the second, in the Bootan language, is called Gyalloo, whose place of residence is at Luddak, adjoining to Cashmere; the third is called Durkee Gyalloo, whose territories border on China. Besides these, there are other petty Zemindars whose names the Messenger, who is now in Calcutta, does not recollect. The revenues of the country are not collected in specie, but in kind, half of the produce of the earth being reserved for the use of the Cultivator and the other half appropriated for the use of Government. The Tartars have but little communication with Bootan. The Russians frequently come thither upon religious pilgrimages. The Grand Lama resides at Pontala, near the capital Lassa, and is at present at variance with no other States. About ten years ago, the Afghans set disturbances on foot and took possession of Luddak, but upon a complaint being made thereof to the Lama, he sent his Army thither, repulsed the Afghans, and re-took possession of the country. From that time to this he has been engaged in hostilities with no one. The arms of the Bootans are matchlocks, long knives like scimitars, and bows and arrows. The sowars or horsemen wear also armour. The Cashmere Merchants have established a Factory amongst them. The articles of trade which they carry thither for sale consist of shawls and other manufactures, as well as saffron, cloves, nutmegs, and other spices; and their returns are made in gold, silver, copper, toothenague(?) lead and coarse woollen manufactures. The Chinese Merchants also carry on a trade with Bootan, at which place they have Factories established, and supply the inhabitants with chinaware, tea, silk manufactures, embroideries, looking glasses, handkerchiefs, and other articles; and in return purchase from them their coarse woollen manufactures, oranges, citrons, skins, and gold and silver ore. The inhabitants of Nepal likewise export to Bootan broad cloth, white cloths, pearl and coral, and purchase from them Tanian horses, cowtails, gold and silver ore and tinkal. The road from Chashmere to Bootan is through Luddak, a country inhabited mostly with shepherds, from whom plenty of milk, curds and ghee may be got, but very little grain. The Hills, in some places, are small and easy in their ascent; so that the Cashmere Merchants transport their merchandize over them, with little or no difficulty, upon the backs of horses, mules, and oxen; but, at other places, they are steep and difficult to climb up. The road by which the Chinese Merchants have intercourse with Bootan lies through Mientuck Enkar. It is two months' journey, seven days of which you pass through a barren uncultivated country infested with robbers, so that it is impracticable to travel that way excepting in large Companies. The rest of the road is even, well inhabited, and has convenient sarais at proper distances, so that provisions are to be procured in plenty. From Nepal to Bootan it is eight days' journey, and two of these you pass over mountains from two and three coss to even six coss high, which are inaccessible for oxen, mules, and camels, but provisions and water are in abundance the whole way. The road from Bengal lies through Buckshadawar, but merchandize cannot be transported this way upon the backs of camels or horses; or by any means than by people hired for that purpose. There is a road through Morung, which is something better than that of Buckshadawar, but farther about, and at the same time not passable for horses and camels; so that, in fact, the Buckshadawar road is the most preferable. There is no passage by water. Gold and silver are the mediums of commerce in that country as well as in this, and their coins are in the same proportions as one anna, two annas, four annas, and eight annas. A single anna piece they call ulwakagauk; a double anna piece, hermangah; a four anna piece, cojuk; and an eight anna piece, which they coin, of the weight of six masha, is called chukea. They coin no Rupees of twelve masha, as in this country. The Rupees of Moorshedabad and Patna are current there in buying and selling, but no other, without a deduction from their value. They also frequently barter one commodity for another. No duties are exacted from the Chinese or Cashmere Merchants, but the Nepal Merchants pay eight annas per man both upon going and coming. The produce of the Hills in Bootan is wheat, barley, peas, paoper (sic), mushoor, mustard seed, and toorey, which last article yields an oil, and the valleys abound with every kind of grain which is produced in this country. Gold and silver are produced from the Mine and not found in Rivers. At the distance of about fifteen days' journey to the north from the place where Teshu Lama resides there is a Gold Mine, and at the distance of twenty days' journey, in the same direction, a Silver Mine; at both which places there is a Guard stationed in behalf of the Grand Lama. At a place called Lachee Chong, about six days' journey to the eastward of Teshu Lama's seat, there is a Mine of Copper and Vermillion, and in a Hill called Bhosaok, situated at the distance of three days' journey to the westward, there is a Mine of Lead; and at Sank Boug, about four days' journey to the northward from the same place, there is a Mine of Toothenague. The Arts there are very well known. There are Carpenters, Smiths, Masons, and Weavers, &c., all well skilled in their professions. Their buildings are the same as in this country, but made of stones and much lower. Their women are not concealed, and are allowed to marry at twelve years of age, the marriage contract being made up by the parents of the parties. Festivity and rejoicing are usual upon these occasions, the same as in this country. The better kind of people burn their dead, and are even at great expense in perfuming the funeral pile with sandal-wood and frankincense, but the poorer sort expose the dead carcases of their relations upon the Hills to be devoured by wild beasts.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 8th May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VIII OF 1862.

An Act to improve the system of Zemindary Dawks in the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the conveyance of letters on the public service between Police Officers and Police Stations [illegible] the Magisteral Offices of the Districts sub[illegible] the Government of Bengal is defective, [illegible]r, and uncertain, and the system requires [illegible]nded and placed on a better footing ; [illegible] as follows :—

[illegible] X of Regulation XX., 1817, is hereby repealed so far as the same relates to the Districts and Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal.

Appointment, remuneration, and removal of Dawk-runners vested in Magistrate or other Officer appointed by Government.

II. The appointment, removal, and payment of Dawk-runners and other persons necessary for the performance of the service of conveying papers, letters, packets, and correspondence between Police Officers and Police Stations and Magistrates of Districts or Officers in charge of Sub-Divisions, shall be vested exclusively in the Magistrate of each District, or in such other Officer as the Government may, from time to time, direct.

Raising of funds for maintaining Zemindary Dawks.

III. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate of every District, or for such other Officer as the Government may from time to time direct, to raise, as hereinafter provided, the monies necessary for the payment of the establishments required for the purpose of efficiently maintaining the Zemindary Dawks within the District, from all Zemindars, Sudder Farmers, and other persons paying revenue direct to Government in respect of lands situated within the District.

No Zemindary Dawk to be maintained where there is a Government Post.

IV. Provided always, that no Zemindary Dawk shall be established or maintained under this Act between any two places between which a Government Post for the time being exists.

Total sum necessary to be fixed and apportioned rateably on sudder jumma of those liable to contribute.

V. The Magistrate or such other Officer as aforesaid shall in each and every year, on or before the last day of the month of December, fix, subject to the approval and revision of the Commissioner of the Division, the total sum necessary for the next ensuing year for the efficient service of the Zemindary Dawks in his District, and apportion such amount rateably on the sudder jumma of the parties liable as aforesaid to pay the same, and shall appoint the days for the payment thereof.

Notice to be given of amount to be levied, its rateable apportionment, and days of payment.

VI. A notice shewing the amount to be levied for the ensuing year and the rateable apportionment thereof among the persons liable to pay the same, and the days appointed for payment thereof, shall be affixed in some conspicuous place in [illegible] Office of the Magistrate [illegible] of such as aforesaid, and also in the Office of the Collector of the District, not less than fifteen days previous to the day appointed for the first half-yearly payment.

Appeal to Commissioner when assessment on any one person exceeds forty Rupees in the year.

VII. An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division from any order of a Magistrate or such other Officer as aforesaid, imposing on any one person a pecuniary liability for more than forty Rupees a year under Section V of this Act. Provided that such appeal shall be presented to the Commissioner within thirty days from the date of affixing in the Office of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid the notice of the imposition of the liability appealed against.

Proviso.

Exemption from liability to pay assessment.

VIII. It shall be lawful for such Magistrate or other Officer aforesaid, by an order to that effect, to exempt from the liability to payment of an assessment under this Act any person the sudder jumma of whose estates in any one District does not exceed fifty Rupees a year.

Payment to be half-yearly, and in advance:

IX. The sums leviable under this Act shall be paid into the District Treasury half-yearly and in advance by the persons liable to pay the same; and any person or the local Agent of any person liable to pay any sum assessed under this Act, who shall refuse or shall for the space of thirty days after the day appointed for the payment thereof neglect to pay the same, shall be liable to pay double the amount so assessed, which said double amount, in default of immediate payment, shall be levied by the order of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid by distraint and sale of moveable property of the person making default. Provided always that no person shall become liable to pay double the amount originally assessed, so long as any appeal instituted by him under Section VII of this Act shall be pending.

and double amount to be levied on default.

Proviso.

Any surplus to be carried to credit of next year's Dawk account.

X. If the whole of the sum raised for the service of any one year be not actually required for that service, the surplus shall be placed to the credit of the Zemindary Dawk account for the next ensuing year, and shall go in reduction of the total sum to be levied for the service of that year under this Act: and when a double amount is levied under the last preceding Section, so much thereof as is in excess of the sum for which the person from whom it is levied was in the first instance assessed, shall in like manner be placed to the credit of the next ensuing year's account and go in reduction of the total sum to be levied for that year.

Government to frame general Rules.

XI. The Government may from time to time frame general Rules for the guidance of the authorities and for the transport of the dawks established by this Act, provided such Rules be not incompatible with its provisions, or with the provisions of Act XVII of 1854 (for the management of the Post Office, for the regulation of the duties of Postage, and for the punishment of offences against the Post Office), or with any Rules made under that Act by the Governor-General of India

This Act not to affect contracts between Zemindars and their under-tenants.

XII. Nothing in this Act contained shall in any way affect or alter any contract or engagement made or to be made by any Zemindar with any person holding under him.

Act to take effect on and from first December next.

XIII. This Act shall take effect on and from the first day of December next.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

No. 84.

Fort William, the 13*th May* 1862.

Read again Financial Resolution No. 5126, dated the 4th December 1857, as published in the Notification No. 13 of the 26th March 1858.

READ also Financial Resolution No. 8718, dated the 4th July 1861.

His Excellency the Governor-General in Council observes that the object of the first of these Resolutions was to put an end to the practice, which had caused so much confusion and uncertainty in Indian Accounts and Estimates, of appointing Officers from the Civil Service indiscriminately to Offices of Account without previous training, and constantly changing them as their advance in the Service entitled them to promotion.

The avowed object was to adopt measures for reframing the Offices of Account in the different Presidencies, so that "a succession of Officers, conversant with the business of Accounts, to the higher posts in the Department might be secured, and appointments to vacancies regulated accordingly."

In like manner the object of the Resolution of the 4th July 1861 was to regulate the constitution of the Financial Department of the Government of India, so that it might be in a position to perform duties which are described in the Resolution as "exactly similar to those performed by the Treasury in England."

The new system of Audit and Account and of Budget Estimates, which has been introduced, makes it more than ever important that the objects contemplated by these Resolutions should be thoroughly carried out.

The foundation of this system is, that Estimates of all expenditure should be framed and revised with such care as to enable the Government of India to hold all Local Governments, Departments, and Officers who spend public money, responsible for their observance; that accounts of all receipts and expenditure should be kept on an uniform system, so accurately and promptly as to enable the Government at any moment to know its real position and to check unauthorised outlay; and, finally, that the Financial Department proper or Treasury should exercise a constant central supervision and control over all estimates and expenditure, the more necessary in India, as the spending Departments are not, as in England, subjected to the check of passing their estimates annually through the House of Commons.

Great reforms have already been effected in this direction, and no blame can be attached to the Officers who have zealously co-operated in the arduous task of introducing a new system amidst the pressure of daily work and of financial difficulties.

At the same time it is apparent that the object has not yet been attained of organizing a self-supporting machinery, which, as in England, can be depended upon to conduct the ordinary business of Financial Administration, without extraordinary efforts or constant risk of failure.

In the Financial Department proper, which corresponds to the English Treasury, there are two situations only below the Financial Secretary, at salaries which admit of their being held by Europeans, while in the English Treasury there are below the Secretary a permanent Assistant Secretary, and five Divisions, each presided over by a "Principal Clerk," who is invariably a gentleman of great ability and experience, with a staff of four or five established Clerks under him, recruited commonly from gentlemen of University Education, liberally paid, and rising according to merit and seniority to the higher posts.

It is not too much to say that there are in the English Treasury, and the principal Departments connected with it, seldom less than five or six Officers, who have been conversant with the details of every Budget for the last twenty years, and who would be perfectly competent to frame a very respectable Budget themselves, if suddenly called upon.

The result is a machinery which works with very little risk of disturbance from political changes in high offices, and which it is the more important to introduce in India, as the effect of climate and other causes makes frequent changes in the higher offices inevitable.

As regards the Department of Account, it is equally clear that, until a recent period, Returns and Estimates of Indian Finance have been notoriously untrustworthy.

The Parliamentary Returns of "actual expenditure" for the year 1859-60, while correct as to the actual entries in the Books, were calculated to mislead to an extent of several millions in any attempt to form a judgment as to what had been the established expenditure proper to the year 1859-60, and whether that of 1860-61 shewed any material decrease in comparison with it.

Again, the figures which have been accepted until very recently as shewing the probable revenue and expenditure of the financial year 1860-61, corrected up to the close of the year, prove, on the completion of the "actual" Returns for the year, to have under-stated the Revenue by £3,500,000, and the expenditure by nearly £1,500,000, thus misleading the Government as to its actual position to an extent of not less than £2,000,000, or more than the whole annual produce of the Income Tax.

Mistakes of this magnitude are now, it is believed, impossible, and the exertions of the Accountant and Auditor-General are bringing us to a point where we may hope to have reliable returns of actual receipts and expenditure under each principal head of the Budget within two months at latest after the close of each month. But the maintenance even of present results is endangered by the increasing difficulty of obtaining Officers of the "Covenanted Service," who are willing to abandon the regular line of service for the Financial Department, and of retaining those we have, without such frequent changes as necessarily greatly impair the efficiency of their offices.

An Office of Account is one which peculiarly requires a fixed head who thoroughly understands his work, and knows the character and capabilities of those who work under him.

Of twenty Officers now holding the principal offices of Account and Audit, no less than fourteen are acting away from their own proper posts in temporary appointments. Under such circumstances it is creditable to them that they have been able to effect improvements at all, and it would be unreasonable to impute blame to individuals because they have not at once succeeded in obtaining the efficiency of the English system which has been the growth of centuries.

At the same time it is evident that such efficiency can never be expected under a system which confines all the higher posts to men who have had no previous training, and necessitates constant changes of office to meet legitimate claims to advance of salary; while it is equally clear that it is not, and rarely can be, worth the while of a Covenanted Officer to attach himself to the Departments of Finance and Account unless he can commence by holding a high post, and be almost certain of changing to other posts still higher after a comparatively short period.

It is absolutely necessary, therefore, in framing any plan for the future organization of the Financial Department to proceed on the principle that all distinction between "Covenanted" and "Uncovenanted" Services must be set aside, except for a few of the very highest offices as that of Financial Secretary, and that the salaries and constitution of the Department must be regulated with a sole view to efficiency without distinction of service, profession, race, or religion.

This change will, however, come very gradually, as it is not proposed to interfere with the salaries of appointments actually held by Covenanted Officers, or with existing prospects of promotion of such Officers, where fit for it, except so far as these may be affected by the abolition of the three

Sub-Treasurerships which, under the arrangement with the Presidency Banks, have become superfluous and would have been abolished at any rate. And as it will take some years before a sufficient body of qualified Assistants can be trained up under the proposed new organization, the succession to the highest posts (more especially those of Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, which it is for many reasons important to fill by Officers of weight and standing as well as of ability and experience), will for a long time continue necessarily to be held by the Covenanted Officers now attached to the Department.

If, however, any Officer should consider that his fair prospects of promotion on the faith of which he joined the Department are interfered with by the abolition of the Sub-Treasurerships, or otherwise, he will be allowed to re-join the general service at the first moment when he can be allowed to leave his post without positive inconvenience to the public service, and in the meantime if any Officer should be obliged for the service of the State to remain for a time in the Financial line when he would have wished to return at once to the General Service, the Government will be quite prepared to deal with each case separately in a liberal spirit.

In the meantime, although the change of system must be gradual and in some measure prospective, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council thinks it desirable that the occasion of a change in the Financial Secretaryship, from which Mr. Lushington has retired after so many years of arduous and meritorious service, should not be lost, in order to announce clearly to the Officers of the Department and to the public the scheme for the future organization of Financial Administration which has been decided upon by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council after mature consideration.

The Financial Department, including the Departments of Account and Audit, will constitute one Department, at the head of which will be the Financial Secretary.

The Military Finance Department, having special duties of Professional as well as a Financial character, will remain, as at present, an independent Department, subject neither exclusively to the Financial or Military Departments, but corresponding with the Government through either, according as the subject is Financial or Military.

The Head of the Military Finance Department will submit Estimates and make his official communications on all subjects relating to Finance or requiring orders in the Financial Department through the Financial Secretary, so that the latter will be cognizant of what takes place, and able to remark upon it as far as it may affect Finance generally, though he will not be responsible for, or expected to interfere with, matters involving Military considerations, or affecting the sole and undivided responsibility of the Head of the Military Finance Department to the Supreme Government for all matters of Military Finance.

The division of Financial business into Departments begins below the Financial Secretary.

The Auditor and Accountant-General of the Government of India is the Head of the important Departments of Account and Audit charged with the important duty of bringing the accounts of the Empire together, and, as a general rule, the Government will look to him as responsible for the correct performance of what may be called the mechanical duties of Account and Audit, as distinguished from administrative matters which come within the province of the Financial Secretary.

This, it is believed, will not involve any change in existing practice.

The Accountant and Auditor-General will continue, as at present, to sit with the Head of the Military Finance Department as an "Audit Board," for the purpose of considering questions where Civil and Military Finance are intermixed, of consulting each other on doubtful questions, and of preserving, as far as possible, uniformity of accounts and system.

In case of difference of opinion between the two Members, the matter will thus be brought directly before the Government for its decision.

The duties and responsibilities of the Superior Officers being thus defined, it remains to settle the position of the various grades of employés.

These will, as at present, consist of two main divisions, viz :—

1*st*.—Clerks doing the routine and mechanical work;

2*nd*.—Assistants either doing, or in training for doing, the more important and responsible work.

No immediate change is proposed as regards the first division of Clerks. As regards the higher division of the Service corresponding to the "established Clerks" of the Treasury and other English Public Offices, the general denomination would be applied of "Assistants (according to their respective classes) in the Financial Department," in addition to the special denomination of any office they might happen to fill.

They will form one Service, divided into four Classes, viz. :—

CLASS I.—Salary 1,500 Rupees a month, rising 100 Rupees a month after each year of service in the Class to a maximum of 2,000 Rupees a month; some extra personal allowance being admissible where the Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General at Madras or Bombay is required to fulfil the additional duty of acting as the sole or Senior Government Director of the Presidency Bank, consisting of—

Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General of the three Presidencies and the North-West.

First Assistant Secretary, Financial Department.

CLASS II.—Salary 1,000 Rupees a month, rising to 1,500, by an increase of 75 Rupees a month each year after two years of service in the Class, consisting of—

Civil Pay-Masters of the three Presidencies.

Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General, Punjab, and smaller Governments.

First Assistant to the Accountant and Auditor-General of India.

Second Assistant Secretary of the Financial Department.

CLASS III.—Salary 700 Rupees a month, rising to 1,000, by 50 Rupees a month each year after three years' service in the Class, consisting of—

Civil Pay-Masters at other places.

First Assistants to Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General.

Second Assistant to the Accountant and Auditor-General of India.

Third Assistant Secretary, Financial Department.

First Assistants to the Principal Assistant Secretaries, Financial Department.

And any other Officers fairly on a par with these.

CLASS IV.—Salary 400 Rupees a month, rising to 700 by an increase of 30 Rupees a month each year after three years' service, consisting of—

Junior Grades in the Central Office at Calcutta, and Chief Assistants in the Principal Local Offices.

As a rule every one should serve for a certain time in this Class in the Central Office at Calcutta, so as to be instructed in the system of Accounts and Budget Estimates.

In addition to these established Classes there will be a Class of Apprentices or Probationers, at salaries not exceeding 250 Rupees a month, consisting of youths who will be taken on trial, and from whom the established Classes will be principally recruited as vacancies occur.

It will be distinctly understood that the Government always retains the power of selecting men of higher standing and experience and placing them at once in any of the higher classes where the public service requires it. Once placed in any Class, they will rise as if they had entered the Service from the bottom; but, as a general rule, after an adequate supply of young men has been trained up in the Lower Grades, promotion will take place among them according to merit and seniority.

In order to secure due consideration to personal claims and to the good of the public service, the following Rule, which prevails with great advantage in the English Treasury, will be adopted in regard to all vacancies and appointments, viz.:—

The Financial Secretary shall confer with the Accountant and Auditor-General; and if, after duly considering the Report of the Officer at the head of the Department in which the vacancy occurs, they agree on a recommendation, the Financial Secretary shall report it to the Governor-General in Council, but if they disagree, each shall report his opinion separately in writing to the Governor-General in Council.

The rise of Salary in each Class after the specified period of service will take place without any change of office or any special report in the absence of positive demerit, but promotion from one class to another will depend entirely on efficiency. The Covenanted Officers now in the Service, who retain their present offices and prospects of promotion without change, except as already stated, need not be classed as above described, unless they desire it.

As regards the expense of the new organization, it appears that the following is the present cost of Officers in the Financial Department (exclusive of the Financial Secretary and Accountant and Auditor-General of India) with salaries of 700 Rupees a month or upwards:—

Appointment.	Salary Rupees a month.
Covenanted.
Sub-Treasurer, Calcutta ...	3,000
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, Bombay ...	3,000
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, Madras ...	3,000
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, Bengal ...	2,500
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, North-West ...	2,500
Civil Pay-Master, Calcutta ...	2,500
Ditto, Madras ..	2,000
Ditto, Bombay ...	2,000
Sub-Treasurer, Madras ...	2,000
Ditto, Bombay ...	2,000
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, Punjab ..	1,500
Civil Pay-Master, North-West ...	1,500
First Assistant to Accountant-General of India ...	1,500
First Assistant to Accountant-General of Bombay ...	1,200
First Assistant to Accountant-General of Madras ...	1,200
Civil Pay Master, Punjab ..	1,200
Under-Secretary, Financial Department	1,250
Uncovenanted.
First Assistant Secretary, Financial Department ...	1,000
Second Assistant to Accountant-General of India ...	1,000
Assistant to Sub-Treasurer ...	700
Ditto Accountant-General, Bombay	800
Ditto Accountant-General, Madras	800
Third Assistant to Accountant-General of India ..	800
Fourth Ditto ditto ..	700
Second Assistant Secretary, Financial Department ...	700
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General, Hyderabad ...	700
Ditto, Central Provinces ..	700
Assistant Civil Pay-Master, Calcutta ..	700
Total of Covenanted and Uncovenanted	42,450

making the total cost £50,840 a year.

Under the new organization when fully carried out, the corresponding Establishment will be composed nearly as follows :—

	Minimum.	Maximum.
Class I.
5 Officers at £1,800 to £2,400 a year ...	9,000	12,000
Class II.
8 Officers at £1,200 to £1,800 ...	9,600	14,400
Class III.
19 Officers at £840 to £1,200 ...	15,960	22,800
Total ..	34,560	49,200
Average ...	...	41,880

Some of the expense of the present Establishment would have been saved at any rate by the abolition of the Sub-Treasurerships under the arrangements with the Banks, but on the other hand some increase of strength in the Central Department was indispensable if the existing system had been retained, so that on the whole it may be safely said that the new scheme will not be attended with any material increase of expense, while it provides for seven more Offices than at present, in the Central Department, where additional strength is so much needed, at salaries sufficient to secure the services of men of talent and experience, and holds out a career sufficiently certain and attractive to induce a succession of young men of good character and abilities to devote themselves to the exclusive study of Accounts and Financial Administration.

Experience has suggested some further changes in the constitution of the Financial Department, as laid down by the Resolution of the 4th July 1861, which may be conveniently made in connection with the above scheme.

The office of Under-Secretary cannot with advantage be made a wheel in the administrative machinery, so that papers which are sent through the Assistant Secretaries to the Financial Secretary, and from him to the Financial Member of Council, should also be read and minuted upon by the Under-Secretary.

No young man, however able, can be expected to deal with Financial subjects without long preparation, and the attempt to do so would only waste time and divide responsibility.

But there is abundance of work for an intelligent young man as personal Assistant to the Financial Secretary, and the office of Under-Secretary is retained on this footing, though not as one of the regular Establishment.

The Resolution of 4th July 1861 states that "the most important appointment in the Financial Department is that of Assistant Secretary "in the Account Department." Experience fully confirms this, and shews that there is no Officer in the whole range of the Department, except the Financial Secretary, upon whose accuracy, zeal, and intelligence, the Government must so constantly rely in the most important Financial matters. Accordingly, the office is placed in the First Class of the new organization, and the present holder of it, Mr. T. Peachey, is confirmed in the appointment.

A large class of important business remains in the Financial Department, which is not provided for either in the Account or General Departments as constituted by the Resolution of 4th July 1861.

The existence of the Civil Finance and Police Commissions has hitherto given the Financial Department a ready means of revising Estimates and checking expenditure in the different Civil Branches. But those Commissions have come to an end, and it is very important that the Financial Department should possess, within its own walls, a Department whose special duty it is to watch Civil expenditure, and to criticise, by the aid of uninterrupted tradition and official experience, all proposals involving expense, which may be submitted either with the Budget Estimates or in the course of the year.

Accordingly, a "Civil Finance Department" is constituted with an Assistant Secretary of the Second Class at its head, as an addition to the Account and General Departments, and Mr. R. H. Hollingberry, whose services in the Civil Finance Commission peculiarly qualify him for such an office, is appointed to fill it. This will not in any way interfere with the principle of the Rule laid down in 1843, that all applications from Local Governments for increased expenditure shall be considered first in the Department of the Supreme Government to which the business of the Department in which the increase is proposed belongs. Any proposal, for instance, for increased expenditure in Police will continue to come to the Financial Department through the Home Department, with the opinion of that Department on the proposal, though the Financial Department will still require an Establishment to enable it to apply its own revision to the proposal so made.

In some cases, as in passing the Annual Budget, time may not always admit of a previous reference from the Financial to other Departments, but in this case sanction may be given to the Estimate provisionally, subject to consideration of the details by the proper Department, or such other special rule made as may be required to meet the special case.

The apportionment of other important business of the Financial Department hitherto but partially provided for, as supervision of the Revenue, preparation of Financial and Commercial Statistics, and supervision of the Currency, will be made between the different Assistant Secretaries as experience may suggest, and competent Assistants to the Chief Assistant Secretaries will be appointed as fit men can be found or trained up from lower grades.

Ordered, that the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information, and that a copy be forwarded to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for information.

Two months' privilege leave of absence, under Section XII. of the Civil Service Absentee Rules, is granted to Mr. L. P. Wynne, Assistant in the Settlement Department at Goruckpore, from the 15th instant, or from the date on which he may avail himself of the same.

No. 1202A.

For some time past Lithographic Presses have been established in the Central Prisons of Meerut, Agra, Bareilly, Allahabad, and Benares, and specimens of the work, which have been forwarded to Government, shew that it is executed with neatness and clearness.

It has also been brought to the notice of the Government that in all the Central and in most of the District Prisons Country Paper, Cloth, and other articles commonly required for use in Public Offices, are manufactured and can be supplied of a quality quite equal, if not superior, to that of the like articles procurable in the market, and at rates of cost not higher than those charged elsewhere.

The Lieutenant-Governor is anxious to extend Prison Manufactures in the largest degree practicable, as well for the purpose of providing adequate intramural labor for the Convicts, as for that of recovering, by the sale of the goods so manufactured, some portion at least of the funds which are annually expended in the maintenance of the Prisons in these Provinces.

All Public Officers under this Government are accordingly invited to give their aid in carrying, out its wishes as above expressed. Still continuing, as heretofore, to indent upon the Government Press for Forms of Periodical Returns, &c., prescribed by the Sudder Court and the Sudder Board of Revenue for submission to themselves, or to the Government. Such Officers may very conveniently employ the Presses of the Central Prisons in lithographing Papers and Forms, whether in the Vernacular or in English, which are required only for local or temporary purposes. There are many such, as every Public Officer must know, and they need not be specified.

In like manner it is in the power of all Public Officers to assist in developing the system of intramural labor which has been introduced in the Prisons of these Provinces, and in economizing Prison expenditure by purchasing from the Prisons the Country Paper, the Cloth for Bustehs, and other articles commonly required in the Public Offices. And, provided that these can be supplied from the Prisons of a quality sufficiently good, and at moderate cost, the Lieutenant-Governor would wish all Public Officers under this Government so to procure them.

The purpose of this Notification, it will be observed, is not to lay an injunction on Public Officers in these Provinces, but merely to make known to them that certain work can be done and certain necessary articles can be supplied by the Prisons in these Provinces, and that their co-operation, in the manner above suggested, will assist the endeavor of the Government to establish an effective and economical system of Prison management.

All Officers in charge of Prisons will be directed o keep open for inspection specimens of their Lithographic Work, and of the Country Paper, Cloth, &c, which are manufactured by Convict labor under their direction.

Notice.

WITH reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle:—

Cuttack.
Pooree.
Mahanuddy.
Balasore.

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st September 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. ARMSTRONG, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

CUTTACK, The 29th April 1862.

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 8th May 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VIII OF 1862.

An Act to improve the system of Zemindary Dawks in the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the conveyance of letters on the public service between Police Officers and Police Stations and the Magisteral Offices of the Districts subject to the Government of Bengal is defective, irregular, and uncertain, and the system requires to be amended and placed on a better footing; It is enacted as follows :—

Section 10, Regulation XX., 1817, repealed.

I. Section X of Regulation XX., 1817, is hereby repealed so far as the same relates to the Districts and Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal.

Appointment, remuneration, and removal of Dawk-runners vested in Magistrate or other Officer appointed by Government.

II. The appointment, removal, and payment of Dawk-runners and other persons necessary for the performance of the service of conveying papers, letters, packets, and correspondence between Police Officers and Police Stations and Magistrates of Districts or Officers in charge of Sub-Divisions, shall be vested exclusively in the Magistrate of each District, or in such other Officer as the Government may, from time to time, direct.

Raising of funds for maintaining Zemindary Dawks.

III. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate of every District, or for such other Officer as the Government may from time to time direct, to raise, as hereinafter provided, the monies necessary for the payment of the establishments required for the purpose of efficiently maintaining the Zemindary Dawks within the District, from all Zemindars, Sudder Farmers, and other persons paying revenue direct to Government in respect of lands situated within the District.

No Zemindary Dawk to be maintained where there is a Government Post.

IV. Provided always, that no Zemindary Dawk shall be established or maintained under this Act between any two places between which a Government Post for the time being exists.

Total sum necessary to be fixed and apportioned rateably on sudder jumma of those liable to contribute.

V. The Magistrate or such other Officer as aforesaid shall in each and every year, on or before the last day of the month of December, fix, subject to the approval and revision of the Commissioner of the Division, the total sum necessary for the next ensuing year for the efficient service of the Zemindary Dawks in his District, and apportion such amount rateably on the sudder jumma of the parties liable as aforesaid to pay the same, and shall appoint the days for the payment thereof.

Notice to be given of amount to be levied, its rateable apportionment, and days of payment.

VI. A notice shewing the amount to be levied for the ensuing year and the rateable apportionment thereof among the persons liable to pay the same, and the days appointed for payment thereof, shall be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Office of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid, and also in the Office of the Collector of the District, not less than fifteen days previous to the day appointed for the first half-yearly payment.

Appeal to Commissioner when assessment on any one person exceeds forty Rupees in the year.

VII. An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division from any order of a Magistrate or such other Officer as aforesaid, imposing on any one person a pecuniary liability for more than forty Rupees a year under Section V of this Act. Provided that such appeal shall be presented to the Commissioner within thirty days from the date of affixing in the Office of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid the notice of the imposition of the liability appealed against.

Proviso.

Exemption from liability to pay assessment.

VIII. It shall be lawful for such Magistrate or other Officer aforesaid, by an order to that effect, to exempt from the liability to payment of an assessment under this Act any person the sudder jumma of whose estates in any one District does not exceed fifty Rupees a year.

Payment to be half-yearly, and in advance:

IX. The sums leviable under this Act shall be paid into the District Treasury half-yearly and in advance by the persons liable to pay the same; and any person or the local Agent of any person liable to pay any sum assessed under this Act, who shall refuse or shall for the space of thirty days after the day appointed for the payment thereof neglect to pay the same, shall be liable to pay double the amount so assessed, which said double amount, in default of immediate payment, shall be levied by the order of the Magistrate or of such other Officer as aforesaid by distraint and sale of moveable property of the person making default Provided always that no person shall become liable to pay double the amount originally assessed, so long as any appeal instituted by him under Section VII of this Act shall be pending.

and double amount to be levied on default.

Proviso.

Any surplus to be carried to credit of next year's Dawk account.

X. If the whole of the sum raised for the service of any one year be not actually required for that service, the surplus shall be placed to the credit of the Zemindary Dawk account for the next ensuing year, and shall go in reduction of the total sum to be levied for the service of that year under this Act: and when a double amount is levied under the last preceding Section, so much thereof as is in excess of the sum for which the person from whom it is levied was in the first instance assessed, shall in like manner be placed to the credit of the next ensuing year's account and go in reduction of the total sum to be levied for that year.

Government to frame general Rules.

XI. The Government may from time to time frame general Rules for the guidance of the authorities and for the transport of the dawks established by this Act, provided such Rules be not incompatible with its provisions, or with the provisions of Act XVII of 1854 (for the management of the Post Office, for the regulation of the duties of Postage, and for the punishment of offences against the Post Office), or with any Rules made under that Act by the Governor-General of India in Council.

This Act not to affect contracts between Zemindars and their under-tenants.

XII. Nothing in this Act contained shall in any way affect or alter any contract or engagement made or to be made by any Zemindar with any person holding under him.

Act to take effect on and from first December next.

XIII. This Act shall take effect on and from the first day of December next.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 19th May 1862.

No. 547 of 1862.—Captain W. H. Lowther, of the late 52nd Native Infantry, is allowed an extension of leave from the 28th December 1861 to the 26th February 1862, the date on which he returned to Bengal from sick leave to the Cape and New Zealand.

No. 548 of 1862.—With reference to Government General Order No. 1077, dated 26th November last, the leave of absence, under Section V. of the Uncovenanted Service Absentee Rules, granted to Mr. Chief Civil Assistant C. Lane, Great Trigonometrical Survey, will be held to have effect from the 22nd October 1861 to the 24th April 1862.

No. 549 of 1862.—With reference to the Notification issued by the Government of Bengal, dated 16th instant, the services of Captain E. H. D. Macpherson, of Her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders, Aide-de-Camp to the late Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, are placed at the disposal of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

No. 550 of 1862.—The following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, to the Government of India, No. 115, dated the 24th of March 1862, are published for general information :—

Letter dated 18th December 1861, No. 350.

Paragraph 8.

Para. 9.—The cases of Warrant Officers promoted on the Veteran Establishment, who have applied to retire from the Service have, until recently, been specially considered, and in almost, if not in every case the full pay of the Commissioned rank has been granted on retirement.

10. When considering an application from an Officer on the Veteran Establishment now in this country, I observed that although there were Rules for the retirement of Officers holding unattached Commissions, (General Order by the Governor-General, No. 322 of 6th June 1851,) there were no Rules for the retirement of Officers on the Veteran Establishment, I accordingly decided that to entitle an Officer on the Veteran Establishment to retire on the full pay of his Commissioned rank, he must have served the time which he would have required had he remained in the Warrant Grade to entitle him to the full pay of his former rank in that Grade.

11. Under this decision, Lieutenant Buckley, whose services at Delhi are so well known, is entitled to the full pay of his Commissioned rank, viz. (6*s* 6*d*.) six shillings and six pence per diem, and, having applied to retire before the 1st October last, to the additional allowance of 50£ (fifty pounds) per annum, referred to in General Order by the Commander-in-Chief, dated 18th May 1861.

Fort William, the 20th May 1862.

No. 551 of 1862.—The following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 149, dated 14th April 1862, are published for general information:—

Letter from, No. 297 of 1861, dated 15*th November.*
Proposal that the Rule granting half Staff allowance during Furlough to Non-Commissioned Officers of the Public Works Department may be considered applicable to Non-Commissioned Officers of all Departments, and further, that the men acting may be granted the full allowances of appointments during the absence of the permanent incumbents.

1. It has not been the practice hitherto to issue in this country to Non-Commissioned Officers or Soldiers of the Department of Public Works, while on Furlough to Europe, any portion of their Staff salary, as the Rule in the Code of Regulations of that Department applicable to such men does not recognize the grant which clearly was intended to apply only to leave taken in India, as the allowances of men so absent are to be drawn by the Executive Engineer of the Division to which they are attached.

PUBLIC WORKS CODE, SECTION III.
Persons in the Military Service.

Para. 10.—Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers employed in the Public Works Department may be allowed leave of absence, by the Local Government, for any period not exceeding two years, on Medical Certificate, provid d that no such leave be granted within two years after return from a previous leave. The Local Government may also grant leave on private affairs for any period not exceeding six months after six years' service, provided the exigencies of the public service admit of it.

Men obtaining leave as above will be allowed half their Staff salaries, together with their Military Pay and Batta, but no travelling allowances.

Their allowances will be drawn by the Executive Engineer of the Division to which they are attached.

Para. 9.—In the cases of Non-Commissioned Officers of the Public Works Department, who may be entitled to half Staff allowance during Furlough, the amount which they are entitled to receive on this account is always to be specified in the last Pay Certificates given to men on their embarkation.

2. I am desirous that deserving men, not only of the Department of Public Works but of every other Department of the public service, should have the benefit of a liberal interpretation of the Rules which govern the Department in which they are employed, and as under paragraph 9 of the General Order by the Commander-in-Chief,* dated 19th April last, Non-Commissioned Officers of the Department of Public Works will doubtless infer that they are entitled to half Staff salary while on Furlough to Europe, I shall not withhold that indulgence but must restrict the issue in accordance with the Rules which govern the absence of Commissioned Officers to the period of six months, and the grant will be extended to all Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers of the Public Works as well as every other Department who may obtain Furlough to Europe on Medical Certificate.

3. The allowance to all Departmental Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers after that period will be strictly confined to that issued to Regimental Non-Commissioned Officers on Furlough to Europe, viz., the British rate of pay of the rank and arm of the Service to which they belong.

4. The Staff salary of a locum tenens must be restricted during the first six months to the half allowance forfeited by the absentee.

* Furlough to Europe of Non-Commissioned Officers.

No. 552 of 1862.—The following paragraph of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 153 of the 14th April 1862, and the Memorandum from the Secretary of State for War therein referred to, are published for general information:—

Copy of a Memorandum received from the Secretary of State for War, shewing the advantages allowed to Militia men who have been transferred to Regiments of the Line, is herewith forwarded.

MEMORANDUM.

From 31st December 1855 to 26th March 1856, and from 30th December 1857 to the present date.

Men who volunteered into the Line from Regiments of Militia during the period stated in the margin are allowed to reckon towards Pension half their previous embodied Militia Service rendered after the age of eighteen, provided, first, that they have completed six months' general Militia Service; second, that they declared their former Militia Service on enlistment; and third, that the Militia Regiments from which they volunteered were in a state of embodiment at the time of their volunteering.

This latter condition, however, is not required with regard to men who were transferred during the year 1858, provided they volunteered during the last week of the annual period of training of their disembodied Regiments.

It must be understood, however, that in no case can the Militia Service allowed to be reckoned towards Pension be permitted to reckon towards discharge under the limited enlistment Act.

The Militia Service above granted is also allowed to be reckoned towards Good Conduct Pay granted under the Royal Warrant issued from this Office on 1st March 1860, with the condition that the service submitted for approval must be accompanied by the prescribed Certificate from the Commanding Officer of the Line Regiment, that the man's name has not been entered in the Regimental Defaulter Book for at least two years (of his Line Service) immediately preceding his claim.

In cases in which a Militia man fraudulently enlists into the Line, his Militia engagement not having expired, the Secretary of State for War under Clause 50 of the Mutiny Act has no power to allow to be reckoned towards Pension the man's Line Service, which has elapsed prior to the date upon which the Militia engagement terminates.

No. 553 of 1862.—The undermentioned Officer is permitted to proceed to Europe on leave of absence on Sick Certificate :—

Captain Thomas Francis Jekin Russel, of the 43rd Regiment, Madras Native Infantry ..	For eighteen months, under the new Regulations.

No. 554 of 1862.—With reference to Government General Order No. 995, dated the 1st November 1861, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that an Orderly Room Clerk of the Brigades of Royal Artillery, formerly belonging to Her Majesty's Indian Forces, shall receive one shilling a day besides the ordinary pay of a Serjeant as in the old Royal Artillery, Horse and Foot.

2. The total allowances of Serjeant-Majors and Quarter-Master Serjeants of Brigades of Horse Artillery will remain for the present unaltered.

3. This Order is applicable to the three Presidencies, and will have effect from this date.

No. 555 of 1862.—The following Promotion is made subject to Her Majesty's approval :—

Corps.	Rank and Name.	To what rank promoted.	From what date.	In whose Room.
Medical Dept.	Assistant Surgeon William Delpratt ..	Surgeon ..	25th April 1862.	Principal Inspector-General, Medical Department, J. Forsyth, retired.

No. 556 of 1862.—The following Order, issued by the Government of Bombay, is confirmed :—

No. 314, dated 9*th May* 1862.—Granting leave of absence to Europe, on Medical Certificate, to Assistant Surgeon H. Potter, M. D., of the Medical Department ...	For eighteen months.

No. 557 of 1862.—Lieutenant Robert John Foley, of the late 62nd Regiment Native Infantry, is permitted to resign the Service, with effect from the 8th June 1862, subject to Her Majesty's approval.

No. 558 of 1862.—Under the authority of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to permit Major and Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Edward Fleetwood Smith, of the late 23rd Regiment Native Infantry, now of the Bengal Staff Corps, to retire from the Service, with effect from the 31st December last, on the pension of a Colonel, and with the additional annuity of (£150) one hundred and fifty, assigned to him in Government General Order, No. 905 of the 8th October 1861.

Under the authority of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, notified in General Order No. 351, dated 25th March 1862, the admission to the Bengal Staff Corps of Major Smith and his promotion in that Corps are hereby cancelled.

Nambar Forest.

Rules approved by Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Orders of 10th June 1861.

A TRACT of Forest land on the banks of the Dhunseri and Dyung Rivers in the Golah Ghat District having been set apart with the view to preserving and encouraging the growth of valuable timber for Government purposes, and also for working the Coal beds and Limestone Quarries therein, the following Rules are hereby put in force:—

I. That the tract of land be under the charge of an Officer, to be appointed as a Forest Ranger, who will have general control over the Establishment appointed for guarding and preserving the trees and the raising of plants in Nurseries

II. No person is to be allowed to mark, girdle, or fell, or in any way injure any trees, such as Teak, Saul, Nanoa, Jarool, Bola, Jamoo, Porma, Oonun, Tengah, &c., which it is considered desirable to preserve, without a written order from the Forest Ranger.

III. Owners of Elephants will be held responsible for injuries done to Nurseries or Plantations.

IV. The Forest Ranger or one of his Assistants will, on all occasions when timber has to be cut for the supply of Government to private parties, go and reside at the place where the timber is being felled and point out and mark the trees to be cut down.

V. The Ryots of Villages lying within the Forest are allowed, under a written permit from the Forest Ranger, to fell such timber as they may require for their own wants, viz., for building, burning and extension of cultivation of grain; but are strictly prohibited from cutting down trees to make canoes for sale, or from clearing out Forest to sow Opium.

VI. Whenever the Forest Ranger may think fit to reserve any tract in the Forest, no tree, shrub or timber in the said tract is to be injured, felled or removed except by direction of the Forest Ranger. No tract of a size exceeding ten acres is to be thus reserved without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Assam. All such reserved tracks to be marked out by poles or a fence.

VII. No poles or other signs put up to mark the boundary of a reserved tract, or for other purpose, nor any sheds, bridges, fences, or buildings of any kind, nor any roads and ditches erected or made by orders of the Forest Ranger shall be removed or injured in any way except under a written order of the Forest Ranger.

VIII. For the convenience of the public, parties will be allowed to purchase timber to a limited extent, at rates to be fixed by the Forest Ranger, in communication with the Public Works Officers according to the value of the timber required, payment to be made before delivery.

IX. Parties in charge of Government timber, who lose the same or allow it to be lost or destroyed, render themselves liable to punishment, unless they shew that the loss arose from causes not under their control.

X. No person will be allowed to work or remove any Coal, Limestone, or any other material, or in any way to interfere with workmen, who may be put to work the same without written permission of the Forest Ranger.

XI. It will be the duty of the Forest Ranger and his Assistants to see that these Rules are not violated, and should they in any case be infringed, to punish within his competence the parties by whom they may be infringed, and to report to the Magistrate of Golah Ghat any matter beyond his competence to dispose of. Any person who infringes any provision of the Forest Rules, or any Subordinate of the Department who wilfully neglects his duty, will be prosecuted and punished as the Law directs.

XII. A copy of these Rules shall be printed in legible characters on a board in the vernacular language of the District, and affixed in a conspicuous place near every roadway entering the Forest.

A draft set of Subsidiary Rules for the management of the Namber Forest.

A TRACT of Forest land on the banks of the Dhunsiri and Dyung Rivers in the Gola Ghat Sub-Division of the Nowgong District having been set apart with the view to preserving and encouraging the growth of valuable timber for Government purposes, and also for working the Coal beds and Limestone Quarries therein, the the following Rules are prescribed by the Government of Bengal for the management of the tract:—

1. That the tract of land be under the charge of an Officer to be appointed as Superintendent, who will have general control over the Establishment appointed for guarding and preserving the trees and the raising of plants in Nurseries.

2. No person is to be allowed to mark, girdle, fell, or in any way injure any timber tree whatever, which it is considered desirable to preserve, without a written order from the Superintendent.

3. Owners of Elephants will be held responsible for injuries done to young trees, Nurseries or Plantations, when their Elephants are turned loose to feed in the Forest.

4. The Superintendent or one of his Assistants will, on all occasions when timber is to be cut for the supply of Government or private parties, go and reside at the place where timber is being felled, and point out and mark the trees which are to be cut down.

5. The Ryots of the Villages at Bor Pathor are allowed, under a written permit from the Superintendent, to fell such timber as they may require for their own wants, viz., for fuel, building, and extension of cultivation of grain in that portion of the Forest lying between the Bor Hillony Jan and the Bor Noria Jan, and bounded on the East by the Dhunsiri River, and on the West by a straight line through the Forest parallel to, and at the distance of one mile from the Pathor, but are strictly prohibited from cutting down trees to make canoes for sale, or clearing out Forest to sow Opium.

6. Whenever the Superintendent may think fit to reserve any tract in the Forest, no tree, shrub or timber in the said tract is to be injured, felled or removed, except by direction of the Superintendent. No tract of a size exceeding ten acres is to be thus reserved without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Assam.

All such reserved tracks to be marked out by poles or a fence.

7. No poles or other signs put up to mark the boundary of a reserved tract, or for other purpose, no sheds, bridges, fences or buildings of any kind, nor any roads or ditches made by orders of the Superintendent shall be removed or injured in any way except under a written order from the Superintendent.

8. For the convenience of the public, parties will be allowed to purchase timber to a limited extent, at rates to be fixed by the Superintendent, in communication with the Superintending Engineer, according to the value of the timber required; payment to be made before delivery.

9. Parties in charge of Government timber, who lose the same or allow it to be lost or destroyed, render themselves liable to punishment, unless they show that the loss arose from causes not under their control.

10. No person will be allowed to work or remove any Coal, Limestone, or any other material, or in any way to interfere with workmen, who may be employed to work the same, without written permission from the Superintendent.

11. It will be duty of the Superintendent and his Assistants to see that these Rules are not violated, and should they in any case be infringed, to punish within his competence the parties by whom they may be infringed, and to report to the Magistrate of Gola Ghat any matter beyond his competence to dispose of. Any person who infringes any provision of the Forest Rules, or any Subordinate of the Department who willfully neglects his duty, will be prosecuted and punished as the Law directs.

12. A copy of these Rules shall be printed in legible characters in the vernacular language of the District, and given to the headman of each of the Frontier Villages, and affixed in a conspicuous place at the Thannah at Gola Ghat, and at the Guard-house at Borpathor and at Jamoogoory.

13. All that portion of the Forest lying between the boundary line on the North, and Bor[illegible] Hillony Jan, and on both sides of the Nambar River, to be left in tact, no trees whatever to be felled in that locality, but such as the Superintendent may consider necessary to remove for the improvement of the Forest.

14. All timber required for the present consumption to be felled in the Doab, between the Dhunsiri and Dyung Rivers.

15. Timber will be supplied to purchasers (who will fell the trees and take them away), at the following rates, viz:—

Trees of four feet in girth:—

Nahor, Sam, Poma, 3 Rupees; Hullock, Azar, Hingori, 2 Rupees; and Roghoo 1 Rupee.

Trees of six feet in girth:—

Nahor, Sam, Poma, 6 Rupees; Hullock, Azar, Hingori, 4 Rupees; and Roghoo 2 Rupees.

16. The Superintendent will furnish a monthly Report through the Deputy Commissioner of Nowgong, shewing the number of trees sold, the amount realized, and an epitome of proceedings

(Sd.) J. W. Masters,
Extra Assistant Commissioner.

Notice.

WITH reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle:—

Cuttack.
Pooree.
Mahanuddy.
Balasore.

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st Sept 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. ARMSTRONG, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

CUTTACK,
The 29th April 1862.

Bengal River Steam Company, Limited.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders of this Company will be held on Friday, the 23rd instant, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Company's Office, 2, Fairlie Place.

By Order of the Directors,

JOHN BORRADAILE AND CO.,

Secretaries.

The 6th May 1862.

Eastern Bengal Railway.

SUPPLY OF STEAM COAL.

THIS Company are now prepared to receive Tenders for a twelve months' supply (commencing about the 1st of August next) of good Steam Coal adapted for their Locomotive Engines, to be delivered into the Company's Coal Shed situated on the east side of the Railway Bridge contiguous to the Canal at Sealdah.

The maximum quantity required to be delivered, free of all charges, by the Contractor, will be 200 tons per week, but the quantity to be actually laid down each week will be prescribed by the Store-keeper of the Company.

Sealed Tenders, as per Form annexed and endorsed "Tenders for Coal," will be received at the Agent's Office, No. 6, Harington Street, up to 12 o'clock midday of the 7th June, and opened in the presence of parties tendering, or their representatives (if in attendance), the Consulting Engineer to Government, the Chief Engineer, and Locomotive Superintendent and the Agent.

The Company will reserve to themselves the power of rejecting the whole or any of the Tenders.

The following are the special Conditions to be observed: —

1st.—The Contractor, whose Tender may be accepted, will be required to execute a Deed of Contract to be drawn up by the Company's Solicitors.

2nd.—The Company will not hold themselves liable for any Coal delivered, unless the Contractor or his Agent obtains a receipt from the authorized Officer for such delivery.

3rd.—The power of rejecting inferior Coal will be left with the Store-keeper on the representation of the Locomotive Superintendent, and an appeal from the Store-keeper's decision will rest with the Agent of the Company, who will communicate on the subject with the Government Officer.

4th.—In case of non-fulfilment of the Contract, the Company shall have the power of purchasing Coal in the open market, at the current rate for the time being, any payments for Coal above the Contract price to be charged to the Contractor.

5th.—Cash payments to be made monthly from the date of each delivery on Bills to be submitted to the Store-keeper, and accompanied by the orders for and Vouchers of delivery. Ten days to be allowed for examination and audit of Bills. This is a safe limit, but it can be reasonably expected that this time will practically be materially abridged.

N. B.—A view of the locality for the delivery of Coal can be obtained, if required, on application to the Locomotive Superintendent, No. 2, Sealdah.

FORM OF TENDER.

To the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company.

SIR,—WE, the undersigned, do hereby offer to supply the Eastern Bengal Railway with good Steam Coal for the term of twelve months, commencing from the 1st day of August next, at the prices herein written, and under the special Conditions noted in the Calcutta and Exchange Gazettes of

LEGISLATIVE.

Fort William, the 21st May 1862.

THE following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information by order of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council :—

A Bill further to amend Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen.)

Preamble.

Whereas the local Governments are empowered under Section LXXXI of Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) to investigate cases of incompetency and misconduct on the part of Masters and Mates who have obtained certificates of competency of service from such local Governments, and under Section LXXXII of the said Act, on proof of such misconduct or incompetency, to suspend or cancel such certificates; and it is expedient to extend the power of making such investigation and of suspending such certificates to other Governments than the Governments by which such certificates shall have been granted ; It is enacted as follows :—

Power to investigate cases of alleged incompetency and misconduct and to suspend certificates in such cases.

I. Section LXXXI of Act I of 1859 is hereby repealed, and the following Section is enacted in lieu thereof, and shall be read and construed in the same manner as if it formed part of the said Act, namely :—

"If the local Government, on the information of any Shipping Master or any other ground, has reason to believe that any Master or Mate who has obtained a certificate of competency or service from such Government or from any other local Government, is from incompetency or misconduct unfit to discharge his duties, it may direct any Board or Officer at or near to the place at which it may be convenient for the parties and witnesses to attend, to institute an investigation ; and thereupon such Board or Officer shall conduct the investigation, and may summon the Master or Mate to appear, and shall give him full opportunity of making a defence either in person or otherwise, and shall, for the purpose of such investigation, have all the powers vested in Magistrates of summoning and examining witnesses, and may make such order with respect to the costs of such investigation as they may deem just, and shall on the conclusion of the investigation make a report upon the case to the local Government. If the local Government ordering such investigation shall not be the local Government which granted the certificate held by the Master or Mate whose conduct forms the subject of enquiry, the local Government ordering the investigation shall have power to suspend the certificate held by such Master or Mate on proof that from incompetency or misconduct he is unfit to discharge his duties, and shall communicate the result of the investigation to the local Government which granted such certificate."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

SECTION LXXXI, Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) empowers any local Government to order an investigation into the conduct of any Master or Mate to whom such Government may have granted a certificate of competency or service, if it has reason to believe that either from incompetency or from misconduct such Master or Mate is unfit to discharge his duties. But, as the law now stands, only the local Government which granted the certificate can order such investigation wherever the misconduct to be enquired into shall have been committed.

An instance has recently occurred shewing the practical inconvenience that may result from the retention of this restriction and the necessity that there appears to be for some modification of the Law. The Master of a vessel, holding a certificate from the Government of Bengal, took his vessel to Bombay. A complaint of misconduct having been made against the Master on his arrival at Bombay, the Government of Bombay ordered an investigation under the provisions of Section LXXXI of the Act above quoted ; but being advised that it had no jurisdiction, the Bombay Government refrained from passing any decision in the case.

There appears to be no good reason why, in a case such as that described, the local Government, within whose territories the Master or Mate complained against happens to be at the time the complaint is preferred, should not be empowered to order an investigation, and upon proof of incompetency or misconduct showing such Master or Mate to be unfit to discharge his duties, to suspend the certificate held by him, although such certificate may have been granted by some other local Government.

The object of the present Bill is to admit of such investigation being made under the circumstances above stated by any local Government.

The Bill further provides that, when the local Government ordering the investigation shall not be the local Government which granted the certificate held by the Master or Mate whose conduct forms the subject of enquiry. the local Government ordering the investigation shall have power to suspend the certificate held by such Master or Mate on proof that from incompetency or misconduct he is unfit to discharge his duties, and shall communicate the result of the investigation to the local Government which granted the certificate.

The following Resolution of the Government of India, in the Financial Department, exempting all rewards given by Government as a specific payment for a specific object from deduction of Income Tax, is published for general information:—

No. 2541.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Financial Department, dated 31st March 1862.

Read again the undermentioned paper regarding the Assessment of Income Tax on rewards.

Financial Resolution, dated the 28th May 1861.

Read letter from the Civil Pay-Master, Madras, No. 583A., dated the 23rd July 1861, and its enclosures.

Ditto to the Civil Pay-Master, Madras, No. 10948, dated 6th September 1861.

Docket to the Civil Pay-Master, Fort William, No. 10949, dated the 6th idem.

Memorandum from the Civil Pay-Master, Fort William, dated the 18th idem.

Docket to the Government of Bengal, No. 12326, dated the 5th October 1861.

Letter from the Government of Bengal, No. 87A., dated the 29th January 1862, and its enclosures.

OBSERVATIONS.—It was ruled by this Government on the 28th May last, that rewards* paid to individuals for passing in an Oriental language, or for killing wild beasts, &c, were liable to the Income Tax.

* For passing in an Oriental language assessable by the Civil Pay-Master.
For killing wild beasts, &c., assessable by the proper Officer.

Referring to this ruling, the Officiating Civil Pay-Master, Madras, points out the difficulties incident to its enforcement. With reference to the practice in regard to Bengal Salt rewards, he observes that there is such delay in notifying the reward that many informers do not claim rewards at all, adding that if there is the further delay of auditing and taxing the reward, the moral effect and encouragement will be greatly weakened, as the gift should follow quickly after the Act.

He therefore suggests that, except in cases of Government Servants, all rewards should be paid without pre-audit as formerly, and included among the contingent charges.

The Civil Pay-Master, Bengal, reports that rewards to informers in the Salt Department are not audited in his Office, and that it appears that a correspondence on the subject of the accumulation of these rewards took place in 1859-60, between the Officiating Accountant to the Government of Bengal and the Board of Revenue, adding that, in November last, the Board decided that the audit of the Controller of Salt Chowkies was necessary previous to the adjustment of the sums paid away as rewards to informers, and that it was impracticable to pay rewards immediately after the decision of a case, the reasons assigned being that fines imposed were frequently not discharged by the offender until sometime after he had been sent to Jail. Moreover, the accused was at liberty to appeal to the Controller from the decision which sentenced him to Jail, a privilege for which time was allowed. The Board were, however, of opinion that rewards should not be held in deposit for a longer period than six months.

The Bengal Government submits a copy of a letter from the Junior Secretary to the Board of Revenue, in which the Board propose that the assessment be made by the Collector, or Regular Assessor of the District, the recipient of the reward including, in the Return of his other income, the amount of such rewards received in the previous year.

The Bengal Government differs in opinion from the Board, and considers that the duty of deducting the Income Tax from the rewards in question more appropriately belongs to the Controller of Salt Chowkies, and, therefore, suggests that that Officer should be appointed a Special Assessor under Section XXXI. of Act XXXII of 1860.

RESOLUTION.—Upon a further consideration of the question the Governor General in Council is of opinion that these rewards, being specific sums given to promote a specific object, may be presumed to have been fixed at the amount requisite to ensure the accomplishment of the end and no more, and, therefore, that a deduction of the Income Tax would virtually be to lower the scale of payment, which experience had found necessary for such objects as the extirpation of wild animals or the repression of frauds in this Revenue.

His Excellency in Council, accordingly, resolves that all rewards given as a specific payment for a specific object, as payments for the destruction of wild beasts or penalties paid to informers, shall be exempted from deduction of Income Tax by the Officers paying them, care being taken to distinguish cases where such rewards or allowances are not merely isolated payments but form part of the regular salary of an Office or profits of a profession.

ORDERED, that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be sent to all the local Governments and Civil Pay-Masters noted in the margin, for information and guidance.

Bengal, Madras, Bombay, North-Western Provinces, and Punjab.

Nambar Forest.

Rules approved by Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Orders of 10*th June* 1861.

A TRACT of Forest land on the banks of the Dhunseri and Dyung Rivers in the Golah Ghat District having been set apart with the view to preserving and encouraging the growth of valuable timber for Government purposes, and also for working the Coal beds and Limestone Quarries therein, the following Rules are hereby put in force:—

I. That the tract of land be under the charge of an Officer, to be appointed as a Forest Ranger, who will have general control over the Establishment appointed for guarding and preserving the trees and the raising of plants in Nurseries.

II. No person is to be allowed to mark, girdle, or fell, or in any way injure any trees, such as Teak, Saul, Nanoa, Jarool, Bola. Jamoo, Porma, Oonun, Tengah, &c., which it is considered desirable to preserve, without a written order from the Forest Ranger.

III. Owners of Elephants will be held responsible for injuries done to Nurseries or Plantations.

IV. The Forest Ranger or one of his Assistants will, on all occasions when timber has to be cut for the supply of Government to private parties, go and reside at the place where the timber is being felled and point out and mark the trees to be cut down.

V. The Ryots of Villages lying within the Forest are allowed, under a written permit from the Forest Ranger, to fell such timber as they may require for their own wants, viz., for building, burning, and extension of cultivation of grain; but are strictly prohibited from cutting down trees to make canoes for sale, or from clearing out Forest to sow Opium.

VI. Whenever the Forest Ranger may think fit to reserve any tract in the Forest, no tree, shrub or timber in the said tract is to be injured, felled or removed, except by direction of the Forest Ranger. No tract of a size exceeding ten acres is to be thus reserved without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Assam. All such reserved tracks to be marked out by poles or a fence.

VII. No poles or other signs put up to mark the boundary of a reserved tract, or for other purpose, nor any sheds, bridges, fences, or buildings of any kind, nor any roads and ditches erected or made by orders of the Forest Ranger shall be removed or injured in any way except under a written order of the Forest Ranger.

VIII. For the convenience of the public, parties will be allowed to purchase timber to a limited extent, at rates to be fixed by the Forest Ranger, in communication with the Public Works Officers according to the value of the timber required, payment to be made before delivery.

IX. Parties in charge of Government timber, who lose the same or allow it to be lost or destroyed, render themselves liable to punishment, unless they shew that the loss arose from causes not under their control.

X. No person will be allowed to work or remove any Coal, Limestone, or any other material, or in any way to interfere with workmen, who may be put to work the same without written permission of the Forest Ranger.

XI. It will be the duty of the Forest Ranger and his Assistants to see that these Rules are not violated, and should they in any case be infringed, to punish within his competence the parties by whom they may be infringed, and to report to the Magistrate of Golah Ghat any matter beyond his competence to dispose of. Any person who infringes any provision of the Forest Rules, or any Subordinate of the Department who wilfully neglects his duty, will be prosecuted and punished as the Law directs.

XII. A copy of these Rules shall be printed in legible characters on a board in the vernacular language of the District, and affixed in a conspicuous place near every roadway entering the Forest.

Subsidiary Rules for the management of the Nambar Forest.

A TRACT of Forest land on the banks of the Dhunseri and Dyung Rivers in the Gola Ghat Sub-division of the Nowgong District having been set apart with the view to preserving and encouraging the growth of valuable timber for Government purposes, and also for working the Coal beds and Limestone Quarries therein, the the following Rules are prescribed by the Government of Bengal for the management of the tract:—

1. That the tract of land be under the charge of an Officer to be appointed as Superintendent, who will have general control over the Establishment appointed for guarding and preserving the trees and the raising of plants in Nurseries.

2. No person is to be allowed to mark, girdle, fell, or in any way injure any timber tree whatever, which it is considered desirable to preserve, without a written order from the Superintendent.

3. Owners of Elephants will be held responsible for injuries done to young trees, Nurseries or Plantations, when their Elephants are turned loose to feed in the Forest.

4. The Superintendent or one of his Assistants will, on all occasions when timber is to be cut for the supply of Government or private parties, go and reside at the place where timber is being felled, and point out and mark the trees which are to be cut down.

5. The Ryots of the Villages at Bor Pathor are allowed, under a written permit from the Superintendent, to fell such timber as they may require for their own wants, viz., for fuel, building, and extension of cultivation of grain in that portion of the Forest lying between the Bor Hillony Jan and the Bor Noria Jan, and bounded on the East by the Dhunsiri River, and on the West by a straight line through the Forest parallel to, and at the distance of one mile from the Pathor, but are strictly prohibited from cutting down trees to make canoes for sale, or clearing out Forest to sow Opium.

6. Whenever the Superintendent may think fit to reserve any tract in the Forest, no tree, shrub or timber in the said tract is to be injured, felled or removed, except by direction of the Superintendent. No tract of a size exceeding ten acres is to be thus reserved without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Assam. All such reserved tracks to be marked out by poles or a fence

7. No poles or other signs put up to mark the boundary of a reserved tract, or for other purpose, no sheds, bridges, fences or buildings of any kind, nor any roads or ditches made by orders of the Superintendent shall be removed or injured in any way except under a written order from the Superintendent.

8. For the convenience of the public, parties will be allowed to purchase timber to a limited extent, at rates to be fixed by the Superintendent, in communication with the Superintending Engineer, according to the value of the timber required; payment to be made before delivery.

9. Parties in charge of Government timber, who lose the same or allow it to be lost or destroyed, render themselves liable to punishment, unless they show that the loss arose from causes not under their control.

10. No person will be allowed to work or remove any Coal, Limestone, or any other material, or in any way to interfere with workmen, who may be employed to work the same, without written permission from the Superintendent.

11. It will be duty of the Superintendent and his Assistants to see that these Rules are not violated, and should they in any case be infringed, to punish within his competence the parties by whom they may be infringed, and to report to the Magistrate of Gola Ghat any matter beyond his competence to dispose of. Any person who infringes any provision of the Forest Rules, or any Subordinate of the Department who willfully neglects his duty, will be prosecuted and punished as the Law directs.

12. A copy of these Rules shall be printed in legible characters in the vernacular language of the District, and given to the headman of each of the Frontier Villages, and affixed in a conspicuous place at the Thannah at Gola Ghat, and at the Guard-house at Borpathor and at Jamoogoory.

13. All that portion of the Forest lying between the boundary line on the North, and Bor Hillony Jan, and on both sides of the Nambar River, to be left in tact, no trees whatever to be felled in that locality, but such as the Superintendent may consider necessary to remove for the improvement of the Forest.

14. All timber required for the present consumption to be felled in the Doab, between the Dhunsiri and Dyung Rivers.

15. Timber will be supplied to purchasers (who will fell the trees and take them away) at the following rates, viz. :—

Trees of four feet in girth—

Nahor, Sam, Poma, 3 Rupees; Hullock, Azar, Hingori, 2 Rupees; and Roghoo 1 Rupee.

Trees of six feet in girth—

Nahor, Sam, Poma, 6 Rupees; Hullock, Azar, Hingori, 4 Rupees; and Roghoo 2 Rupees.

16. The Superintendent will furnish a monthly Report through the Deputy Commissioner of Nowgong, shewing the number of trees sold, the amount realized, and an epitome of proceedings.

Notice.

WITH reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle:—

Cuttack.
Pooree.
Mahanuddy.
Balasore.

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st September 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. ARMSTRONG, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

CUTTACK,
The 29*th April* 1862.

Cotton Roads in Bengal.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. P. BEADLE, Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, to the Superintending Engineer of the Cuttack Circle,—(dated Fort William, the 29th April 1862.)

YOUR Reports, Nos. 536, dated the 7th instant, and 543, dated the 8th idem, on the road named in the margin, have been read by the Lieutenant-Governor with much interest, and I am instructed to thank you for them.

1. Sumbulpore to Chunderpore.
2. Sohela to Chunderpore.
3. Sohela to the Jonk River.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the 23rd paragraph of your first Report, which explains in detail how the road from Sumbulpore to Chunderpore, on the right bank of the Mahanuddy River, is to be formed, at a cost not exceeding Rupees 250 a mile.

3. Paragraphs 40 to 42 of the Report in question, which refer to the construction of the cross road from Sohela towards Chunderpore, are also approved.

4. Your Second Report, No. 543, treats of the high road to Nagpore, extending from Sohela to the Jonk River, and the Lieutenant-Governor entirely approves of your proceedings in connection with this road, as explained in paragraphs 38 to 44 of the Report.

5. Your proposals and the entire scheme for the construction and improvement of these roads appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be well considered and well calculated to develop the traffic of the rich, but hitherto neglected Districts lying westward of Sumbulpore.

6. A copy of the two Reports, with the Map under acknowledgment, will be sent to the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces; they will also be published in the Supplement to the Government Gazette for general information.

CUTTACK CIRCLE.

Superintending Engineer's Memorandum on sanctioned roads

SUMBULPORE to CHUNDERPORE.—With remarks on the Sarungurh District; and the construction of a road connecting Districts north and west of Chunderpore, with Sohela and Binkah, and so avoiding many miles of most intricate and dangerous navigation viâ the Mahanuddy.

NEW ROAD, SUMBULPORE TO CHUNDERPORE.

(1.) The marches or stages on the line, Sumbulpore to Chunderpore, are as follows:—

		Miles.
Sumbulpore to Taug	...	12
Taug to Rampoluga	...	10
Rampoluga to Puddumpore	...	14
Puddumpore to Podigaun	..	12
Podigaun to Chunderpore	...	10
Total	...	58 miles.

(2.) The only difficult or very troublesome march, even as things existed at the time of my inspection, was the stage, Sumbulpore to Taug.

This march lies nearly all the way through thick jungle, and over a very rough and rocky soil; many nullahs, none of them large however, are crossed. All of these streams have rocky beds, and the crossings have been hitherto very difficult indeed. Seldom can laden carts get over these rocky banked and bedded nullahs. The carts are generally unloaded by one-half and so taken across the nullah, even then only with much trouble and by the assistance of extra drivers and bullocks to push and pull the machine.

(3.) There are two tracks, Sumbulpore to Taug, one follows very closely the river bank, the other proceeds more inland. The latter is the line our new road will generally follow.

The track near the Mahanuddy is the most difficult, and would be largely the most expensive to convert into a bridged road, inasmuch as at the points it intersects the numerous streams noted above, they are wide and deep; jungle too is heavier. The river bank line is higher certainly, but as the Mahanuddy seldom, if ever, over-rides its maiden banks, between Taug and Sumbulpore, this advantage of the river bank route is of no special importance. The nullahs "die out" as they recede from the Mahanuddy, and where the inner route crosses them they are, with two exceptions, mere streams flowing through shallow channels and girthed by rocky banks affording them facilities for bridging, should the same be hereafter deemed necessary.

(4.) From Taug to Rampoluga, the route for the new road passes through a fine open country, very fairly cultivated, though by no means to the extent it might. The population seems thin here The villages are small and the people few in number, all the way in fact to Puddumpore. The late unsettled state of Sumbulpore has caused this state of things to some degree; and many villages on this line have been, for the past three or four years, protected by resident guards of armed Police. Indeed, at "Rampoluga" one is stationed at present, and the village is surrounded and fortified by high palisades with raised "look-out" places at the entrance gates.

This state of affairs has naturally hindered improvements, and by every one I was told that many ryots had emigrated to "Rajah's countries," where peace existed, and where they could pursue their agricultural pursuits in quiet.

(5.) As the disturbances, that have existed since 1858 in the Sumbulpore District, are now quieting down, naturally the plough and spade will soon take the place of the tulwar and the bow and arrow. Prices for all kinds of agricultural produce have risen largely of late years, and at Sumbulpore a demand, unusual in "old times," for cotton and oil seeds more especially, has sprung up, which now, as the country is settling, must stimulate landholders and land-cultivators, in the hitherto unopened, and to Europeans unknown, Districts, north and west of Sumbulpore and on to the Nagpore Provinces.

(6.) With the exception of some Surveyors,* I believe I have been the first European who has travelled through the Districts under remark, and along the Mahanuddy up to Chunderpore. The people seemed quite surprised to see me, and gratified also, everywhere shewing great civility, and exclaiming that now as the "Sahib Log" have come all will be well. None of the late Commissioners at Sumbulpore that I have heard of at least visited the Districts I am now remarking upon, and as they rank as the "garden of Sumbulpore," I am glad to be able to report what favorable features they present for the execution of such Public Works as will admit or entice travellers into these fruitful lands, hitherto shut out from all ready communication with more favored Districts as regards facilities of transit. The river which waters the Puddumpore and Chunderpore Districts is a most difficult and dangerous navigation, and is, further, all but useless for seven months of the year.

* And also Mr. J. P. Meik.

(7.) Between Taug and Rampoluga, and one and a half miles from the former stage, the "Ebe River" is crossed.

This water-course is about 700 feet wide; the channel is twenty-two to twenty-five feet in depth, the bed is sandy generally, but boulders and massive groups of rock up-rise from its bed in many places; where the new road will cross the "Ebe" there is a fine bridge site, and the Mahanuddy, being so close by the flood stream of the former, is deadened in velocity by the back water the great river naturally throws into the mouth of its Tributary. There are certain signs of this at the "Ebe's" mouth and in its last reach.

(8.) Proceeding on from Rampoluga to Puddumpore there is nothing particular to note, nor does any difficulty exist to road-making.

On the contrary, the soil is particularly favorable, and, with the exception of some short and narrow valleys, the ground to be traversed consists of a light gravel soil. Ridges of Laterite gravel are also crossed, and it is with no difficulty that our new road can be guided along the natural high lands and ridges that nature has granted for road-making purposes.

(9.) The Mahanuddy does not overflow its maidan banks any where on this stage. Three nullahs,† however, intersect the line for traffic. The only other water way to be provided will then consist of the few openings rice irrigation and the natural drainage requires in the rains.

† These streams are of no material consequence.

(10.) Puddumpore is a thriving, happy-looking village. It is of some considerable extent, and has a business-like and busy appearance.

It is pleasantly and healthfully situated on the left bank of the Mahanuddy, and securely placed also, as no floods up-rise to a point that injures or endangers the town, whose safety is secured from such disasters as river bank erosion by the stratas of Gneiss Rock which underlie the soil the village has been erected upon.

(11.) The scenery here is very pretty, indeed almost beautiful. The high hills of the "Bara Pahar" country, situated on the river's right bank, abut upon and form a barrier that the Mahanuddy has naturally given way to. The river above Puddumpore turns from its general south-west course to one almost due north, until the bold and lofty mountains in the "Bara Pahar," receding again and retreating within themselves as it were, permit the river to return to its south-west and southerly direction.

(12.) The Mahanuddy's bed from "Saraipalli," four miles down stream of "Puddumpore," becomes very free from rocks.

At "Puddumpore" they appear only as little islands useful too in obstructing and turning, and at the same time guiding and improving the river's dry season's channel. For the fact of the current impinging upon, and flowing past these rocky islands, entails and creates an easily navigated and comparatively deep channel, and because further, at "Puddumpore," "the rocks" are often in rows that margin the water's course; they are not scattered in thick debris like "wonderful hailstones" over the river's bed, nor do they pave it, as unfortunately is the case lower down.

(13) From "Puddumpore" to "Podigaun," which village is not in Sumbulpore, but on the "Raigur Rajah's" lands, the new line of road will meet with no difficulty for the first ten miles of its course;* approaching "Podigaun," however, there must be a total deviation from the present route, as the track now followed diverges from the high lands, and passes over Mahanuddy chur lands, flooded in the rains and consisting of a dead and heavy sandy soil, most difficult to traffic over with laden carts.

* The "Kels" Nullah is crossed about one mile west of Puddumpore. This stream is about 250 feet wide with a level rocky bed.

However, by keeping the new road some distance inland no difficulty is met with, and no flooded lands will be traversed.

(14.) The last stage, "Podigaun" to "Chunderpore," is favorable enough for road-making as far as "Ralpore." From this village to the "Maun River" a low basin of rice lands, plentifully sprinkled over with jheels and pools of stagnant water, must be crossed with care; by keeping away from the present track and out of the direct course and following rather closely the bank of the Mahanuddy, a very fair-weather road can be laid out.

(15.) At the village of "Chaunoulli" the river "Maun" is met with. This water-course is about 1,000 feet in width. It is evidently but a rainy season stream, being, like the "Ebe," almost dry when I crossed it. It presents features similar to the "Ebe," except that much fewer rocks are seen in its bed.

The sandy bed of the "Maun" is much thinner than that which exists in the "Ebe." In many places I saw rock paving underneath the thin film of water that was slowly flowing to the Mahanuddy.

(16.) It was very pretty here, and the approach to "Chunderpore" has a park-like, and most civilized or English appearance.

(17.) "Chunderpore" is a large village or Mofussil town. It has not though either the busy or happy appearance that "Puddumpore" presents; it is a very dirty place, with bad drainage. Upon little mounds or hills most of the houses are built, and between these mounds are pools of filthy shallow water fringed on all sides by black and sticky mud, and decaying water grasses and plants. I was very glad to get out of the centre and rear of the town and reach its frontage, the pure and picturesque Mahanuddy.

(18.) Viewing "Chunderpore" from the river† it is a very pretty if not a striking village, and this effect is chiefly created by a bold conical shaped hill at the west end of the town. On the summit of this hill has been erected a Hindoo Temple, which acts as a land mark for a considerable distance to travellers when proceeding along the Mahanuddy's left bank.

† My Camp was pitched on the right bank.

(19.) The new road, as at present contemplated, terminates at "Chunderpore," but is may be found necessary to extend it next season to the boundary of the Sumbulpore Province, or in fact to the Madras Presidency, and to the lands under the Government of the Nagpore administration.

(20.) This extension will take place through a fertile District. Its length will be, I was told, about twenty-two or twenty-five miles. Having no map‡ I cannot give correct measurement, nor indeed satisfy myself on some other points. I hope this year to obtain from the Superintendent of the Ganjam Survey a Plan of the Districts that lie west of "Chunderpore" and join into "Raepore" and "Nagpore," &c.

‡ No Maps are published yet of the Districts west of Chunderpore.

(21.) From the above remarks I hope it will be seen that the construction of a fair-weather road, or indeed any class of highway, from "Sumbulpore" to "Chunderpore," fifty-eight miles, will be neither difficult nor expensive. The only rivers or streams of any size that are crossed, viz, the "Ebe" and the "Maun," are not very wide, and only hold deep and unfordable water in the height of the rains§. These rivers, too, present great natural facilities for bridging them; but this I do not contemplate will be necessary, at any rate not for some time, and probably not at all.

§ Like the Mahanuddy above Sumbulpore they do not overflow then maiden banks.

(22.) If hereafter found necessary, the new road can be raised, metalled, and bridged over its entire length, the bridges over the "Ebe" and "Maun" excepted, for a very moderate um of money. Metalling work will cost but little comparatively; material is at hand everywhere almost, and at short "leads" from the road. The line will traverse besides, for fully half its length, soil of such a description, that natural metal may be said to compose the ground passed over.

(23.) The following abstract details are submitted as explanatory of the manner in which the Sumbulpore and Chunderpore fair-weather road is to be constructed at first, and it is hoped that they will meet with approval.

The exact route the road is to follow having been fixed upon and marked out, after careful examination and survey, by Prismatic Compass.

Some rules and directions were issued for this season's works, of which the following is an abstract:—

1*st*.—In jungle all under-wood and trees to be cut down "for a width of 100 feet on each side of the centre line, the roots and stumps of trees, bamboo chumps, and such like to be stubbed up and entirely dug out for a distance of twenty-five feet on each side of centre line.

2*nd*.—"The surface of the ground, for a width of twenty-five feet along the centre, is to be levelled and cleared of all such obstructions as rocks and boulders, ant hills, clay and grave, heaps, and the like.

3*rd*.—"The centre, for a width of twenty-five feet, having been well levelled, the road is to be raised according to cross section No. 1.‖ This raising will average about one foot in the middle, the earth for so forming the road will be dug from sides trenches as the cross section depicts.

‖ Vide Sections annexed.

4*th*.—"In high, unflooded, and open lands, where no jungle grows, and where the tillage is not rice or crops requiring irrigation, the road will be constructed also according to cross Section No. 1, as a general rule. It is to be understood that all hollows and holes are to be filled up, and all obstructions removed, so that the new road will present everywhere a uniform and level surface to traffic over.

5*th*.—"All curves are to be very easy, and no sudden or sharp gradients are admissible, unless under peculiar circumstances, and which must be reported for consideration and orders, supported by a Sketch or survey of the locality.

6th.—"Where the new road passes over rice fields and "paddy lands," it will be raised from one and a half to three and a half feet as needful, and as the dips in the rice fields render necessary, this will be easily accomplished and perceived on the ground when laying out the work in detail. Cross Section No. 2 depicts the road as it will be constructed in two and a half feet of embankment. In all rice fields the berm will be fifteen feet in width, and for this season no side excavations will be deeper than one foot. The land cultivators will thus be able to till the beds of the excavation trenches, and but little ground is lost.

7th.—"For passing irrigation and drainage water across the road where raised, openings as per Section No 3 will be left at such places as detailed examination will readily point out. These openings will, as a rule, be given in the lowest part of a rice valley, or it may be that Nos. 2, 3, and 4 will be necessary. The number varying naturally, as the width of the "paddy land" to be crossed enlarges, and as local natural circumstances point out, that waterway for drainage purposes must be increased.

"These openings will be paved with stones for a width of eighteen or twenty feet, and to a depth of two. The paving will be bedded down into the ground as Sketch No. 3 shows, and it will be well coated with small stones and gravel, so that its surface will be smooth for traffic and flush with the land on either side. The slopes or inclines, as marked on Section No. 3, will not exceed 1 in 35, and they will receive a 12-inch coating of gravel and small stones.

8th.—"All river and nullah banks are to be sloped down to the level of the bed of the water-course. The slope of the incline leading to the bottom of the streams channel may vary, as local circumstances require, from 1 in 10 to 1 in 20.

"The incline may be less than 1 in 20 with advantage, but must not exceed 1 in 10. The width of the road leading down to nullah and river beds must not be less than twelve feet. It will be widened hereafter to eighteen or twenty-one.

9th.—"Care must be taken to run the road over as little cultivable or tillage land as possible. Topes of trees are to be avoided, and no trees are to be cut which can be left standing with propriety. Further, no villages, houses, and tanks, or such like, are to be interfered with if avoidable under moderate expenditure; and if the same will take the new road clear of them in case it is found absolutely necessary to interfere with any villages or houses, orders must be solicited before attempting their removal.

10th.—"On no account will any interference be permitted with Temples, Mosques, religious spots of ground, or "Takoor" trees, &c., and the new road ought to be brought as distant, as convenient and proper, from all buildings of a religious nature.

11th.—"Finally, it is always to be borne in mind that this road is, in all probability, the germ of an important work, and the beginning of a more extensive and costly undertaking.

"Nothing then is to be executed which will militate in any way against future improvements, or the enlarging of this fair-weather line into a fully raised metalled and bridged road, and, on the other hand, care must be taken that all favorable local features and details are noted and taken advantage of, so that as much as practicable will be accomplished towards the primary object, viz, the construction of a first class fair-weather line, and, in complying with the directions here given, nothing need be done that will lessen the value of present works or increase the expense of future operations."

(24.) To resume, I have to report that the road, "Sumbulpore" to "Chunderpore," will, I hope, be opened out and completed as a fair-weather road as far as Puddumpore in 1861-62.* This will leave twenty-two miles for next working season.

* Or a distance of 36 miles.

(25.) To the "Burmool" works on the road, "Cuttack" to "Sohela," many Sumbulpore coolies were sent, this diminished local labor, and hence the "Chunderpore" line has suffered; but it was not anticipated that the whole road would be perfected, and as much will be completed as was proposed.

I have every hope too, well within the Estimate of Rupees 250 per mile.

(26.) I have, in this memorandum, purposely refrained from describing the Mahanuddy, as a separate Report on that river will be hereafter submitted.

(27.) In conclusion, the Officiating Chief Engineer will, I think, be gratified at learning that I discovered and procured some specimens of rich iron ores, and I think I have heard where copper is to be found. From three localities I obtained limestone, one being the pure light grey limestone, that in Ireland is so valuable for building purposes and for lime also. The stone I found will, I am confident, make admirable Hydraulic lime, and I do not think that similar lime stone has been seen in Bengal.

I have sent specimens of the iron ore and limestone, to Professor Oldham for analyzation, &c., that gentleman having kindly promised to have this done for me.

(28.) The traffic by land between Chunderpore and Sumbulpore is very considerable. The navigation of the Mahanuddy from below Chunderpore being very difficult, and indeed not practicable for laden boats, except during the rains.

(29.) All cold weather crops, such as oil seeds, and also much cotton, passes viâ Chunderpore and Puddumpore from the Nagpore Province to Sumbulpore. At this latter town there are a number of Merchants' and Mahajuns' managers, whose Agents in "Nagpore," "Raepore," and "Chutteesgurh† purchase largely on account of their masters. Much of the cotton that is sent from Chutteesgurh to Jajepore, Jellasore, and Midnapore, and the littoral Districts towards Calcutta, and probably to this latter city, proceeds viâ Chunderpore and Sumbulpore, being carried on Pack or Brinjaree bullocks.

† As part of Raeepore is called.

(30.) On my tour I met every day long lines of buffaloe carts, each cart was drawn by two of these animals and also by two bullocks, as "leaders"

By this means as much, as thirty maunds of produce is transported on one cart.

(31.) The Brinjaree bullocks I met in herds, frequently as many as 400 were in one drove. These pack bullocks do not always transport cotton, very many carry castor-oil seed, linseed, mustard seed, &c.; such produce as this is invariably bound to the Sumbulpore Merchant or to the Sumbulpore Agent of some Cuttack Firm.

(32.) The falls of "Heerakood," vide Map annexed, being by far the most dangerous on the Mahanuddy, Sumbulpore may be safely described as the head of the constant navigation of that river.

"Heerakood" being in fact impassable for laden boats when the river falls after the rains terminate.

PART 2.

Sarungurh District.

(33.) When at Sumbulpore from enquiries there made regarding the present and natu al routes of traffic from the north and west, or from "Nagpore" and "Raepore" to the Sea Board, I heard that in the dry season, to avoid the Mahanuddy at "Heerakood," &c., many Merchants transported their goods from "Raepore" through the "Sarungurh District," which, I may mention, is an independent Rajah's Territory.

I determined, on being so informed, to visit Sarungurh and judge for myself the facilities or otherwise that this District afforded for road-works, more especially as I was told last November* by the Superintendent of the Ganjam Survey that roads from the westward or north-west from "Raepore," through "Sarungurh," and thence to "Sohela," were not practicable unless under heavy outlay.

* Vide paragraph 31 of Memorandum No. 265 of 23rd November 1861.

(34.) From "Chunderpore" I marched through the east portion of "Sarungurh" to "Sohela," where I struck the main Raepore road.

(35.) I am happy to be able to report that I found a very excellent natural track in "Sarungurh."

I came upon this track about fourteen miles south of "Chunderpore."

(36.) The route I marched along through "Sarungurh" is shewn by the red dotted line from "Chunderpore" to "Sohela" on the accompanying map.

The present traffic track to the westward on to the "Raepore" District and "Chutteesgurh," is shewn by a hard red line.

(37.) A curious chain of hills runs through the middle of "Sarungurh" as roughly shewn on the annexed map.

Remembering no doubt these high ranges, Major Saxton† informed me that a road could not easily run through Sarungurh, but on examination of the ground I found that the traffic track to "Raepore," &c., crosses the above mountains through a natural gorge or break in the hills.‡ To travel over the Pass is by no means difficult even now, though, as it is a purely natural road, rocks and boulders obstruct severely the passage of laden carts.

† Superintendent, Ganjam Survey.

‡ Or at A on Plan.

(38.) Some years ago, in 1856-57, the Rewah Rajah and his immense camp, which included all kinds of Up-country vehicles, came from "Chutteesgurh" in to "Sarungurh" by the track depicted on the map annexed, and thence proceeded viâ "Sohela" and "Sonepore," &c., to "Pooree."

(39.) There is another Ghât to cross in "Sarungurh". It is situated about the point B on Plan. The north ascent is the sharpest, being on the average 1 in 25 or 30. The south descent is very easy and no where greater than 1 in 40.

The total rise may be seventy feet; the road being a natural one is rough in spots. It is narrow too, and is sunk or has been worn down in places five and six feet below the natural level of the ground, but sufficient improvements could be made here for a comparatively small sum of money.

(40.) With reference, then, to the Sarungurh District, I would propose that permission be given to construct a fair-weather road from "Sohela" along the track my map indicates to Lendra, and thence, crossing the hills through the natural gorge at A, proceed to the westward into Puljur, and so on to the Mahanuddy,§ which the road would meet some twenty-five miles north-west of Chunderpore, finally terminating at the confines of the Bengal Presidency and meeting the traffic track proceeding out of "Nagpore" and "Raepore."

§ Where the track would strike the Mahanuddy it is fordable in the dry season and is now the crossing place for all who proceed along this route.

(41.) I regret I have no map to depict this proposition, but I think it will be allowed that the proposed road will be in all probability an important one. Its construction may render it unnecessary to expend any more money upon the "Chunderpore" and "Sumbulpore" line.

It will tap new countries, and catch nearly all the traffic that now proceeds viâ "Chunderpore" by land, and the Mahanuddy when possible.

This road will be a direct communication from the northern part of "Raepore" and from "Chetteesgurh," the most fertile District in "Raepore" to "Binkah" and "Sonepore," &c. It will cut off also many miles and the worst lengths by far of the rocky Mahanuddy.

(42.) In any case I beg strongly to recommend that the traffic track now under notice be examined carefully in 1862-63, for I feel confident a very useful road can be opened along the present route westward from "Sarungurh" to the "Raepore" Province, &c.

The construction of a road in the direction I recommend will be attended with no difficulty. The expenditure must be moderate, consequently Rupees 250 per mile will construct an exellent fair-weather line, allowing say Rupees 500 extra for the improvements of the Ghâts A and B.

(43.) The length of road to be constructed may be calculated at 50 miles, and the cost, in round numbers, I estimate as follows:—

50 miles fair-weather road, at Rupees 250 per mile	Rs.	12,500
Extra for improvement of Ghâts A and B ...	„	1,000
Total Rupees		13,500

(44.) The route to be traversed is not inundated at any time or by any river.

It crosses the heads only of some minor tributaries of the Mahanuddy and traverses a country whose soil is peculiarly well suited for road-making.

(45.) "Sarungurh" is a District in which iron ore and limestone are found, and putting on one side the advantages which this road will give in a commercial point of view, politically, it will be an important communication.

(46.) These "Gurjat" Districts are sealed books, as things are, to the European traveller, and it is only with great delay and difficulty that troops can be moved for want of roads. The construction of fair-weather roads in the "Gurjat" territories will do more, I feel confident, to civilize these Districts and quiet them permanently than the display of troops and the presence of a large Military Establishment at the Head-Quarters of the Province, some fifty or 100 miles off.

(47.) As things are, the disaffected know perfectly well that "the Sepoys" cannot traverse their lands without great difficulty and only by slow and short marches.

They consequently feel quite secure, and resist the law almost at pleasure.

A very different state of things would, I doubt not, exist if roads intersected their territories.

(48.) I conclude by soliciting favorable consideration to the construction of a fair-weather line as now submitted to notice.

Both commercially and politically it will prove, I am confident, a most useful communication, and the map shews, I think, that it will complete a system of roads that embrace and intersect much of those fine, productive, interesting, and improvable Districts that have hitherto been hardly known to Europeans, and consequently have not been appreciated.

(19.) Mr. Shore, the Officiating Commissioner of Cuttack, when speaking to me at Sonepore regarding these lands and the fair-weather roads now in progress in the "Gurjats," remarked "what noble Districts they are." I never visited lands so improvable and with such a valuable future before them if their natural capabilities were only taken advantage of, and improved means of communication granted.

T. N. Armstrong, C. E.,
Superintending Engineer, Cuttack Circle.

Memorandum on the Raepore Road, Sohela to Jonk River.

This portion of the Raepore Road becomes of special importance since the opening up of a new line from Sohela viâ Sonepore, Boad, Burmool, and Bankee to Cuttack was sanctioned.

2. The traffic and produce of Raepore has hitherto, to a great extent, proceeded along the line under immediate notice, and which commences at the Jonk River, the boundary line between the Bengal and Madras Presidencies.

3. When the Raepore Road was constructed I am unable to state,—until lately it was a line of considerable imperial importance.

Along it the Calcutta and Bombay Dâk proceeded. Some years ago this Dâk was horsed, and a few of the Dâk horse stables at the staging or halting grounds are still to be seen.

4. As a general rule, the road has been well laid out, its construction originally was evidently such as might now be given to a first class fair-weather road. None of the streams or nullahs that intersect the line appear ever to have been bridged, and drainage and irrigation water passed, and passes now across at unraised and low spots.

5. Further, the small embankment that originally was constructed here and there in rice lands has been cut through and breached by the erosive action of drainage and irrigation water, which, unprovided with escapes, naturally ponded up, and overflowing, created the gaps mentioned.

None of these are extensive or of the slightest importance, and I never saw so neglected a road where much traffic existed in such good order.

This is attributable, first, to the fact that from Sohela to the Jonk River, or the whole length of the road under notice, a distance of about fifty-five miles, the line is not subject any where to flood attack; and secondly, because fully two-thirds of the distance traverses light and fine though very firm gravelly soil, which, even in a state of a complete nature, makes a capital road.

This soil is so hard also and so bound together, that where the track passes over rising grounds and across ridges that are ascended by rather steep gradients no hurtful erosion or furrowing from rainfall has taken place.

6. The earthwork repairs executed on this road of late years have been of the most trifling character. They consisted, as one can perceive from inspection, of such petty works as not to be really worth noting, and I could observe no traces of any Departmental operations on the road itself.

7. Seldom did the predecessor of the late Executive Engineer of the Raepore Road Division inspect his Mofussil charges, and once only since he took charge did Mr. Brown visit the road to the Jonk River. However, the Officer just named does not, I believe, deserve censure for not having made more frequent journeys into the Mofussil along this line.

The year that Mr. Brown arrived at Sumbulpore* he inspected the Raepore Road, and in 1860-61 he wished to do so again, however no European could then with safety proceed on Mofussil tours in the Sumbulpore District without police guards. These could not be spared by the authorities, and the Executive Engineer had to remain at Head-Quarters and content himself by sending a gang of coolies to "petty repair," as best they could and would, under the guidance of Mohurirs and head Peons.

* 1859.

8. The favorable natural features of the road has then, for many years past, kept it in good order.

9. Some improvements, however, were begun and in part carried out by Mr. Brown, such as the erection of foot bridges over the deepest and largest nullahs.

In the rains many of these streams are for days at a time unfordable. No ferry boat or dinghee was employed, and great delay to the "Dâk" and to all travellers at such a season was of course the result.

Naturally, since the bridges have been erected, much convenience has been experienced by the "Dâk" and by all travellers.

10. The construction of these bridges is rude, and their design is of a very temporary character, but they are considerable improvement over things as they were. Their roadways are sufficient in width to pass pack bullocks, horses, palanqueens, and all such light traffic, which, too, under existing circumstances of the District, and under the present character of its communications, is the only land traffic that takes place in the rains.

11. The road from "Sohela to the Jonk River" runs in a due westerly direction. To the north is the "Mahanuddy," but between the road and the "Great River" are extensive ranges of very high hills.

There are no breaks in these ranges through which the spill waters of the "Mahanuddy" could escape in time of inundation, even if its floods over-rode the river's maiden banks, which they do not above Sumbulpore.

12 The country from "Sohela" to the "Jonk" River is divided into narrow valleys by the many hills of the "Pulgurh and Sarungurh District."

The former country begins two miles west of "Loharpalli," and ten or eleven from "Sohela." It is an independent territory, ruled by its own chief, who bears the name of his lands.

13. "Pulgurh," as a whole, is rather a poor and mountainous District. The spurs of its many hill ranges divide the country into a number of narrow valleys, which here and there widen out into rather extensive basins of cultivatable land.

The area of these lands, added to the surface of the hills whose drainage waters flow down into the valleys between, is not extensive enough to create large streams or water-courses, or to cause any inundation.

14. For about half the line the drainage flows southwards, forming the heads of nullahs that eventually lose themselves in the "Tel" and the "Oug" Rivers. Again, others turn west, falling into the "Jonk," mingling their waters with this river, which, flowing due north, loses itself at last in the Mahanuddy.

15. As the Jonk River is approached its tributaries are met with, but they are trifling streams. The "Jonk" itself is a quiet stream, and though, doubtless, a large volume of water passes down its channel in the rains, the slope of its bed and the capacity of its channel are sufficient to pass off the discharge without its having to seek relief by spilling over the banks.

16. The stages on the road Sohela to the Jonk River are as follows :—

	About Miles.
1st.—Sohela to Loharpalli ...	9
2nd.—Loharpalli to Singorah ...	7
3rd.—Singorah to Komarpalli ...	7
4th.—Komarpalli to Saraipalli ...	6
5th.—Saraipalli to Bulbuspore ...	6
6th.—Bulbuspore to Bussenah ...	7
7th.—Bussenah to Dooree ...	7
8th.—Dooree to Sankrah or Jonk River ...	6
Total miles ...	55

1st Stage.—Sohela to Loharpalli.

17. The road for the first five miles of this stage is good and in fair preservation, no nullahs are crossed, but a few bridges are required for drainage, &c.

Where the road passes rice fields it has been worn down by traffic, and "wear and tear" has reduced its crest to the level of the land it traverses.

18. The last four miles of this stage passes through jungle, the soil is light gravel, with gneiss rock here and there protruding. However, there is no present difficulty in travelling with laden carts.

Thick jungle margins the track, which is very crooked in many places, winding about as some nullahs are approached and crossed. On two or three of these nullahs wooden bridges have been erected, but they are now in a state of entire rotten debris.

The traffic cannot cross them and passes by on loop roads.

2nd Stage.—Loharpalli to Singorah.

19. This is by far the most difficult and troublesome stage of the whole. Immediately after passing "Loharpalli" the road enters a gorge or natural pass in the hills. They appear before the traveller as a complete barrier to his passage; but as one follows the track its windings disclose breaks and gaps, which were evidently granted and designed by Nature for a passage through the "Pulgurh and Sarungurh range."

20. The nature of the ground between "Loharpalli" and "Singorah" is such that in road-making the only practicable passage must be pursued in a general way; but the favorable details of the locality were not attended to, or taken advantage of by the individual who originally laid out the road. It twists and turns without cause, winding now among and over rugged and troublesome boulders, and again dipping into a nullah bed and rising up from the same through what appears the bed of some little hill stream.

21. The traffic over this stage meets with considerable inconvenience, and on the whole length there is but one easy piece to travel over.

22. Jungle fringes the line for nearly the entire stage; some of it is very dense.

At two or three places where the hills almost meet, and whose jungle covered slopes overhang the road, the "Sumbulpore Rebels" delighted to hide, and, nesting in the mountain sides, committed robberies at will on the passing traveller.

The Ghât or Pass close to "Singorah" is noted for the stand the Rebels made in 1858-59 against the "Raepore Force," who, however, dislodged their opponents from the breast-works they had thrown up on the sides of the Pass by administrating a few well directed rounds of shot and shell, slaughtering many.

3rd Stage.—Singorah to Komarpalli.

23. With the exception of the last mile, this march passes over a capital natural piece of road. A few cheap and simple repairs will place the first six miles of this stage in first-rate order, passing, as it does, over natural metal. The road, too, has been well laid out, traversing an open country capable of great improvement.

24. The last mile of the march is a troublesome piece, three nullahs intersect it, none of them, however, inundate their banks; they flow through deep channels, and have cut their way through a hard gravel, and in places a gravel and rocky soil.

Approaching the first of these nullahs* the road must be diverted to the northward for a distance of about 800 yards. This diversion will cause a considerable improvement over existing matters. The tract descends to this first nullah by a gentle incline for some distance. Just here the road crosses the heads of some very minor water-courses, and from the absence of repair of late years it has worn down catching the waters of these rain streams, and consequently has become a catch drain or very minor tributary to the nullah that intersects it at the foot of the incline.

* Which are all very close to each other.

25. The change of road requisite here, with bridges over the three nullahs mentioned, will cost but a moderate sum. The nullahs are about fifty feet wide, and their banks and beds being hard gravel or gravel and rock, no foundation difficulties will be met with.

4th Stage.—Komarpalli to Saraipalli.

26. For nearly the whole of this march the road is in very fair order, four-fifths passing over naturally good soil for road works. One-fifth crosses rice fields, and here raising and re-alignment are indispensable.

The track has been cut down by the traffic in places fully 18 inches below the surface of the "paddy fields" it passes through. The original road cannot be said to exist on these low spots. However, the improvement of this stage will cost but a small sum, especially as no nullahs intersect it, and three or four small drain bridges will suffice to pass rice irrigation water and rainfall discharge.

The 5th and 6th Stages, viz., Saraipalli to Bulbuspore and Bulbuspore to Bussenah.

27. In all thirteen miles may be remarked on at the same time, because the description, faults, and requirements of the one stage are similar to the same on the other.

28. These two marches traverse for nearly the whole distance an extensive tract of fertile country. Its principal produce is rice. The soil, as may be supposed, is badly suited for road-making when unmetalled. It is chiefly that black tenacious clay, which, when wet, becomes so sticky and heavy to traffic over.

29. The original road for the two marches under immediate notice has practically ceased to exist.

I could not perceive the slightest symptom of original works, such as a trace of a small embankment on which one would suppose the road constructor would have carried his line across rice fields.

From faulty original construction, and from the track changing over the "paddy lands" as the traffic moved here and there, seeking a smoother passage, the road has dwindled down into a mere village-like cart passage.

Its surface on the average is one foot lower than the land on both sides, and it is one of the most sinuous roads I have ever seen when the length, thirteen miles, is considered.

With all, though the general direction is good, and when realized within the limits of its sinuosity, an excellent line can be constructed, specially as the rice lands are often divided by narrow ridges of soil well adapted for metal.

30. Some nullahs are crossed on these stages, one is rather a large one. It is situated a mile or so east of "Bussenah." The channel is eighty feet wide and about twenty feet in depth.

A useful foot bridge now spans this water-course, which, when the road is re-modelled, ought most certainly to be bridged.

The bed and banks of the stream offer no difficulty to contend against as regards bridge works and foundations.

7th and 8th Stages.—Bussenah to Dooree and Dooree to Ankrah or the Jonk River.

31. These stages like the preceding ones are taken together, the road over their length being similar in character.

32. Unlike the last two marches just described the country passed through from "Bussenah" to the "Jonk" River is very jungly indeed; from two miles west of "Bussenah," jungle, and in some places thick underwood, margins the road,—approaching the "Jonk" River the country is open, the trees become thinner, and the soil is such that "wood clearings" would convert large tracts into tillageable land, as signs of this new village dot the approach to the "Jonk," and retired from the road, the smoke of lately erected dwellings give sure marks of extending cultivation and improvement.

About "Dooree" are also many symptoms of enlarging cultivation.

33. From "Bussenah" to the "Jonk," the soil being nearly all light clay, or sand and fine gravel, travelling is easy and agreeable. At a few places where rock and large stones exist the road is rough and uneven, but these spots are the exception.

34. Some small nullahs intersect this length of the line, attempts have been made to bridge them all, but the works are in part worn out. However, the late Officiating Executive Engineer has had two useful foot bridges built, and also three rough timber structures to pass cart traffic. These works from their rude construction cannot last long, and must be considered as very temporary erection. Their cost, however, has been but a trifle, as "Sal" and "Mowah*" trees are very plentiful between "Bussenah" and the "Jonk" River.

* The timber used for the bridges.

35. The "Jonk" is 900 feet wide at the present crossing; its channel is twenty to twenty-two feet in depth, with a coarse sandy bed. Boulders of gneiss up-rise here and there, and the same rock crops out in spots from the banks, which are firm clay as a rule.

There would be no difficulty at all in bridging this water-course.

36. The length of thirteen miles, "Bussenah" to the "Jonk," is quite, and indeed very readily passable for laden carts.

37. The track is very sinuous though, and seems to have wandered here and there since the work was laid out originally. There are no reasons why the road should be so crooked, and before improvements are begun, re-alignment must take place for fully two-thirds of the united stages.† All the nullahs should be bridged; their banks and beds are rocky, or gravel and rock, and their channels being narrow and shallow the expenditure of doing so will be small. For the same reasons there will be no difficulty in executing the works; two or three drainage spans are necessary also. The majority of the bridges should have eight feet opes, and two only ought to have as large an opening as twelve feet.

† This re-alignment will take place along a strip of land about 250 yards in width, the present track twisting about in a belt of country of the width noted.

38. Having spent five days in examining the Raepore Road, "Sohela to the Jonk River," I came to the determination not to attempt its improvement on any scale during the year 1861-62, and for the following reasons:—

1*st.*—The road as it exists is fairly passable in the dry season for laden carts.

2*nd.*—The line in many parts is so very sinuous that, without re-alignment and surveys, it would be injudicious, because expensive and unworkmanlike, to raise and re-model the road along the present crooked track.

3*rd.*—So much work was in progress in other parts of the Sumbulpore District for opening up roads where none before existed that I considered improvement of present communications should give way to construction of new lines for traffic.

4*th*.—We had not tools, and indeed not workpeople, to commence improvement of the Jonk Road on any scale.

39. For the above reasons, I determined only to work at the worst place on the road.

This is the Stage "Loharpalli" to "Singorah," a very rocky and uneven march, and hence extremely difficult to traffic over with carts.

40. I placed Mr. Assistant Engineer W. C. Brown in charge of the "Sohela" and "Jonk River" Road, with detailed orders to improve the line where it passes through the breaks in the "Pulgurh and Sarungurh range." Further, he was directed to have the jungle cut from its commencement, east of "Loharpalli" to "Singorah."

On the Stages "Bussenah to the Jonk River," jungle-cutting is also to be carried out this season. The average width to be cut will be 100 feet on each side of the present track, and in the narrow defiles of the "Loharpalli and Singorah Gorge" the jungle and underwood is to be cut down for 200 feet on each side of the road. For many reasons as will be understood, I hope this increased width was necessary in the hills.

Again, Mr. Brown had orders given to him to improve all rock and rocky spots on the road, and to straighten and render easy for traffic such places,—he was told also to slope down and reduce the gradients of inclines leading down to nullahs, to clear their beds at the point of crossing of any obstructions existing, such as rocks and boulders, tree stumps, snags, and so forth.

41. Having brought the Assistant Engineer with me to the Jonk River, I was enabled on the ground to point out what was absolutely necessary for immediate execution under the considerations noted before.

42. Finally, Mr Brown has been directed to make a careful Survey and Section of the line.

This is indispensable in my opinion for various reasons, and chiefly because on many stages a total re-alignment of the road must be carried out before extensive improvements can be commenced, and Surveys and Maps are very necessary where re-alignment is contemplated.

Taken with the Plan, the Section will guide one in estimating the amount of bridge works necessary, as well as the quantity of earthwork required to raise the road in rice fields in low spots and across nullah valleys. This Survey is in active progress, and ought, by this time, to be nearly completed. In addition to the above, the Assistant Engineer has under him the surveying and also the construction of the new road—"Sohela to Binkah."

He has also been directed to fell sal timber, and to note carefully where ghooting and brick clay exists,—collecting also this season as much ghooting as practicable, and probably necessary for the new bridges the road requires for crossing the smaller nullahs, and for drainage purposes.

43. I hope these proceedings will meet with approval.

44. Under them the present roads will be improved this year (1861-62) in bad spots, at disagreeable nullah crossings, and upon the rocky and uneven Passes between "Loharpalli" and "Singorah."

Where it exists, all jungle will be removed to an average distance of 100 feet from the road side, which it now closely fringes, and in the hill passes the "Rebels' nests" will be disturbed somewhat by having the underwood cut down for 200 feet on each side of the track. This will be a great improvement if even appearances only are considered.

Finally, by the carrying out of the Survey and Section of the line, the road can be laid out for work at once, and truly, next working season. Detailed and correct Estimates of description of work required, and the quantities of the various kinds necessary, will be compiled at leisure in the rains from the useful data the Sections will yield; and further, the perfecting, or at any rate the large advance towards completion, that the new road works now in progress will have attained by next June, will liberate numbers of workpeople, and a corresponding quantity of tools for "improvement operations" next cold weather.

45. The road "Sohela to the Jonk" is the "Grand Trunk" of the "Sumbulpore" and "Gurjat" Districts. Along it even now proceeds a very large Goods' traffic, many travellers, and numbers of pilgrims to Juggurnauth.

Indeed, any one who was new to this route, as I was, would be equally surprised, I am sure, at the traffic.

46. Buffaloe carts and pack bullocks transport the produce from Raepore and its adjoining Districts; on a morning, or from 9 A. M. to noon or one o'clock, I have counted as many as ninety buffaloe carts, each containing thirty maunds of produce, besides droves of laden bullocks.

47. Much of this traffic, more especially cotton, proceeds not to "Cuttack," but to "Sonepore," and then, diverging to the north-east, proceeds through the lands of "Boad" and "Goomsur" to "Ganjam."

48. The bullocks return laden, sometimes with cocoanuts, but chiefly with salt.

This latter trade though will soon be put a stop to, as the Government of Bengal do not think proper to admit Madras Salt into Provinces under their rule.

When the Madras Salt is shut out the Cotton now sent to "Ganjam" will doubtless proceed to "Cuttack," the Bingaries taking on their return trip Orissa manufactured salt.

This change must take place I consider, for it is the margin of profit yielded by both cargoes, as I may say, that pays the Bingaree, who naturally will refuse to proceed to "Ganjam" when his bullock must return unladen and profitless; all this will benefit "Cuttack" and its trade.

49. A detailed scheme for the entire improvement of the road, "Sohela to the Jonk River," will be submitted about July. This scheme will be, I hope, fully supported by Estimates, Plans, and Section. With these papers I shall forward, for consideration, a descriptive memorandum detailing what works I would propose for the re-modelling of the Sumbulpore and Raepore "Grand Trunk," and meantime I beg to state that Rupees 500 per mile, or 58 miles × 500, viz., Rupees 29,000, has been sanctioned for the roads' improvement. I do not consider that much more than this amount will be necessary, unless all the larger nullahs be bridged, which, in my opinion, they ought.

50. The line is a most important one looking at the Map of India, it is one of the roads that at once catches the eye, and its usefulness, both in an imperial and local point of view, is considerable, and will increase year by year as "Orissa," the Gurjats," "Sumbulpore," and the "Central Provinces," or the "Nagpore Districts," improve, and as their cultivation extends. This must take place I consider under the late increased and increasing demand that every where exists for all kinds of agricultural produce, stimulated, too, by the formation of new roads, improved communications, and the execution of other public works throughout the country.

51. Looking a little forward of the present state of things, and with a view of meeting the future, I would wish much to re-model now the "Sohela and Jonk River" Road, and convert this present imperfect line into a completedly raised, bridged, and metalled communication.

There are no large rivers to cross,* no inundations or floods to guard against and provide for, and metal is every where abundant and close at hand.

* Our works terminating on the right bank of the Jonk.

Brick earth exists at many places, as does ghooting for limes; and finally, sal timbers and all such requisites for public works, with even iron, abounds.

I saw two mines of iron stone on my tour along the road. One at a village two miles south of "Komarpalli" is of the richest description, and can be almost surface quarried.

52. However, as a first proposition, a moderate or curtailed scheme may be more likely to meet with approval, especially in a financial point of view.

I would propose then to submit a project for the construction or re-modelling of the line, "Sohela to the Jonk River," as a fully bridged and raised but unmetalled road; such a scheme to be supported by Plans, Sections, and Estimates.

53. I regret having no Map or even a Sketch Plan† to submit with this Memorandum, but the unavoidable omission will be rectified hereafter when the Surveys in progress are perfected.

† As before noted, no Map on any useful scale has to date been published of the Districts west of Sohela.

LEGISLATIVE.

Fort William, the 21st May 1862.

THE following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information by order of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council :—

A Bill further to amend Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen.)

Preamble.

Whereas the local Governments are empowered under Section LXXXI of Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) to investigate cases of incompetency and misconduct on the part of Masters and Mates who have obtained certificates of competency of service from such local Governments, and under Section LXXXII of the said Act, on proof of such misconduct or incompetency, to suspend or cancel such certificates; and it is expedient to extend the power of making such investigation and of suspending such certificates to other Governments than the Governments by which such certificates shall have been granted; It is enacted as follows :—

Power to investigate cases of alleged incompetency and misconduct and to suspend certificates in such cases.

I. Section LXXXI of Act I of 1859 is hereby repealed, and the following Section is enacted in lieu thereof, and shall be read and construed in the same manner as if it formed part of the said Act, namely :—

"If the local Government, on the information of any Shipping Master or any other ground, has reason to believe that any Master or Mate who has obtained a certificate of competency or service from such Government or from any other local Government, is from incompetency or misconduct unfit to discharge his duties, it may direct any Board or Officer at or near to the place at which it may be convenient for the parties and witnesses to attend, to institute an investigation; and thereupon such Board or Officer shall conduct the investigation, and may summon the Master or Mate to appear, and shall give him full opportunity of making a defence either in person or otherwise, and shall, for the purpose of such investigation, have all the powers vested in Magistrates of summoning and examining witnesses, and may make such order with respect to the costs of such investigation as they may deem just, and shall on the conclusion of the investigation make a report upon the case to the local Government. If the local Government ordering such investigation shall not be the local Government which granted the certificate held by the Master or Mate whose conduct forms the subject of enquiry, the local Government ordering the investigation shall have power to suspend the certificate held by such Master or Mate on proof that from incompetency or misconduct he is unfit to discharge his duties, and shall communicate the result of the investigation to the local Government which granted such certificate."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

SECTION LXXXI, Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) empowers any local Government to order an investigation into the conduct of any Master or Mate to whom such Government may have granted a certificate of competency or service, if it has reason to believe that either from incompetency or from misconduct such Master or Mate is unfit to discharge his duties. But, as the law now stands, only the local Government which granted the certificate can order such investigation wherever the misconduct to be enquired into shall have been committed.

An instance has recently occurred shewing the practical inconvenience that may result from the retention of this restriction and the necessity that there appears to be for some modification of the Law. The Master of a vessel, holding a certificate from the Government of Bengal, took his vessel to Bombay. A complaint of misconduct having been made against the Master on his arrival at Bombay, the Government of Bombay ordered an investigation under the provisions of Section LXXXI of the Act above quoted; but being advised that it had no jurisdiction, the Bombay Government refrained from passing any decision in the case.

There appears to be no good reason why, in a case such as that described, the local Government, within whose territories the Master or Mate complained against happens to be at the time the complaint is preferred, should not be empowered to order an investigation, and upon proof of incompetency or misconduct showing such Master or Mate to be unfit to discharge his duties, to suspend the certificate held by him, although such certificate may have been granted by some other local Government.

The object of the present Bill is to admit of such investigation being made under the circumstances above stated by any local Government.

The Bill further provides that, when the local Government ordering the investigation shall not be the local Government which granted the certificate held by the Master or Mate whose conduct forms the subject of enquiry, the local Government ordering the investigation shall have power to suspend the certificate held by such Master or Mate on proof that from incompetency or misconduct he is unfit to discharge his duties, and shall communicate the result of the investigation to the local Government which granted the certificate.

M. WYLIE,
Deputy Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

Fort William, the 23rd May 1862.

THE following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information by order of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council :—

A Bill for the amendment of the law relating to the confinement of Prisoners convicted of offences in Native States.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is desirable to consolidate and amend the law relating to the confinement of Prisoners who have been convicted of offences in the Territories of Native Princes or States in alliance with Her Majesty and to the execution of the orders of Courts established by the authority of the Governor-General of India in Council for the administration of Criminal Justice in the States or Territories under the authority of the Government of India, or the Government of Madras, or the Government of Bombay respectively; and whereas it is expedient to make the same provision for the secure custody of persons convicted of participation in the offence of Suttee (burning alive) or Sumadh (burying alive) and of such other offences as the Governor-General in Council shall, from time to time, by an order to be published in the Government Gazette, think fit to prescribe, within the Territories of Native Princes or States in alliance with Her Majesty as is already made in regard to persons convicted of Thuggee or Dacoity in such States; It is enacted as follows:—

Repeal of Acts

I. Act XVIII of 1843 (for the better custody of persons convicted of Thuggee and Dacoity), and Act V of 1847 (to facilitate the execution of the sentences of Courts established by the authority of the Governor General in Council for the administration of Criminal Justice in States or Territories administered by Officers acting under the authority of the East India Company) are hereby repealed.

Officers in charge of Jails in British India may give effect to sentences passed by Courts of Justice established by the Governor-General in Council in Native States.

II. Officers in charge of Jails in such parts of the British Territories in India, as are beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of any Court of Judicature established by Royal Charter, shall be competent to give effect to any sentence that may be passed by any Court established, or that may be established by the authority of the Governor-General of India in Council for the administration of Criminal Justice in States or Territories administered by Officers acting under the authority of the Government of India or the Government of any Presidency in India, although such States or Territories are not subject to such Government, or are not subject to the operation of the General Regulations.

Warrant of Officer exercising Criminal jurisdiction in such States to be sufficient authority.

III. A warrant under the official seal and signature of the Officer or Officers exercising Criminal jurisdiction within such States or Territories as aforesaid, shall be sufficient authority for holding any Prisoner in confinement, or for transmitting any Prisoner for transportation beyond sea, or for inflicting any other punishment prescribed therein.

Executive Government may authorize reception and detention in British India of persons convicted of certain offences in Native States.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Executive Government of any part of the British Territories in India to authorize the reception and detention in any part of those Territories, for the periods specified in their respective sentences, of persons sentenced within the Territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with Her Majesty to imprisonment or transportation for the offence of Thuggee, or Dacoity, or the offence of belonging to any gang of Thugs or Dacoits, or for participation in the offence of Suttee or Sumadh, or for such other offences as the Governor-General in Council shall from time to time, by an order published in the Government Gazette, think fit to prescribe. Provided always that such sentences shall have been pronounced after trial before a tribunal, in which an Officer of Government, duly authorized in that behalf by such Prince or State, shall be one of the presiding Judges. Every Officer of Government so authorized as aforesaid shall forward with every Prisoner a certificate of his conviction, and a copy of the proceedings held at the trial, that the same may be forthcoming for reference at the place where the sentence of imprisonment may be carried into effect.

If Officer in charge of Jail doubt the legality of any warrant sent to him for execution.

V. If any Officer in charge of a Jail shall entertain any doubt as to the legality of any warrant sent to him for execution under this Act, or as to the competency of the person or persons whose official seal and signature may be affixed thereto to pass the sentence and issue such warrant, such Officer shall refer the matter to the Government to which he is subject, by whose order on the case such Officer and all other public Officers shall be guided as to the future disposal of the Prisoner. Pending any such reference, the Prisoner shall be detained in such manner and with such restrictions or mitigations as may be specified in the warrant.

VI. The provisions of the existing Acts and Regulations, and all other rules in force for the treatment and security of Prisoners confined in the said Jails, shall apply and be of equal force and effect in the case of Prisoners confined therein under this Act as in the case of other Prisoners confined therein.

Provisions of existing laws and rules for the treatment and security of Prisoners generally, to apply to Prisoners confined under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IT being considered desirable to extend the provisions of Act XVIII of 1843, which relates to the confinement within the British Territories in India of persons sentenced to imprisonment or transportation for the offences of Thuggee and Dacoity or of belonging to any gang of Thugs or Dacoits within the Territories of any Prince or State in alliance with the British Government, to the offences of Suttee (burning alive) and Sumadh (burying alive) this Bill is introduced for the purpose of extending the Act accordingly.

The Bill also empowers the Governor-General in Council to extend its provisions to any other classes of offences than those mentioned in the Bill.

The Bill proposes to repeal Act XVIII of 1843 and Act V of 1847 (to facilitate the execution of the sentences of Courts established by the authority of the Governor-General in Council for the administration of Criminal Justice in States or Territories administered by Officers acting under the authority of the East India Company), and to consolidate the two Acts as well as to extend the provisions of the former enactment.

Secy. to Govt., Punjab.

Nambar Forest.

Rules approved by Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Orders of 10th June 1861.

A TRACT of Forest land on the banks of the Dhunseri and Dyung Rivers in the Golah Ghat District having been set apart with the view to preserving and encouraging the growth of valuable timber for Government purposes, and also for working the Coal beds and Limestone Quarries therein, the following Rules are hereby put in force:—

I. That the tract of land be under the charge of an Officer, to be appointed as a Forest Ranger, who will have general control over the Establishment appointed for guarding and preserving the trees and the raising of plants in Nurseries

II. No person is to be allowed to mark, girdle, or fell, or in any way injure any trees, such as Teak, Saul, Nanoa, Jarool, Bola, Jamoo, Porma, Oonun, Tengah, &c., which it is considered desirable to preserve, without a written order from the Forest Ranger.

III. Owners of Elephants will be held responsible for injuries done to Nurseries or Plantations.

IV. The Forest Ranger or one of his Assistants will, on all occasions when timber has to be cut for the supply of Government to private parties, go and reside at the place where the timber is being felled and point out and mark the trees to be cut down.

V. The Ryots of Villages lying within the Forest are allowed, under a written permit from the Forest Ranger, to fell such timber as they may require for their own wants, viz., for building, burning, and extension of cultivation of grain; but are strictly prohibited from cutting down trees to make canoes for sale, or from clearing out Forest to sow Opium.

VI. Whenever the Forest Ranger may think fit to reserve any tract in the Forest, no tree, shrub or timber in the said tract is to be injured, felled or removed, except by direction of the Forest Ranger. No tract of a size exceeding ten acres is to be thus reserved without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Assam. All such reserved tracks to be marked out by poles or a fence.

VII. No poles or other signs put up to mark the boundary of a reserved tract, or for other purpose, nor any sheds, bridges, fences, or buildings of any kind, nor any roads and ditches erected or made by orders of the Forest Ranger shall be removed or injured in any way except under a written order of the Forest Ranger.

VIII. For the convenience of the public, parties will be allowed to purchase timber to a limited extent, at rates to be fixed by the Forest Ranger, in communication with the Public Works Officers according to the value of the timber required, payment to be made before delivery.

IX. Parties in charge of Government timber, who lose the same or allow it to be lost or destroyed, render themselves liable to punishment, unless they shew that the loss arose from causes not under their control.

X. No person will be allowed to work or remove any Coal, Limestone, or any other material, or in any way to interfere with workmen, who may be put to work the same without written permission of the Forest Ranger.

XI. It will be the duty of the Forest Ranger and his Assistants to see that these Rules are not violated, and should they in any case be infringed, to punish within his competence the parties by whom they may be infringed, and to report to the Magistrate of Golah Ghat any matter beyond his competence to dispose of. Any person who infringes any provision of the Forest Rules, or any Subordinate of the Department who wilfully neglects his duty, will be prosecuted and punished as the Law directs.

XII. A copy of these Rules shall be printed in legible characters on a board in the vernacular language of the District, and affixed in a conspicuous place near every roadway entering the Forest.

Secy to the Govt. of Bengal,
in the Public Works Department.

Subsidiary Rules for the management of the Namber Forest.

A TRACT of Forest land on the banks of the Dhunsiri and Dyung Rivers in the Gola Ghat Sub-Division of the Nowgong District having been set apart with the view to preserving and encouraging the growth of valuable timber for Government purposes, and also for working the Coal beds and Limestone Quarries therein, the the following Rules are prescribed by the Government of Bengal for the management of the tract:—

1. That the tract of land be under the charge of an Officer to be appointed as Superintendent, who will have general control over the Establishment appointed for guarding and preserving the trees and the raising of plants in Nurseries.

2. No person is to be allowed to mark, girdle, fell, or in any way injure any timber tree whatever, which it is considered desirable to preserve, without a written order from the Superintendent.

3. Owners of Elephants will be held responsible for injuries done to young trees, Nurseries or Plantations, when their Elephants are turned loose to feed in the Forest.

4. The Superintendent or one of his Assistants will, on all occasions when timber is to be cut for the supply of Government or private parties, go and reside at the place where timber is being felled, and point out and mark the trees which are to be cut down.

5. The Ryots of the Villages at Bor Pathor are allowed, under a written permit from the Superintendent, to fell such timber as they may require for their own wants, viz., for fuel, building, and extension of cultivation of grain in that portion of the Forest lying between the Bor Hillony Jan and the Bor Noria Jan, and bounded on the East by the Dhunsiri River, and on the West by a straight line through the Forest parallel to, and at the distance of one mile from the Pathor, but are strictly prohibited from cutting down trees to make canoes for sale, or clearing out Forest to sow Opium.

6. Whenever the Superintendent may think fit to reserve any tract in the Forest, no tree, shrub or timber in the said tract is to be injured, felled or removed, except by direction of the Superintendent. No tract of a size exceeding ten acres is to be thus reserved without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Assam. All such reserved tracks to be marked out by poles or a fence.

7. No poles or other signs put up to mark the boundary of a reserved tract, or for other purpose, no sheds, bridges, fences or buildings of any kind, nor any roads or ditches made by orders of the Superintendent shall be removed or injured in any way except under a written order from the Superintendent.

8. For the convenience of the public, parties will be allowed to purchase timber to a limited extent, at rates to be fixed by the Superintendent, in communication with the Superintending Engineer, according to the value of the timber required; payment to be made before delivery.

9. Parties in charge of Government timber, who lose the same or allow it to be lost or destroyed, render themselves liable to punishment, unless they show that the loss arose from causes not under their control.

10. No person will be allowed to work or remove any Coal, Limestone, or any other material, or in any way to interfere with workmen, who may be employed to work the same, without written permission from the Superintendent.

11. It will be duty of the Superintendent and his Assistants to see that these Rules are not violated, and should they in any case be infringed, to punish within his competence the parties by whom they may be infringed, and to report to the Magistrate of Gola Ghat any matter beyond his competence to dispose of. Any person who infringes any provision of the Forest Rules, or any Subordinate of the Department who willfully neglects his duty, will be prosecuted and punished as the Law directs.

12. A copy of these Rules shall be printed in legible characters in the vernacular language of the District, and given to the headman of each of the Frontier Villages, and affixed in a conspicuous place at the Thannah at Gola Ghat, and at the Guard-house at Borpathor and at Jamoogoory.

13. All that portion of the Forest lying between the boundary line on the North, and Bor Hillony Jan, and on both sides of the Nambar River, to be left in tact, no trees whatever to be felled in that locality, but such as the Superintendent may consider necessary to remove for the improvement of the Forest.

14. All timber required for the present consumption to be felled in the Doab, between the Dhunsiri and Dyung Rivers.

15. Timber will be supplied to purchasers (who will fell the trees and take them away) at the following rates, viz. :—

Trees of four feet in girth—

Nahor, Sam, Poma, 3 Rupees; Hullock, Azar, Hingori, 2 Rupees; and Roghoo 1 Rupee.

Trees of six feet in girth—

Nahor, Sam, Poma, 6 Rupees; Hullock, Azar, Hingori, 4 Rupees; and Roghoo 2 Rupees.

16. The Superintendent will furnish a monthly Report through the Deputy Commissioner of Nowgong, shewing the number of trees sold, the amount realized, and an epitome of proceedings.

Notice.

WITH reference to the Notices which have been already published inviting Tenders for various descriptions of work, at Schedule rates, in the following Divisions of the Cuttack Circle:—

Cuttack.
Pooree.
Mahanuddy.
Balasore.

It is hereby notified, that Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 1st September 1862.

The undersigned wishes to state, for the information of parties desirous of becoming Contractors of Public Works, that 130 miles of road, viz., from Rajghat near Jellasore to Cuttack, is about being raised, re-modelled, bridged, and metalled. The District the line passes through is very healthy, and affords cheap, abundant, and convenient supplies of materials. Labor is plentiful and moderate in cost.

Any convenient portion of the above road will be let to Contractors. They can also tender for earthwork, masonry, or metalling, separately or combined, as most convenient to themselves.

For Conditions of Contract, &c., application is to be made to

T. N. ARMSTRONG, C. E.,
Supdg. Engineer, Cuttack Circle.
